

Two Great Tire Values for the Light Car Owner

When you note the prices quoted below on 30 x 3 1/2 inch ROYAL CORD and USCO Tires—bear in mind that while the price has been going down, the quality has been going up.

The New and Better USCO is bigger, with thicker tread and sidewalls, more rubber, better traction, greater mileage.

The ROYAL CORD is more than ever confirmed in its leadership as the measure of automobile tire values.

ONLY A SHORT TIME UNTIL THE RANDOLPH COUNTY FAIR

It is only about three weeks now until the fair, and most of the buildings on the fair grounds are completed. All that is lacking is the products, and there is reason to believe that these are being prepared and will be forthcoming between the dates of September 20 and 23. On September 20 all school children will be admitted free. Through Congressman Wm. C. Hammer's efforts the services of an airplane has been promised for the occasion. Twenty men are wanted at once to take up tickets at the fair grounds. Apply to W. C. York, Asheboro, N. C.

Eighty-Six Pass State Board.
Eighty-six of the ninety-six who stood the state bar association examination last week to get license to practice law passed successfully. One paper was turned down because the young lady was only 17 years old. Another woman passed successfully. Among the list of successful ones was Bernard Franklin McLeod, of Buie's Creek.

Chautauqua Cancelled for Thomasville.
Thomasville has cancelled the engagement for a three-day Chautauqua for October due to the fact that their school auditorium burned in April, leaving no suitable place where the entertainment might be given. The course is the Swathmore Chautauqua, and they agreed to cancel the contract when the situation was presented to them provided the town would sign a contract for next year, which they agreed to do.

Agricultural Education.
North Carolina is much indebted to its College of Agriculture and Engineering at Raleigh. Since this institution was established, some thirty-three years ago, there has been a marked improvement in our agricultural practices; in fact, the state, through the adoption of modern scientific farm methods made possible by the college, now ranks as a leader in grain, cotton and tobacco production. Graduates have returned to their homes and not only made good as farmers themselves, but have proved of incalculable value in improving the conditions in their respective neighborhoods.

poultry raising; seed values; proper trucking and gardening methods; fruit growing; disease pests and their control; rotation of crops; the kind of farm implements best suited for different purposes, etc., etc. They instruct those around them.

An education that actually trains in and for life's duties is always an efficient and common sense training. And it is this the State College furnishes without stint. No institution in the land is accomplishing more.

These men with a practical knowledge of the various crops and the best methods of raising them, are the backbone of the state's agriculture.

It is expected that General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, will attend the annual convention and reunion of the grand camp of Virginia in Winchester, August 29-31. The commander-in-chief, it is understood, will attend as a visitor, but he will be accorded a reception and all honors befitting his rank.

A sturdy baby boy of five or six months with a bottle of milk beside it labeled "David" was found last week in a boarding house operated by Mrs. W. J. Harris, of Durham. Mrs. Harris is anxious to provide a home for the baby and has already named it William David, the mother being far from certain as to her own name.
