NEXT PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE STILL A QUESTION

Will Harding Divide The Party On International Court

(Special Correspondence)
F. St. Clair
Washington, April 24.—The uppermost question in the political mind at this moment is, will President Harding divide the Republican party on the international court issue. Hardly a day now passes that some prominent leader of the party does not appear in the role of opposition to the President. It is reported that a majority of the Republican national committee have urged the President to abandon the international court proposal. Word comes that the Iowa Republicans are in a state of ferment in their hostility to the speech of Secretary Hoover at Des Moines recently advocating the United States joining the court.

On the other hand it is admitted by some of the hard boiled, practical politicians who are opposing the position that the President has taken that he has burnt his bridges behind him. They admit that if he now surrenders to what is deemed political expediency that he will destroy in the public mind all idea that he has any real strength of conviction as a leader of his party. But to most of these politicians expediency is every thing and conviction is nothing. They say, look at 1920. Mr. Harding stood on the Republican platform for an "association of nations" till defeat began to stare him in the face. In his Des Moines speech he repudiated his position and his party platform. It saved him from defeat, they declared.

Now they assert that he has placed himself in an almost similar position to that he occupied before his great renunciation at Des Moines, and his only hope of even being nominated by his party for President, is to make a like renunciation. But the President's international court friends are telling him to take no party leader's word pro or con on this question. Take it to the people, explain it to them and let them by their manner of reception decide the course he should pursue hereafter. The President, it is inferred, will be just as ready to abandon the court as he was the association of nations if he finds public sentiment hostile.

The President's international court friends now privately concede that he and Secretary Hughes committed a tactical party blunder in springing the proposal when they did. They ought to have waited till congress assembled next December, it is admitted, but the President had begun to fear this activity of the Progressives in preparing for domestic legislation, and so made his court proposal to divert the public mind from this danger. The court proposal has now completely overshadowed the program of the Progressives but it has now brought back into the field all the irreconcilable isolationists and small Americans who defeated the league of nations and who were preparing to defeat Harding before his Des Moines speech. It has redoubled the wagging of the tongues of political platform speakers like Borah and Johnson and has spread panic among the regulars.

What is more the President's proposal, it is now clearly seen, has placed him on the defensive. Senator Borah has made it plain that there is no middle ground between going into the league of nations and staying out. The judge that this country selects for the court will be found to pass upon European questions. It can be avoided if he functions at all, reservations or no reservations. And every time he passes on a European question he commits the United States to the policies of Europe.

If the country does not warm up to Mr. Harding's speeches on the court, it is predicted here that he will be eliminated as a candidate long before the Republican national convention meets. His enemies are moving every force at their command to eliminate him. The effect of his speeches on the court will receive all the absorbing interest that the speech of Mr. Wilson received when he swung across the continent in September 1919 for the league of nations. Mr. Harding's venture will be watched by Democrats no less than by Republicans. The hard boiled Democratic leaders are hoping that Harding will fall and so signally that his failure will deter Woodrow Wilson from making the league of nations the paramount issue in next year's campaign. But on the other hand the Democratic rank and file will welcome his success as the herald of

FORMER RAN. OLPH COUNTY CITIZEN DIES IN GREENSBORO

Mr. A. J. Woodell Wrote His Own Obituary—Was 83 Years Old

Mr. Allen J. Woodell died at his home in Greensboro on last Friday, at the age of 83 years. Mr. Woodell was only ill for a short time. He had lived practically all his life in Asheboro, until four years ago, when he moved to Greensboro to live with his son, E. A. Woodell. Mr. Woodell on last Saturday conversed freely, saying he could not live long, and then requested a member of his family to get out an autobiography which he had written himself, on June 13th, 1918, which is as follows:

"Allen James Woodell, son of Matthew and Nancy Woodell, was born in Grant township, Randolph county, North Carolina, November 15, 1839. Went to school at White Oak Springs winter sessions. Worked on father's farm until at the age of 22. Was drafted into the Confederate army on the 6th day of March 1862. Left home on the 27th of April 1862. Remained in Confederate army until November 7, 1863. Went to the old capitol prison in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of November, 1863, and remained there until February, 1864. Was sent to Point Lookout Md., and enlisted in the U. S. service. Was discharged on June 6, 1864. Hired to work on a farm to a man named Horatio Tyliding, in Town Neck, Anna Auralund County, Md., and remained with him until September 14, 1865. Returned home. Taught school till April, 1866. Worked in the Trogon Iron mine until October 9, 1866. Then was married to Nancy Jane Brookshire Horney widow of W. C. Horney, who died in the army in 1864. She died November 7, 1886, leaving seven children living, two dead. Married to R. E. Nelson December 5, 1888."

