

ISSUED WEEKLY

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

$2.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

VOLUME LII

Asheboro, N. C., Thursday, October 26, 1927

NUMBER 45

Funeral Sunday For Mrs. Marley

Held At Methodist Church In Ramsey, Following Her Death Friday Morning.

Fine Tribute Paid Her

Ramsey, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Celia A. Marley, aged 69, died at her home here Friday morning following an illness of only twelve hours. Death is attributed to paralysis. She was in good health until Thursday afternoon when she was stricken. A second stroke followed a few hours later. Mrs. Marley was a member of the Methodist church and was active in all its various lines of endeavor. At the time of her passing she was a teacher in the Sunday school. Mrs. Marley was known and loved far and near. Her church and community will deeply miss her beautiful Christian life and influence.

Mrs. Marley is survived by three sons, W. E. and V. C. Marley, of Ramsey, and E. H. Marley, of Columbia, S. C.; one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Caviness, of Greensboro; one brother, E. T. Whitehead, of Coleridge; and one sister, Mrs. Lula Cox, of Ramsey. She leaves also ten grandchildren.

The funeral service was held in the Methodist church in Ramsey Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. W. Hoyle, Jr., assisted by Rev. W. A. Elam, pastor of the Baptist church. The large crowd from Ramsey and elsewhere more than filled the church and the altar was banked high with flowers attesting the high esteem in which Mrs. Marley was held.

After the service at the church, the body was taken to old Concord cemetery, near Coleridge, for burial. This was in Mrs. Marley's old home community, and a great throng of people was present when the funeral procession arrived.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. S. Wyllie, W. C. Trogdon, H. P. Smith, J. R. Wilson, D. E. Highfill and J. P. Cox. Flowers were carried by Misses Nellie Allen, Ruth Covington, Tena Mae Brown, Jewel Kirkman, Nellie Kivett, Ida Phillips, Pauline Allred, Dorothy Dixon, Nora Phillips, Julia West, Ida Cox, Mary Sikes, Eugenia Lane, Ida West, Ornice Scotten, Lucy Brown, Nellie Wyllie, Eva Phillips.

(Please turn to page 8)

Superior Court Convenes In Asheboro October 31st

The two weeks term of Randolph Superior Court for the trial of cases on the civil docket only will convene in Asheboro on Monday morning, October 31st, with Judge John H. Harwood, of Waynesville, presiding. Judge Harwood is the latest of the special judges of Superior Court appointed by Governor McLean. At the time of his appointment he was serving as Assistant Attorney General for North Carolina. He was succeeded in this capacity by Hon. Walter Siler, of Chatham county.

Has Second Crop Of Apples

Mr. L. H. Laughlin, of Randleman, has the second crop of apples on one of the trees in his orchard. He has sent two small branches with small apples to The Courier for exhibition. This is unusual and according to the old people, signifies a cold winter. The Courier is grateful to Mr. Laughlin for sending the late apples.

Ramsey P.-T. Association In Special Meeting Friday

Ramsey, Oct. 18.—A special meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. An interesting and entertaining program, twenty minutes in length, will be rendered by pupils of the fourth and fifth grades. This will be followed by a discussion of vital subjects, one of which will be "Our Attitude Towards Authority." Two-minute speeches will be made by members of the association. The entire program will not last over an hour. Let everybody attend this meeting if possible and encourage the work of the association in this community.

Mrs. Cagle Dead

Wife Of Cornelius Cagle, Formerly Of Randolph.

Mrs. Aurilla Cagle, wife of Cornelius Cagle, died at her home near High Point, Monday morning following an illness of six months. Mrs. Cagle was born in Randolph county, September 23, 1877, the daughter of Andrew and Mary Green Auman. She had lived near High Point only two years, having moved there from Randleman in 1925. She was a member of the New Hope Methodist church, in Randolph county. Mr. and Mrs. Cagle lived in Union township before moving to Randleman.

