MRS. J. C. HANNAH DIES TUESDAY

Mrs. J. C. Hannah, a well-known and beloved woman of this town, died at Memorial hospital early last Tuesday morning, following an illness from cancer.

The funeral was conducted in the M. E. church, of which the deceased was a devoted member, yesterday morning at 10:30, by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Willis. The large crowd in attendance and the many beautiful floral offerings showing the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mrs. Hannah was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Brewer, of New Hope township. She is survived by her husband, one son, Mr. Reid Hannah, two daughters, Mesdames E. O. Russell and Eugene Chisholm, three grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, all of Asheboro, besides one brother, Mr. W. H. Brewer, Glenora; and two sisters, Mrs. E. A. Russell, Troy; and Mrs. R. L. Talbert, New Hope township.

The deceased was married in 1880 to Mr. J. C. Hannah, who survives her. She lived in Randolph county until 30 years ago, when she moved to Troy and lived there eleven years, after which the family moved to Asheboro. Mrs. Hannah was converted in early life. She had been a member of the M. E. church since the age of 14 years. A devoted wife and mother, a true friend and neighbor, and a faithful Christian woman has passed to her reward. The Courier joins in sympathy to the bereaved family.

A large crowd attended the funeral in the M. E. church yesterday morning. As a part of the service, Mr. E. Grady Miller sang "Crossing the Bar" in a most impressive manner; and a quartet composed of Mr. J. O. Redding, Dr. Ollie Presnell, Mr. H. Grady Miller, and Mr. H. E. Craven, of Raleigh, rendered a beautiful selection.

SWINDLER NABBED BY WILKES FARMER

On complaint of S. A. Mitchell, a farmer of Wilkes county, who spent several days recently in Richmond, Virginia, aiding the police, Marlon Allen, stock salesman and promoter of Richmond, was arrested last Saturday, on the charge of swindling Mitchell out of $5,000 worth of high grade securities. The Richmond man is charged with inducing Mitchell to exchange the securities for some stock which turned out to be practically worthless.

BROTHER OF MR. J. T. WOOD DEAD

Mr. Lorenzo C. Wood, a prominent citizen of Handy, Davidson county, died in a High Point hospital last Saturday, aged 66 years. The funeral and burial were at Siloam church on Sunday, services being conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Randall. The deceased is survived by his wife and two sons, Van and Whitson Wood, besides other relatives. Mr. J. T. Wood, of Asheboro, is a brother.

SANFORD'S INDUSTRIAL DAY

Lee county is one of the most progressive counties in the State. It is naturally a county with fine industrial enterprises with vast coal deposits, but is a fine farming county. The leading industry in the county is the up to date modern cotton mill of which John B. Jones is the manager and principal owner.

One of the growing concerns which bids fair to be one of the largest industries is the passenger car factory headed by W. J. Edwards. These cars are in great demand, and are in use on many roads in the north and west, and it is said they are to be used by the Southern in the near future.

There were many business men from various parts of the state at Sanford last Wednesday on Industrial Day. It was gratifying to find coal being mined in such large quantities in the Old Egypt mine, now Cannon, and also across Deep river in Chatlam at the new Carolina mine operated by Moore County capital and enterprise. Sanford and Lee county are not only getting on the map but are destined to stay there.

EDWARDS CAR TO BE PUT ON E. P. A. R. & S. RY.

It is stated that the present passenger coaches will be taken off the railroad from Asheboro to High Point and that two of the Edwards cars built by W. J. Edwards and associates at Sanford will be put on for the convenience of passengers.

Each of Edwards' cars has a gasoline engine and are being used by many railroads. The Baltimore and Ohio have more in use than any other road.

DETOUR MAPS IN HOTELS

For the benefit of motorists, the state highway commission has placed in the hotel lobbies of the State large maps of the detours in effect during each month. This new service of the commission became effective with the July detours.

FORD WILL SEEK DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

(By David F. St. Clair).

Washington, July 17.—Henry Ford's agents here have let it be known that his name will be presented to the Democratic primaries in all the states where Presidential primaries are to be held. He will seek the nomination of the Democratic party for President. There is now no longer any doubt about that and its certainty has helped clear the atmosphere. It is revealed not only by straw ballots but in many other ways that the Detroit car builder has developed immense popular strength throughout the country. Democratic leaders are therefore beginning to take measure to prevent Ford from capturing the nomination. They are marshalling all the other candidates in the field against him. They know he can not be defeated in securing primary delegates by putting up no body against him. It is the whole field against Ford and the battle is on in dead earnest.

