

County Sunday School Convention At Concord Church Largely Attended

Came To Close Yesterday Afternoon With Election of New Officers.

E. C. WILLIAMS, PRESIDENT

Franklinville Extends Invitation As Meeting Place Next Year.

The Randolph County Sunday School Association which closed Wednesday afternoon at Farmer was the largest attended in the history of the association. The services were held in the handsome new school building with the first meeting Tuesday afternoon. At this meeting over 700 people were enrolled.

Mr. L. H. Smith, Jr., of Liberty, called the association to order and presided over all the sessions in a delightfully efficient manner. Miss Lollie Jones, of Asheboro, acted as Secretary. Attending all the meetings and speaking at several were Mr. D. W. Sims, general superintendent of the State association, and Miss Daisy Magee, children's division superintendent of the State association. Both speakers were enjoyed and their talks contained many excellent plans for better and more inspired Sunday schools. Round table talks were conducted during the intermissions and many phases of the work received personal attention from these experienced workers. Wednesday afternoon Rev. Jos. H. Peele, of Guilford College, spoke for a half hour on "The Daily Vacation Bible School". This was an inspiring address and contained many helpful suggestions for both the teachers of young boys and young girls. After the speakers for the afternoon were through, the report of the resolution committee offered thanks to all the officers, speakers, and especially to the people of Farmer who offered so generously of their hospitality. Dinner was served on the grounds each day and stands unsurpassed in excellence and quantity.

The last thing on the program was the election of officers and the presentation of the banner for the largest attendance per mile. This went to Old Union Sunday school which had 44 delegates attending. The officers for the new year are as follows: President, E. C. Williams, Liberty; four Vice Presidents, A. L. Bines, of Cedar Falls, M. C. Auman, of Seagrave, W. L. Ward, of Asheboro, Miss Dora Redding, of Caraway; Secretary, Miss Hope Hubbard, of Farmer; Assistant Secretary, Miss Lollie Jones, of Asheboro; Children's Division Superintendent, Miss Esther Ross, of Asheboro; Young People's Superintendent, Mrs. A. O. Adams, Climax; Adult Superintendent, M. E. Johnson, of Ramseur; Administrative Superintendent, Mr. L. H. Smith, Jr., of Liberty.

Sincere regret was expressed by the entire association in the fact that Mr. Smith could no longer serve as president of the organization, as he has served most capably, and was such a gracious and efficient presiding officer, but Mr. E. C. Williams, also of Liberty, the incoming president received a hearty welcome, and the work bids fair to go forward under his capable direction.

Franklinville issued an invitation for the meeting next year and the invitation was received gratefully.

ONLY ONE MILE OF 70 REMAINS UNFINISHED

Only about one mile of Route 70 above Randleman remains to be paved before the route is paved entirely all the way from Randleman into Greensboro. Contractors moved their machinery to the Randleman end of the road Saturday and began work on the small stretch remaining unpaved. It is expected that at the rate the force is working now the paving will have been completed within ten days and the route opened soon after to the public.

The bridge at Randleman has been completed for some time and opened to traffic. By using a short detour the people have been able to make use of the paved portion of the Greensboro-Randleman road for several weeks.

PEOPLE OF TOWN MAY BUILD OWN SANITARY PRIVIES

Our information is that a number of carpenters from out of town have been following the inspector of the State Board of Health, who is in town for the purpose of seeing that sanitary privies are built where needed, creating the impression that those required to build the privies must employ them for the job. This is to correct this erroneous impression. There is no objection to these carpenters building the privies if the people want to employ them, but there are carpenters in the employ of the State Board of Health for this purpose. The people required to build these privies may build them themselves or are at liberty to employ any carpenter they please for the job. The only requirement is that they be constructed according to specifications laid down by the Board of Health and these may be obtained from the inspector.

This Negro Preacher Is 78 Years Old, Has 47 Children

Gertrude Caraway writing to the Greensboro News of Sunday from Newbern tells an interesting story of a 78-year-old negro preacher of her town who is the father of 47 children and has been twice married. He lives in a large two-story home constructed at a cost of $5. Rev. Anthony Shields is the name of the remarkable old negro. He was born a slave. After the war he worked in various towns in the State at odd jobs, but for the past 30 years has lived at Newbern. He had 30 children in 33 years by his first wife, and by the second, seventeen.

Rev. Anthony is a Baptist and fundamentalist. He preaches in a church erected on his backlot and when he isn't preaching he is cultivating his garden or working at odd jobs about town. He has been in Newbern so long that he has become a town "institution". He never preaches for hire and has never asked his congregation for a penny, although he gratefully receives all gifts that come his way.

CELEBRATES HER 100TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Sibby Overman Recipient of Honors on Reaching Century Mark in Age.

