REPUBLICANS OFFER SOLDIERS GOLD BRICK

Democrats Criticise Republicans For Pawn Shop Certificate Offered in Bonus Bill.

Demand Cash Now to Compensate Soldiers Like They Gave Away Billions to Compensate Contractors and Railroads.

The Republicans are still halting in their pretended aid to soldiers in compensating them in pay for their service. They have a quarter of a billion dollars in the treasury and they are not willing to give it to the men who have sacrificed for the country. They are still halting in their pretended aid to soldiers in compensating them in pay for their service. appreciation, they are not capable of rewarding such service. Their eyes have a year seen the torch of Flanders Field. With the veteran and his needs they reveal their incompetence. Blind Tactics "They start and stop. They are for this today, and that tomorrow. They pitter around in the darkness, they tumble, they mull. Incapable of dealing fairly with the economic situation, they have directly brought upon the American people the worst depression that ever came upon them. Equally incapable of dealing with the war veteran situation they stutter and stagger. Blind they wander around. They pick it up and put it down. Their last condition is worse than the first."

Other extracts from the Democratic report are: "They offer a bonus in consideration of the veteran and his friends favoring a sales tax," said the report. "They vigorously fight a bonus without a sales tax, in the hope that the brave boys will be tempted to yield and be willing to help the President and Mr. Mellon and the money power to drive the first effective wedge under the established policy of the income tax, founded upon the principle of ability to pay."

The report said the proposition in the bill for bank loans was absolutely a gold brick in view of the attitude of the Comptroller of the Currency, and added: "So we are presented with the shameful spectacle of the party that aborted the war, divided our country's war associates, disgraced the peace, deluded the people, deceived the veterans, deserted the wounded, relieved the profiteer, reduced the millionaires' income tax, repealed the excess profits tax on the profiteers, and which still maintains blasphemous bibulous bootlicker at the court of St. James to benchmark with his drunken banquets the high war purposes of the American people and the inspiration of the American soldiers, now offering to redeem its reckless pledges with an I. O. U. designated a 'certificate' and discredited."

"The proposition in the bill, with this attitude of the administration and its comptroller of the currency, is absolutely a gold brick handed to the wide-mouthed phlegm daily made for the last two years by the Republicans to the World War veterans. So we are presented with the shameful spectacle of the party that aborted the war, divided our country's war associates, disgraced the peace, deluded the people, deceived the veterans, deserted the wounded, relieved the profiteer, reduced the millionaires' income tax, repealed the excess profits tax on the profiteers, and which still maintains a blasphemous, bibulous bootlicker at the court of St. James to benchmark with his drunken banquets the high war purposes of the American people and the inspiration of the American soldiers, now offering to redeem its reckless pledges with an I. O. U. designated a 'certificate' and discredited."

"Presidents Harding and Secretary Mellon heily offer a bribe to the World War veterans to espouse their efforts to establish as a part of our revenue system the vicious policy of a general sales tax. They offer a bonus in consideration of the veteran and his friends favoring a sales tax, they ignorantly fight a bonus without a sales tax, in the hope that the brave boys will be tempted to yield and be willing to help the President and Mr. Mellon and the money power to drive the first effective wedge under the established policy of the income tax, founded upon the principle of ability to pay, and finally to force from our statute books the revenue policy of the excess income tax, a policy which the people established in our tax system after a quarter of a century of hard and persistent struggle with the money power and the Republican leader."

Treat the Boys "White" We undertake to say that the report we submit here in the name of the Democratic Party is a document of the highest importance. It is a document which will show the people of this country the true character of the Republican Party and the true character of the men who are in charge of the government. KERNERSVILLE POST OFFICE ROBBED

Between $8,000 and $9,000 in money, stamps, liberty bonds and other valuable papers were taken from the post office in Kernersville early Wednesday morning. Nitroglycerine was used to blow open the doors of the safe where they secured the loot. The only clue left by the burglars was a brown overcoat, and the tools, which it was discovered, came from the local blacksmith shop. The postoffice authorities at Greensboro were notified, and an inspector was sent at once to Kernersville to make an investigation.

