

County Sunday School Convention To Be Held In Baptist Church At Franklinville

First Session is Tuesday Afternoon—To Continue Through Wednesday Afternoon.

NUMBER OF INTERESTING SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

Picnic Dinner On Grounds Wednesday Noon.—Banner To Be Awarded.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, August 17th and 18th, Sunday school workers from all parts of the county will gather at the Baptist church, in Franklinville, for the annual convention of the Randolph County Sunday School Association.

The sessions will begin Tuesday afternoon with devotional by Rev. W. A. Elam and following the welcome by J. H. Fenstriss and response by E. C. Williamson, president, Miss Flora Davis, associate superintendent of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, will at 3 o'clock make a talk on "Adults in Sunday School."

On Tuesday night the session will begin at 8 o'clock and Miss Margee will use "Teaching the Child" as her subject. Miss Davis will speak on "The Use of the Story in Teaching."

The session Wednesday morning will start at 10 o'clock with devotional followed by Miss Daisy Margee who will discuss "Putting it Across." Reports of county and township officers will be heard at this session.

The afternoon program on Wednesday, which will close the session, will begin at 2 o'clock with a song service. Miss Davis and Miss Margee are both on this program for interesting talks.

Picnic dinner will be served on the church grounds Wednesday at noon. The officers of the county association together with officers of the various township associations in the county have been working together to the end that this convention may be the best of its kind ever held in the State.

THE PERSONALITY OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

All the distinctive characteristics of personality are ascribed to the Holy Spirit in the Bible. What are they? Knowledge, feeling and will. Any being who knows, feels and wills is a person.

(Intelligence and goodness) Nehemiah 9: 20: "Thou gavest also, thy good Spirit to instruct them and withheld not thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst."

In Japan kissing is considered "an unclean and immodest habit." Consequently American movies frequently shock the Japanese, and perhaps lead other Japanese to experiment.

SENATOR REED MAKES A MOST BRAZEN CONFESSION

Of Course, Reed and His Crowd Would Like to Abolish Regulation of Special Interests, Says Oldfield.

Washington, D. C., August 1.—A magazine article entitled "If I Were a Dictator," signed by Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, was described today by Representative William A. Oldfield, of Arkansas, Chairman of the Democratic National Congressional Committee as the "most brazen confession of what is really in the hearts of the big business interests which control this government at present that has ever been reduced to writing."

In the statement, which Mr. Oldfield so severely criticizes, Senator Reed says:—If I were a dictator I would abolish the Federal Trade Commission, the Shipping Board tonight and the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow.

"Of course, he and the crowd with whom he stands are annoyed by laws and regulations which interfere with their schemes. I have no doubt that they would like not only to do away with the boards which he specifically names but that they would favor all repeal of the election laws and all other laws that prevent them from working their free will."

"They are getting practically everything they want from the present Administration and they have little to fear from any of the commissions that Senator Reed would abolish, since, following the counsel of such advisors as Senator Reed, President Coolidge has packed them to do the bidding of high business. But what they do fear is that the Democrats will get into power and then these commissions will begin to function again in the interests of the people."

"It is not strange after the revelations regarding the Pennsylvania primary, in which the Mellon and Grundy advisors as Senator Reed, President Coolidge has packed them to do the bidding of high business. But what they do fear is that the Democrats will get into power and then these commissions will begin to function again in the interests of the people."

But what they do fear is that the Democrats will get into power and then these commissions will begin to function again in the interests of the people."

MERCHANT FINANCIAL WRECK

"I am a financial wreck because of the expense of doctors and medicine for my wife. She has been a chronic sufferer for 10 years. Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of MAYER'S and from the first dose my wife has steadily improved."

affiliations spent nearly two million dollars in an attempt to buy the U. S. Senatorship that Senator Reed has no fondness for investigations and complaints of their large cost to the government. Yet twenty-one investigations by the Federal Trade Commission, extending over a period of ten years cost only about a million dollars more than was spent in Pennsylvania within a few weeks to corrupt the electorate.

"Did Senator Reed have one word of condemnation for Mr. Grundy, who collected immense sums from corporations on the promise that they would give a single sign of humiliation over the manly fight of purchase of votes? No. But his friend, Secretary Mellon, said that he would give to this slush fund as he would to a church and the whole corrupt proceeding on the primary system which the people of Pennsylvania had adopted."

"Of course, he would blame the primary because it has multiplied the cost of putting over candidates and he would prefer to return to the old days and the old system, and, under the present Republican Administration, he and the greedy, privileged classes he represents, feel so powerful and so secure that they are not afraid to adopt the attitude of their kind thirty years or so ago, which found frank expression in the contemptuous phrase, 'The public be damned!'"

A Good Tracer

"Yes, uh, I can trace my relations back to a family tree." "Chase 'em to a tree?" "No, trace 'em!" "Well, jes' two kinds o' things live in trees; dats birds and monkeys—and you sho' ain't got no feathers on you!"

Farmers Buy Much Machinery

Farmers of America, according to the department of commerce, bought 55 million dollars worth more of farm machinery in 1925 than in 1924, the total for 1925 being $332,845,204. The purchase of farm tractors and equipment led all other classes of machinery bought by farmers.

Headache dizziness

"I HAVE headache once in a while, usually coming from constipation or torpid liver," says Mr. L. A. Morphis, of Pottsville, Ark., "and the very best remedy I have found to correct this condition is Theodor's Black-Draught. It acts quickly and easily, and it just can't be beat."

TARHEEL SWINE GROWER HAS THREE ADVANTAGES

Raleigh, N. C., August 9.—How growing should be pushed in North Carolina because of the three rather striking advantages that the Tarheel farmer has over other competing farmers. The local grower has the advantage of climate which permits him to produce two litters of pigs per year, the advantage of being near a good market and the advantage of being close to a supply of protein feed.

"The climate of North Carolina is temperate enough that each sow may successfully produce and raise two litters of pigs each year without the owner being put to excessive cost," says Earl Hostetler, swine investigator for the North Carolina Experiment Station. "A simple house is sufficient to take care of the sow and her pigs and it is necessary if one expects to produce market hogs and to take advantage of the good prices which usually occur in April and September."

"There is no place in North Carolina where hogs cannot be shipped to Richmond or Baltimore and arrive within 36 hours from the time they are loaded. This is a great advantage and the prices are usually above those offered in Chicago."

Then too, North Carolina plants more land to corn than she does to cotton or tobacco. About 35.7 per cent of the cultivated land is planted to corn. This is excellent for pork production but it needs to be balanced with some nitrogenous or high protein feed. Swine growers in the State are adjacent to firms which manufacture and sell fish meal and soybean oil meal. Both of these feeds are valuable as protein supplements to pigs. Tests show that when such a supplement as fish meal is added to balance the corn, it is worth 147 times the price of the corn used."

North Carolina Leads Again
Eleven southern states reported 41 deaths from traffic accidents last week and 276 persons injured. North Carolina headed the list with ten deaths. Louisiana was second with six deaths. Florida, with 58, had the largest number of persons injured during the week.

Some excellent crops have been ruined in Durham county by deep cultivation late in the season with a turn plow which exposes and cuts the plant roots, finds county agent W. L. Smith.

"Haste makes waste"
"I have never yet seen persons really get anywhere who were always in a hurry with never time to care for their motors—picking up gas, all kinds—here, there, and everywhere. They soon find this policy makes their car shy at a hill-climb—whine for second gear—pine for a rear.
"Best to make haste slowly. Play safe. Always fill up with 'Standard' Gasoline. It's the result of fifty-six years' experience—always dependable. Right handy everywhere."