Last week the followers of William G. McAduff met in New York and organized with a definite view of beating Ford at the primaries in the states where the former secretary of the treasury has any real strength. Governor Alfred Smith's forces have followed McAduff's lead and the Underwood organizers here have fallen in line with this policy and will set to work the moment Underwood announces his candidacy. Governor Cox and Senator Ralston have not as yet indicated whether or not they enter the struggle for primary delegates but the leaders of the party are urging them and other prospective candidates to do so. Senator Ralston is regarded as very much in the race. The purpose of the leaders is to get the name of every candidate in the field on the ticket in the states where the primaries are to be held so as to poll every possible vote against Ford.

The leaders recognize that securing delegates by the preferential primary as conditions now are is one of the most costly phases of politics. These primary delegates can be secured by efficient organization and tireless labor and in the present struggle there is no time to be lost. Ford's car selling agency, the greatest selling agency in the country, is attempting to sell him for President with every car that it sells and in many of the western states it is succeeding. So there must be haste to array the field against Ford but all possible candidates must join in to make the opposition more efficient and prevent the primary from becoming a farce. The favorite State son idea will be allowed to prevail where such a son is strong enough to beat Ford.

The leaders say that they do not at present fear that Ford will be nominated. If he had all the primary delegates and had no others, he would have less than a majority of the convention and it requires two thirds to nominate. The nomination will be made on the floor of the convention as it has always been done but the leaders do fear the psychology of the situation if Ford starts winning the first states where primaries are held. His initial success may, and probably would have a strong influence on the balance of the country. They feel that it is of the utmost importance to beat him in the early primaries.

The certainty that Ford will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination is about as unwelcome news to the Republicans as the fall below a dollar in the price of wheat. Indeed the two events are very similar in political import. Few Republicans believe the Democratic leaders can prevent his nomination and if he is nominated, they frankly concede his election by the greatest landslide ever known in the country's history. It is hard to find a Republican in Washington who believes Harding can be elected at all and as against Ford the election of the car builder is already unwritten.

Ford's friends say that they do not fear that he will or can commit any mistake that will militate against him as a candidate. His declaration that "all history is bunk" they avow, has had the effect of demonstrating what a free and independent character the man is, just the sort of man needed for the present crisis.

BIRTHDAY DINNER IN HONOR OF MR. WILLIAM COX

Neighbors and friends of Mr. William Cox, of Asheboro Star Route, surprised him with a big birthday dinner last Sunday in honor of his 69th birthday anniversary. About 125 people were present, and a most sumptuous dinner was served on a long table in the front yard. Mr. Cox had one brother, Mr. A. C. Cox, resident; and one sister, Mrs. S. G. Spoon.

FRANKLINVILLE BOY PASSES MEDICAL BOARD

George W. Sumner, of Franklinville, was one of the 98 successful candidates who passed the examination of the State Board of Medicine a few days ago. Dr. Sumner will locate in Asheboro. He will be connected with Dr. C. A. Hayworth in the practice of medicine.

And here comes Mrs. Landon, member of the city council of Seattle, ...

RANDOLPH COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT

The civil term of Randolph Superior Court for July convened last Monday morning, with Judge B. F. Long of Statesville, presiding. Judge Long is considered one of the ablest jurists in the state, and has many friends in Asheboro an Randolph county.

A few cases were continued on Monday. Later, in the case of Doretta King vs. Isaac Lucas, the plaintiff failed to appear and was taxed with the costs, a non suit being ordered.

The case of J. W. Jackson vs. Mrs. Emma Kearns, caused by a dispute over a dam which the plaintiff and defendant built together, was taken up. The court decided that in consideration of the facts that the difference between the plaintiff and the defendant have been in court before, have been twice reviewed by the supreme court, that there are now two actions pending that involve substantially the same subject matter, that the court has tried in vain to reconcile the differences, even advising arbitration with a hydraulic engineer as one of the arbitrators, that there are now 345 cases on the civil docket, that a mis trial be declared and a neutral ordered some time in the future so that other litigants may have a chance to have their differences settled.

As we go to press, the case of C. N. Royals vs. L. E. Ingram, in which the plaintiff is suing the defendant for damages for alleged injuries in an automobile collision between the cars of the defendant and the plaintiff is being tried.

