

THE COURIER
PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY
Thursday, July 17, 1924

Entered as second class mail matter in the postoffice at Asheboro, N. C.

There is general interest among the newspaper folks of the state in the appointment of John W. Park, publisher of the Raleigh Times, as a member of the Wake County Board of Education to succeed the late Dr. Withers. Mr. Park is not only a successful newspaper man, but he is especially interested in education.

The Courier has from time to time emphasized the danger of the reckless driving of cars. The citizenship of the community will be shocked to hear of accidents which will occur unless greater care is exercised. There is too much speeding and especially by a crowd of young fellows who would not hurt anyone willingly. There is an old saying an ounce of precaution is worth a pound of cure. Let young and old white and black be more careful and avert accidents.

WALTER A. BROWER VISITS COUNTY

Mr. Walter A. Brower of Atlanta, Ga., was in Asheboro and his old home town, Franklinville, a few days the first of the week, stopping over on his way from New York home. While in New York Mr. Brower attended the democratic convention for a day. Brower was a McAdoo man like most of the Georgia people. Mr. Brower is another of the sons of Randolph who have moved to other states and made good. He left Randolph county in 1891 going to Atlanta and obtaining a job with the Frank E. Block Candy Company, the oldest candy making establishment in the South, as a porter. When Mr. Brower severed his connection with this concern in 1910 to go into business for himself he had risen to the position of superintendent of the Block plant. Upon leaving the employ of this company Mr. Brower organized the Brower Candy Company and has conducted this business in the capacity of president and treasurer since that time.

The Brower candy company has grown to such an extent that he now employs ten salesmen covering many of the states of the South. The company makes piece goods and also candy mixtures, stick candy, fountain syrups, and ice cream cones. The manufacture of cones was begun by Mr. Brower in 1914 on a hand machine having a very limited capacity as a side line. His business on this one item has now grown to the extent that it is the main product of his plant. He now turns out from 75,000 to 90,000 ice cream cones daily. The process of making his cones, which are the famous "Pound cake" cones, is patented and also the name is registered. During the war the United States Government commandeered his entire output. Mr. Brower's plant was the first in the south to make ice cream cones.

Mr. Brower makes the "Buddy" kiss and the "Hobo Lunch", the latter being the largest seller of his candy line. Probably the greatest run ever made on any one piece of candy, Mr. Brower says, was on his "Sweetum" piece of candy. The name of this piece of candy was taken from the name that Mr. Asa G. Candler, Atlanta millionaire, applied to his first wife from whom he was seeking a divorce and in the court proceedings relative thereto this endearing term was frequently read from Mr. Candler's letters to his wife and became a by word on the streets of Atlanta.

Ferd Ingold, Formerly of Asheboro, Dies Suddenly in Albemarle While Talking To Friend

While talking to a friend in the Albemarle Hotel, Ferd Ingold died suddenly from heart trouble on Monday night. Mr. Ingold was the son of the late Ferdinand Ingold of Randleman. He spent his boyhood and early manhood days in Randleman. He was married about twenty-five years ago to Miss Nettie Ferree, daughter of the late John W. Ferree, to this union there was one daughter, Mrs. Alice Ingold Timmonds, of Charlotte. Mr. Ingold after the death of his first wife was married to Miss Lora Lents of Albemarle who with four children, Margaret, Frances, George and Sarah survive. He is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. F. A. Henley, High Point; Mrs. Fredonia Clarke, Blowing Rock and Florida; and Mrs. Robert Burns, High Point. Mr. Ingold was a public accountant. He began his business career in the office of the Randleman cotton mill later coming to Asheboro where he was in the office of Register of Deeds. A number of years ago Mr. Ingold went with Scott Charney Public Accountants of Charlotte and moved there and has lived there until a month ago when he moved to Albemarle, severing his connection with Scott Charney and announcing himself a general public accountant. Mr. Ingold was in the Courier Office a few weeks ago speaking of changing his business and residence and considered moving to Asheboro. He was a popular man, genial and pleasant and always in a good humor. His friends in Randolph will read the announcement of his death with sorrow. He was about 47 years old. His funeral and burial took place in Albemarle yesterday.

