Mission Societies M. P. Church Hold 3-Day Meet Here

Splendid Reports Are Heard
Covering All Phases Of Work During Past Year.

Programs All Good
Each Session Featured With Matters Of Vital Interest—
More Than 200 Attend.

Beginning Tuesday a missionary conference, which is an annual event in the history of the Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Methodist Protestant Churches in North Carolina, held a three day session in the local M. P. church. Tuesday afternoon, the opening session, was a joint meeting of both Home and Foreign Societies and was presided over by Mrs. C. W. Bates, of Greensboro, Secretary of Extension of Work. Many items of business were disposed of at this session. Dr. S. W. Taylor, president of the N. C. conference, spoke on several phases of the women's work in the church. Tuesday evening a program was put on by the young people from the High Point College. This was composed of ten-minute talks by four girls and two solos by one of the college seniors. Following this, the Women's Missionary Society of the Thomasville Community church presented a delightful pageant, "Broken China".

Wednesday morning the twenty-first annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was held, with Mrs. Wm. C. Hamner, who has been president for twenty years, in the chair. At this time the usual annual business was disposed of, some very fine plans made for the coming year and some splendid reports made showing the hard work and cooperation of the many societies in the State. Rev. Homer Casto, of Bethel Home, at Weaverville, and Dr. A. G. Dixon, of the M. F. Children's Home, at High Point, gave reports of their work. A duet by Mrs. Hal Walker and Mrs. G. P. Pritchard was used after the worship period. Wednesday afternoon, after a report of the work of Pine Ridge and other Home Mission (Please turn to page 4)

Free Health Movies Will Be Shown Here

Free health motion pictures, which have been given in several of the school houses in the county the past few weeks or more, will be put on the screen at the Asheboro school Friday night beginning at 7:30 o'clock. All school children, and in fact the entire public is invited to the showing. These pictures are shown under supervision of the county health department through courtesy of the State Board of Health. While the pictures are more or less educational, there are parts which are highly entertaining, and wherever they have been shown in the county have met with a hearty response on the part of the public. Large audiences of both pupils and school patrons have greeted those in charge of this free service. The pictures will be shown to-night at Coleridge school.

Absent-Minded Preacher This Time—Not Professor

The absent-minded school master has been the central figure in jokes without number, and of practical pranks too, but it remained for a minister and editor to pull the latest. Rev. A. W. Plyler, former Methodist pastor in Asheboro and well known to all Methodists in the State, now editor of the N. C. Christian Advocate, drove away from Salisbury Monday night to Greensboro in another man's car and didn't discover but that he had his own machine until Tuesday morning when he noticed the Salisbury city license tag. He immediately got in touch with Salisbury authorities and found that the machine, which belonged to A. B. Saleeby, Bible class worker, had been reported stolen, and that his own car was on the street where he had left it.

To Investigate Cost Of Electric Lighting In City

Taking cognizance of the many complaints which have been lodged with the city authorities over the alleged high cost of residential electric lighting service, Mayor Morrill has appointed a committee composed of members of the town council to investigate costs and conditions relative to lighting cost. Just what the investigation will lead to is a matter of conjecture. Lights for Asheboro are furnished by the Carolina Power & Light Company.

Theater Takes Merchandise Belonging To Coleridge Man

Affairs have come to a pretty plain thing in V. Cavensons, of Coleridge, when a man came to Asheboro to trade and get home without some rags taking his purchases. Mr. Cavensons, while in Asheboro Friday, purchased a pair of overalls and two work shirts at a local store and placed the package containing the merchandise in his car, and went away for a few minutes on another errand. When he returned the package was gone, and he was not able to locate it.

Governor Max Gardner Calls Special Term Of Court For Randolph County

Upon request of the Randolph county board of commissioners, Governor O. Max Gardner has ordered a special term of criminal court for this county to begin Monday, April 29th, with Judge Cameron McRae, of Asheville, presiding. The term was necessary in order to clear as far as possible the heavy criminal docket in the county, there being more than 350 cases for trial. The greater number of these, of course, involve violations of the prohibition laws, but there are several others including theft cases and one capital offense.

Judge McRae is known to Randolph county people, he having been in Asheboro some time during the period in which Congressman Wm. C. Hamner was United States District Attorney under the Wilson administration. Judge McRae was during part of the time Assistant U. S. Attorney and his duties brought him to Asheboro from time to time. Reports Show That Local Woman's Club Has Been Very Active

The Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. C. A. Hayworth, president, Wednesday, April 3rd, at 4 o'clock, with Mrs. Hayworth and members of the executive committee acting as hostesses.

The yearly reports from the various departments showed that the club had been very active during the year.

