American communities, where whites and blacks are mingled, must guard against racial troubles as men in power will guard against fire. It is the spark that causes the explosion. It is utterly useless to damn or ignore racial feeling. It exists and will continue to exist. Nor is it confined to the South. Chicago of the July days of 1919 can testify to this. East St. Louis counted the dead and reckoned the cost two years before. Omaha, far north of the Mason and Dixon line, saw and knows.

Since these happenings the mouth-pieces of opinion and a little less likely to assume a holier-than-thou attitude toward the South. There is a better understanding of what underlies these sudden, devilish outbreaks like that in Oklahoma the other day. The country generally knows a little more about racial friction and the slow fires that are always burning underneath.

Washington, Chicago, Omaha, St. Louis and Elaine are black pages. To these Tulsa has been added. It is futile to sit tight and ignore the fact that there is a racial problem in America. The Georgia peonage cases are recent. There is the revived Ku Klux Klan in the South that may be taken as the Old South's reply to social equality leagues.

There is a problem, and it grows and spreads as the negro population grows and spreads. Denunciations, abuse and threats will get nowhere. The problem waits for solution. Nothing more than a start has been made. If there ever was a problem needed careful, thorough hopeful thought and study, it is this.

Boy and Girl Scouts Clean Up Liberty
 The boy and girl scouts of Liberty have set an example for the entire county by launching a clean up campaign. They advertised a clean up day and urged the people to co-operate in freeing the town from mosquitoes and flies. Thirty-five loads of trash were removed following clean up day. A large number of the homes have been screened and all premises thoroughly cleaned. The colored people also responded to the clean up call and Liberty is now probably the cleanest town in Randolph county. Our hats are off to these progressive young people of Liberty. How about about another clean up for Asheboro?

Little Mary Moton Horned by Cow
 Little Miss Mary Moton while playing around a cow while her father was milking last Sunday afternoon had a very narrow escape. The cow was eating and the little girl seemed to get near her when the cow moved her head—probably accidentally—homing the little girl through the mouth one horn penetrating the left jaw. The child was lifted by the horns of the cow and was rescued by her father. The wound bled profusely and it was feared she would bleed to death before a doctor could reach her. She is resting comfortably and it is hoped she will recover.

Mrs. Charles Finch Dead
 Mrs. Charles F. Finch wife of one of Thomasville's most prominent citizens died in the High Point Hospital Sunday morning. Mrs. Finch was the daughter of the late W. P. Pickett, of High Point. She was at the time of her death corresponding secretary of the North Carolina branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. P. church. She was a splendid young woman and took a great deal of interest in all kinds of church and betterment work. She was truly a most estimable young woman and will be greatly missed in the community in which she lived. She was married about eight years ago to Mr. Finch of Thomasville and has resided there since her marriage. She is survived by her husband and a year old son. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. George R. Brown at the M. P. Church in High Point, after which burial followed.

Fearful Flood in Colorado
 A fearful flood of the Arkansas river occurred the latter part of last week flooding the town of Pueblo, Col. and causing the loss of over five hundred or more lives. For several days it was impossible to tell the total damages done by the flood until the waters receded. Relief work was begun by the Red Cross and is still in progress. Shelter has been provided in the stricken districts and food is now plentiful. Water was supplied to the city Wednesday and they will have gas in a few days. Health officers feared a pestilence would result, but the danger is past for that according to a statement made Wednesday by the Health officer.

A large appropriation has been secured by the State for the relief of the sufferers.

Aged Citizen of Archdale Dead
 Mr. Thomas Jordan aged ninety, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Randolph county died last Friday at his home in Archdale.

CARRYING OUT THEIR PLEDGES

gaining in a curtailment of expenditures has yet to be made, and some of them are wondering what is going to happen to them in the elections next year, if steps are not taken to cut down these expenditures.

Huge Appropriation Increases

The naval appropriation bill, as it passed the Senate, is approximately $100,000,000 larger than it was when it passed the House, nearly half a billion dollars all told. It is about $60,000,000 greater than was the naval appropriation act for the fiscal year now ending.

The army appropriation bill, which is to come before the Senate this week, carries in the neighborhood of $335,000,000.

The second deficiency bill which has just passed the Senate, carries about $150,000,000, including millions of dollars for the Shipping Board, which was the subject of severe attack by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, and others, who declared that the Shipping Board is wasting millions of dollars every month.

Just where the promised cut will come no one knows.

Every day new offices are created, some of them to take the places abolished to get rid of the Democrats.

The Democrats in the Senate and House have not been slow to criticize the Republicans for the continuing large appropriations of government funds.

Blame Former Administration

One reason given for the large appropriations by the Republicans is the legacy of claims and other war expenditures left them by the last administration. They are saying now that for years to come the government is going to need annually billions of dollars, and that the taxes will necessarily be heavy.

Apalling Growth of Taxation

The growing burden of taxation was shown by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, of Nebraska, in discussing the naval bill recently passed. He cited the following appalling figures: "In 1913 the per capita tax due to appropriations made by Congress was $6.75 per person in the United States. If the bills as now proposed are passed that per capita tax in the United States during the coming year will approximate $48. I saw an article not long ago in a New York paper declaring that the burden of taxation on the people of the United States, taking the state, local and national taxes into account, was something like $750.00 per family. That is an understatement. It is practically $50 per person, or $750 per family, which we in the Congress of the United States levy. That takes no account of the various state taxes."

In the matter of government indebtedness, he said: "The people of the United States who in 1913 bore a governmental indebtedness (state, municipal and national) of $50 per person, now bear a governmental indebtedness of $300 per person."

