MR. J. M. KING'S HOME VISITED BY INTRUDERS

Late last Monday night the home of Roe King, who lives about one and one-half miles southeast of Ashe-bore, was rocked and damaged to the extent of several broken window lights and the family narrowly es-caped being hit with stones which came through windows. Mr. King went to the local police and informed them of the outrage and the officers came through windows. Mr. King went to the local police and informed them of the outrage and the officers engaged blood hounds from W. C. York, also of Asheboro. The hounds struck the trail of intruders imme-diately after reaching the King home. The trail was followed through the woods for several miles then came to an abrupt ending in front of the home of James Staley, colored, who lives about one mile east of town. One of the Asheboro efficers who was standing near the Staley house says that he heard someone run out of the house and that within a few minutes he heard an automobile leav-ing the vicinity very hurridly. It is thought by some that the party re-sponsible for the rock throwing es-caped in the submobile which the officer heard. No arrest has been made yet but the officers think they will be able to make an arrest very shortly. This is the second house in the same neighborhood that has been damaged by intruders within the last two weeks. The other house be-longed to Miniley Hill. Mr. Hill did not report the rock throwing be-

DEMOCRATS PRESENT SOLID FRONT TO THEIR ENEM

New Members By David F. St. Clair. Washington, December 5.-progressives in the senate have ferred to let The Old Guard on ferred to let The Old Guard organ-be that body without registering a protest. They have given plain hints, however, that a battle may be ex-pected when the senate is engaged in the throes of actual legislation. There are two reasons for this quiescence of the senate progressives: their leader, Senator La Follette, is very ill here in his home. It is difficult to learn just what is the true state of his health. Old Guard gossip reported last week that he might not five to re-main a thorn in the side of the Re-publican regulars.

The other reason is that even with La Follette in command, the fight of the progressives and better be made in the house than in the senate for the house must be organized from rabbits, eight squirrels, 5 birds and top to bottom before it can begin to function at all. Part of that organization, however, was assured and has been effected, since the Old Guard was able to conciliate Representative Graham of Illinois, a candidate for floor leader, by giving him a commanding position on the Republican steering committee. That left the path open for the selection of Representative Longworth for floor leader. Large Bequest For Davidson

The largest bequest that has come to Davidson College since the Civil president of the Lorillard Tobacco war was left by Robert K. Smith, Co. Mr. Smith was born shortly before the Civil war near Milton, N. C. and has been in the tobacco business practically all his life. At the time of his death he was living at Orange, Va. So far as is known Mr. Smith never attended college and never saw Davidson College; the donation which amounted to $50,000 was left because of the impression of the merits of the institution.