The Health and Welfare Department under the leadership of Mrs. C. L. Cranford made the following splendid report: 745 visits made to the sick and needy; 39 families helped to food, clothing, medicine and fuel; dental bills paid for ten children, and tonsil operations for one; milk furnished to 6 undersupplied children; part of cost of tuberculosis treatment paid for one tubercular patient.

The Educational Department with Mrs. L. C. Moser, chairman, has been by no means idle. Their work has been largely in connection with the school. They have spent $40 on books and supplies for the school library; gave $5.00 in gold to the pupil making the highest in scholarship; $2.50 for the best essay on "The Use of Good English", during better "speech week", sponsored a series of lectures by Miss Harriet Elliott, of N. C. C. W., Greensboro; held a parent-teacher reception and assisted materially in equipping the Domestic Science in the school.

At this meeting the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. C. A. Hayworth; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. W. L. Lambert; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. J. E. Pritchard; Treasurer, Mrs. Kemp Alexander; Recording Sec., Mrs. W. A. Underwood; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. G. W. Hilliard.

After the business was transacted the meeting was turned over to the hostesses, who served a delicious and elegant salad course with Russian tea, and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Woodell Displays Phial Full Of Gold Nuggets

C. C. Woodell, mining prospector, native and long resident of Randolph county until he went to Greensboro to live some ten years ago, is again in Randolph looking for gold. He was in The Courier office Monday morning displaying a small phial in which were impounded two ounces of gold nuggets. These he found last week while panning for the precious metal in certain streams of the county which he would not name. That there is plenty of gold in Randolph is his opinion, an opinion shared by many before him and also by many at this day and time.

Mr. And Mrs. W. H. Moring Back From Florida Trip

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moring returned last Friday from Florida where they had been for a month visiting places of interest. Mr. and Mrs. Moring say that one of the most interesting places they visited was Edward W. Bok's Mountain Lake Sanctuary and Singing Tower at Iron Mountain. The Singing Tower was dedicated to the public by President Calvin Coolidge February 1st. They were at Daytona Beach for the automobile races on March 13th, when Mr. Bible, one of the contestants, was killed, but they were four miles from the scene of the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Moring spent Easter Sunday in Miami and attended the sunrise services at Miami Beach. While in Florida they visited Mrs. John M. Hamner at Bradenton.

Growers of early Irish potatoes in the Piedmont section of North Carolina find that farmers in Avery and other mountainous counties furnish an excellent supply of seed stock.

Ordinance Forbids Burning Of Trash In Alleys Of Asheboro

The board of commissioners for Asheboro in meeting April 4th passed an ordinance making it unlawful to burn trash on vacant lots or in alleys within the fire limits of the city. Violations of the ordinance will result in a fine for the offender when tried and convicted. The ordinance follows:

Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the town of Asheboro that the ordinance relating to "Trash" on page 13 of the Ordinances of the town of Asheboro as adopted for the year 1928 be amended by adding the following paragraph:

Any person guilty of this offense shall upon conviction be fined $5.00 for the first offense and $10.00 for each offense thereafter.

Dr. And Mrs. N. W. Walker Pleased With City's Growth

Dr. N. W. Walker and Mrs. Walker, of Chapel Hill, were visitors in Asheboro Monday afternoon having driven over for the purpose of visiting the State Game Farm, and the nearby potteries. Mr. Walker was superintendent of the Asheboro graded school in 1902-1905 when the faculty numbered five members. Mr. Walker had not been back in more than twenty years and found it hard to believe that she was in Asheboro at all. The familiar landmarks were the homes of Mr. J. O. Redding, formerly the Col. W. P. Wood home, the homes of Mr. Moring, the McAlister home, and the Central Hotel and the home of Mrs. T. H. Redding. Both Mr. and Mrs. Walker expressed their affection for the friends in Asheboro and their pride in the evidences of growth seen on every hand.

It will soon be time to select a mayor and board of aldermen, and I want to suggest the following: For Mayor, Hugh Parks; Aldermen, J. T. Lambert, L. M. Cranford, W. A. Bunch, Frank Phillips, W. L. Foust.

LEWALLEN & BURNS MOVE TO THE STEDMAN BUILDING

Messrs. Lewallen and Burns, Hudson, Essex and Chrysler dealers in Randolph county, have moved their business from location on Market street to the Stedman building on Sunset avenue, recently vacated by W. D. Stedman & Son, wholesale grocery. It has been but a short time since the quarters on Market street were acquired by the agency, but the business has outgrown this place and a larger building was necessary. This agency boasts that there are more Hudson and Essex cars operating in Randolph county than any other street made. "There must be a reason" they say, and keep right on selling these popular cars. They also handle used cars, having more than a score on hand at this time.