Mrs. Cagle leaves besides her husband, three sons, Verlie Cagle, Goldboro; and Elvin and Gaitner Cagle, of High Point; one daughter, Mrs. G. H. Riggall, of High Point; and four brothers, Relford Auman, Seagrave; J. A. Auman, Seagrave, Route 2; Jethro Auman, Seagrave; and Sebastian Auman, Thomasville.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning from Springfield Friends church, near High Point, by Rev. T. E. Pierce, pastor of Welch Memorial M. P. church, and burial was made in the church cemetery.

Automatic Traffic Signal Devices To Direct Traffic Here

Order has been placed by the authorities of the town of Asheboro for three automatic electric traffic signal devices to be installed at three main street intersections in Asheboro. These are intersections of North Fayetteville and Salisbury Streets; Sunset Avenue (Depot Street) and Fayetteville at Bank of Randolph; and South Fayetteville and Academy Streets at the school building. It is anticipated that these signal devices will arrive and be installed within thirty days. They are made by General Electric Corporation and are similar to those in use in Greensboro and other large towns and cities in the State. Much has been done to improve traffic on the streets of the town during the past few months and it is the belief of Mayor Cranford and the other town authorities that the installation of these automatic traffic signals will still further improve traffic handling in Asheboro.

Five County High Schools Show Good Average Attendance

Reports from five of the high schools in the county at the close of the first month of school work show that the enrollment at these schools is splendid and that the average daily attendance is of the order that calls for a feeling of pride among the school folks in the county. Reports from Ramsey, Franklinville, Randleman, Farmer and Liberty are in the hands of County Superintendent Bulla and these indicate enrollment and attendance as follows:

School	Enrollment	Av. Daily Attend.	Pct.
Ramsey	409	381	92
Franklinville	317	300	94
Randleman	677	653	96
Farmer	296	276	93
Liberty	468	439	93

Average daily attendance for the five schools, 94 per cent.

Other averages will be published at any time they are received by this newspaper.

E. Frank Saunders Dies After Lingering Illness

E. Frank Saunders, 53, died at his home on Randleman, Route 2, Sunday, following an illness lasting since last July when he was painfully burned about the body when his clothing became ignited from gasoline. He was born April 10, 1869 in Montgomery county, the son of Eli and Elizabeth Richardson Saunders. He was a prosperous farmer and a devoted member of the Baptist church. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Margaret Saunders, and ten children.

Funeral was held at Giles Chapel church Monday by Elder S. H. Reed, of Walnut Cove, and the body laid to rest in the church cemetery.

Randolph Scene Of Mining Activities

News From Raleigh Says Port Mine To Be Opened—Work At Spoon Mine.

A news item from Raleigh dated Saturday, October 15th, conveys the intelligence that a Winston-Salem corporation has been chartered to mine for gold at the old Porter mine, in the Holly Springs community of Randolph county. Herman J. Bryson, State geologist, is authority for the statement that the mine may yield $500,000 worth of gold. Assays of 14 samples from the property by Mr. Bryson revealed gold valued at $2,000 per ton of dirt. The Porter mine, southeast of Asheboro, is about two miles distant from the Spoon mine at which operations were started about three weeks ago. Work has been completed in pumping water out of this mine and it will be only a short while until work will be started in mining for the precious metal. If any activities in the way of mining are in progress on any big scale at the Porter mine just at this time this newspaper has been unable to learn of same.

District Odd Fellows Meeting
A district meeting of Odd Fellows was held in High Point Tuesday night. Members of the order from the four counties in the district, Guilford, Randolph, Rockingham and Alamance, were in attendance. The Degree of Truth was conferred upon six candidates. Meeting was held in the Odd Fellows hall on East Commerce Street.

Community Singing
The Community Singing Club will hold a singing at Pleasant Hill church, Sunday, October 23rd, beginning at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. All singers and the public in general are invited to attend. Pleasant Hill church is located on the highway between Thomasville and Fullers in Randolph county.—J. B. Swain, Mgr.

Appreciation
We find ourselves unable to express our deepest appreciation to our many friends who rendered such kind, thoughtful service and spoke such comforting words as we passed thru the great sorrow in the illness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Celia A. Marley.—The Family.

Mrs. Makepeace Is Dead At Sanford

Was Born And Reared At Franklinville, But Moved To Sanford In 1884.

