

Great Interest Is Being Aroused In The Courier's $3,000 Holiday Gift

Wonderful List of Prizes and Cash Awards Await Delivery On Dec. 31st.

"EVERYBODY WINS" IS SLOGAN OF CAMPAIGN

Surprise Present for Each Courier Subscriber Paying During This Gift Campaign.

If anybody thinks that COURIER contestants are not going after the $3,000.00 List of Prizes to be given away by The Courier on Dec. 31st they are badly mistaken, because some mighty fine people are covering Randolph county and surrounding territory collecting subscriptions and votes in one of the shortest and snappiest Circulation Booster Prize Campaigns every inaugurated by a North Carolina paper.

Several contestants called at The Courier office last Saturday with their first reports and others came in Monday and Wednesday, however, it is not too late to enter the campaign as no one has taken a big lead and several sections of the country are not represented in the campaign so far. NOW is the best time to make a start as this is such a short, snappy campaign that it will be over before one can realize the magnitude of the grand offer being made by The Courier.

Contestants can turn in their subscription reports any day at The Courier office, but all who can are asked to send in their reports every Saturday if possible.

Everybody Wins

The fact that everybody who actively takes part in the campaign will win a prize or a cash award in proportion to the amount of votes earned on the subscriptions obtained is gratifying indeed. The magnificent prizes are sure worth working for and the 12 1/2 per cent cash commission to those who do not win one of the six grand prizes is not to be forgotten.

There are prizes and cash awards enough for all the contestants and a surprise gift for each and every new or old subscriber who pays any contest before Dec. 24th.

The campaign department is located at The Courier office, where Mrs. Wm. C. Hammer will be glad to explain details of the campaign to those who are just starting. Mailing lists and sample copies together with the little subscription receipt books are furnished those who enter the campaign.

Nov. 30 Prize The special period prize, a 26 piece Chest of Community Silver Ware (25 year guaranteed), furnished by the Standard Drug Store to be awarded on Nov. 30 to the contestant turning in the most NEW yearly subscribers between the dates of Nov. 19 and Nov. 30th at 8 P. M. will be announced in The Courier on Thursday, Dec. 2nd, and another special period prize will be awarded Dec. 11, the close of the first period of the campaign after which the vote credits will be substantially reduced.

Asheboro Weather State Average During October

The bulletin gotten out by the branch office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, at Raleigh, for the month of October says: "The monthly mean temperature for the state as shown by the records of 69 stations was 61.8 degrees. The highest monthly mean temperature was 68.5 degrees at Southport and the lowest was 44.7 degrees at Mount Mitchell." It is of interest to the people of Asheboro to know that the record as kept here by Rev. J. E. Pritchard was 61.8 degrees, or exactly the average for the state. Asheboro is not only the geographical center of North Carolina but is also near the center of temperature for the state.

Democrats Should Nominate McLean

Atlanta Paper Thinks He Would Make An Excellent Candidate For The Presidency.

In a leading editorial in its issue of November 23rd, the Atlanta Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga., suggests Gov. A. W. McLean, of North Carolina, for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. The Constitution sees in the Smith-McAdoo fight the death of the Democratic party, and calls upon the Democrats to nominate a man from the south, from which 80 per cent of the Democratic electoral votes come. Sectional lines have been obliterated, according to the Constitution, and there is no reason why a candidate should not be selected from south of the imaginary Mason and Dixon line. McLean, argues the Atlanta paper, is one of the best fitted men in the country for the Presidency. The south could hold up its head with pride behind such a man as the Governor of North Carolina, says the Constitution. This is not the first time North Carolina's popular and able Governor has been mentioned for the Democratic Presidential nomination. In practically every State in the south his name has at some time or another been mentioned, and in many northern States, the mention of his name has found a ready response. No Governor of any State is attracting more attention nationally than the business executive of the "Fifth State" in the union.

People Reminded To Return Thanks

Governor Issues Annual Thanksgiving Proclamation According To Honored Custom.