Mr. Woodell has many friends in Asheboro and in Randolph county. He was a member of the Friends church in Asheboro. He is survived by two sons, E. A. Woodell, of Greensboro, and J. Causey Woodell, of Asheboro. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Garner, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Mary Pass, of Rosewell, Ga. Funeral services were conducted from Glenwood Presbyterian church Monday, after which interment was made in Green Hill cemetery.

TOBACCO GROWERS MEET

Last Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Court house the Tobacco Cooperative Association, met for the purpose of electing new officers for the year and for transacting other business of the Association. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. J. E. Spence. Coles Store; Vice-President, Mr. J. D. Lawson, Ramsour, Rt. 1; Secretary, Mr. E. L. Slack, Seagrave.

The following men were elected on the Executive Committee: Mr. W. B. Millikan, Randleman, Rt. 3; C. M. Tysor, Erect; W. J. Moffitt, Franklinville; Clarence Frazier, High Point Rt. 5; D. C. Poole, Asheboro, Rt. 2; S. A. Allred, Staley.

At the meeting it was planned to have a canvass of the county for new members, and to organize locals over the county in order that the members can get together and discuss the business of the Association better than they are able to do with only the County Association. In this way the different locals can send representatives to the county meetings when necessary and thus save time.

Mr. Swain, District Organizer for the Association was present at the meeting made a wonderful talk on the work of the association and told the growers what they had done during the past year and outlined the work for this year. Mr. Swain stated that he was going to devote more of his time to Randolph County this year than he did last, and proceeded to prove it by arranging a series of meetings over the county. Two meetings are to be held this week as follows: Sophia, Wed. night Apr. 25th, and Seagrave Thursday night Apr. 26th.

In addition to this there will be meetings in May as follows: Shiloh School house Mon. night, May 14th. Lambert School house Thursday night May 17th. Liberty, Friday night May 18th.

I hope that every tobacco grower in the county will try to get to one of these meetings whether he belongs to the Association or not as there will be some good speaking and things discussed that will be of interest to all tobacco growers.

EWING S. MILLSAPS, County Agent

MR. D. B. McCARY UNDERGOES OPERATION, CONDITION MUCH IMPROVED

Mr. D. B. McCary was taken suddenly very ill on Thursday night of last week and was taken to the High Point hospital where he underwent an operation Saturday morning. Appendicitis and a complication of troubles brought about Mr. McCary's illness which temporarily alarmed his family and friends. The case was unusual in that Mr. McCary's appendix was located on the left side and it had caused obstruction of the bowels. The crisis is over and his improvement is satisfactory. Mrs. McCary and three children are in High Point, where Mr. McCary is recovering from

RAMSEUR COMMENCEMENT GREAT SUCCESS

MRS. DION ARMFIELD IS GRANTED FULL DIVORCE

Mrs. Dion Armfield, of Greensboro, has secured an absolute decree of divorce from her husband, Jesse L. Armfield, the decree having been signed several days ago at Harkersville by Judge J. B. Ray. Attorney Z. I. Walser, of his city, represented Mrs. Armfield in the proceeding, which was not answered by the defendant.

INFIDELTY WAS ALLEGED IN DEPOSITIONS PRESENTED BEFORE THE COURT

Infidelity was alleged in depositions presented before the court. The cause of action was stated in these as having occurred at Jackson Springs in 1921. The name of the co-respondent and her place of residence was not named in the charges.

It had been rumored that Mrs. Armfield was considering divorce proceedings, but this was denied at one time by persons in close touch with her.

J. L. Armfield, who fled to Mexico after collapse of the Bank of Thomasville, was brought back, tried and acquitted, then entered a sanatorium at Richmond, left there and was reported to have eluded his brother-in-law at Cincinnati, has been reported here months as being in a sanatorium in Kentucky.—Lexington Dispatch.

FARMER COMMENCEMENT TUESDAY NIGHT

The closing exercises of the Farmer High School were held in the Methodist Church at Farmer Tuesday night. Dr. Edward C. Perisho, of Guilford College, delivered the address, speaking on educating the youth. On account of the school building having been destroyed by fire recently, there was not a real commencement this year. Rev. W. H. Willis preached the commencement sermon Sunday morning to a large and appreciative audience.