Mother Of Mrs. Parks

It was with sadness that a message was received in Asheboro last Friday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Kate Makepeace, of Sanford. She was a true wife and devoted mother and neighbor. No higher eulogy than this can be pronounced upon any woman. It can be truly said that in training her family, in the church and in her social circle she always did her duty nobly. Ripened in years and fully prepared for another state of existence, she passes on to enjoy the reward of a life well spent.

Mrs. Makepeace was born in Franklinville, Randolph county, 75 years ago last June 14th, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome B. Russell. She joined the Methodist church in Franklinville while only eight years old. She was the oldest of a large family and the last to pass away. On April 18, 1877, she was married to John B. Makepeace, who has preceded her to the grave. Mrs. Makepeace moved to Sanford in 1884. She was a charter member of the Methodist church at that place, and it was from this church that her funeral was held Saturday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams. Special music was rendered by the church choir, and her favorite hymns were sung. The church was crowded with relatives and friends to pay their last tribute to her life. One touching scene was her colored friends who sat in a body and her servant "Aunt" Ann who came in with her family and who had been faithful to her every duty for several years. Many floral designs were banked around her casket, showing the high esteem in which she was held.

Surviving Mrs. Makepeace are the following children: Mrs. Hugh Parks, Asheboro; J. F. Makepeace, of Raleigh; Mrs. C. R. Freddy, of Durham; W. R. Makepeace and Mrs. H. S. Edwards, of Sanford.

Millsaps Attending National Dairy Show

Gets Trip By Virtue Of Win In "Better Sires" Campaign—Won Third Place.

County Agent Ewing S. Millsaps, Jr., is in Memphis, Tennessee, this week attending the National Dairy Show. This trip was made possible for Mr. Millsaps by virtue of his winning third place among the county agents of the State in a "Better Sires" campaign staged last year. In the exceptionally fine piece of work which Mr. Millsaps did in the county he placed during the twelve months ending August 31st, twenty-eight registered Guernsey bulls together with a large number of pure-bred grade milk cows. This accomplishment entitled Mr. Millsaps to half his expenses to the national show, and the Randolph board of commissioners, in appreciation of his contribution to the county's prosperity and wealth in promoting the dairy industry, voted an appropriation covering the other half of the expense of the trip.

I will be recalled by those conversant with the work being done in the county by Mr. Millsaps that he won second place in a similar "Better Sires" campaign in 1925 and was rewarded with a trip to the national dairy show, held that year in Michigan. This win disqualified him for entry into the contest last year. During the thirty months ending August 31st, last, Mr. Millsaps has placed on the farms of Randolph county 76 registered Guernsey bulls, 109 registered Guernsey cows and 207 grade cows, a total of 392 of the better grade, an average of over ten a month.

This is an accomplishment worthy of note, and it is an addition to the wealth of the county that cannot be measured immediately in dollars and cents. The entire livestock industry in the county has been placed on a higher plane by virtue of this work and the basis has been laid for an improved breed of cattle on every farm in Randolph.

Mrs. Mary E. Smith Dies At Her Home In Millboro

Mrs. Mary E. Smith died at her home at Millboro last Friday from the infirmities of age. She was born in Randolph county, Oct. 4, 1850, the daughter of the late Wiley and Nancy Langley Davenport. She was married to Henry Smith, who preceded her to the grave several years ago. Surviving are the following children: Anderson, George and Crusoe Smith; Mrs. Fannie McDonald, Mrs. O. M. Glasgow, Mrs. Mattie Martindale and Mrs. Frank Rich. She leaves also three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Gaster, Mrs. W. J. Murphy and Miss Jane Davenport. She was a true and faithful christian woman and was for many years a member of Bethany church from which the funeral was conducted Saturday by Rev. O. A. Lindley.

Driving To Obtain $300 For Scouts

November 4th Is Day Set For Drive And J. D. Ross Will Be In Charge Of It.

New Scout Troop

B. W. Hackney, Jr., Scout Executive for Uwharrie Council, was in Asheboro yesterday in the interest of the campaign which will be put on in town one day only, November 4th, to raise $300 for benefit of local Boy Scout troops. This campaign will be headed by Mr. J. D. Ross. Every effort will be made to raise the required amount in a single day. The money so gotten will be used only for benefit of local scout troops.