Walking Backward in Democratic Tracks

Representative Stevenson, Democrat, of South Carolina, in a recent speech gave these specific instances wherein the present Republican administration has walked backward in the tracks of the previous Democratic administration:

"Well, we were to have all of our foreign policies reversed. Let us see what we have done up to this time about reversing the foreign policy of this government. On the question and rights of this nation in Mesopotamia the policy of the former administration is being absolutely followed by the present administration. As to the question of the rights and policy of this nation in the Island of Yap our present administration is standing squarely in the tracks made by the administration that preceded it. On the question of our dealings with Russia the present administration has not vered an iota from the administration that was before it. On the question of cable control, this House unanimously passed a resolution to follow the leadership of the Democratic administration on that very important question. On the question of the treaty with Colombia, whereby we re-establish relations with the government of the United States of Colombia, the administration sent the treaty negotiated in 1916 by a Democratic administration. The present administration has followed the policy of the Wilson administration in the matter of backing up the banks of this country in making a loan to China.

"It was one of the crying shames of the country, according to the Republicans, that General Pershing, instead of General Wood, was sent to France. Yet we find the present administration has endorsed the proposition by making General Pershing the Chief of Staff of this country instead of the great and heroic General Wood. (Applause.)

"Judge Hughes, when a candidate for President in 1916, denounced the appointment of E. Lester Jones as head of the Geodetic Survey and called him an incompetent 'horse doctor.' Mr. Harding re-appointed this 'horse doctor' in March, with the statement that his services were indispensable.

"President Wilson put postoffices under the civil service, and Harding followed suit with a scheme that the politicians hope to use to cover the spoils system which they hope to run. Indeed, the Republican administration thus far is walking mostly in the tracks of the Democratic administration, but they appear to be walking backward and stumbling occasionally."

Peace—But Under Versailles Treaty

It seems that the much discussed Treaty of Versailles is to be the basis of peace between the United States and Germany, after all.

tion, provided all of our rights and interests are protected as stipulated in the Treaty of Versailles and the treaty with Austria, invoking the protection and benefits of the treaty rejected by the Republican Senate.

Continue to Demand Harvey's Recall

Ambassador Harvey, from whose name the title of colonel appears to have been dropped since Congressman Stevenson asserted in the House that it was given to him at a banquet, has received another severe castigation in the Senate, this time by Senator McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, who said, among other things, concerning the statements in Ambassador Harvey's speech at the Pilgrims' Society dinner:

"They constitute a libel against the Government of the United States. They constitute a desecration of nearly one hundred thousand young men who gave up their lives on the battlefields of France. They are an insult to every one of the nearly 5,000,000 soldiers who enlisted in the great conflict. They constitute a wanton libel upon the patriotic men and women of this country. They are the words of a craven and a sycophant. * * * He (Harvey) is not a fit representative of either our government or its people. I protest against his being retained, and I again express the earnest and patriotic hope that our President will recall him immediately. Protests against Mr. Harvey are coming in from patriotic men and women throughout the nation. I sincerely hope that the President will heed these protests."

War Mothers Denounce Harvey

Senator McKellar read into the Record the following protest from American War Mothers:

"Whereas the Senate of the United States of America, on April 2, 1917, declared that we were in a state of war;

"Whereas we believed that it was through no fear of loss, no greed for gain, but for a great idea, for the saving of the nations and the freedom of the world, that we submitted to the sacrifice of our sons and countrymen;

"Therefore we, the Pennsylvania State Chapter of the National American War Mothers, assembled in convention in Philadelphia, declare we have read with the utmost abhorrence the words reported to have been spoken by George Harvey, ambassador to England. Those words are an insult to everything the women of America hold dear.

"They defame every man and woman who made sacrifices during the war in the hope of hastening the coming of peace and all its fruits.

"Our beloved sons—soldiers, sailors and marines—fought and died because they were crusaders in a great cause. The words of Mr. Harvey lead us to believe that they died in vain.

"Our dead soldiers cannot repudiate this insult; it remains for the mothers whose sons made the sacrifice to do so.

"Therefore, we the mothers of sons who were in the army and navy, ask the President of the United States to repudiate this insult to the country and to remove the stain which the words of Mr. Harvey have placed upon the honored dead of the World War, who died for the ideals of the United States of America."

Another protest from the women is as follows:

"The Woman's Pro-League Council, composed of Republican women, at a meeting on May 25, directed that—

"A solemn protest against such statements and such policies contained in Ambassador Harvey's speech be sent immediately to the President and the Secretary of State, as a gross misrepresentation of America's war aims and ideals, and a betrayal of millions of American voters for whom the League of Nations * * * was the great issue of the campaign, and who voted for Mr. Harding in the belief that his election would assure such a league."

June 8.—Linney and Morehead and many other North Carolina Republicans are here. Today at two o'clock, the hearing will commence before Senators Cummins, Ernst and Overman and a lively time is expected. This sub-committee may report favorably, as it has on it Senators Overman and Ernst, the only two members of the full committee who voted for Linney. Senator Cummins was not present and did not vote when the full committee turned Linney down, and the case was re-opened upon the motion of Senator Overman. It is now reported that Ernst has greatly weakened and may not support Linney this time.

The fact that the Republicans of two counties in North Carolina have enacted resolutions denouncing the opposition in the State as being the offspring of Democratic activities is not taking well with the Senators, one of whom said today, that this conduct was conclusive to him that the Republican leadership in North Carolina need not expect to win with such falsehood and hypocrisy.
