

COUNTY TOBACCO CROP SHOWS GAIN

Increases a Million and a Quarter Pounds in Five Years—Cotton Increases.

The figures of the 1925 farm census of Randolph county have been released by the Department of Commerce, at Washington. This farm census was taken last winter by special agents appointed for the purpose. The data gotten up by these agents was about as accurate as could be had, since each agent was familiar with the farmers and the farm conditions in the townships of the county in which he took the census.

Comparing the figures for 1920 and 1925 discloses some interesting details. For instance, the total number of farms in the county increased during the five year period from 3,871 to 4,241. White farmers also increased from 3,577 to 3,849. Colored farmers increased from 294 to 392 during the five years. The number of farms operated by owners increased from 3,242 in 1920 to 3,438 in 1925. At the same time the number of farms operated by tenants increased from 621 to 799, but managers decreased from 8 to 4.

The number of acres tilled increased from 405,420 in 1920 to 409,113 in 1925.

One of the most marked increases was in the value of farm lands and buildings, with buildings showing the greatest percentage of increase. The value of land and buildings in 1920 was $12,053,750, while in 1925 this had increased to $14,125,038. Land alone increased during the five years from $9,256,897 to $9,770,123, while the value of buildings jumped from $2,796,853 in 1920 to $4,354,910 in 1925, a most remarkable showing.

According to the census the number of livestock in the county decreased with the exception of mules, which increased from 4,198 to 4,481 during the five years. The figures show the number of cattle in the county to have been on January 1st, 1925, 8,613 as against 10,254 in 1920. However, there seems to be a discrepancy in these figures, since Dr. Edwards in his campaign in the county for tuberculosis eradication has found that there are now more than 10,000 cattle in the county. The figures may run well on towards 12,000 head of cattle.

The figures disclose that the production of corn and wheat is falling off. There were in the fall of 1924 30,882 acres in corn with a production of 583,341 bushels as against 36,288 acres in the fall of 1919 with a production of 604,718 bushels. The wheat acreage decreased from 33,652 to 22,364 and the production in the same period from 297,534 bushels to 268,307 bushels. There was an increase in the number of bushels of oats from 40,509 in 1919 to 58,492 in the fall of 1924.

Perhaps the most marked increase was in cotton and tobacco. That Randolph county is fast becoming a large tobacco producing county is shown by the figures which show an increase of a million and a quarter pounds in the five years covered. In 1920 there were produced in the county 572,311 pounds of tobacco on 986 acres of land. In 1925 these figures were, acreage 2,458 and production 1,767,390 pounds.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. LINEBERRY

Passed Away Last Sunday From Effects of an Incurable Malady—Funeral Tuesday.

After several months of suffering from an incurable malady, Mrs. Hulda Vickory Lineberry, wife of Capt. W. S. Lineberry, of Locust Grove Farm, Millboro, died Sunday. Mrs. Lineberry was a most estimable woman and greatly loved and admired by all who knew her. For several years her husband was superintendent of the Old Soldiers Home in Raleigh; and during this time Mrs. Lineberry's quiet unassuming way, her sympathy and consideration for those with whom she was associated were characteristics which were most commendable. She has made friends at home and abroad and her influence will extend on and on through her large circle of relatives and friends. She had reached the age of seventy-six years.

In addition to her husband, four daughters and five sons survive. The daughters are Mrs. J. L. Aldridge, of Millboro; Mrs. R. M. Spencer, of Waycross, Ga.; Mrs. F. E. Minor, of North Garden, Va.; and Mrs. Willis Booth, of Greensboro. The sons are W. L. of Mebane; B. F., of North Wilkesboro; J. H., of Winston-Salem; J. A., of Aberdeen; and J. F. Lineberry, of Locust Grove. Surviving also are two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Lamb, of Randleman, and Mrs. Henry Lamb, of Bloomingdale, Ind., and one brother, A. W. Vickory, who lives at Lakeland, Fla.

The funeral service was conducted at Gray's Chapel where the deceased had been a faithful, consistent and beloved member Tuesday at 3 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends assembled to pay their last tribute of respect to one whose life had been a benediction and a blessing.