Asheboro has had for some time a Scout troop under the command of Rev. C. G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church. This troop has shown up well in summer camp and individuals in it have carried off several of the camp honors. However, the town is large enough for one or more additional troops and Executive Hackney will assist in the organization within the next two or three weeks another troop at the First Methodist church. Interested local folks have volunteered any assistance which they can render in this regard.

Annual Reunion Of Pugh And Lineberry Families Sunday

More Than 300 Members Of The Family Gathered At Gray's Chapel Church.

The annual reunion of the Pugh and Lineberry families was held last Sunday at Gray's Chapel church with more than 300 members of the two families and their friends present. The feature of the reunion was the address by Dr. E. C. Perisho, of Guilford College. He stressed particularly the importance of right living and the power of good character. He paid tribute to the upright lives of the members of the Pugh and Lineberry families, all of whom, he said, were substantial and successful citizens and exerted an influence for good in the communities in which they live.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Jesse Pugh, Asheboro; vice president, June Cox, Liberty; secretary, Lucian Pugh, 1112 Bellevue Street, Greensboro; historians, G. W. Pugh, Mrs. Millard Pugh and Charles Lineberry, Millboro; William Blair, 1007 Asheboro Street, Greensboro; Miss Verla Lineberry, Climax and Mrs. W. C. Brown, Climax.

A picnic dinner was spread on the church lawn and this was greatly enjoyed. The pastor of the church returned thanks and made a few fitting remarks at the noon hour.

The reunion next year will be held at the same time, third Sunday in October, and the same place, Gray's Chapel church.

Morrison Opposes Smith

H. E. C. Bryant, writing from Washington to the Charlotte Observer, is authority for the statement that former Governor Cameron Morrison of North Carolina is opposed to the nomination of Al Smith of New York for the Presidency by the Democrats. Bryant says that Morrison while in Washington Tuesday was in conference with party leaders opposed to the Smith candidacy. Only one member of Congress from North Carolina is said to favor Smith and this one is Representative Kerr of the second district.

Funeral Tuesday For Miss Frazier

Died Monday Morning From Pneumonia At Home Five Miles From Ramsey.

Ramsey, Oct. 18.—Miss Martha Frazier, aged 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Frazier, died at their home Monday morning, five miles east of Ramsey, after being confined to her room two months. She developed pneumonia a few days ago from which she was unable to recover. She is survived besides her parents, one brother, Glen Frazier; her grandmother, Mrs. W. H. York.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at Rehobeth M. E. church by Rev. T. F. Andrew, of Staley, and the body laid to rest in the church cemetery.

District Game Warden Here For Conference

W. C. Lisk, district game warden, of Richfield, accompanied by Walter Cashatt, of Denton, game warden for Davidson county, was in Asheboro yesterday for a conference with Jesse Garner, Randolph warden, and Ed Cranford, member of the State Game and Fish Commission. Mr. Lisk has supervision over nine counties. He finds conditions in these counties with reference to the sale of licenses and the observance of the law most excellent. He finds that the citizens of his district are co-operating in every way possible with the officials in the observance and enforcement of the game laws. Farmers as well as hunters from the towns are buying licenses right along, says Mr. Lisk, until the total sold is going to reach far ahead of expectations of the authorities.

First Snow Of Year In State

The first snow of the year in North Carolina fell Tuesday in Yancey, Mitchell, Henderson and Haywood counties, while the mercury slumped enough all over the State to cause people to start up the fires and get out the winter garments. Snow flurries were reported at Durham and in Chatham county. Missing rain fell intermittently in various parts of the State, including Randolph county.

Surprise Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Albion Lowe and daughter, Miss Virginia, gave a surprise birthday dinner for Mr. Lowe at their home on Cox Street Tuesday evening in celebration of Mr. Lowe's fiftieth birthday. The birthday cake with fifty lighted candles formed the centerpiece on the dining room table. Mr. Lowe was the recipient of several useful and attractive gifts.

Belgium Will Push Its Plan of Flood Control in the Meuse Valley.