New Head Oak Bridge
Prof. Earl P. Holt has been elected president of Oak Ridge Institute, Guilford county, to succeed Dr. T. E. Whitaker, deceased. T. O. Wright, of Pleasant Garden, formerly a teacher in the school, has been elevated to position of principal.

City And County To Advertise Land For Taxes At Same Time

Since county and city taxes will be advertised at the same time those who have not paid will find themselves doubly put to it to meet the payments on or before date of publication of the delinquent lists or date of sale. It has been suggested in some quarters that, if the law will permit it, the date of sale for taxes for both city and county should not come at the same time. It would be less burdensome on those who have not been able to get together enough money by the time stipulated. However these dates could be changed. However this may be, the order has gone out that delinquents, both city and county, have but few days of grace, and those who would keep off the delinquent list should govern themselves accordingly.

City taxes and street assessments which are due must be paid by May 1st else the property on which same are assessed will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. This was the gist of a resolution passed at the recent meeting of the board of commissioners for the city of Asheboro. Lists of delinquent taxpayers will be made out the latter part of this month ready for publication the first week in May. This means that those who have not paid their 1928 taxes will have to do so before May 1st or appear on the delinquent list, and if they are advertised as paid before date of sale, cost of advertising is added to the principal. The same is true of street assessments for past due, but ordered paid by May 1st.

Miss Emma Rice Is Winner First Place In District Contest

Miss Emma Rice, who is a member of Miss Linnie Burkhead's music class in the local school, won first place for piano playing in the district music contest held at the High Point high school building, last Saturday morning. Miss Rice played the "Sonata" in F, from Mozart, with the first movement effect.

The State is divided into fifteen districts for the annual music contests. The counties of Alamance, Davidson, Randolph and Guilford compose the Eastern District which held its preliminary contest at High Point. Among the winners the following: Piano solos, soprano solos, violin solos, mixed choruses, and girls' choruses: Mr. L. L. Stookey, director of music in High Point high school, was in charge of the contests. The winners in the district meet will go to Greensboro for the State finals to be held at North Carolina College for Women, April 18.

Miss Rice, who will graduate in both the literary and music departments of the local high school this spring, is a talented young lady. Her friends predict much success for her in the future.

Some Facts About The County Bonds Given By Craven

Bruce Craven, bond lawyer of Trinity, who as attorney has managed the sale of more than five hundred bond issues, and who was largely responsible two years ago for the successful sale of $500,000 of 4 and a half per cent Randolph county bonds at a premium, gives The Courier the following statement concerning the new proposed $100,000 issue for school buildings in Randolph:

"The suggestion that money be borrowed on short term notes instead of issuing bonds, must have been made by someone who is not familiar with the bond market. The short term loans will cost the county 7 per cent or more, which is of course against the law, and hence is not legally possible. On the other hand the bonds if properly managed can be sold at 5 per cent, and while that is not so good as 4 and a half per cent, it is better than 7 per cent. However the special act of 1927 is yet in effect and it prohibits the issuance of any bonds by the County Commissioners of Randolph county without a vote of the people, and if they can not legally issue bonds, they certainly can not contract a debt which ultimately is to be paid with bonds. I am very heartily in favor of the school buildings proposed, but nothing is to be gained by incurring expense for a proposed bond issue that can not go through."

Thieves Make Raid On M System Store Getting $47 In Cash

Unidentified thieves broke into the M. System Store on Sunset Avenue late Friday night and stole $47 in cash and several dollars worth of groceries. Several hams, dressed chickens and buckets of lard were taken along with a few other articles. The thieves were discovered as they were coming out of the store by Curtis Foster, who works at night in a nearby mill. He gave chase but was unable to overtake the thieves as they sprinted down the railroad tracks. Saturday morning three hams and two buckets of lard were discovered where the thieves had thrown or lost them during the chase.

Officers were able to pull Croker from his victim, but not until after he had been given a severe drubbing.

Illustrated Lecture.

Tuesday night an illustrated lecture on Africa was given by Miss Clara I. Cox, of High Point, and this was one of the high spots in the entire conference. The Blue Ridge conference was discussed by Addie Hinkle at the afternoon session yesterday.

The Children's and Young People's Departments were presented ably at Tuesday afternoon session by Martha McLennon and Irma Peeler. Several other matters were on the program from first to last. During the two-year period 1926-28 there were 264 pupils graduated from the high schools in Randolph county, or one graduate for every 61.6 pupils enrolled in the public schools. This was below the State average, which was one high school graduate for every 53.5 pupils. In Davidson county during the same two-year period there were 360 graduates, or one for every 63.1 pupils enrolled. In Chatham there were during the same time 162 graduated from high school, and 170 from high schools in Montgomery county. Both these counties made better showing than Randolph and Davidson in proportion of graduates to enrollment. Total number of high school graduates in the State during the period 1926-28 was 19,972.