SINGING CLASS GIVES A DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

The Singing Class of the Oxford Orphanage presented a varied and pleasing program at the Asheboro Graded School auditorium Monday evening. The program started out in a delightful manner with the familiar radio favorite "How Do You Do" and was interspersed with musical readings, solos and recitations. The chorus work was exceptionally high class, and would have been creditable to much older and more experienced children.

Considerable talent was displayed in many cases as well as excellent training by their director. The evening ended with an operetta "The wedding of the Daisy and the Buttercup". The costumes in this were lovely, and this was a fitting climax to a pleasant evening of entertainment.

MILLSAPS WINS ANOTHER HONOR

Is Presented Silver Loving Cup At National Dairy Show At Indianapolis.

Mr. Ewing S. Millsaps, Jr., county farm agent, returned from the National Dairy Show, at Indianapolis, Indiana, Sunday afternoon bringing with him additional honors in the field of the dairying industry. Millsaps was presented at the convention with a large silver loving cup for having placed more purebred registered Guernsey bulls in Randolph county in a period of six months, from March 1st, 1925, to Sept. 1st, 1925, than any other agent had placed in any county in the United States in a year. During this six months period Mr. Millsaps placed 30 registered bulls.

Mr. Millsaps first won this signal honor in contest among county agents in North Carolina. For this he was given half of his expenses to the dairy show. The county commissioners appropriated the other half.

W. Kerr Scott, county agent of Alamance, was awarded at the dairy show a silver loving cup for having placed the largest number of purebred registered Jersey bulls in any county in the United States during a year. Scott placed this number in the six months period just as did Millsaps.

Millsaps and Scott placed their State and especially the counties of Randolph and Alamance on the map in the dairying industry at the Indianapolis meeting. More than four hundred county agents from all parts of the United States were present at the meeting, all having been invited to the meeting for excellence in placing purebred bulls in their various counties for a period of one year. However, the largest number any one of the agents had placed was 18. Millsaps almost doubled this number in six months and Scott more than doubled it.

He was up all day Sunday and went to bed as usual, but on Monday morning as there was no sound in his room his son went in to find death had come, and the aged veteran had apparently passed without a struggle. Mrs. E. E. Mendenhall, of Greensboro, and M. H. Allred are the only surviving children. The funeral was conducted at Whitehall church Tuesday at 3 p. m. by Rev. H. F. Fogleman, after which the body was laid to rest by his wife.

BURLINGTON DEFEATS ASHEBORO SCORE 12 TO 6

A very interesting football game was played between Asheboro and Burlington Friday, October 16, at Burlington.

Asheboro scored first in the third quarter when Jack Hamlet intercepted a forward pass and raced 50 yards to a touch down. The kick failed.

Burlington came back in the same quarter with Hall carrying the ball across from mid-field in three runs through the line. The youngster ducked under side stepped and made his way through the Asheboro defense. The kick failed.

Burlington being 40 yards away from goal and two minutes to play started to try to get to goal. The score of the game was then 6 to 6.

Jones led the attack in line backs, and 15 yards on a penalty for cutting down a man set to receive a pass, put the ball across but it was ruled out, and with five seconds to play the two teams began to do their best work. Burlington sent the ball underneath the goal post and the pigskin rested over the line. The kick failed.

MAY HAUL WATER FROM HIGH POINT

Town Will Not Run Pipe Line to Bush Creek—Rain Does Not Affect Supply.

The rains of last week were not heavy enough to appreciably affect Asheboro's water supply and the town is still short of water with little relief in sight.

It has been decided not to go to Bush Creek, near Franklinville, for water owing to the high cost and the length of time which would be required to install the pipe line and pumps to get the water flowing into town. A larger pump, however, has been installed at the McGrew mine and this will mean several thousands more gallons of water from this source.

Unless there is some change for the better in the water supply, and this is not anticipated, the town authorities will have to haul water from High Point in tank cars. This will not be done before the latter part of the week owing to the difficulty in obtaining tank cars for the purpose.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT FOR ELECTRIC POWER SERVICE

There is no relief in sight for the curtailment of electric power in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. The rains last week hardly muddled the streams from which the larger power companies derive their water-power. The weather observers do not predict any early fall of rain, but on the other hand, foresees heavy frosts and cool weather.