The suggestion that the Piedmont and Northern extend its electric line from Charlotte by way of Albemarle and Asheboro to Durham since adverse recommendation has been made at its proposed extension from Charlotte by Winston-Salem to Durham, has called forth editorial comment from many newspapers in the Piedmont section. The Charlotte Observer thinks the new proposal worthy of consideration by the P & N officials. The Lexington Dispatch, while it would like to see the line built by Asheboro and Albemarle, frankly is of the opinion that effort to obtain such an extension would "amount to as much as barking at the moon."

Seagrave Forms P.-T. Association

Fifty-Seven Persons Join At Organization Meeting—Officers Are Elected.

School Improvement

Seagrave, Oct. 18.—A large crowd attended the entertainment at the school auditorium last Friday night. A very interesting program was rendered by the school, after which Mrs. W. W. Martip, of the extension department of N. C. C. W., lectured on the work of the Parent-Teacher Association. A parent-teacher association was organized with the following officers: Pres., Mr. L. A. King; vice pres., Mrs. A. C. Harris; sec., Miss Lillie O'Quinn; and treas., Mr. O. D. Lawrence. There were 57 members enrolled at this meeting.

Much interest is being shown in the school. The laboratory is being equipped this week, and we are expecting to have the books for the library at an early date, sufficient to make this a standard school.

Mrs. W. L. Stutts and daughter, Miss Elifada, visited in Hemp last Friday.

Mr. Frank Auman and family went to Asheboro shopping Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cornelson and Miss Mabel Auman spent Sunday in High Point.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harris and son, Wade, visited at Mr. M. Harris', near Charlotte, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spence and children spent Sunday with Mr. Spence's parents near Coleridge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. King, of High Point, visited at Mr. J. E. King's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Farlow, of High Point, visited here during the weekend.

Mr. A. R. Auman and family visited their daughter, Mrs. Worthy Brown, at Eagle Springs Sunday.

Miss Winnie Harper has moved her stock of goods from her home near here into the new store building on Main street just erected by Mr. M. Farlow, and which is owned by Messrs. Charles Farlow and George Harmon.

We are glad to say that Mr. E. B. Leach is out again after being confined to his room a few days with cold.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Worthy Brown, of Eagle Springs, October 12, a daughter, Mrs. Brown will be remembered as Miss Grace Auman of this place.

Funeral Tuesday For Miss Frazier

Died Monday Morning From Pneumonia At Home Five Miles From Ramsey.

District Game Warden Here For Conference

W. C. Lisk, district game warden, of Richfield, accompanied by Walter Cashatt, of Denton, game warden for Davidson county, was in Asheboro yesterday for a conference with Jesse Garner, Randolph warden, and Ed Cranford, member of the State Game and Fish Commission. Mr. Lisk has supervision over nine counties. He finds conditions in these counties with reference to the sale of licenses and the observance of the law most excellent. He finds that the citizens of his district are co-operating in every way possible with the officials in the observance and enforcement of the game laws. Farmers as well as hunters from the towns are buying licenses right along, says Mr. Lisk, until the total sold is going to reach far ahead of expectations of the authorities.

First Snow Of Year In State

The first snow of the year in North Carolina fell Tuesday in Yancey, Mitchell, Henderson and Haywood counties, while the mercury slumped enough all over the State to cause people to start up the fires and get out the winter garments. Snow flurries were reported at Durham and in Chatham county. Missing rain fell intermittently in various parts of the State, including Randolph county.

Surprise Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Albion Lowe and daughter, Miss Virginia, gave a surprise birthday dinner for Mr. Lowe at their home on Cox Street Tuesday evening in celebration of Mr. Lowe's fiftieth birthday. The birthday cake with fifty lighted candles formed the centerpiece on the dining room table. Mr. Lowe was the recipient of several useful and attractive gifts.

Belgium Will Push Its Plan of Flood Control in the Meuse Valley.

The suggestion that the Piedmont and Northern extend its electric line from Charlotte by way of Albemarle and Asheboro to Durham since adverse recommendation has been made at its proposed extension from Charlotte by Winston-Salem to Durham, has called forth editorial comment from many newspapers in the Piedmont section. The Charlotte Observer thinks the new proposal worthy of consideration by the P & N officials. The Lexington Dispatch, while it would like to see the line built by Asheboro and Albemarle, frankly is of the opinion that effort to obtain such an extension would "amount to as much as barking at the moon."

