TOWN TO HAVE
CITY DELIVERY

Effective July 1, Next, Two Regular Carriers Will Deliver Mail at Doors.

Effective July 1, next, Asheboro will have free city mail delivery. This is the substance of information that has been received from the Postoffice Department at Washington by Postmaster U. C. Richardson and the Asheboro Chamber of Commerce. Two regular carriers will serve the town.

The matter of free mail delivery for Asheboro was taken up with the Postoffice Department several months ago by the local postmaster and an inspector was sent to look over the situation. That his recommendation was favorable is indicated by the announcement received. The mayor and also the secretary of the chamber of commerce have also had the matter before the postal authorities.

Asheboro has for several months had the requirements for free city delivery. The postal receipts have been more than 50 per cent above the minimum requirements for such service and the miles of paved streets in proportion to the population were also had by the town. Asheboro has more than 18 miles of connected paved streets not counting those that do not connect.

The news of the securing of free delivery was received with a great deal of satisfaction by local people who have been interested in the matter. That it will increase the postal receipts and put the town in a more favorable light among the towns and cities of the State are certain. In addition to this, the convenience it will be to the citizens of the town cannot be measured.

Cotton Ginnings

According to the report of the Department of Commerce through Special Agent J. S. Ridge, Randolph county up to March 20th had ginned 2,269 bales of 1925 cotton as against 2,388 bales for the 1924 crop. The total for the State up to March 20th was 1,146,569 bales of the 1925 crop, as compared with 860,147 for the 1924 crop. Johnston county continued to lead all counties in the State with 74,136 bales of the 1925 crop, compared with 53,187 of the 1924 crop.

Isaac W. Alred Dies At
Advanced Age of 81 Years

Funeral services were held at White's Chapel Baptist church Sunday afternoon for Isaac W. Alred, aged 81, who died Friday morning at his home three miles north of Cedar Falls following an illness lasting a month. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Jennings; three sons, D. J. Alred, of Cedar Falls; E. W. and A. W. Alred, of Millboro; and by one daughter, Miss Laura Alred, of Millboro.

A. D. WILLIAMS DEAD

Following an illness from pneumonia, A. Derrick Williams, 82, native of Randolph county, died Saturday morning at the home of his son, R. E. Williams, just south of Siler City. Mr. Williams lived in Randolph on his farm until 20 years ago when he moved to Chatham county. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. O. B. Reitzel, and four sons, R. A., R. E., and J. A. Williams, all of Siler City, and Rev. J. W. Williams, of Winston-Salem.

SOUND REASONING

Henry Ward Beecher, it is said told Doctor Newell Dwight Hillis when the latter was starting out to preach, to study the horses in community first instead of the people. He said, "If they have fine, spick and span horses, those people have high ideals and you can do them a lot of good. But if they have poor, broken down, half-starved horses, get out of there. You can't save those people's souls because they have no souls to save."—Monroe Enquirer.

M. E. CHURCH MATTERS

(Rev. W. H. Willis)
Revs. L. L. Edens and G. W. Clay, who are conducting revival services this week at Central Falls were the writer's guests for breakfast Tuesday. One of them remarked that the present paragon cook would make somebody a good wife.

The church is indebted to Mrs. W. J. Armfield for the gift of an electric sweeper, worth in the neighborhood of $150.00.

The writer preached at Cedar Falls on last Saturday night, and took supper with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wrenn.

On Monday night 30 of our men sat down to a luncheon in the new church served by the Epworth League. Great things happened in a few minutes. We may give out some big news next week.

Miss Mattie Burkhead becomes a member of our church by letter.

Cottage meetings will be held Friday evening of this week at Wm. Richardson's, M. G. Lovett's, J. Sam Miller's, and Geo. Hilliard's.

The schools offering Sunday for the piano fund was $45.00.

The writer has been a guest for dinner recently at the Central Hotel, Aubrey Hotel, and Old Hotel Cafe.

On next Sunday the writer preaches in the morning on "An Old Testament Conversation" at night on "The Light in His Slippers."

DEATH CLAIMS AGED
CITIZEN OF ASHEBORO

Alex Hunsucker Died Monday Following an Extended Illness—Funeral Tuesday.

At the age of sixty-five years Mr. Alex Hunsucker, a son of the late Gaston Hunsucker, died at his home in Northwest Asheboro, Monday following an illness extending over a period of several weeks. Mr. Hunsucker had resided in Asheboro all of his life and his passing will cause regret among his friends among the older citizens of the town.