Governor Angus W. McLean, following a time-honored custom and in accordance with the laws of North Carolina, on Monday issued to the people of the State the annual Thanksgiving Proclamation, setting aside Thursday, November 25th, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer. With progress and prosperity on every hand, it is most fitting that the day be set aside upon which we should call to mind, according to the Governor, the fact that this progress and prosperity may be transitory and ephemeral unless "we realize the virtues that made out prosperity possible."

"Our blessings," said the Governor, "have been manifold. We have progressed along all lines. We have placed the ban of our disapproval upon ignorance and are sincerely working to rid our state of its evil influence. The development of our great highway system, the progress made in industry, agriculture and social service, all of these are causes for thanksgiving; honesty, patience and reverence for God, coupled with a will to work, have made us a great State."

Highway 70 Is Open To Seagrove

Is Now Hard Surfaced From Virginia Line To Randolph County Town.

The twelve-mile stretch of hard surface road from the county home, two miles south of Asheboro, to Seagrove was opened to traffic all along the route Monday. For some time the road had been completed save for a small stretch just north of Seagrove, forcing a short detour just outside the corporate limits of the town. This, however, has been completed and is ready for use by traffic. Work is going forward on the construction of the shoulders to the road. The completion of the hard surfacing of this twelve-mile stretch of road completes the paved length from the Virginia state line to Seagrove. Seventy-five per cent of Route 70 is now hard surfaced or oil treated. From Seagrove on through Montgomery county the highway is of sand-asphalt or catchhite construction and from the Montgomery line to Pinehurst is of sand clay construction. From Pinehurst to Raeford Route 70 is hard surface and is being built of concrete from Raeford to Lumberton. According to J. W. Mills, fifth district engineer, prospects are good for the concreting of the entire route at no distant date.

The completion of Route 70 from the Randolph county home to Seagrove brings to an end all hard surface road jobs in the fifth district except the High Point-Greensboro highway. It is anticipated, however, that new hard surface projects in this district will be let about the first of the year.

Chevrolet Roadster Put To Novel Use In N. Y.

The novel combination of a covered wagon and a Chevrolet roadster mounted in front on skids and in the rear on snowmobile caterpillar tractors, is the strange-appearing vehicle ironclad Mountains and involves the maintenance of service throughout a chain of 20 exchanges. This type of vehicle, which will travel over the most formidable snow drifts, was assembled by H. O. Peebles, a mechanic in the employ of the telephone company, used by the Black River Telephone company of Lovellville, N. Y., for winter "trouble-shooting" on its lines in the heavy snow belt of New York State. The difficult winter territory for the company's linemen extends from Lake Ontario to Raguette Lake in the Adirondacks.

Wilson Henley Killed In Wreck

Young Man, Formerly of Asheboro, Meets Death In Train-Automobile Accident.

Wilson Henley, better known as "Snooks," 18 years old, widely known and popular young man of High Point, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Henley, was killed in a train-automobile wreck near Palm Beach, Florida, Saturday night, according to long distance telephone messages received by his father in High Point. Details of the accident are meagre, but it is known that young Henley was making the rounds of the highways checking up on some lights for the State highway commission of Florida by whom he had been employed for some time.

Young Henley's mother was on her way to Florida to visit her son when the untimely accident occurred and probably did not know of her son's death until her arrival at her destination.

"Snooks" Henley was born in Asheboro and lived here until his parents moved to High Point some 12 years ago. He was popular in Asheboro where he was well known and as a child was greatly loved by those who knew him. He was of cheerful disposition and in every way a clean-cut young man of excellent character. He went to Florida some two years ago to obtain employment, but was handicapped on account of his youth. Young Henley, it is said, added some years to his age when asked how old he was and obtained a job with the Palm Beach Paper Company. Later he secured a position with the State highway commission, in whose service he was at the time of his untimely death.

He leaves besides his parents, three brothers, Frank, Arthur and Allen Henley, of West Palm Beach, Florida; two sisters, Mrs. Rodney E. Snow, of High Point; and Mrs. C. Murchinson Walker, of Fayetteville. Mrs. Robert Burns, of High Point, is an aunt of the young man.

The body of the young man was shipped from Florida to High Point, where the funeral will be held.