Asheboro Taxpayers Are Notified Taxes Due For This Year

Taxpayers in the town of Asheboro have within the past several days received in their mail gentle reminders that tax paying time has come around again. The town tax books have been completed and notices mailed out to all taxpayers.

As has been announced previously, the tax rate this year is $1.80 on the $100 valuation, and the tax notices show that this is divided as follows: For school bonds, 20 cents; general fund, 40 cents; school fund, 45 cents; and bonds and interests fund, 75 cents. A force is at work on the county tax books and it is anticipated that within a short while these books will be turned over to the sheriff for collection. The county tax rate is $1.00 on the $100 valuation, same as last year. Combined town and county tax in Asheboro is, therefore, $2.80, as against $2.95 in 1926.

What Newspapers Think Of Proposed Route For P. & N.

The suggestion that the Piedmont and Northern extend its electric line from Charlotte by way of Albemarle and Asheboro to Durham since adverse recommendation has been made at its proposed extension from Charlotte by Winston-Salem to Durham, has called forth editorial comment from many newspapers in the Piedmont section. The Charlotte Observer thinks the new proposal worthy of consideration by the P & N officials. The Lexington Dispatch, while it would like to see the line built by Asheboro and Albemarle, frankly is of the opinion that effort to obtain such an extension would "amount to as much as barking at the moon."

The Dispatch, granting that there is a section along the new proposed route which could be more intensely developed by the building of the line, holds that since the P. & N. is owned by the Duke interests it would, of course, prefer to build railroads where their transmission lines go or are likely to go in the future. The Dispatch thinks the Interstate Commerce Commission will not be able to hold back indefinitely the tide of progress that will force the building of the road along the line first proposed before many years.

The High Point Enterprise thinks that the P. & N. may yet win its fight for extension to Winston-Salem and Durham along the route originally proposed, but if this should fail, the Enterprise is hopeful that the Duke interests will consider the substitute line by way of Albemarle and Asheboro to Durham. This would open up, says the Enterprise, a section in need of better facilities and not adequately served by established railroads.

Many of our citizens will recall that the original plan for the building of the old North Carolina railroad was from Salisbury to Raleigh by way of Asheboro instead of making the bend around to Greensboro. This is all past history now, but the proposal advanced that the P. & N. build from Charlotte to Durham by way of Albemarle and Asheboro calls to mind that such action would be a realization of dreams of long ago of an east to west rail route through Randolph county.

Welborn Opens New Store

Jake Welborn, who has been manager of a furniture store in Winston-Salem for some time past, has returned to High Point and opened the Ideal Furniture, Inc. Mr. Welborn with his brothers engaged in the furniture business in High Point 27 years ago. He is a native of Randolph county, and married Miss Jennie Davis, also of Randolph. While Mr. Welborn has been engaged in business elsewhere he has never moved his residence from Archdale. His many relatives and friends will be glad to hear of his return to High Point and to know of his success in business.

W. C. Lisk Here For Conference

W. C. Lisk, district game warden, of Richfield, accompanied by Walter Cashatt, of Denton, game warden for Davidson county, was in Asheboro yesterday for a conference with Jesse Garner, Randolph warden, and Ed Cranford, member of the State Game and Fish Commission. Mr. Lisk has supervision over nine counties. He finds conditions in these counties with reference to the sale of licenses and the observance of the law most excellent. He finds that the citizens of his district are co-operating in every way possible with the officials in the observance and enforcement of the game laws. Farmers as well as hunters from the towns are buying licenses right along, says Mr. Lisk, until the total sold is going to reach far ahead of expectations of the authorities.

Surprise Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Albion Lowe and daughter, Miss Virginia, gave a surprise birthday dinner for Mr. Lowe at their home on Cox Street Tuesday evening in celebration of Mr. Lowe's fiftieth birthday. The birthday cake with fifty lighted candles formed the centerpiece on the dining room table. Mr. Lowe was the recipient of several useful and attractive gifts.

Belgium Will Push Its Plan of Flood Control in the Meuse Valley.