There was in Alex Hunsucker a most quiet and unassuming nature and a feeling that honesty was always the best policy. To his friends and neighbors he was ever true and loyal. He daily went to his tasks performing them faithfully and well.

For many years he had been a workman in the Asheboro Wheelbarrow Factory and his associates realized probably more than any one else his many admirable traits of character. Until the first of the year no one knew of his suffering but at that time it was realized that the end was inevitable, a complication of ailments arising.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Bertha Wiles, with whom he lived. A funeral service was conducted from the residence by Rev. Cothran Smith Tuesday at 10 a. m., after which burial followed in the local cemetery.

JUNIOR ORDER MINSTREL
TO BE GIVEN APRIL 2ND

April 2nd has been set for the Junior Order minstrel, "Hits of Other Days" which will be given in the school auditorium. A chorus of over thirty are forming a background for six "and men" who have a unique line of jokes to interest you. Come and have an evening of fun.

MISS ANNIE VESTAL BRIDE
OF MR. JAMES COOPER

On last Saturday night, March 20th, at 8 o'clock in the lovely home of her sister, Mrs. R. A. Pugh, Miss Annie Vestal became the bride of J. D. Cooper, the bride's pastor, Rev. C. H. Hill, officiating.

Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Pugh invited all present into the dining room and served cake and fruit.

The bride wore a lovely costume of blue and accessories of a harmonizing shade.

RICHLAND CHARGE

On March 14th, ten of the evangelistic boys of High Point were with us at Cedar Falls at eleven o'clock. On account of snow and bad roads the congregation was small, but the service was good. Two young men were converted. All present seemed to enjoy the service fine. On yesterday, March the 21st, at eleven o'clock twenty of the boys were with us at Giles Chapel and a good congregation was present. We gave an invitation to the unsaved that all who desired the prayers of the Christian people, that they might become Christians to come forward and give us their hand. I think every unsaved person present came forward.

On next Sunday at eleven o'clock the boys will be with us at Brower's Chapel. The public is invited to attend this service. On the first Sunday in April at 10 a. m. Mr. J. F. Jarrett will be with us at Charlotte church to conduct the singing service; preaching at 11 o'clock by the pastor. At 3 p. m. Mr. Jarrett will be with us at New Union. Then at 7:45 p. m. the evangelistic boys of High Point will be with us at Charlotte church to begin a special meeting. We desire the prayers of the Christian people that this meeting may be a great success.

C. H. HILL, Pastor.

TO HOLD COUNTY
SPELLING MEET

Contestants To Meet in Asheboro April 9th For Finals—Every School Eligible.

County Superintendent T. Fletcher Bulla has announced a countywide spelling contest to be held in the high school auditorium in Asheboro on April 9th at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Every school in the county is eligible to send contestants, two from the high school grades and two from the elementary grades, and the contestants may be either boys or girls.

At the county contest fifty words will be selected for the elementary grades from the adopted State textbooks for these grades. The words will be given out and each contestant will be required to write them. The two making the highest grade will have an opportunity to go to Winston-Salem for the final contest to be held some time in May. Words for the high school contestants will be selected from the Practical High School Speller by Chew, as this is the adopted book for the county. Winners in this contest will also have a chance to go to Winston-Salem for the final contest.

This contest has been put on by the Winston-Salem Journal in order to encourage better spelling and more interest in correct spelling. All the counties in North Carolina have been included in the State plans. Entries in this contest will range from $50 to $100 in gold for the first 25 in each grade.

MRS. NAOMI H.
TROGDON DEAD

End Came Last Saturday. At Age of 76 Years—Funeral Held Sunday.

Mrs. Naomi Hatch Trogdon, age 76 years, wife of Mr. H. Kelly Trogdon, passed away at her home in Liberty Saturday morning after a lingering illness of several months. Mrs. Trogdon before her marriage was Miss Naomi Lewis Hatch, daughter of the late Rev. Jack Hatch, of Chatham county.