Gov. McLean For Better County Governing System

Governor A. W. McLean in his message to the Legislature of North Carolina two years ago mentioned something about the need of a more business-like system of county government. He did not lose interest in the matter, but has been thinking about it all along. Saturday he gave out a statement to the newspapers that he was not committed to any one system of county government, but thought the Legislature should present several good plans to the counties and let each county select the plan it liked best. That there is need of some uniform county system of government, the Governor is convinced. "Everywhere I went during the campaign I found the people satisfied with the State Government but in a number of counties there was complaint about the conduct of local affairs," said the Governor. "I think in many instances that was due to lack of proper system rather than to any fault of the officers. Some of the sheriffs in North Carolina get behind without knowing they are doing so and there should be some definite system for all of the county accounting."

Water And Sewer Works At Liberty

Town Spending $125,000 For Improvements—First Contract Almost Completed.

Liberty, Nov. 22.—The water and sewer works of Liberty is nearing completion as to the first contract. The first contract included about three miles of sewer and four miles of water lines, also a 250,000 gallon elevated tank to be used for fire storage and for the purpose of regulating pressure; in addition to this there is also a sewerage disposal plant capable of taking care of the entire town; also the necessary pumping equipment, wells and pump houses. The recent contract has been extended in order to sewer and water the entire town. The town being located on a plateau and sloping off in several directions it becomes necessary to pump some of the sewerage while the remainder flows by gravity into the central disposal plant. The complete expenditure amounts to about $125,000, making Liberty the best watered and sewer town in this State, of the same size.

Miss Dewey Coble Bride Of Mr. John B. Mimms

In the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends, Miss Dewey Coble, of Greensboro, Saturday evening at 9 o'clock became the bride of John B. Mimms, prominent young man connected with the Greensboro Bank and Trust Company. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. K. Mason, pastor of the Asheboro Street Baptist church, Greensboro, at the church parsonage. The bride was very attractive in her wedding gown of Elizabeth crepe with gold trimmings. She wore a corsage of sweetheart roses showered with valley lilies. For traveling, she wore a taupe coat of Kashmir-toga cloth with elaborate mink trimming. Accessories were of tan. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Coble, of near Liberty. She has made her home, however, in Greensboro the past nine years. The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mimms, of Greensboro. Shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mimms left for a short bridal trip to New York, after which they will make their home in Greensboro.

Light Vote Cast In State Nov. 2nd

Totaled Only Half of 1924 Vote—Overman's Majority About 76,000 Over Hayes.

Final tabulation of returns from the election Tuesday, November 2nd, show that the vote cast in the State was light. It was less than half the vote cast in the 1924 election, there being no big issues to bring the people to the polls. The total vote in 1924 was 480,068. In that year Simmons' majority for Senator was 101,011, and McLean for Governor 98,814. In the election Tuesday, November 2, 1926, the total vote was 261,825. Overman's majority for Senator was 76,043. The shrinkage in the State's vote was due largely to shrinkage in the eastern counties where there was little or no opposition to Democratic county tickets. Nomination was tantamount to election and the voters saw no necessity of going to the polls. Overman carried 86 counties in the 1926 election, leaving 14 for Johnson J. Hayes. The amendment to the constitution carried by a large majority, so did the soldiers' loan act. For Congress in the Seventh district, Mr. Hammer received a total of 31,332 votes against 24,769 for S. Carter Williams, his Republican opponent. Every Congressional district in the State was carried by the Democrats. Every Democratic candidate for solicitor was elected, save J. A. Rousseau in the 17th, who was beaten by John R. Jones by about 4,000 majority, considerably less than the Republican majority in that district four years ago. The 17th regularly goes Republican. In the 15th district, of which Randolph is a part, Zeb V. Long, Democratic incumbent, had no opposition and received a total of 20,976 votes.

Mrs. Eliza Farlowe Is Dead At Age 57

End Follows Long Illness From Cancer—Funeral Held Yesterday at Seagrove.

Mrs. Eliza Harper Farlowe, wife of Mr. M. Farlowe, died at her home Tuesday morning following several years illness from that dreaded disease, cancer. Mrs. Farlowe was a patient at Dr. Long's hospital in Greensboro about two years ago, underwent an operation from which she rallied and showed some improvement. She later went to a Richmond hospital where she was assured a cure, but returned home several months ago to await the passing.

