Throughout the entire State an effort is being made to enforce the Truant Law, which forces children of school age to attend school. Reports are in the daily and weekly papers every few days giving the number of children who are delinquent and sent to school by the officers. There are several children in our town and living on the outskirts of the town who are not in school and should have the opportunity to go. In other words, their parents should be forced to send them. Our State and nation depend upon the children. Let us train them as best we can; and certainly it is our duty to educate them.

alone as I like to, to discover a great city. That street begins with a little park holding palm trees and tropical flowers—the first I ever saw, and runs Northward as I remember for three or four miles. It is as wide as Pennsylvania avenue here or about 150 feet and has four rows of trees (I don't know the kind) one along the side of each side walk and two bordering a grass plot along the middle. It is stone paved and the sidewalks are paved with tile and various floral and other designs are effected. Ornamental lamps light it well at night, and beautiful well dressed women stroll through it in the afternoon. It is lined with fine stores, shops, banks, business offices and farther up, hotels and theaters. There are of course many streets which do not look well but Rio certainly does have many beautiful ones. I drove around the bay, through the finest residential section to get my thirteen letters at our embassy, on the return trip and the houses, parks, streets, churches, etc. are as pretty as any one finds them in any city. The city is much like Paris with its gardens and avenues but more like an American city for its music, shows, clothes, automobiles and everything a civilized people use. The shop windows are full of American made things and they are well liked. I went to a show in the evening where French, English and Portuguese were sung and spoken. The wealthy people are better educated and know more languages than many wealthy Americans.

They have as good things as we have in our largest cities and appreciate them more. On the return trip I enjoyed a good lunch with an old friend and his wife who have been there over a year. We had vegetables and meats and drinks and the music by six women was fine.

We left Rio-de-Janeiro Aug. 17th, and reached Montevideo, Uruguay the 20th. I met the American Consul and Vice-Consul and an old friend. I enjoyed a good lunch with the Vice-Consul, the others being busy. That afternoon I took several pictures around the railroad stations and had my own snapped in the "Independence Place" before the President's house. That is an older and smaller but a fine city with lots of good people. Next day we reached Buenos Aires, capital of Argentina, the third country visited, which city has about two million people and is beautiful as most European cities which it is like. I found a fraternity brother there and met some of our officials. I was given a guest card to the American Club and enjoyed its hospitality while there. I went to several shows—one was Carmen, a drama in five acts and Spanish of course. The cabarets were interesting and exciting too. The equinoxial storms occurred that week so I stayed on the ship several evenings. Since I was not used to winter in August, I realized it was well to not to be exposed too much.

On August 30th we sailed from that wonderful city back to Montevideo and on the 31st to Santos, Brazil which we reached September 3rd. That afternoon I went on the train up 2600 feet 60 miles to Sao Paulo the business center of the country and a city of 600,000 people. The people look well and the city's buildings and parks and streets are beautiful. The blooming flowers in winter and the tropical ones in the parks were wonderful to me. I saw an office of ours there and hurried back after a three hours stay in one of the real cities of the world.

Three-fourths of the world's coffee is grown near there and two-thirds of it goes out via Santos, the seaport. On September 4th we returned to Rio-de-Janeiro and on September 5th started home. That giant ship 535 feet long and weighing 21,000 tons carried us through those beautiful seas throughout the trip at about 30 land miles an hour which is fast as water. We had cream and fresh fruits and vegetables every day.

We had parties, dancing and shows, swimming, news, sunbathing, wonderful salt business—everything one could want. It was great. Let me impress you with the fact that the U. S. Government has some wonderful ships on the coast and that South America is not a wilderness but it contains several wonderful peoples and their ways are to be admired.

I've had to hurry but I hope it will give you an idea of what I hope sometime to talk to you about and if it interests your guests a little I'll be pleased.

I'm certainly sorry to hurry it so much but I am needed for time and money. I'll be home on Tuesday night. I have to go to New York today.

I am sending 32 pictures with notes on the back of each which may interest you and which you may keep if you care to. I hope you all enjoy the meeting, and please give my greetings and very best wishes to all my friends and neighbors. I think of them often.

Much love,
BROWER YORK

CHEERFUL WORDS For Many an Asheboro Household. To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Asheboro readers. Mrs. J. A. Beaver, N. Fayetteville St., Asheboro, gave the following statement July 28, 1918: "I had a bad pain in the small of my back and it hurt me a lot at times. My kidneys were irregular in action and I also had spells of nervousness. The least thing would irritate me. Headaches and dizzy spells were annoying and my sight would blur. Doan's Pills were recommended to me so I got some at the Asheboro Drug Co. I used Doan's according to directions and can say that they cured me of the pains in my back, regulated my kidneys, took the headaches and dizzy spells away and I no longer suffered from nervousness. I haven't had any sign of the trouble since." On December 15, 1921, Mrs. Beaver added: "I have had no need for a kidney remedy since Doan's cured me several years ago. I always recommend them." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