JOHN Q. FINCH SAYS NOT INSANE

It is the general opinion among the citizens of High Point who are intimately acquainted with John Q. Finch that he is not insane. Finch appeared in High Point Friday after an absence of two years, during which time he had been confined in the insane asylum at Morganton for a year, escaped and roamed over several states in the west. Chief Black-welder of the High Point police force states it is his belief that half of the stories told about Finch are exaggerated and that he was never insane. The High Point chief along with many others think that Finch may have suffered a temporary fit of insanity, but that he is sane and is now as sane as he ever was.

When Finch was sent to the insane asylum his property which amounts to a considerable sum in real estate holdings and cash in the bank was temporarily placed in the custody of his brothers until he should be declared sane.

Finch has been in High Point about three weeks and has called on many of his old friends and acquaintances, among them being Dennie V. Cassady, formerly of Asheboro. He made inquiries as to Dr. Shugart, who died a few weeks ago, and also of Dr. Shugart's wife. His reason for wanting to see them he says was in order to take steps to obtain revocation papers that he might be declared sane. Dr. Shugart was the examining physician at the time Finch was committed to the asylum. He did not know of Shugart's death.

A BIRTHDAY DINNER

On last Sunday, July 13, 1924 about two hundred friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. James Callicutt to celebrate his eighty-seventh birthday and his brother, P. C. Callicutt's eightieth birthday.

After Rev. R. Y. Putman made a short talk and returned thanks the guests were served a sumptuous dinner from a table about fifty feet long which had been arranged on the lawn.

Singing Class of M. P. Children's Home Will Be In Asheboro Sunday Night

The Singing Class of the Methodist Protestant Children's Home at High Point will give a program at the local M. P. church Sunday evening at eight o'clock. The children have been trained by George Caldwell, a former member of the Children's Home family who has been in training at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, as an evangelistic singer. Mr. H. A. Garrett, superintendent, Mrs. Bowman matron of the boy's building and Mr. Caldwell will accompany the children to Asheboro. It is to be hoped a large crowd will be present. There are several Randolph county children at the Home and it is probable that some of them will be in the party.

Newest Nation
Santo Domingo took its place among the nations of the earth Saturday when the American flag was lowered over the capital and the Dominican emblem hoisted in its place. Great crowds had gathered for the occasion and gave the new president of the little republic a rousing ovation. Santo Domingo has been under the production of the United States government.

CAROLINA POWER AND LIGHT CO. BUYS SANDHILL CONCERN

Formal announcement was made Saturday from the offices of the Carolina Power and Light Company at Raleigh of the purchase by that company of the physical property of the Sandhills Power Company, serving several towns in Central Carolina and generally known as the McQueen holdings. Operation of the property by the purchasers was effective July 11th.

Included in the deal are five small hydro-electric plants, one located on Deep river at Carbondon and four located on Little river, together with one steam plant at Cumnock. The territory served includes around the Cumnock and Carolina coal mines and the towns of Southern Pines, Pinehurst, Aberdeen, Carthage, Raeford, Siler City, Vass, Cameron, Goldston, Bonlee, Staley, Liberty, Pine Bluff, Eureka, Gulf, Lakeview and Mount Vernon Springs.

It is the plan of the Carolina company to inter connect the Sandhills transmission system with that of the Carolina Power and Light Company as soon as the physical connection can be made. This will possibly require twelve months.

The company is now engaged in construction of a power line from Biscoe via Asheboro to Central Falls and Cedar Falls. The poles have been set about half the distance and the force is now working between Seagraves and Ulah.

SUPERIOR COURT

The July term of Randolph county superior court convened in the courthouse in Asheboro Monday, with Judge J. Lloyd Horton of Farmville presiding. There is a long civil docket and court is expected to be in session two weeks.

The cases tried so far are as follows:

J. M. Luther vs. Asbury Bagdale et al. - Non suit.
C. C. Inley vs. H. N. Beavers - Plaintiff recovers $125.00. Inley was suing for damages to his furniture which was moved from Greensboro to Asheboro by Beavers.

The case of Samuel Goss, colored, vs. Clay Dorsett is being tried. Goss is suing for $2000 damages for injury to his foot at Dorsett's saw mill.

Mr. Nance Celebrates 62nd Birthday

About a hundred and seventy-five relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Nance, on Asheboro Route 3, on June 22nd, to celebrate Mr. Nance's 62nd birthday. A sumptuous dinner was served from the kitchen which the guests had brought with them.
