KNOW NORTH CAROLINA

The great asset of the Sandhills is the climate. This permits a wide variety of farming, and particularly the production of peaches, of which in quality the Sandhill country excels probably any other area on earth, while in quantity the output is already large and growing so fast that 1922 will see 1,500 carloads sent to market. The peach orchard is an opportunity in the Sandhills. So is the tobacco farm, for the Sandhills bright leaf brings a premium. Cotton, grain and general farming respond to the stimulation of the climate and the light soil, while produce and poultry bring the farmer much money from the winter resort towns of the region.

But it is the winter visitor and winter home-maker of the Sandhills that gives the greatest activity to this section of the state. Pinehurst, Southern Pines, Knollwood, Lakeview and other resort-towns are the product of the climate, and it is likely that in a few years the area embraced in the boundaries of these villages will widen into one big community of perhaps more people than in any other single community of the state. Pinehurst is already the foremost golf center of the United States, and thousands of people are attracted to the Sandhills in the winter from all the states, and even from abroad. This is developing a busy activity in all the lines that go to make up a populous center.

The opportunities found in such a place are the opportunities found in every center of many people. Skilled workers, professional and business men, clerks and superintendents, farmers, orchard and livestock men, almost every occupation, is called on for help in the Sandhills. Opportunities for the individual who will build for himself a business are on all sides, depending largely on the man himself, for where there are thousands of people as in the Sandhills, and a large proportion of them people of means, money awaits production or service in practically every line. It is a reasonable guess that a few years will see in the Sandhills a permanent population of probably 50,000. The building of such a community, the expansion of farms and orchards, and the sundry functions that go with all these tell plainly enough of opportunity.

Opportunity in the Sandhills is limited exactly by the ability of the man looking for the opportunity.—Bion H. Butler.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Asheville. Scores of Asheville people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

I. O. Hamilton, grocer, Hoover St., Asheville, says: "Several years ago I had kidney complaint and rheumatic trouble. My back ached a great deal and mornings I felt dull. There was a soreness in the muscles of my back and I had rheumatic twinges in my limbs which caused me to suffer greatly. My kidneys acted irregularly, also. Two or three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills used as directed strengthened my kidneys, and relieved the backaches and rheumatic trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hamilton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Henry Ford May Run for President

It was stated the first of the week that Henry Ford intimated privately that "if the people of the country desire him to do so" he would run for president in the coming campaign. Mr. Ford further stated that he would neither spend any money to bring about his nomination or election, as was stated by William T. Kronberg, editor of the Dearborn Independent.

IRISH DEFENSE REPORTED AS EXISTING IN IRELAND

The situation in Ireland is growing hourly more acute. A campaign of incendiarism has added terror to already terrorized Ulster. Business houses have suffered most, as many as seventeen being fired in one night. The loss amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Many of the factories were owned by Protestants in Catholic areas. Looting accompanied the fires and a greater than usual number were killed by murderers and rioters in various parts of Belfast. The Catholic Protection Committee sent a telegram to the British Secretary for the Colonies complaining that 47 Catholics had been murdered within ten days, that 45 were wounded and hundreds evicted. The Ulster Association also sent a telegram to the Secretary, stating that during the period ten Protestants had been killed and several others threatened with death. Ulster authorities made a raid on Sinn Feiners, arresting several hundred. This caused great excitement and fear of reprisals from South Ireland.

A conference was called in London in which Premier Lloyd George and other British officials met the Irish delegates who signed the Irish peace treaty. Proceedings were not made public, but it was stated that the discussions related largely to the elections to be held in June. The British officials were made uneasy by the pact agreed to by Michael Collins and De Valera, owing to the pronounced antagonism of the latter to the treaty.

On June 8, Belleek and its famous fort, which are in free state territory, were occupied by British troops and the British ensign displaced the republican tri-color which had flown from the walls of the fort since it was some time ago by Irish regular forces. The fort was taken by a platoon of the Lincolnshire regiment. The wall was badly damaged by six

Two Escape from Asheville Jail

Sawing through two bars of an inner cell and then through the bars of a third story window in the Buncombe county jail, June 7, C. C. Moore, of High Point, and Tom Foushee, of Bastington, awaiting decision of the supreme court in appeals from sentences of larceny of automobiles, swung to the ground by means of blankets tied together and escaped unnoticed.

Both were under sentence of ten years for larceny and conspiracy.

Believes Harding Enemy of Labor

The Brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers at Houston, Texas, June 8, passed a resolution condemning President Harding as an enemy of organized labor and declared that all members of the organization should work to prevent his re-election.

direct hits, out of 20 high explosive shells which were fired. The great difficulty with the Irish, both north and south, seems to be that they do not know what they want. They are in the position of the man who will be damned if he did and be damned if he didn't.

PRESIDENT FOUNT AND MISS JAMISON INJURED

In an automobile accident near Siler City, June 7, Dr. J. Foust, president of the North Carolina College for Women, suffered painful cuts and bruises on both hands and neck; Miss Minnie Jamison, a member of the college faculty, had her right leg broken below the knee, while William Peoples, negro janitor, was cut about the hip. Miss Jamison was carried to a hospital in Greensboro.

Physicians from Siler City attended them, and a Hanes ambulance was sent to carry them back to Greensboro.

The party was returning from the funeral of Mrs. S. J. McIver, who was buried in Buffalo cemetery that afternoon. After crossing the bridge north of Siler City something went wrong with the steering wheel and the car swerved into a small ditch to the side of the road. It turned over on its top, pinning its occupants beneath it. Dr. Foust was driving the car at the time, having relieved the chauffeur who had been at the wheel for a long period of time. The car was badly damaged.

Only six ounces of radium has been produced in the last 26 years.