The offices of the Southern Power Company are able to give no indications as to the date the curtailment orders will be modified, and in the meantime the manufacturing plants dependent on power are severely handicapped.

M. E. CONFERENCE COMES TO A CLOSE

List of Appointments—Rev. W. H. Willis Is Returned to Asheboro for 4th Year.

The 36th annual session of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with Bishop Collins Denny presiding, came to a close at Statesville last Monday afternoon with the reading of the list of appointments. The next meeting of the annual conference will be held in Gastonia.

Many matters of importance to the church were taken up during the sessions of the conference. One of the most vital questions to the church, the matter of unification with the northern branch, was voted on and passed by a vote of 221 to 145. Bishop Denny proposed unification. This question has already been voted on favorably by the general conferences of the two branches of the church, and has been sent down to the various annual conferences of the church for ratification or rejection. The annual conferences in the north have all voted favorably on the matter by large majorities. In the south all of the annual conferences have gone on record as favoring unification, but not all by a three-fourths vote as is the constitutional requirement.

Rev. J. W. Gregg, who had been previously ordained and had since become connected with another church, was readmitted to the conference.

The following names for the supernumerary and supernuante relation were recommended and adopted: Supernumeraries—J. P. Lanning, J. W. Long, W. L. Nicholson, A. H. Whisner; supernuantes—W. M. Boring, J. A. Bowles, J. J. Brooks, J. A. Cook, C. M. Carpenter, J. B. Carpenter, B. F. Fincher, T. F. Glenn, S. F. Higgins, A. W. Jacobs, W. M. Modlin, D. V. Price, N. R. Richardson, J. H. Robertson, Albert Sherrill, R. D. Sherrill, C. F. Sherrill, J. T. Stover, J. E. Teague, F. L. Townsend, M. H. Vestal, T. E. Wagg, B. A. York, P. L. Terrell, J. G. W. Holladay, G. A. B. Holdery, E. K. Whidden, W. F. Sanford.

Various committee reports were read and adopted. A memorial to the General Conference recommends an enabling act with reference to competing Methodist churches, which would permit consolidation. One memorial with reference to hospital work was not recommended by the committee, but the Conference adopted it, the only case in which there was a division. A memorial which would prohibit the use of spirituous liquors even as medicine, that being no longer considered necessary, as the proponents of the memorial had it, failed of approval by the committee and the Conference was with the committee unopposed. While liquor can't be prescribed by doctors under North Carolina law, the purpose was to have the General Conference make this the law for the entire Southern Methodist church. As liquor is recognized by medical prescription in many States the committee and the Conference didn't deem it wise to try to pass our law on those who have a different one.

Delegates to the General Conference were elected as follows: lay delegates: C. H. Ireland, J. B. Ivey, G. L. Hackney, L. H. Phillips, J. F. Shinn, W. R. Odell, D. F. Giles, L. B. Rogers; alternates, T. J. Johnson, W. H. Worth, Leon Cash, W. T. Nicholson; clerical delegates—J. H. Barnhardt, Ashley Chappell, G. T. Rowe, H. C. Sprinkle, C. S. Kirkpatrick, D. Atkins, A. W. Plyler, J. B. Craven.

In addition to the clerical delegates four clerical reserve delegates to the General Conference were named this morning as follows: Dr. C. C. Weaver, Dr. Plato Durham, Rev. John F. Kirk and Rev. D. M. Litaker.

Rev. W. L. Sherrill was again elected secretary of the Conference.

The report of the board of church extension was especially gratifying. The board has assisted, according to its secretary, in financing the erection of 463 churches and 93 parsonages in the Western North Carolina Conference, amounting to $344,759.59.

In addressing the conference briefly before reading the appointments, Bishop Denny, stating that in all probability this was the last session over which he would preside, urged the members of the Conference to forget their differences over the question of unification, which he regards as already defeated; and expressed his appreciation for the kindness and courtesy shown him during the four sessions over which he has presided, declaring that he went away with the kindest feelings in his heart toward every member of the Conference.
