

GENERAL NEWS

A white man known in Greensboro for the past seven or eight months as C. F. Drake was arrested at Pomona Mills this week, as being Will Mayes, who is wanted by the police for killing Policeman Cleo Watkins about nine years ago in Raleigh. Mayes has been a fugitive from justice for about ten years ago at which time he became engaged in an altercation in a game of cards in Raleigh. He shot another player, though not fatally. It is understood, and when Policeman Watkins intervened Mayes shot and killed him. He is being held in Greensboro at present awaiting trial in Raleigh.

A most interesting meeting was held at Oak Ridge last week being the annual stockholders meeting at which time T. E. Whitaker, principal of the school, gave his report. Oak Ridge is now erecting a $7,000 gymnasium in memory of J. Allen Holt and Martin H. Holt, founders of the institution. A large number of people attended this meeting, and enjoyed the picnic lunch served under the trees at the noon hour.

Railway clerks in various parts of the country are seeking official sanction to take a strike ballot against the recent wage reductions of the railroad labor board.

The North Carolina Bar Association will meet at Wrightsville Beach in its annual summer session June 27-29. This meeting promises to be one of the best on record, and an interesting program in which a large number of the most prominent men of our country will take part is being prepared.

Mr. W. A. Pickard, of Siler City, died at his home June 16. Mr. Pickard has been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Wm. Edward Paschal, aged 66, died at his home near Sanford, Sunday.

Shoots Wife and Mother-in-Law.

A double shooting occurred at Clio, Ga., Monday night. Mrs. M. B. Dixon, 38 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Elliott Padric, 18, were shot to death and left in their car. Later in the evening Mr. Padric was arrested. He admitted that he shot the two women as he was driving them in their sedan on a pleasure trip. His wife, with whom he was not at present living was sitting beside him and her mother on the rear seat. He says that when he reached the bridge on which the car was found, his jealousy over his wife's alleged attentions to other men got the best of him and he stopped the car, pulled out his pistol and shot both women before they had a chance to move in their seats, he stated.

Money Found in Stump.

From the eastern part of Chatham county comes the report of the finding of $30.70 in nickels and dimes beside an old stump in the cotton field of T. A. Ausley. About a year ago Mr. Ausley found $25 in coins of the same denomination. All of them were dated before the Civil war.

To Members of the Sewing Circle.

You are hereby notified that on June 8 the Republican majority in the United States senate voted to take sewing-machines off the tariff list and impose a tariff tax thereon ranging from 25 per cent to 40 per cent on the value of these machines, thereby enabling the manufacturers to raise their price to you from 25 to 40 per cent. There is only one way you can show your opposition to this kind of profiteering and that is to vote the Democratic ticket this fall and thus help to get sewing-machines back on the free list. —COMMITTEE.

Prohibition, Where Art Thou?

Last week the annual report of the magistrates court of New York City was made. More persons were arrested for intoxication in New York during 1921 than in either of the two preceding years. While this does not speak well for prohibition, it does for the officers who appear to be trying to enforce what laws we have at least.

Death of Mrs. Eliza Fogleman Sunday

Mrs. Eliza Jane Fogleman, 74, died at the home of her son, Lewis Fogleman, three miles southeast of Staley Sunday. She was a woman very much loved and had a host of friends. The funeral was conducted from Pleasant Hill Christian church Monday by Rev. Henry Wrenn, interment being in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were Dennis Hodgins, V. T. Clark, J. C. Wright, M. N. Thomas, Wyatt Lineberry and John Lednum.

The flowerbearers were Mines Donnie Owens, Annie Teague, Pearl Teague, Lora Lineberry, Deleete Albright, Millard Lashley and—Eva Hodgins.

Who Got the "Likker?"

The Courier extends its sympathy to the people of Greensboro who appear to feel so keenly the loss of the quart of whiskey which was placed in the corners of the old courthouse more than fifty years ago. Still blessings may come in disguise, and if that quart had not been stolen, to whom would the lot of consuming it have fallen? Perhaps things are better as they are. It would seem to a casual outsider who has read the reports that some one who knew that whiskey was in the cornerstone got it. Anyway, it has reposed there in all apparent peace and quietude just where it belonged until the workmen tore the building almost down, then it was that "the chief came in the night" and committed the heinous crime.

ALL LIQUOR WILL BE PUT IN WAREHOUSES

Orders for the concentration in a warehouse of all liquors now held in residences throughout the county, following the prohibition law, have been issued.

NO SOLDIER BONUS LEGISLATION AT PRESENT

The fate of the soldier's bonus bill at this session of congress was put in the hands of 59 Republican senators, who met in secret caucus Monday to determine what action the upper house would take to provide for adjusted compensation for war veterans. A resolution was passed pledging to consider the bonus as soon as the tariff was completed. The resolution further stated that the senate would not adjourn until both the tariff and bonus measures had been fully disposed of.

Consolidation of Railroads.