Mrs. Trogdon was a woman of sterling character and was very much loved by all who knew her. She was one of the old type of Christian women who practiced her religion every day, thinking not of self but of others whom she could serve. Faithful in the performance of duty, true and loyal to friends and a patient, affectionate and considerate wife and mother was she. In her early girlhood she became united with Hanley Chapel Christian church of which she was a member at the time of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Trogdon moved to Liberty about forty years ago and both have always been much interested in the uplift of their community. Mr. and Mrs. Trogdon enjoyed the distinction of being married for fifty-five years and to this union five children were born. During all these years death has visited their immediate family only once, November 14, 1918, when their third child, Miss Etta Trogdon, was called to rest. The deceased leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and the following children: Mrs. Estella Ray, Liberty; Mrs. H. N. Steed, Candor; Mrs. Paul Kennett, and T. W. Trogdon, both of High Point. She is also survived by several grandchildren, two great grandchildren, three sisters, Mrs. M. A. Moffitt, Greensboro, Mrs. O. E. Farrell, Moncure, Mrs. Etta Farrell, Pittsboro, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were conducted from the home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. J. W. Patton, of Elon College, assisted by Rev. J. H. Brendall, of Liberty.

The unusual large crowd attending and the many beautiful floral offerings bespeaks of the high esteem in which Mrs. Trogdon was held.

The flower bearers were nieces of the deceased: Mrs. J. Rankin Parks, Jr., Greensboro, Mrs. J. G. Griffin, Mrs. J. L. Griffin, Mrs. Ernest Farrell, Mrs. Lee Farrell, Mrs. Atlas Farrell and Mrs. Ed. Hatch, of Pittsboro, Miss Elizabeth Farrell, Moncure, Miss Mary Griffin, Raleigh, Mrs. King, Asheboro, Mrs. Paul Farrell Fayetteville, Miss Kara Lane, Siler City, Mrs. A. E. Dakr and Miss Bonnie Hatch, of Liberty.

Honorary pall bearers were as follows, all of whom were nephews of the deceased: Messrs. Will Griffin, J. L. Griffin, J. G. Griffin, E. A. Farrell, Lee Farrell, Atlas Farrell and E. B. Hatch, of Pittsboro, E. L. Moffitt, Asheboro, Paul Farrell, Fayetteville, J. Rankin Parks, Jr., Greensboro, A. E. Dakr, Liberty.

Active pall bearers: Messrs. Chas. H. Bray, Cyrus Shofner, E. M. Brower, J. A. Martin, C. P. Smith, Jr., and J. O. Overman. Interment was in Fairview cemetery at Liberty.

ASHEBORO, ROUTE 2, NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw Bulla and little son, of Asheboro, visited at Mr. T. W. Andrew's Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Vester Trotter, March 19th, a son.

Mr. Earl Redding, Miss Mary Webster and Mrs. L. R. Warner, of Randleman, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Redding.

Miss Cleo Routh, who has been confined by illness for several weeks, is able to be out again.

Society of Friends To Hold Quarterly Meet Here

The Southern Quarterly meeting of Friends will meet next Saturday at the Asheboro Friends church. Meeting on Ministry and Oversight will be held at 10:30 a. m., worship at 11:00 a. m., business at 1:30 p. m. Plans are being made for a night session.

There will be three sessions on Sunday. Fred Smith will be present and render Gospel service at the meeting for worship. Samuel Haworth will be present on Sunday afternoon to conduct a missionary conference.

All of the members of Asheboro meeting are asked to bring lunch to feed the visitors on Saturday. There will be no lunch served at the church on Sunday.

The public is invited to all of these services.

J. R. Wall, Native of This County, Dies in Greensboro

Mr. J. Randolph Wall, who was born and reared in Level Cross township, died in St. Leo's hospital Saturday after a two week's illness from heart trouble, at the age of 63 years. Mr. Wall had for many years resided in the Sedalia section of Guilford county. In addition to his wife, he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. J. B. Barker, Mrs. G. J. Neal, Mrs. J. T. Cox, all of Greensboro; Mrs. M. H. Wall, of Randleman; five brothers, M. H. Wall, A. T. Wall, both of Randleman; W. A. Wall, Rock Hill, S. C.; E. F. Wall, Durham; G. A. Wall, Guilford College.

The funeral was conducted in Greensboro, burial following in Green Hill cemetery.

400 Proposals

Miss Julia S. Cox, of Portland, Ore., won a $2500.00 prize. Then the fun began. A host of proposals poured in, asking to share her luck with her. She received 400 so far and still they come.

MRS. ANNIE WALKER
HOOVER, AGED 86, DEAD

Mrs. Annie Walker Hoover, widow of William Hoover, of Concord township, died at the home of her nephew in Tabernacle township March 16th at the age of 86 years. After the death of her husband twenty-two years ago, Mrs. Hoover moved to Tabernacle township to reside with her only brother, Robert Walker, who preceded her to the great beyond two months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover had no children and she was the last of a family of seven brother and sisters. In early life she united with the Farmer church in which she and her husband continued a lively interest. The body was brought to Farmer for interment last Wednesday.