The suggestion that the Piedmont and Northern extend its electric line from Charlotte by way of Albemarle and Asheboro to Durham since adverse recommendation has been made at its proposed extension from Charlotte by Winston-Salem to Durham, has called forth editorial comment from many newspapers in the Piedmont section. The Charlotte Observer thinks the new proposal worthy of consideration by the P & N officials. The Lexington Dispatch, while it would like to see the line built by Asheboro and Albemarle, frankly is of the opinion that effort to obtain such an extension would "amount to as much as barking at the moon."

Nance Chevrolet Co. Is In New Home

Now Located In Modern New Brick Garage Building On Sunset Avenue.

Growth Of Business

The moving into its own modern brick garage building on Sunset Avenue this week marks another stage in the growth of the Nance Chevrolet Company, Incorporated. In July, 1923, it had its inception in a small building on the west side of South Fayetteville street. It soon moved across the street into the Britain garage building and after a year there again moved to larger quarters in the York building on North street. Months ago the business outgrew this location and work was started on a new building on Sunset Avenue.

This new garage building has a frontage of 45 feet on Sunset Avenue and a depth of 125. It is of brick and concrete and is built along the most approved lines in garage engineering and construction. The front part of the building, with a plate glass front, is used for show room, offices, and store room for accessories. Back of this is the work room, a large, well lighted and well ventilated shop for the repair work which the garage does. Below this work room is the basement for the storage of cars.

The Nance Chevrolet Company, Inc. has the agency for Chevrolet cars and trucks in Randolph county. To better enable the agency to take care of its business, it has associated with it two sub-agencies, the Johnson-Phillips Motor Company, at Randleman, and the Motor Service Company, at Liberty. It is anticipated that the yearly sales of the parent agency and its two associates will reach three hundred Chevrolet cars and trucks during this year.

E. M. Kearns, of Asheboro, Route 2, is president of the Nance Chevrolet Company, Inc., George T. Murdock, of Asheboro, is vice president, and R. E. Nance, of Asheboro, is secretary and treasurer. The sales and mechanical force consists of B. S. Nance, E. Freeman, Colon Davis and W. W. Auman. A "jack of all trades" around the garage is Joe Ingram, colored.

From president on down through the list of employees, all are Chevrolet boosters and salesmen. This accounts in large measure, perhaps, for the wonderful growth of the company which today occupies one of the most modern buildings in North Carolina.

Seventh District Federated Clubs To Meet In Liberty

The annual meeting of the seventh district Federated Clubs will be held at the Methodist Protestant church in Liberty next Tuesday. Mrs. Wm. C. Hammer is chairman and Mrs. B. F. Brittain secretary. The program begins at ten o'clock and continues through an afternoon session. Box lunches will be served by the women from the various clubs and the hostess club will supplement the lunches. Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will be present and will make an address, as will Mrs. W. J. Brogden, State Chairman of Districts. Another interesting number on the program is an address by Mrs. W. C. Tucker, of Greensboro, who will speak on "Individual Responsibility in Your Community". A large crowd is expected and the local club membership is especially urged to send a large delegation.

Reunion Of Nance Family

The second annual reunion of the Nance family was held at the home place of the late Branson Nance, now owned by Mr. Carl Nance, in the Salem church community last Sunday. All the children with their families were present on this occasion and the day was most pleasantly spent in talking over old times. At noon time a sumptuous dinner was served on a long table which had been arranged on the lawn.

Asheboro Honor Roll

Containing Names Gotten In Too Late For Last Week.

Due to the fact that some of the teachers did not have their honor report in for the past week, herewith is submitted the rest of the honor roll for past month Asheboro graded school:

Third Grade: Joe Andrews, Ray Thomas, Lola Boggs, Gladys Miller, Gladys Steed, James Lowdermilk, Bickett Prevost, Rachel Burrows, Cornelia Hedrick, Betsy Oglesby, Helen Styres, Alton Cox, Avont Vuncannon, Ethel Lewis, Elaine Pritchard, Walter Bunch, Carl Phillips, Dick Steed, Catherine Crowell, Elizabeth Kearns, Genevieve Smith, Earlene Wood.