There is considerable interest throughout the county over the question of railroad consolidation. The North Carolina Corporation Commission has through a signed statement by the governor, attorney general and three members of the Corporation Commission, placed itself on record as to what it thinks North Carolina needs in the way of railroad consolidation. The state wants Norfolk and Western to have the Norfolk Southern and the old Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley and presents its contentions to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The following is the plan: R. F. and P. from Richmond to Washington should be left an independent line, and not allow the Atlantic Coast Line to have entire charge of this important gateway, that the Florida East Coast should be left independent; that the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio should be consolidated with the Chesapeake and Ohio with which it now connects at Elkhorn, Kentucky, and upon which it now depends for its delivery to and from the west; that the Norfolk and Western branches should not only remain in North Carolina but that this great system should be allowed to consolidate with the Norfolk Southern system and also take charge of the line formerly known as the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley, running from Mt. Airy to Wilmington, the part far as Sanford now being operated by the Southern as the Atlantic and Yadkin and that east of Sanford as a part of the Atlantic Coast Line.

True Bill Against Hedgecock.

The grand jury now in session in Guilford county Tuesday returned a true bill charging Basil H. Hedgecock, former cashier of the Home Banking Company, of High Point, with embezzlement. It is possible that this case will come up at a special term of criminal court which will be held in Greensboro next week. Mr. Hedgecock was cashier of the bank at High Point which was closed several weeks ago. It is alleged that a shortage of over $100,000 was discovered in his accounts. He was given a preliminary hearing in High Point and held for superior court under bond of $20,000. He remained in jail in Greensboro for several days before he was finally able to raise the required bond.

Fishing Trip Results Disastrously.

Jim and Remus Bryant, of near Hickory, are in Lincoln county jail, awaiting trial as a result of an affray Tuesday night. It is alleged that the Bryants seriously cut Charles Little and Ole Hafner. The trouble started over the accusation of Little and Hafner which had been caught in traps. It is not known exactly how the affair started, but Little was so severely cut about the face and head that he bled to death almost instantly. Hafner was also badly cut about the face and head.

Woman Nominated for Senator.

Returns from the recent election in Minnesota showed that Mrs. Anne O. Olson had won the senatorial nomination of the Democratic party over two male opponents. This is the first time in the history of the country that a woman has been nominated for the United States senate by a major political party.

Miners and Rail Men Discuss Strike.

Joint strike action between railroad workers and striking coal miners was discussed Tuesday at a conference of John L. Lewis, leader in the coal strike, with chiefs of the rail unions, which are threatening to walk out next month in protest against wage reductions. The conference ended without any announcement whether definite plans had been agreed on by the leaders of the two groups. It seems they did agree upon one thing at least, and that was to keep silent.

Mammoth Still Captured.

A 200-gallon capacity still was captured on Governor's creek near Sanford last week. The still had been in operation a short time prior to the time the officers arrived. They found 200 gallons of beer and 15 gallons of the finished product.

It is a pleasure to sell Tanlac, because those who buy it come back and praise it. Standard Drug Co.

C. E. Convention Closes at Charlotte.

The Christian Endeavor meeting which closed Monday in Charlotte after a three days' session, was the largest attended of any ever held in the south. Charles F. Evans, southern secretary of Christian Endeavor, was present as were a large number of other prominent men and speakers of the state. The large number of delegates displayed an unusual amount of interest and many plans for forwarding the work were presented and adopted.

Attendance Large at Summer School.

The North Carolina College for Women summer school opened last week with an enrollment of over 900 teachers, young women from every section of the state. At the formal opening Dr. E. B. Tarver, president of Greensboro College, conducted the national exercises, following the reading of the Declaration of Independence.

WRITES INTERESTING LETTER

Mrs. J. E. Mendenhall, who is at Camp Knox, Ky., sends in her subscription to The Courier and writes interestingly of her family and of the community in which she lives. Mrs. Mendenhall is a daughter of Mr. W. F. Redding, of Asheboro. Her husband, Mr. J. E. Mendenhall, is a son of Mr. L. D. Mendenhall, formerly of Asheboro and Randleman, but now of Greensboro. Mr. Mendenhall was editor of the Bulletin before his enlistment in the army. He was a member of the 81st division and during the time he was overseas, began the publication of a paper for soldier boys, "The Diamond Dust." Mr. Mendenhall has continued his editorial work since going to Camp Knox by editing The Camp Knox News, which is a bright, spicy paper for the army men of the country. Mrs. Mendenhall's letter follows:

Camp Knox, Ky., June 15, 1922.

My Dear Mrs. Hammer: I am sending fifty cents for which please send me The Courier as long as the fifty cents lasts, which is as long as we will be here, I'm sure.

Ed's regiment is ordered to Fort Benjamin Harrison for permanent station, but we do not go until after the summer training camps are over. Hundreds of college boys arrived today for six weeks soldiering and the place is full of reserve officers and social activities as well as other activities are on for the summer.

I sent you last week two copies of the service paper Ed is getting out here in addition to his job as provost marshal. He has never been without that paper since the fighting was over. He organized it in Coblenz when he was in the Army of Occupation and loves it better than he does himself or family, and his family is mighty lovable, too. You should see Martha. For some unaccountable reason she is beautiful, with the cutest little ringlets all over her head and is so healthy and strong! She goes with her daddy for hours at a time whether on horseback or in a military police bus.

The college woman's club to which I belong, is planning a two day trip to Mammoth Cave, which is eighty miles away. There are so many historical places near here. I have seen the Catholic cathedral at Bardstown, which contains so many original famous paintings.

This is a Catholic community—all the farmers around come into mass at the camp chapel and it's quite a sight to see the poor old nags and funny buggies hitched in front of the church. Thank you for The Courier. CORA R. MENDENHALL.
