Foreign Advertising Representative THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Mr. Denby claims that it is far more healthy to walk than to ride—Guess the smell of oil does have a rather sickening effect on some people.

The Editor of The Montgomerian does not mince words concerning his political affiliations. He assures the public that he is a Democrat, and that his paper is now, and will always be, Democratic.

The general opinion is that the Teapot Dome has been boiling about long enough to have cooked the entire Republican Administration. They are "done" but it seems they prefer being "hard boiled."

When Mr. Mellon was pulling off that little "juggling stunt" with the bonus figures he accidentally dropped about four million soldiers votes for his party. It's strange his party would let him attempt such a delicate task without a little more coaching.

The fact that Byfield accepted the check from Candler after charging Candler with assaulting his wife, is positive proof that money is now used to settle such matters instead of the sword our gallant forefathers would have used in a matter of this kind.

Before making his final decision upon a successor to Edwin Denby as secretary of the navy, President Coolidge has been going over a list of names furnished by newspaper correspondents, who were invited to suggest men who would fill the requirements he has laid down.

If the soldiers can vote as well as they can shoot, President Coolidge will be able to attend to his agricultural duties back on his farm, and will have time to seriously wonder how the farmers have managed to exist when wheat was selling for $1.25 per.

A disabled soldier was recently given three years in the Pen for stealing a second hand overcoat—Summons Col. Forbes. Isn't he the man who sold several thousand overcoats which had been bought for disabled veterans?

If President Coolidge has as much trouble getting a new secretary of the navy as he has had getting rid of his Attorney General, he might as well wait and let the next Democratic President do the choosing. Mr. Roosevelt, even though he is "slightly elated" will be able to hold down the job until March, and then the present administration can let the Democrats do the picking.

The Montgomerian has recently moved its office and mechanical department in the handsome new three story building just South of the Bland Hotel on the Main street of Troy. A new linotype machine has been installed, and the press has been undergoing a complete overhauling and now is in excellent condition. Mr. Huneycutt is a man who believes in not only keeping up with the times but also in keeping ahead. During the past year the circulation of The Montgomerian has almost doubled, and Mr. Huneycutt is greatly encouraged. The people of Montgomery County are to be congratulated over the fact that The Montgomerian is now one of the best equipped plants of any weekly newspaper in the State. It is the only paper published in Montgomery county and is an old paper, having been founded almost a half century ago.

The question is asked, is President Coolidge a politician? The answer is that nobody knows. When he went into the President's office, he was recognized as the silent, cultured, educational man of the mediocre New England type, but the very day he took the oath of Office of President, the agencies of wealth that represent the mercenary interest, and the newspaper correspondents of the metropolitan newspapers in the national capital began a systematic campaign, exhibiting his qualities which every body knew he had and possessed and a campaign which has been maintained since which has not yet spent its force. Mr. Mathews is beginning to denounce him and naming in his denunciations the State and the State.