Mrs. Farlowe was the daughter of the late James and Caroline Harper, of Seagrove. She married Mr. M. Farlowe about thirty-five years ago. To this union there are the following sons and daughters: Mrs. J. R. Sikes, Asheboro, James Farlow, High Point; Eugene, June, Charles, Elsie, Amos Ruth and Reuben Farlow, all of Seagrove. Mrs. Farlowe is also survived by two sisters, Miss Winnie Harper, of Seagrove, and Mrs. S. E. Spencer, Seagrove, Route 2; and two brothers, Jas. Marion Harper, Asheboro, and Jethro Harper, of Bennett. Deceased was fifty-seven years of age. The funeral service was conducted at Seagrove by Rev. J. C. Cummings, of Hemp, after which burial followed yesterday. The large number of people and the many floral offerings attested the popularity of Mrs. Farlowe.

Surprise Birthday Party For Mr. W. J. Baldwin

"Mrs. W. J. Baldwin and children," says the Goldsboro Daily Argus, "were the guests of a surprise birthday dinner on the occasion of his 65th anniversary, which was in every way enjoyable, and the spirit of the happy occasion was exceedingly rejuvenating in its effect on the honor guest, so that he is now posing at 55, and next year he expects to clip off 10 years more." Mr. Baldwin and his interesting family were formerly residents of Randolph county.

Commissioner Page Is For State Constabulary

That a State constabulary to patrol the North Carolina highways and a State license for automobile drivers will doubtless come before the next Legislature for consideration, is the opinion of Frank Page, State Highway Commissioner, who has been advocating both for some time. Page thinks it would require a force of at least 100 men and salaries and upkeep would run close to $250,000 a year. It is Page's opinion that a State constabulary and the State license for drivers would eliminate much reckless driving, drunken drivers and the like and save hundreds of lives and thousands of dollars. Charles Ross, attorney for the highway commission, is authority for the statement that 412 deaths occurred on the highways of the State last year from automobile accidents, not counting 2000 accidents all told with a property loss of nearly three million dollars. Ross is of the opinion, like Page, that a State constabulary would be a good thing and points to New York and Pennsylvania as practical examples of the administering it in North Carolina.

Little Seagrove Boy Hit By Car

Five-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sykes Suffered Fractured Skull.

Master Joseph Sykes, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sykes, of Seagrove, was run over by a car driven by Mr. Claude Reynolds, of Greensboro, Tuesday evening. The little fellow had started across the street from his father's store. There was an automobile standing across the street from the store and, according to reports, the child ran from behind the car into the road in front of the car driven by Mr. Reynolds, who was driving rapidly. The child was brought to Memorial hospital, Asheboro, where he has had treatment. His condition is not encouraging as he has suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. Mr. Reynolds was on his way to Hamlet to take a train to Tampa, Florida. He accompanied the little boy to Asheboro and has been here waiting the results. Mr. Reynolds claims he did not see the little boy in time to avoid the accident. Joseph is one of eight children. His parents moved from Union township especially to send the children to school.

Plans Made To Advertise State of North Carolina

More than 100 delegates from various cities and towns in North Carolina met in the hall of the house of representatives in Raleigh Monday and organized North Carolina, Incorporated, for the purpose of putting on an advertising campaign for three years for the State. The organization plans to spend $150,000 for this purpose each year. Addresses were made at the meeting in Raleigh by Governor McLean, Congressman Hammer, C. L. Abernethy, John H. Small, Major Wade H. Phillips and others. Mr. Hammer told the delegates assembled that Asheboro had raised every dollar of its quota of the advertising fund. "I am for progress in everything except religion, and I am a fundamentalist in that," Mr. Hammer told the meeting.

Asheboro Has Its First Snow Flurry of Season

The first snow flurries of the season fell in Asheboro Sunday afternoon for a short while only. The weather was ideal for snow; the clouds were overcast, and the thermometer low. Yet the flakes were few and far between. Children, looking forward with keen anticipation to a ground covered with a blanket of white, were disappointed. Snow fell in Asheville, however, Sunday for several hours. Other sections in Western North Carolina were covered by the fleecy flakes, but the wind soon swept the ground clean.