Hundreds of relatives and friends of Mrs. Sibby Overman gathered at the home of her oldest daughter, Mrs. Isabel Sullivan, a few miles east of Liberty, in Chatham county, Sunday to celebrate her 100th birthday. Among those who attended were her eight children, 39 grandchildren and 91 great grandchildren. Not many live to celebrate the reaching of the century mark.

After greetings were exchanged, the crowd at the birthday celebration was called together and a short talk made by Prof. Dixon, after which prayer was offered by Revs. Duke and Stuart, of Liberty. After the dinner hour a music program was rendered by the Pleasant Hill church choir, which was most enjoyed by all present.

Relatives from Asheboro attending the celebration were Mr. Giles Overman and J. L. Overman, John Overman and E. S. Cheek and families. Mrs. Overman has not ventured far from home during the past few years, but she is still able to be about and do a little work around the home. She is a little deaf, but aside from this appears to be in perfect health for one of her age and still takes a lively interest in all things past and present.

Mrs. Overman was born August 12, 1825, a few miles from the place she now lives and was the daughter of Thomas Alfred and Sarah York Alfred. Her father came to America from England at the beginning of the 19th century. Her mother was also of English parentage.

At the age of 14 she married John Overman and to them were born 10 children, eight of whom are living. Her oldest daughter, Mrs. Isabel Sullivan, is 79 years of age. She is very active, full of life. Living with Mrs. Overman and Mrs. Sullivan is the daughter of Mrs. Sullivan, Carrie Hinchey, daughter of Mrs. Sullivan by her first marriage. Mrs. Overman's youngest son is 65 years of age. Mrs. Overman's husband has been dead several years. She had six brothers and six sisters, all dead. They were nearly all of them in the same family.

Their ascent along promotional lines began and they are among the front ranks of their profession. ## KLANSMEN BURN THE FIERY CROSS

At Gaddy Evangelistic Meeting At Old Fair Grounds Last Night.

The evangelistic services which have been in progress for the past two weeks at the tabernacle at the old Fair Grounds is increasing in interest. Last night the tabernacle was crowded, not only with the congregation, but a number of organizations of the town were present in a body. The Patriotic Sons of America were present, as was a delegation from the K. K. K. Mr. I. T. Speaks, State secretary and treasurer of the PSOA, of Statesville, was present, and was accompanied by several friends of Mr. Gaddy from Statesville. Mr. Speaks made a short talk which fitted in well with the spirit of the occasion. As the K. K. K. marched in the lights were cut off and a huge illuminated cross over the pulpit lighted the house. "Lift Up the Cross" was then sung as a solo.

Mr. Gaddy's sermon on this occasion was from the text, "I find no fault in this man," bringing the Biblical text into a modern application of the present day conditions. He accentuated the terms in modern advertisements "faultless," applying the fact that adulteration was in all things save in the life and character of Jesus. "Give full measure" was also a point stressed, not only in business, but full measure of service to the church and community.

During the two weeks of this meeting interest has been spreading rapidly and the people of the town are appreciating the fact that he has from time to time urged the people to attend the churches and Sunday Schools of the town. Services will continue through this week and Sunday. Announcement will then be made whether they will be extended longer or not.

BAPTIST NEWS LETTER

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gregory recently presented the pastor with a New Indexed Bible. Many thanks to the donors for this very useful gift.

Sufficient amount of money in cash and pledges was secured last Sunday morning after the morning service to more than pay for the lot recently purchased by our church. The members were loyal and manfully performed the duty of this worthy task. It is an evidence of greater things for our people.

The pastor and family were happy to have Dr. Edwards and Miss Isley Scott visit in their home last Sunday. Miss Scott is leaving Asheboro this week. Our Sunday School and especially the True Blue class will greatly miss her, for she was one of our most efficient and loyal teachers. The writer and family motored to Winston-Salem Thursday of last week to visit Rev. C. A. Lieberger, an uncle, who is now in the Baptist hospital of that city, having undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. E. S. Millsaps and the pastor motored to Farmer Tuesday for the opening of the Randolph County S. S. convention.

Subjects for next Sunday: Morning, "The Magnanimity of Little Things"; Evening, "A Christless Hotel." There will be special music by Mrs. James Whitchard.

This is $5 per bale more than the initial advance last season. ## ASHEBORO ANTICIPATES NO SHORTAGE OF WATER SUPPLY

ROCKS AND KNIVES ARE FEATURES OF BIG FIGHT

Asheboro Negroes Engage In Free-for-all at Ramseur Negro Church.