INFORMATION WANTED

Miss Julia Thomas writes The Courier that Dr. Thomas W. Lingie, of Davidson county, has asked her for information concerning Elsie Burney Lindley Burney, who went to Davidson in 1847, from Randolph county; and A. H. Graham, who was in school there in 1846, from Randolph. He would like to know the year and the place of death of both these men. If any reader of The Courier can give the desired information, Dr. Lingie will appreciate the same.

JOHN G. DAWSON STATE CHAIRMAN

Mr. John G. Dawson, of Kinston, who was elected chairman of the state Democratic executive committee last week, assumed the duties of his new office last Thursday. Mr. Dawson is popular with the entire Democratic party.

CATAWBA COLLEGE TO MOVE TO SALISBURY

Catawba College established 72 years ago at Newton, will be closed for a year, moved to Salisbury, and re-opened in September, 1924. The Salisbury Normal and Industrial Institute has been purchased and the property will be taken over by the trustees of Catawba College, which is the state denominational college of the Reformed church.

FORMER JUSTICE WILLIAM R. DAY DEAD

William R. Day, a figure of international fame, secretary of state under President McKinley and later a justice of the United States Supreme Court, died at his summer home on Mackinac Island, Michigan, last week, at the age of 74. He had been in failing health for some time, having recently resigned as umpire of the mixed war claims commission.

E. G. MORRIS SELLS PROPERTY TO E. L. HEDRICK

Last Friday, after the rain had scattered the crowds that gathered for the sale of the Norfolk-Southern property, Mr. E. G. Morris sold the entire property to Mr. E. L. Hedrick, for $7,350. Mr. Morris paid the Norfolk Southern $5,500 for the land.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Final arrangements have been made for the Summer school to be held at Ramseur instead of Asheboro, beginning next Monday morning with Mr. T. E. Story in charge assisted by Miss Meriel E. Groves and Miss Alice McCollers. The Board of Education has been informed by the local school board at Ramseur that homes have been provided to take care of all teachers who want board. All teachers of the county are requested to be present Monday morning at the graded school building at 9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. T. E. Johnson of the State Department will meet the teachers and explain thoroughly the requirements, credits etc. Every teacher should be present the first day and hear for himself the rules and regulations of the summer school.

T. F. BULLA.

BELOVED YOUNG WOMAN PASSES

Miss Lucile Caviness died at the home of her parents in West Asheboro, last Thursday afternoon, following an illness of three months or more.

Miss Caviness was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Caviness, being in the twentieth year of her age at the time of her death. She graduated from the Asheboro high school in 1921, and entered Greensboro College in the fall, where she remained a student until about Easter of this year, when her health failed and she was compelled to leave school. She sought restoration to strength in a sanatorium near Pinehurst, but finding no relief returned home and suffered patiently to the end.

The deceased was a young woman of bright mind and admirable character. While living at Coleridge, at the early age of eight years, she professed faith in Christ and joined the M. E. church. When her parents moved to Asheboro a few years ago, her membership was transferred to the Asheboro M. E. church, where she remained a faithful member until death. She was very ambitious to train her mind and do good in the world. Choosing teaching as the profession for which she would prepare, Miss Caviness planned to take her A. B. from Greensboro College and later her A. M. from Trinity College. She was a loving daughter and a true friend. A large circle of friends sympathize with the heart-broken parents and other relatives.

The funeral was conducted in the M. E. Church on Thursday afternoon, by Rev. W. H. Willis, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large congregation. The floral tributes were many and very beautiful.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Caviness; one sister, Mrs. Roy Cox, of Asheboro; and one brother, Mr. Floyd Caviness, of Coleridge.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were the following: Rev. D. N. Caviness, Cary; Dr. and Miss Josephine McCracken, Sanford; Mrs. Gladys Whitehead, Norfolk, Va.; Trullinger and Misses Verdine, Hallie and Clara Trullinger, Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Craven, Mrs. T. J. Green and sons, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Thomas, Ramseur; Ray Tysor, D. H. Lambert, Mrs. B. E. Smith and sons, Greensboro; Messrs. C. M. and T. H. Tysor, Erect; Misses Maud Lee and Mary Lee Tysor, Erect; Mrs. Carl Teague, Thomasboro; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ward, Mrs. W. H. Yow, H. C. Parks, Miss Beas Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pool, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Caviness, Misses Blanche, Faye and Esther Caviness, Mrs. K. W. Brooks, Miss Zora Fennire, Pein Cheek, Lution Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Caviness, J. A. Brower, Clayton Shields, R. H. Brady, D. F. Brady, Coleridge.

MARRIAGE INSURANCE

The Southern Marriage Endowment association, of Greensboro, offers to pay its policy holders $1,000 each at marriage, if they remain single one year.