HAMMER INTRODUCES IMPORTANT FOOD BILL

Representative William C. Hammer of the Seventh North Carolina Congressional District has introduced a bill in Congress compelling canning establishments and other food purveyors to label cans and containers with proper dates and other information showing the age and character of the contents. Mr. Hammer has received many letters of commendation for the bill. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, noted food expert, has heartily endorsed the bill and states that he believes every canner effected will be in favor of the bill's passage. He states also that it will strengthen the pure food act.

WILLIAM G. STOUT,
COLERIDGE, IS DEAD

William G. Stout, aged 70 years, died Friday morning at his home in Coleridge township following a short illness. Mr. Stout was a lifelong member of the Society of Friends at Holly Springs from which the funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. D. B. Moffitt, of Coleridge.

S. C. CRANFORD,
AGED 73, DEAD

Prominent Farmer of Concord Township and Active Church Member.

Samuel C. Cranford, aged 73 years and fifteen days, died early Friday morning at his home in Concord township following an illness of about six weeks after failing health for more than a year and a half. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of his death. Mr. Cranford was born in Concord township and lived there all his life engaged in farming. He had been an active member of Concord church practically all of his life. He was well known in the county and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Mr. Cranford was court crier during the years in which the late S. L. Hayworth was sheriff of the county and for several years during Sheriff J. W. Burkhead's tenure of office.

The funeral services were conducted at Concord church, at Farmer, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. G. W. Clay, the pastor, assisted by Rev. J. W. Lank. A large number of relatives and friends gathered to pay their last respects to the dead.

Mr. Cranford is survived by two children, Van Cranford, of Farmer, and Mrs. Walter Newby, of Thomasville; two sisters, Mrs. W. B. Lassiter, of Asheboro, and Mrs. G. Elwood Stanton, of Level Cross township; and by three brothers, J. D. Cranford, of Mocksville, Callier Cranford, of Trinity, and John Cranford, of Dover, Tenn. His wife, who was before her marriage Miss Nan Elliott, died six years ago. Nine of the eleven children born to this union are also dead.

Appropriate hymns will be sung and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed. Those who come to this service on the night which commemorates His agony in the Garden will be better prepared to rejoice in His resurrection on the following Sabbath. The public regardless of denomination is cordially invited.

MR. W. A. GREGORY WILL OPEN NEW VARIETY STORE

Mr. W. A. Gregory has leased the store building which has recently been occupied by C. W. Scott and Company, on Depot Street, and will within a short time move his stock of goods and purchase an extensive line of new goods to this building. Mr. Gregory moved to Asheboro from Roxboro four years ago and opened a 5, 10 and 25 cent store. His line of goods has filled a long felt need in this community and he has been the recipient of most satisfactory patronage. Mr. Gregory is this week putting on a Removal Sale in order to give his patrons the benefit of reduced prices, which he has made rather than move his merchandise. In addition to the Asheboro store, Mr. Gregory has similar stores at Troy and Siler City.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for the many deeds of kindness and tokens of sympathy shown during the illness and death of our mother and uncle, Bertha H. Wiles and Thomas Wiles.

MR. JEREMIAH S. COX
DIES IN GREENSBORO

Was 80 Years Old—Born in Holly Springs Section of Randolph County.

Jeremiah S. Cox, one of the oldest citizens of Greensboro, died Monday at the age of 80 years. He was born in the Holly Springs section of Randolph county in 1846, the son of Simeon and Ruth Allen Cox, and was a descendant of a long line of Quaker progenitors.

His early education was received at the public schools of the county and New Garden Boarding school, now Guilford college, at which institution he served for some time as superintendent. He was an active promoter of educational enterprises and served on the Guilford county board of education. For 50 years he was an elder of the Friends church and served as preacher at several churches without charge or salary. For the past 30 years he has been an active member of the board of trustees of Guilford college and devoted his time and wealth towards its upbuilding.

Mr. Cox was married to Margaret D. Branson, daughter of Eli and Mary Branson in 1870. Mrs. Cox and a daughter, Mrs. Cora Cox Jackson, and a number of nephews survive him.

Funeral services were held at Guilford College Friends church at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Trustees of Guilford College acted as pall bearers.

Randolph County Has a Large Number Prosecutions

Randolph county does not occupy an enviable position among the 100 counties of the State in the matter of prosecutions per 1,000 inhabitants. Figures compiled from court records by the University News Bureau show that during the year beginning July, 1924, and ending July, 1925, there were 6.3 prosecutions per 1,000 white inhabitants in the county and 25.6 per 1,000 negro inhabitants. In respect of white people prosecuted the county stood 75th among the counties of the State, only 25 counties having a larger percentage of prosecutions.