In a free-for-all fight featuring rocks, knives and later, pistols, staged at a negro church one mile north of Ramseur Sunday noon during the intermission between services a number of negro principals in the fight are in jail at Asheboro and most of them are suffering more or less from wounds received in the melee. Jim Staley and his brother, Lindsay Staley, Ershie Grant, Jack Siler and Colon Siler all of Asheboro, are the negroes alleged to have staged the fight with disaster to themselves and with disturbance to the services at the church.

Jack Siler was the most seriously injured of the number having been cut severely in the back with a knife said to have been in the hands of Jim Staley. Staley himself suffered cuts and bruises about the face at the hands of Ershie Grant, according to the best information. The others got off more lightly. Jim Staley and his brother, not being satisfied, it seems, with the outcome of the fight at the church, followed the car in which Jack Siler was being brought to the hospital at Asheboro and overtaking it at a short distance from the church, began firing into the car with pistols. Siler leaped out of the car and ran into the woods. The shots did no damage except puncture the automobile in places. Siler was brought later to the hospital after Staley had driven on.

All of the principals in the fight were arrested Sunday and placed in jail, Staley being overtaken on the road between Liberty and Staley by Sheriff Cranford. It is understood a number of warrants have been issued in the matter, all of which will be threshed out at the hearing to be held in Asheboro this afternoon.

W. W. ORMOND SHOT TO DEATH AT ROCKINGHAM BY W. W. COLE

W. W. Ormond, aged 29, electrician at State College, ex-service man, son of Rev. A. L. Ormond, pastor of a Methodist church at Nashville, N. C., was shot to death with a .32 caliber pistol in the hands of W. B. Cole, wealthy cotton manufacturer and president of the Hannah Pickett mill, at Rockingham, late Saturday afternoon while young Ormond was sitting in a Ford roadster parked not far from Mr. Cole's office. Cole is held in Rockingham jail without bond for trial at the October term of Richmond county Superior court. Funeral for young Ormond was held Monday and attended by the largest crowd ever at a funeral in Richmond county.

Cole has made no statement relative to the shooting. Rumor has it that the shooting grew out of strained relations between Mr. Cole and Mr. Ormond, over the latter's attention to Mr. Cole's daughter. Ormond formerly lived in Rockingham while his father was stationed there and was very popular in the town. A love affair grew up between him and Miss Cole to which, it seems, the father of the girl objected.

Rockingham is stirred by the tragedy on account of the popularity and prominence of the principals.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE TO COME TO CLOSE FRIDAY

The six-weeks' teachers' summer school which has been in progress in the Asheboro graded school building comes to a close next Friday. One hundred and three teachers have completed the course of study. This week in addition to their regular class work the teachers are busy with examinations. These teachers who have been in Asheboro for the past six weeks are from this county, Chatham, Moore and Montgomery.

The course which has been given at the summer school has been interesting as well as instructive. An able corps of instructors has had charge of the work. The teachers on their part have followed the course of instruction attentively and with diligence.

The people of Asheboro have been delighted with these young men and women and are hopeful that the teachers have found the summer school worth while to them in their chosen vocation.

MAKE CHANGE IN PARKING SYSTEM

Handling of Traffic Has Become Problem In Asheboro—The Streets Affected.

The board of commissioners for the town of Asheboro at their last regular meeting made some changes in parking regulations in the town to go into effect as soon as the streets can be properly marked off. The streets affected and the changes made are as follows:

Market Street from Depot Street to done on the west side of the street instead of the east side as is now in effect; on west side of South Fayetteville Street from Depot Street to Academy, automobiles will park at an angle with the curb; and on the east side of the same street within the same limits cars will park parallel with the curb; Market Street will be made a one-way drive with parking on the South side only.

Traffic in Asheboro has reached such proportions that the problem of parking cars and handling traffic is not an easy task. It is the plan of the town board and Chief of Police Steed to do considerable experimenting and observing in order to work out a better drive on Market Street is more or less an experiment, the street being short the authorities can test out the idea and the results taken into consideration to help in the solution of traffic problems that will arise from time to time.

The town board at this meeting also made an order that filling stations and garages must be closed on Sunday between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., a penalty of $5 fine to be imposed on violators of this ordinance.

Health Bulletin Features The Pemberton Twin Girls

The seven-year-old twin girls whose pictures are on the cover page of a recent issue of the North Carolina Health Bulletin are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pemberton, of Guilford county. Mr. Pemberton was reared in Asheboro, his parents living here and operating the old Page hotel near where the old courthouse used to stand. Mr. Pemberton's perfect girl twins have twin heads whose pictures occupied the same position in the Health Bulletin twelve years ago.

Livingston men at State College say that the fact of the twins being perfect is not a miracle. It is a fact that is repeated every night and every day. It is a fact that is repeated every night and every day.