MUCH INTEREST IN MIS-SPELLED WORD CONTEST

Much interest is being shown in The Courier's mis-spelled word contest, which will continue till the second week in September.

We understand that a number of contestants are holding their lists of words to be sent in later. We shall appreciate having the words sent in each week so that we may publish the names of leaders in the contest.

At present, Miss Dora Freeman, Utah; and Mrs. C. E. Hughes, Asheboro; are tied for first prize; while Mrs. Calvin Cox, Ramseur, comes second; and Miss Johnette Vansurry, Randleman, is third.

Other contestants making good showings are Misses Ronie Sheffield, Lois Smith, Eugenia Harper, Linnie Burkhead, and Mesdames George Ferree, R. J. McDonald, W. S. Brower, and C. E. Baldwin.

In sending lists of mis-spelled words, please name the words. Two or three lists of words have been sent in with no name signed. Please sign your name, as of course we can give no credit unless name is signed.

MISS HAYWORTH DIES AT ARCHDALE

Miss Martha E. Hayworth, one of the oldest and best known women of her county, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. H. A. Tomlinson in Archdale, last Sunday, at the age of 81.

Funeral services were conducted at Springfield church, Tuesday morning by Rev. Lewis McFarland and interment followed in the church cemetery.

The deceased was of a prominent family. She is survived by one sister Mrs. Victoria Petty, of Greensboro; and large number of nieces and nephews, among whom are the following: Misses Mary and Annie Petty, Greensboro; Mesdames H. S. Ragan and H. A. Tomlinson, Archdale; Lee Andrews, Archdale; Charles Petty Clinton; and H. C. Petty, New York.

MRS. WINCIE PARKS DEAD

Mrs. Wincie Parks, of Franklinville, widow of the late Charlie Parks, died at Memorial hospital, last Tuesday morning. Mrs. Parks suffered a stroke of paralysis in February, from which she never fully recovered. When brought to the hospital about three weeks ago, she was suffering from the results of a fall.

Mrs. Parks was born October 22, 1844, being at the time of her death 78 years old. She was married to the late Charlie Parks in 1861, and to them were born seven children, only three of whom survive her. They are Miss Ellen Parks, Franklinville, with whom the deceased made her home; and Mrs. Fannie Cox and Mrs. Charles Vestal, of Plainfield, Indiana. She leaves several grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and a host of friends who will sadly miss her.

The deceased was born near Coleridge, where she lived until about thirty years ago, when she moved to Franklinville.

Funeral services were conducted at Parks Cross Roads Christian church, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

One feature of the Approaching Randolph County Sunday School Convention at Trinity Methodist church, Trinity, N. C., Monday and Tuesday, July 30 and 31, will be the presentation of a beautiful pennant, 18x36 inches, to the Sunday school having present the largest number of representatives over sixteen years of age, according to the number of miles traveled. The number of representatives from a given Sunday school will be multiplied by the number of miles from that church to the convention church, and the school having the largest total will receive the pennant. The Sunday School with which the convention is held, and any other school within one mile, will not compete for the pennant.

There will also be a roll call of townships, when a record will be made of the number of Sunday schools represented from each township as well as the number from each school, and the number of pastors, superintendents and teachers present.

The County and Township Sunday School Association officers who are promoting the plans for the convention are: County President, Mr. E. B. Moore; County Secretary, Miss Hester Patterson; Township Presidents: Prof. T. E. Story, J. E. Taylor, J. R. Lamb, Miss Mariette Neese, W. T. Hamner, J. F. Hughes, S. E. Henley, C. E. Durham, J. F. Jordan, W. E. Marley, Edmond Ridge, Carl Lassiter, J. M. Trogen, J. F. Lynch, T. L. Miller, Walter Parks, O. D. Lawrence, S. G. Richardson, Carl Brady, E. W. Brown.

These officers are requesting the co-operation of all pastors, superintendents and other Sunday school leaders in the effort to make the convention a success.

The two out-of-County speakers on the convention program will be Mr. D. W. Sims, General Superintendent of North Carolina Sunday School Association, and Miss Flora Davis, Assistant Superintendent. Both Mr. Sims and Miss Davis are well trained and experienced Sunday school workers. With these two outside speakers and the splendid local talent, the county officers feel that an interesting program is assured.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Rochelle, of High Point, were week-end guests of Mrs. Rochelle's mother, Mrs. O. E. Cox. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Rochelle, who has been some time in High Point.