FORMAL CALL GOES OUT FOR STRIKE

The formal call for the Union coal miners strike was issued Tuesday March 21st, from headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, the strike effective at mid-night March 31. Copies of the call were sent to every district of the union except Nova Scotia, where it is said, that the contract with the operators had already expired. One clause in the strike call was, "There must be no violation of the law, no disturbance of any public peace."

MRS. B. P. FRAZIER, OF TRINITY, DEAD

Mrs. B. P. Frazier died at her home near Trinity, of pneumonia, Monday morning. Mrs. Frazier was a daughter of John Lee Smith. She is survived by her husband and four children.

W. E. FARLOW, OF THE CARAWAY SECTION, DEAD

Mr. W. E. Farlow, aged 35 years, died at his home in the Caraway section Sunday morning. He and all of the members of his family had had influenza. Mr. Farlow had improved and his death was sudden. He is survived by his wife, who is critically ill, and seven children, the youngest of whom is 18 months old. He was buried at Charlotte Sunday. Mr. J. F. Birkhead of Ashboro, conducting the service.

MRS. ABE YOW, OF WEST ASHEBORO, DEAD

Mrs. Abe Yow died at Memorial Hospital Sunday morning. She and all the members of the family had been ill with influenza. Mrs. Yow, her sister, Mrs. Nancy Hohn, and one of the children, had been taken to Memorial Hospital. All of them seemed to be getting along well until Sunday morning when Mrs. Yow died suddenly. She was a daughter of Mr. E. B. Ladwell, of Asheboro Rt. 2. She was a splendid woman, a good mother, kind neighbor and friend.

She is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. E. F. Barnes and Mrs. S. M. Kivett, of Lenoirville; Sidney Yow, Raleigh; Jesse C. Yow, Charlotte, S. C.; and James Paul Yow, who are at home. The funeral was held at the Friends Church, Rev. L. W. McFarland, of High Point, conducting the service. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

On April 1st a bus line will be established between Sanford and Carthage over the state highway. A large car will be built which will carry about twenty passengers.

money of the banks in our towns and cities. During the war he treated you and your country "white." He now demands that you, mainly taxpayers at your hands.

The Republicans ask how can we get the cash now to pay? We cannot answer as we have been getting the cash to run the government for the last five years. Basically up the Republicans got the cash to pay three billion dollars to the war contractors, two billions to the railroads for the benefit of the holders of railroad securities, $15 million for the war veterans, and $10 million for the holders of railroad securities.

How Joe Held His Job

(By Old Beggy.)

It is assumed that a number of the surviving "old-timers" around Handelman who are familiar with the early history of Norem will be interested to have brought back to mind an incident which occurred there more than 25 years ago and which for many a long day was a severing source of merriment. Indeed, it had remained dormant in my memory these years, until I happened some months ago, to be present when it was related by the Rev. Amos Gregson, who, no doubt, has more first-hand knowledge of the episode than any person now living—excepting, of course, the two parties directly concerned, one of whom, to my certain information, is still alive—Joseph Inchy, who played the leading role, of course, the names given in this narrative are fictitious.

For the better entertainment of the reader, I should like to relate the story after Mr. Gregson's interesting and inimitable manner, but as that is wholly out of the question, I must be allowed the privilege of submitting, not his, but my own version of it. In doing so, I shall endeavor to keep strictly within the facts as I recall them after the lapse of so long a time.

Joe Inchy, an unusual wit and genius if there ever was one, for a number of years, or at least for quite a while, served as night-watchman at the Norem factory, in which capacity he gave eminent satisfaction. However, for some reason never clearly understood by his many friends, he unexpectedly arrived at the conclusion that a change of occupation was desirable, so handed in the usual two weeks' notice, at the end of which time his resignation was to take effect.

After some little difficulty, a suitable man was found to replace him and he was ordered to report to Joseph to be initiated into the manifold duties of the job. He proved an unusually alert and willing young fellow, accompanying Joe on his nightly rounds of the factory and his environs and assisting him in firing the boilers and getting up steam, so there might be no delay in the mill's starting promptly on time. In those days, this constituted an important part of the night-watchman's duties and was usually begun around four o'clock in the morning.

