1927 North Carolina "Master Farmer" Contest

You have probably noticed announcements in The Progressive Farmer, relative to the "Master Farmer" contest starting in the state this year.

More will be said about this contest later, but I mention it here that you may be thinking about it and plan your work accordingly.

Lespedeza Seed Here
On Saturday, March 5th, I will deliver 100 bushels of lespedeza seed to the first comers.

Topdress Grain
Small grain that looks pale in color and is not doing well, or has been put on thin land with very little fertilizer, and is not doing well, or has been put on thin land with very little fertilizer, should be given application of a quickly available nitrogen, such as nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia.

According to Prof. C. B. Williams "the efficiency of sulphate of ammonia as compared with nitrate of soda is about 90 per cent."

Several farmers of the county have used a topdressing to good advantage, and in a few instances where we have measured the difference the grain yield has practically been doubled.

At the present time I have a small quantity of sulphate of ammonia available for putting on a few demonstrations with small grain.

Right now is the time to buy a few cows if they can be found.

SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1927

General Subject: Sharing the Good News.

Golden Text—"Ye shall be witnesses unto me." (Acts 1:8b.)

Scripture: Acts 8:4-8. 2 Cor. 5:14-20.

1. Therefore they went every where preaching the word.

2. Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

3. And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

4. For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

5. And there was great joy in that city.

6. For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

7. And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

8. Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

9. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things have passed away, behold, all things are become new.

10. And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

11. To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

12. Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us; we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

(Comment by Rev. G. W. Gray, Farmer.)

There is no such thing as inactive Christianity. No one can live a real Christian without his companions finding it out. It is not natural for us to want to keep all our good news. The early Christians were anxious to tell others the "Good News" that they had received. Christ himself left the Glory World to come into a sin-cursed world to herald the good news of the Kingdom of Heaven.

When this great love fills our heart it also thrills us and causes us to be anxious to share with others. Thence the unselfish life. We will find that it is not the hardest way. We have the promise that, "The righteous shall inherit the earth" but "The way of the ungodly shall perish." However the news is so good and was brought to us with such a sacrifice that we should be glad to tell it to all the world. Verse 20 says, "We are ambassadors for Christ." The text shows that the last commandment ever given by Christ was, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me." We are not true followers if we obey not. Paul says, "We is me, if I preach not the gospel," and so it is with us if we are unfaithful.

With zeal, those who had seen Jesus in the flesh or who came under the direct influence of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost and the immediate years that followed, proclaimed the new birth through Him. The Jews who refused to recognize their Messiah opposed those who announced that He had come. Violent persecution broke out, which culminated in the martyrdom of Stephen and the affliction of many others. Without yielding any of their beliefs, the early Christians

Would Be Glad To Welcome New College

Trinity Is Pleased At Thought Of New College—Personal Mention For The Week.

Trinity, March 1.—Miss Ida Ingram, who has been in poor health for some time, remains about the same.

The friends of J. Wesley Welborn, of Archdale, were surprised to hear of his death, which occurred in a hospital at High Point, where he had gone for treatment. Mr. Welborn often attended religious services here at Trinity.

Mrs. Nannie A. Craven is at present spending some time in Greensboro. Trinity is very much pleased at the thought of again having a college here. We will all be glad to welcome Rutherford and will do the best we can to make up for lost time, in the way of a college.

Mr. R. J. Reddick, from the land of the Dakotas, is still in town. Mr. Reddick owns a large ranch in Dakota. We have not learned when he will return to his adopted State.

Mrs. Laura Wood, who was in an auto wreck some time ago, and whose husband was killed, is still very feeble, and is confined to her bed most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Craven spent Sunday in Danville, Va., the guest of Mrs. Asten, a sister of Mrs. Craven. Truie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, of West Trinity, who has been visiting in Lee county, returned Saturday night.