The following young people received diplomas: Raymond Walker, Clara Kearns, Hazel Kearns, Lena Cashatt, Dallas Elliott, Anna Spencer, Herbert Luther, Carl Hammond, Alonzo Lyon, Ollie Lambert, Velon Kearns, Irwin Lassiter, Desso Walker.

The Farmer Commencement has for many years been an event which has been enjoyed by probably the largest crowds assembled at any commencement in the county. In all probability the commencement occasion next year will be doubly interesting on account of the fact that there could be no such annual event this year.

Prof. R. E. Gresham, the present principal was selected for another year. Four of the other teachers were re-elected.

NEWS OF THE TOWN AND SURROUNDING COUNTRY

What Our Field Correspondent Hears—Matters of Interest Discussed

The employes of the Deep River Mills at Randleman have recently received an increase in salaries of 10 per cent.

A glance at the statements of the nine banks of the county printed recently in The Courier, encourages us in the hope that better times are to follow.

Gardeners are behind time, but if the weather continues warm, English peas will soon be ready for use.

Work on Candor's new high school building, the finest in Montgomery county, is being rapidly pushed and will soon be completed. The building is very much like the school building in Ramsour.

With the new buildings nearing completion and the ones contemplated, Liberty is making as much progress as the average town of its size.

There never was a preacher or president, poet or politician, who could please everybody. There never was a tinker or tailor, soldier or sailor who could suit all. Show us a doctor or lawyer, merchant or sawyer, who pleases the whole multitude. The Lord himself and all the angels in heaven have never half succeeded in comforting the human race. There is not a thing on earth or anywhere else that meets the approval of all mankind. Then it would be nonsense for correspondents to fret when their honest efforts fail to please a certain few. Write with sound judgment and honest purpose and a decent pen, and the majority of sensible people will rise up and call you blessed.

A series of protracted meetings will begin the first Sunday in May at the Holiness church in Asheboro and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. V. B. Stanley.

The matter of breaking up blockade liquor is in the hands of the people as well as the officers. They must demand action on the part of officers and must help them.

One of the best things we can do for the world is simply to do our own little part to the very best of one's ability, and leave the remainder to the other fellow. When we try to carry the whole burden we generally succeed in carrying nothing, and still worse, in frustrating the other fellow, so that he cannot carry anything.

Every citizen should have enough sense to get him to subscribe to his local paper. No other paper is interested in his welfare. We would feel little to say we didn't take the local paper. Stop borrowing The Courier from your neighbor. Be a good citizen and subscribe.

Spring fever may be inevitable, but there is no excuse for having it the whole year round.

Mr. A. R. Lowe, who has just completed an attractive residence in South Asheboro, will move into it this week. Mr. Lowe has sold the residence in which he has been living to his mother, Mrs. Ruth Lowe.

Mr. H. T. Caveness is building another house for rent in west Asheboro.

The speeder still acts as though he has full swam and that he does not have to explain for his rapid movements.

There is talk of a cotton mill at Asheboro. Asheboro is a fine place for a cotton mill.

Mr. Reggie Auman, a Randolph man, who now lives in High Point, spent Sunday in Asheboro.

Asheboro is a good town and has a weekly payroll of $15,000.00.

We do not believe that there is a county in North Carolina which will offer better opportunities in general farming than Randolph county. There are thousands of acres of land in Randolph still in the woods. There could be opened up in this county twice as many farms as there now are and equally as good ones. Randolph could easily settle two thousands more good farmers and then have land to spare. We need more farms, more manufacturers and more laborers. How are we to get more farmers to come in? First by letting them know that we have the land. Second, by telling them the land will produce. Offer encouragement based on facts, and the people will come, if you will make prices right.

Mr. Scott Rush, a prominent and highly respected citizen of the Caraway section, was in Asheboro one day last week.