Thus the two weeks' period of probation and "trials" passed pleasantly and speedily, and the new man arrived for the new man to take over the full responsibilities of the job and for Joe to quit. However, Joe's mind had, in the meantime, undergone a total and complete change, and it seems that he now had not the remotest idea of quitting. This, of course, created the rather awkward problem of disposing of the new man, who by this time considered himself well qualified for the place and now fully expected to get it; and it is in the solution of this problem that we are given a spark of Mr. Inchy's originality and genius.

WEEKLY RALEIGH LETTER

STATE WINS OVER RAILROADS IN TAX CASE—INFORMATION AS TO STATE INCOME TAX.

(By Maxwell Gorman.)

Raleigh, March 21.—The state administration is feeling mighty good just now over the victory of the state in the case brought by the railroads against the state and Revenue Commissioner Watts which sought to evade large sums in taxes.

The interlocutory injunctions which the roads sought in the federal courts against the collection of state taxes were denied in a unanimous opinion handed down by Judge Ed Waddill of the Circuit Court of Appeals, Judge Connor, of the Eastern North Carolina District and Judge Boyd of the Western North Carolina District.

Under the judicial code an appeal may be taken directly to the Supreme Court of the United States with a request for a stay of proceedings, pending decision by the Supreme Court. The code also provides that the case shall be expedited for hearing by the highest court.

In the event the opinion of the three judges should be overruled and the interlocutory injunctions granted, the cases will then be returned for hearings on their merits. But if the Supreme Court affirms the opinion of the three judges, the cases will then be ended for practical proposals and the suits will be dismissed.

Income Tax Receipts

The first year of the collection of income taxes through the new State Department of Revenue, A. D. Watts, commissioner, shows that department to be functioning well, the time limit for the payment of income taxes having expired by law March 15.

Under the law extensions of time can be granted for satisfactory reasons of the commissioner has been called on to a considerable extent, mostly by corporations. But he grants extensions only on the rule that the interest must be paid the state for all time elapsing subsequent to March 15, and there is no loss to the treasury on brief delays.

The income tax, which was put into its present shape by the overwhelming vote of the people of the state in November, 1920, puts the burden of taxation where it belongs—upon those who make the most money and are best able to bear it—and by eliminating all state tax on property, takes part of the burden off the poorer classes, least able to carry the burden. Watch the Political

This, with the $300 personal property exemption allowed families, removes the fear of the sheriff's visit to every little home or farm and the retention of the family milk cow, household and farming utensils, etc. And yet there are radical "cuties" who rail at this safeguard which the present North Carolina system of government has placed around the doors of the home—the greatest unit of all American institutions!

Keep your eye of suspicion on the fellows who would abuse your minds by muddling the waters of understanding on this subject by specious political argument. There's always a "nigger in the woodpile," and often he is trying to conceal some vaunting personal ambition. Take Judges Out of Privileged Class There is no mistaking the humor of the average citizen concerning the decision of the Supreme Court that its members and all other judges of the Superior Courts, etc., are immune from the income tax on their salaries. The next legislature will be called upon to submit an amendment to the already much "amended" State Constitution, whereby this unpopular provision will be expunged.

Get Tax-Exempt Bondholders, Too

Another expression of general opinion is the following from the Whiteville News Reporter, which says: "The Supreme Court of the state has upheld Judge Devin in holding that judges do not have to pay income tax on their salaries, because the Constitution says that their salaries shall not be diminished during their term of office. Doubtless there would have been stronger opposition in the Legislature to increase the salaries of the judges had it been intimated they would not be required to pay taxes like other folks."

ASHEBORO HIGH SCHOOL WINS FROM OAKDALE

The local high school ball team defeated Oakdale high school Saturday in a rather long drawn out affair that ended with an abundance of excitement. Burrow got away to a good start in the first frame but was relieved by Bulla in the third after being scored on for three runs in the second. Oakdale jumped on Bulla for 2 runs in the third and was relieved by Kivett who held the hard hitting crew to 2 hits on one run for the remainder of the game. While young Kivett was pitching superb ball for the remaining six frames, the locals piled up run after run and tied the score in the 8th. In the 9th the visitors added another, only to be followed by the locals as their half of the 9th with 2 runs, when Hubs Kivett won his own game with a blow between first and second, scoring the runners on 2nd and 3rd.

The local's game with Greensboro was rained out Monday and will be played next Monday, the 27th, in Greensboro.
