SOME BAPTIST DOINGS

At a call conference last Sunday, the Asheboro Baptist church voted, requesting its Board of deacons and Superintendent of the Sunday school to draft plans and obtain estimate cost of six more class rooms.

The pastor announced the coming of Rev. H. T. Stevens, on March 12th, to organize the church for the revival services that will begin April 27th. Mr. Stevens was booked for this meeting last June, the date fixed and accepted by vote of the church last November. Mr. Stevens is Superintendent of Evangelism for the Baptist of North Carolina, and has proven himself to be one of the most successful evangelists in the South. He has a tent and is thinking of using it here. It will be a community wide revival, uniting the Christian workers throughout the town and community for the saving of the lost.

Another important act of the conference was the organization of the local church for the final 76 million campaign. Mr. H. S. Edwards was elected director for the church, Mrs. G. H. King for the W. M. U. and Miss Rilla Spoon for the B. Y. P. U. An Associational meeting in the interest of this campaign will be held with the Baptist church at Franklinville, Thursday, February 28th, beginning at 2:00 P. M. and running through the evening hour. A good program has been arranged with the speakers out-side of the county.

JAS. W. ROSE, Pastor Asheboro Baptist Church.

The Charlotte Chamber of Commerce plans to place its entire organization behind the agricultural advancement of Mecklenburg county this year, says Secretary C. O. Kuntz in a recent letter to Director B. W. Kilgore.

Social Column

Mrs. Clarence Ruth Hostess.

Mrs. Clarence Ruth was hostess to the members of the Friday Afternoon Club at her home on Sunset avenue at a delightful meeting. The program for this occasion was from the book, "Kind and Manners of Wild Animals". Miss Lena May Johnson read an interesting article on birds and other fowl. Mrs. Hal Walker read, "The Language of Animals," which was read for Miss Bess Scarborough who is out of town. After the reading of the papers, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. J. Lassiter, served a delightful course of refreshments, cherry and nut salad, fancy shaped sandwiches, wafers and hot tea. On each plate were Washington Birthday favors, and flags were in evidence in the living room where the guests were entertained.

U. D. C. Hold Meeting.

The Randolph Chapter U. D. C. held a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. J. D. Ross with Mrs. Ross and Mrs. L. C. Moser joint hostesses. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. L. Moffitt, and the roll called. After the minutes of the last meeting, a few items of business were disposed of. Mrs. Ross then read, "How a Woman Saved Richmond" and Mrs. Annie Robins read, "The Battle of the Handkerchiefs". Both papers were especially interesting and instructive. A contest was then given out being the names of Washington's contemporaries with the letters of their names disarranged. Mrs. E. H. Morris and Mrs. H. W. Walker won the prizes. The refreshments were assorted sandwiches, hot coffee and fudge cake. The entertainment rooms were appropriately decorated with flags and other things suggestive of Washington's birthday.

Mrs. E. G. Morris Charming Entertains Priscilla Circle.

Wednesday, Mrs. E. G. Morris was hostess to the Priscilla club and a number of invited guests at her home on Salisbury street. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with potted plants, flags, clusters of cherries and other symbols suggestive of Washington's birthday. After sewing and chatting for awhile, pencils and cards were distributed for a "Washington" contest in which Mrs. J. D. Ross excelled and was presented with a lovely box of candy decorated with cherries. The hostess assisted by Mrs. J. D. Ross and Mrs. E. H. Morris served delicious refreshments. The plates contained chicken salad, wafers, French peas in patties, rosettes with pickles and cranberry jelly, coffee and whipped cream. Little hatchet "stick-ups" decorated the plates. Later Martha Washington candies and mints were passed. Invited guests were, Mesdames E. H. Morris, J. D. Ross, Sam Story, J. K. Wood, J. T. Ingram, Hal W. Walker, Chas. Fox, L. L. Whitaker, and Miss Rosa Rush.

Mrs. Birkhead Entertains.

Mrs. Harris Birkhead entertained at a pleasant party Saturday afternoon honoring Mrs. Sam Story. Hearts was the game played at three tables. The honoree won the top score prize which was a love story by Van Dyke, and the guest of honor prize was a hand made buffet set. The entertainment rooms were prettily decorated with narcissus and lilycynths, a delectable salad course with accessories was served.

Mrs. Story Honored.

Another pleasant party honoring Mrs. Story was given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Ward with Mrs. J. W. Menius and Mrs. Gurney Millikan hostesses. This party was a linen shower, and the honoree received a number of lovely gifts. A contest furnished entertainment, and Mrs. Herman Cranford won the prize, a box of powder, while Mrs. Story was given a China tea pot. Each guest then wrote a "recipe" for the bride. A congealed salad course with assorted sandwiches, chocolate tarts, and punch and pickles was followed by candies. Valentine decorations were used.

VALENTINE PARTY AT RANDLEMAN

The eighth grade students of Randleman high school gave a pretty Valentine party at the home of Miss Kate Brookshire last Thursday night. Besides the students of the eighth grade, there were also several members of the high school faculty present. The rooms were beautifully decorated in Valentine style. Rook and other interesting games were played. After the conclusion of the games, ices cream, cake and other refreshments were served. A very enjoyable time was had by all who were present.

Buncombe County Officers Break Up Plot to Free Prisoners.

Buncombe county officers have broken up a plot which would have effected the delivery of about a dozen prisoners now confined in the Buncombe jail. By mere luck the letter which told of the hiding places of saws and implements which were to be used in the delivery, fell into the hands of Sheriff of Buncombe county and his quick action prevented a wholesale delivery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks and affection for the many deeds of kindness and help our relatives and friends did during the recent sickness and death of our dear wife and mother. May God's richest blessings rest upon each of them, and may we all meet where parting comes no more.
