KLAN ISSUE A HARD PROBLEM

Democrats are Anxious to Keep Klan Issue Out of New York Convention.

(By David F. St. Clair)

Washington, June 10.—Decidedly the most dangerous problem that now confronts the Democrats is how to keep the Ku Klux Klan issue out of the New York convention. This same question may come up this week at Cleveland but it is not made a fighting issue in the Republican party. In the Democratic party the leading candidate for President, W. G. McAdoo, is charged by Senator Underwood's friends, has acquired his great strength in the South and West through the influence of the Klan.

Whether or not this is true, it is no secret that the Klan is very friendly to Mr. McAdoo and he has shown no disposition to antagonize it. The danger that is feared in the New York convention is the growing demand of the Klan itself that the convention must go on record as endorsing it. For sometime the anti-Klan forces represented by Senator Underwood and Governor Smith have been threatening to ask the convention to pass an anti-Klan resolution. This threat did not scare anybody for the Smith-Underwood men can control neither the committee on resolutions nor the convention itself.

But it now appears that the Klan is encouraging a move on the part of its enemies for a show-down in the convention. This was a disturbing fact in the Democratic conferences held here last week, both in the McAdoo and anti-McAdoo camps for the leaders of the party are extremely anxious to keep this issue out of the campaign. It cuts both ways as a political question. If the New York convention should commit the party to the endorsement of the Klan it would sweep the big Eastern States into the Republican party and the Central and Western States into the Democratic party.

Political leaders foresee what will happen if this religious issue is injected into American politics. In the intense hatred that it has always aroused elsewhere in history and is certain to stir up here, every other question will be overshadowed and the tolerance that the founders of the republic put into its cornerstones will be destroyed. That tolerance, the Klan now shouts, has already been destroyed and it is only the blind who will not see what is before the country. It asserts the issue cannot be blinked or put out of sight by the dread of timid politicians.

Mr. McAdoo's friends point out that to counterbalance the charge that he has made use of the Klan to promote his candidacy, he has chosen former Senator Phelan, of California, a prominent Catholic, to make the leading nominating speech for him in the New York convention. That not only shows his tolerance, they contend but he has neither favored nor opposed bringing up the Klan issue in the convention. His backers here charge that his enemies are trying to make a Klan candidate of him solely to injure him with all those persons outside of the Klan.

A Republican congressman said yesterday: "McAdoo is the most dangerous man for us the Democrats can put up, and he, will get many votes, especially in the West, of men and women who are in sympathy with the nationalism and patriotism of the Klan ideals."

As the convention approaches nearer and nearer, the feeling seems to grow that as Mr. McAdoo and Governor Smith have come to incarnate in the public mind respectively the opposite sides of this Klan issue, the only way to eliminate it from the campaign, will be to nominate some other man for President. Governor Smith's nomination has never been regarded as possible because of the very danger of the Klan issue, and if the Klan has impressed the public to any extent that Mr. McAdoo is its candidate, many Democrats in the New York convention will be inclined to think twice before throwing away the big Democratic Catholic vote.

It was particularly that aspect of the dangerous Klan issue that Mr. McAdoo's managers sensed in their conference here last week. But they profess to be absolutely confident that he will or rather that he has already overcome this obstacle in his path as he has vanquished the oil slanders.

GIVING OUT

The Struggle Discourages Many a Citizen of Asheboro.

Around all day with an aching back, Can't rest at night, Enough to make any one "give out," Doan's Pills are helping thousands. They are for kidney backache; And other kidney ills. Here is Asheboro proof of their merit:

Mrs. W. D. Spoon, S. Fayetteville St., says: "I had the grip and my kidneys were left in a weak condition. I got right down so I couldn't be on my feet five minutes at a time. My back ached and my whole body was in pain. My feet and limbs swelled and my fingers were so stiff mornings that I couldn't bend them. The way my kidneys acted caused me no end of annoyances. I used Doan's Pills for these ailments, which I got at the Asheboro Drug Co. Doan's were just the right remedy for me and soon put me on my feet again. The aches and pains left and my kidneys were regulated."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Spoon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

Gained Ten Pounds CARDUI The Woman's Tonic and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle up I began to improve. My side hurt less and I began to mend in health. I took four bottles in all during the last ten months. Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all and my... are quite regular. I know that Cardui will help others suffering from the same trouble. Take Cardui. E-101

"You want to follow this chart!" "WHAT'S the good of a scientific lubricating chart," says the experienced Fleet Boss, "when you don't take the trouble to follow it. You ought to use medium in Winter and heavy in Summer, watch your transmission grease and use a real flushing oil when you drain your crank case. Car and oil engineers together have figured out the chart. I use it for every model in the fleet—you ought to be just as careful." Fifty-four years of experience in studying lubricating problems and specifying the right lubricants are back of the "Standard" Polarine Chart. For car, truck or tractor—motor, transmission, differential—the chart is your one reliable guide. Learn what the chart says and stick to it. Most good dealers carry all the "Standard" Polarine Motor oils and greases you need and urge you to accept only what the chart recommends.
