Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles . . . and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you. Sold Everywhere.

Soggy Biscuits
Indigestion

From time immemorial, leavening gas has made the "touch" which made the paste of flour and water a digestible food—the staff of life. A flat and soggy loaf or biscuit is an unleavened food. So it is that leavening agents such as yeast or baking powder are employed.

To insure to the American housewife complete leavening of her biscuits, cakes, muffins, etc., which is so important to perfect digestion, the pure food authorities found it wise to require a certain standard of leavening strength in baking powder.

To maintain this guaranty of digestibility—to insure minimum deterioration of leavening strength, baking powder is packed in tin. This prevents absorption of atmospheric moisture. Dampness produces premature reaction in the can—results in loss of leavening gas.

The food official, would properly condemn baking powder if packed in cheap sacks.

But what about self rising flour? It comes to the southern housewife from remote northern mills packed in porous bags. What happens to this mixture of baking materials and flour?

Chemical analysis shows that much of it has lost its leavening strength before it reaches the consumer.

Breadstuffs made with such self-rising flours cannot rise properly—they come to the table heavy, flat, and soggy.

Why don't the pure food officials demand that self-rising flours contain 0.5% leavening gas, the equivalent to the 12% required of baking powder?

Calumet Baking Powder is scientifically and legally correct—the last spoonful is as pure and sure as the first.

STOP-LOOK-LISTEN DANGER JUST AHEAD

HASTINGS DECLARES PRESENT
SOUTHERN FARM TREND DANGEROUS.

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special).—"Unless the present farm trend toward increased cotton acreage in 1924 is checked within the next two or three months, disaster will stare our farmers in the face next fall," declares H. G. Hastings, leading agricultural authority and Chairman of the Farm and Marketing Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"On every hand comes reports that the farmers of the South are planning and preparing for a large increase in cotton acreage over the already excessive cotton acreage of 1923, and with the labor shortage, this inevitably means a decrease in food and grain acreage.

"When will our cotton growing folks learn the lesson that big cotton acreage in a favorable or even near favorable season means more cotton than the world can take care of promptly and a price smash resulting that brings either farm bankruptcy or financial crippling to our people?"

"There was enough cotton acreage in 1923 with even fair growing seasons to have made sixteen to eighteen million bales and a price of 10 cents, or thereabouts. The only thing that saved us from our own folly in 1923 was Providence stepping in with heat and drought west of the Mississippi River and excessive rain and boll weevil in the Southeast, the two combined cutting the crop to ten million bales.

"Stop-Look-Listen! is a common form of sign at dangerous railroad crossings. The present cotton situation and present abnormal high price ought to be a Stop-Look-Listen sign to every farmer in the South who is even remotely thinking of adding cotton acres and cutting down food and grain acres in 1924.

"It's a 100 to 1 bet that they will lose whichever way things go. If bad seasons and boll weevil don't get them, a price lower than a paying one will. If there was ever a time in the history of the South when the cotton farmer in the South ought to play safe, it is in this year of 1924.

"The South and the individual farmer in the South will never accumulate farm wealth until he quits gambling in cotton, gambling through big acreage plantings at high price periods, and produces, as a steady year in and year out policy, all the food and grain needed for home needs on home acres."

There will be an egg laying contest in Cleveland county this year. Sixty-five poultrymen have entered their birds and about twenty more are expected to take part, reports County Agent R. E. Lawrence.

NOTICE OF LAND SALE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a decree of the superior court of Randolph County in a special proceeding entitled Victor Parker et al vs. Gurney Henley et al the undersigned Commissioner will on the 2nd day of February, 1924, at 12 o'clock M., at the court house door in Asheboro, N. C., offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash the following described lands in Cedar Grove township Randolph County.

Tract No. 1. Beginning at a red oak and running south 42 chains and 85 links to a white oak; thence east 35 chains crossing creek to a stake; thence north 31 chains and 10 links to a pine; thence east 39 chains and 60 links to a pine, Hammonds corner; thence north 21 chains and 75 links to a black jack; thence west crossing the creek to the beginning. Containing 235 acres more or less.

Tract No. 2. Beginning at one of the above named corners in Fugnoy's line running thence south on his line 3 chains to a black oak on the north side of swamp; thence east 39 1-2 chains to a stake; thence north on Hammond's line 34 chains to a pine, corner of the other tract; thence west on said line 39 1-2 chains to the beginning. Containing 100 Acres more or less.

The above land contains a large quantity of young and valuable timber and is supposed to contain valuable mineral possessions.

Said sale is made on account of an increase bid on the former bid. The bidding will start at $2151.00.

Said sale is subject to the confirmation of the Court.

This the 18th day of January, 1924.

C. N. COX, Commissioner.

AGED MINISTER DEAD

Rev. William H. Strickland died at his home at Proximity last Thursday following a twelve hours illness from paralysis. Rev. Mr. Strickland was born in Wake county over 63 years ago, and since he entered the ministry at an early age has been a faithful servant of God. For some years the deceased served the pastorate of several Baptist churches in Randolph county and has many friends who learn with regret of his death. Among the churches he served was the Deep River Baptist church at Coleridge.

CORRESPONDENTS MUST SIGN ARTICLES

Practically all newspapers require that all correspondence coming into the office be properly signed before it is published. Of course the names are not always published, in fact rarely ever for local news unless requested, but we must ask our correspondents to be careful to sign all their news items. Several good items came into our office last week, and again this week which are not being published for this reason. We want the news and appreciate every item sent in, but this is a rule, and we must adhere to it.