Whether this large ratio of proportions is due to more lawlessness or vigilance on the part of those who enforce the law, or both, is not known. It is encouraging, however, that whatever may be the cause for it, prosecutions for major offenses in the county are few and probably the greater percentage is for violation of the prohibition laws.

NEGRO MAKES A BRUTAL
ASSAULT ON MRS. FARLOW

A negro, whose only apparent motive was robbery, forced his way yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock into the home of J. G. Farlow, Randleman, Route 1, by cutting his way through a screen door. He knocked Mrs. Farlow down three times by blows on the head when she attempted to frustrate his efforts to get Mr. Farlow's gun which was hanging on the wall. Mrs. Farlow's little crippled daughter was also knocked down by a blow on the face.

Having taken the gun, the negro ran. Mrs. Farlow, greatly weakened by the blows, ran to a neighbor's house and gave the alarm. Officers from Randolph and Guilford counties were summoned and they together with a posse of citizens made a search for the robber. He had not been found Thursday morning although the abandoned gun and a box of shells were found not far from the house.

Play at Bethel

"Farm Folks" will be presented at Bethel school house Saturday night, March 27th. Music will be furnished by a string band. A small admission fee will be charged for the benefit of the school.

FIRE DESTROYS
DAVIS' GARAGE

Loss Approximates $7,500, Partly Covered by Insurance—Davis Heavy Loser.

Fire probably originating from a short circuit in a stored car destroyed the frame garage occupied by Clarence Davis on the corner of Sunset avenue and Church street Monday about midnight. The flames fanned by a brisk breeze quickly ate their way through the building and threatened to spread to other buildings in the neighborhood. The firemen called out at midnight to fight the flames kept them well in check and confined to the garage building.

The building was owned by Arthur Ross and was valued at about $2000. There was insurance on it to the extent of $1000. Mr. Davis had in the garage all his machinery and equipment for the conduct of his general repair business and this valued at $2500 was destroyed together with a car belonging to him. Insurance on the contents amounted to $1250.

There were several individual car owners who had cars stored in the garage for the night. All were a total loss. Burns and Lowallen lost four, H. T. Cavness one, Arthur Davis one and Dr. Sumner's father's new Essex driven into the garage Monday night was destroyed.

Mr. Davis would have in the course of a few days moved into the new garage building facing Sunset avenue contracted for his use by Arthur Ross.

CLYDE CAPEL IS DEAD AT CANDOR

End Came Suddenly Sunday Morning—Lending Citizen of Montgomery.

Mr. Clyde Capel, one of Montgomery county's most popular and progressive citizens died suddenly at his home in Candor Sunday morning at the age of 48 years. Two years ago Mr. Capel suffered a stroke of paralysis and had slowly regained fair health and was able to get around his home and attend to business.

He was the son of A. W. E. Capel of Troy, who now is critically ill in a Charlotte hospital.

Mr. Capel was born at the old Capel home place, near Capel's Mill in Montgomery county. His parents moved to Rameur when their children were small and lived there until about twenty-five years ago when they moved to Troy.

Mr. Capel was educated in the Rameur school and Guilford College later taking a special course at Trinity College, now Duke University. He was associated with his father in the Capel and Troy Cotton Mills for several years, after which he went to Biscoe where he took charge of the Biscoe Cotton Mill, and remained there until twelve years ago when he bought land near Candor and put in a chain of peach orchards. Mr. Capel married Miss Liles, of Wadesboro, and to this union there is one son, William. In the death of Mr. Capel the entire state has lost a valuable and genial citizen. He was pleasing in appearance, genteel in manner, and always a delightful host. He took a keen interest in religious, civic and political affairs and was a moving factor in all things pertaining to progress. In addition to his wife and son Mr. Capel is survived by his father, A. W. E. Capel, of Troy, one sister, Mrs. Hampton Covington, Panama City, Florida, and one brother, Leon Capel, of Troy and an adopted sister, Miss Gertrude Capel, a student in Greensboro College.

On account of the illness from influenza of both Mrs. Capel and her son, the funeral service was held in the home Tuesday at 2 p. m., after which the body was taken to the family plot in Troy. The many friends and the large number of floral offerings attested the high esteem in which Mr. Capel was held.

MRS. SHEPARD WILL SPEAK ON MORMONISM