ASHEBORO FORTUNATELY LOCATED

Randolph County roads are the pride of the county and the joy of the tourist. They are substantially built and are in excellent condition. Leading out from Asheboro, which is on the National Highway between Greensboro and Pinebluff, is a system of improved highways such as have made North Carolina famous. These splendid roads are of great importance to the farmers as well as the motorist and add pleasure to the experience of anyone who might be fortunate enough to be attracted to this section. No town in the State is more advantageously located in the matter of splendid roads, Asheboro being the originating point, or on the line of the following State Highways: No. 62 leading North-east to Liberty, Graham, Yanceyville, and into Virginia; No. 70, leading north to Randleman, Greensboro, Reidsville and South to Hanes, Fitchburg, Aberdeen and

LAND SALE OF WINSLOW PROPERTY GREAT SUCCESS

Mr. John M. Brown Won Ford Car; Large Crowd Attended

The W. C. Winslow land sale Tuesday was a great success. It was conducted by The Horney Bros., who are nephews of Mrs. Sallie Rush. They are formerly of High Point but now of Asheville. The lots sold from $40 to $225 and the sales were confirmed by Mr. Winslow. A feature of the sale which caused much interest was the giving away a Ford Car. Cards were distributed, every person who signed the card and was on the grounds when the cards were drawn stood a chance. The excitement and enthusiasm increased as the sale went on and at the conclusion the crowd eagerly awaited results.

Mr. Horney announced that the crowd might name three reputable local men to award the Ford car. Whereupon the names of John B. Humble, Sulon Steadman and Dr. J. W. Moore were called. They selected a little Jarrell boy who drew a card on which was the name of John M. Brown. Mr. Brown was present and received the car and a friend drove it home for him.

RANDOLPH CLUB AT CHAPEL HILL HAVE A BANQUET

The Randolph County Club had its most successful feed of the year Friday night. Cakes, fruits, candies, drinks and smokes were served. The club had not met for several weeks due to its expectancy of some visitors to the Hill from the county during High School Week, but Randolph was one of the unrepresented counties in the contest held here that week.

We notice that the Trinity lads are the champs of the county in baseball. We wish to extend to them our congratulations, and we hope they will keep on "steppin' on em," and at the end will make their field of conquered the state instead of their county. "Go to it, Trinity."

It might be of interest to the people of Randolph county to know just how many boys there are at the University from their county. Their names and town are as follows: Randleman: R. C. Rike, M. M. Sherwood, A. A. Swaney, L. W. Ruth, A. F. Ruth and H. Q. Ferguson; Asheboro: W. C. Frensell, T. A. Burns, J. W. Burkhead, D. A. Troutman and F. L. Phillips; Ramsour: C. E. Whitehead, R. L. Forester, T. E. Maness and E. A. Greene; Sophia: A. A. Wall; Trinity: B. E. Johnson, W. H. Coltrane, R. B. Downs, R. C. Welborn; Liberty: C. B. Alexander, A. J. Hanner and A. D. Butler; Franklinville, F. M. Patterson; Julian, G. R. Stout, making a total of 25, which is the largest number of boys that Randolph has ever had at Carolina at one time. We would like for next year to be another record breaking year, so the members of the club trust that each boy graduating this year from the Randolph county schools will seriously consider coming to Carolina next year. We who are here now know that they can get a better training here than at any other college in the state, and we feel sure we can convince them of that fact if they would only give us a chance. We therefore insist that each of these boys pay a visit this spring to some one at Carolina.

MR. HUGH PARKS BUYS HOME IN ASHEBORO

Mr. Hugh Parks who has lived all his life at Franklinville, has purchased Mr. J. S. Lewis' residence on Sunset Avenue in West Asheboro. Mr. Parks succeeded his father in the management of the Franklinville Cotton Mills, and upon selling the property there a few weeks ago, decided to move to Asheboro. Mr. Parks' many friends in Asheboro will welcome him and his splendid family. Mr. Parks' friends throughout the county will be interested to know that he expects to reside in Asheboro. Mr. Lewis will begin the erection of a handsome home on Fayetteville Street, adjoining Dr. J. W. Swain's home, in the near future.

MISS BESSIE FOUST MARRIES W. V. TOWSON

Mr. W. V. Towson, of Spencer and Miss Bessie Foust of this city were married at the Baptist parsonage Monday evening April 23, by Rev. J. W. Rose.

Mrs. Towson is the daughter of W. L. Foust of Asheboro and she has many friends in the town. She was an operator in the Asheboro Telephone exchange at the time of her marriage.

Mr. Towson is a promising young business man of Spencer, having been in the railroad service there for seven years. Mr. and Mrs. Towson left Tuesday for Spencer, where they will reside.

Lumberton; No. 75, leading west to Lexington, Mocksville, Salisbury Statesville, Taylorsville, and Lenoir; and East to Franklinville, Rainsboro, Siler City, Pinebluff, Chapel Hill, Durham, Oxford and into Virginia; No. 77, leading North-west to High Point, and Winston-Salem, and numerous top soil, gravel roads leading from the county east into several and various points throughout the county.

GEO. CRAVEN BUYS COUNTY BONDS

Asheboro Bank and Trust Company Buys School Bonds

The $122,000 funding bonds to cover the floating indebtedness of Randolph county were sold to the highest bidder on Monday of last week to Sidney Spitzer & Co., of Toledo, Ohio, represented by George B. Craven, of Trinity, Randolph County, for $123,588.20, being a premium of $1588.20. The bonds bear 5 per cent interest. There were ten other bids.

The Asheboro Graded School bonds for $60,000, were also sold Monday to Asheboro Bank and Trust Co., for George H. Burr and Co., of St. Louis, as 5 1-4 per cent bonds for $60,830, being a premium of $830.

There were fifteen bids on the school bonds.

The $122,000 has been accumulating for several years and for which 6 per cent notes are outstanding.

This is the floating indebtedness which the State auditor found the county due up to Dec. last. This was charged in the last campaign that the county was indebted nearly a half million dollars. This was denied by the former county officials who were candidates for re-election, but the audit which has been completed and the facts show the heavy indebtedness of the county.

REV. RANDALL OTHO STONE, MINISTERIAL STUDENT, COMMITS SUICIDE

Rev. Otho Stone, a ministerial student of Westminster Theological Seminary, committed suicide by hanging himself in the college gymnasium Monday morning.

Mr. Stone was 25 years of age. He was president of the senior class, captain of company A of the battalion and editor of the college monthly. The cause of the rash act committed by Mr. Stone is attributed to nervous exhaustion from overwork.

Mr. Stone is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stone of near Thomasville. He stood well in his class and had a promising outlook. He would have received his diploma of graduation in the Spring. Mr. Stone has for the past three years been room-mate of Frank Redding, Jr., of Asheboro, who is a member of the senior class at Western Maryland College. Mr. Redding and Dr. Haddaway, Dean of the theological department of Western Maryland College, accompanied the body home and spent Tuesday night in Asheboro.

Mr. Stone's body was laid to rest in the family burying ground near Thomasville, yesterday. His death is a great shock to his many friends.

Mr. Stone preached in Asheboro last summer, and many of the citizens of the town will recall his visit here.

ROSS CAMERON'S DWELLING BURNED

The two story dwelling of Ross Cameron near Cid in Davidson county was burned Tuesday afternoon, April 24.

The fire caught from a stove fire. Only a small portion of the household furniture was lost.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS GIVE BANQUET AT GARLAND LAKE

The Knights of Pythias will give a banquet at Garland Lake tonight. It is expected that a large number of the members with their wives, will be present. An interesting program has been arranged, in which several of the local people will take part.

UNITED SALES COMPANY BUY WAGGERS STOCK OF GOODS IN RANDLEMAN

The United Sales Company, which owns a chain of stores in Charlotte, Charleston and Florence, S. C., has bought the stock of goods belonging to the late Max Wagger in Randleman. Mr. I. Reid, of Charleston is in charge of the business. They will conduct a closing out sale which began the first of the week and will continue until the stock of goods has been disposed of. Mr. Reid and his assistants come to Randleman highly recommended as thoroughgoing business men, and they will no doubt be successful in this, their new field of business.

MISS MARJORIE JOHNSON BRIDE OF JOSEPH S. LINEBERRY

On April 19 at the Grace Methodist Protestant church in Greensboro, N. C., Miss Marjorie Johnson became the bride of Mr. Joseph Scott Lineberry, Rev. R. A. Hunter, of Winston, performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Lineberry is the daughter of the late James Johnson, of Worthville, and is one of the most popular young ladies in the county. She held a responsible position with the Norfolk & Western Railroad at Winston-Salem for several years, having taken a course in the Edwards Business College at that place. Mrs. Lineberry has many friends in Winston, as well as in Randolph county.

Mr. Lineberry is the son of Capt. W. E. Lineberry, of Millboro, and is a prosperous young farmer who has many friends in Winston, as well as county. Their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous life. They will be at Locus Grove farm after April 21.
