

Trinity Parent Teachers Hold An Interesting Meet

November Meeting Well Attended And Splendid Session Held Under Miss Cranford

Inspiring Message Brought From The State P. T. A. Association—Need To Understand Children

Trinity, Nov. 17.—The Trinity Parent-Teachers Association which met in November was a well attended, splendid session under the leadership of its new and efficient president, Miss Carrie Cranford.

The devotional services were led by Rev. Payne, in which he stressed thanksgiving and praise to our Father for blessings to all peoples. From the North Carolina P. T. A., our local president brought an inspiring message. She said that even in North Carolina there are some folks who pose as paternal, maternal or educational experts who do not know the uses of a good Parent-Teachers Association. It shows its value on first trial. Of course that cannot be said about a half-run or poorly organized one, or of one in which the plans and objectives have not been entirely freed of unpleasant things, such as interference in administrative affairs, poor programs, and unenthusiastic support.

A careful survey and study of the community, school, parents and children to find out what is needed is necessary. After careful council you will do so much good as a helpful P. T. A. Then search the countryside over for the best ideas on child welfare, modern education, paternal education, leadership and P. T. A. methods. Perhaps your best ideas will come from close home. Use common sense, cooperation, friendly spirit and active work, organized to run smoothly. Excellent programs, study groups, training for leadership, parental education, child feeding, legislation for children and wholesome helpfulness to school authorities are necessary for a good P. T. A.

To these remarks was added Edgar A. Guest's ripest philosophy and inspiring thought, in the poem, "School And Home Working Together". Superintendent Marsh told of the crying need for a comprehensive understanding of children by parents and teachers, which can be realized only through cooperation and careful study. After this, consideration and discussion were given to the organization of a study class for parents and teachers to foster character education among children. A very interesting play was given by the high school students to contrast correct and incorrect home study.

Miss Alexander, of the Archdale school, made an excellent talk on how essential good health is to the mental development of children. The parents' attendance banner was awarded this year to the third grade of the Trinity school taught by Miss Virginia Johnson.

All parents and friends of the Trinity school, as you are waking up to the seriousness of your job as never before, as you search for knowledge to aid in training children, there is an urgent request for you to attend each P. T. A. meeting for the highest good of your children, teachers and school. Come every first Monday night in the month at 7:30 o'clock.

At the November P. T. A. meeting, the privilege of personal contact of parents and teachers was made possible by the social committee. Since the Home Economics Department has been added to the Trinity school, girls from this class assisted in serving punch and cake.

TRINITY NEWS

Trinity Nov. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Marsh have moved into the Howell home and will have a suite of rooms on the second floor. Mr. Marsh is a son of Mr. Onslow Marsh, of this county.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Frazer, of Prospect, is spending some time with her cousins, the Royals, on Main street.

Roscoe Crowson with a party of friends are back from Roaring Gap. They went on their bicycles.

Bud Haynes and family, of near Greensboro, have been visiting relatives here recently.

Mrs. N. C. English and sister, Miss Venie English, accompanied by Mr. Tom English, are back from a visit to Roaring Gap. They reported a snow up there.

ENJOY THE COURIER

Mr. and Mrs. James Rich have arrived in Palatka, Florida, for the winter. Mrs. Rich writes: Please send us The Courier. We want to keep in touch with our Randolph friends while away. This is my first time in Florida, and I am enjoying it to the limit. We had a nice trip down. Left Asheboro Thursday morning, arrived in Palatka Saturday morning. This is a beautiful little town. The flowers and trees are wonderful and the weather is ideal.

New Charm In Cotton And Ermine

COTTON spells smartness as never before for fall and winter apparel. Furthermore, it is just now highly favored for both formal and semi-formal types of costumes. Cotton and ermine! This is a new combination of fashion significance this season due to the present popularity of velveteen in the evening mode. Nothing could be more striking or effective in black and white than the combination of velveteen and ermine shown in the accompanying

DEMURRAGE CHARGE ON UNDERLIVERED PARCELS

A new order issued by the post-office department relative to parcel post packages places a demurrage charge of not exceeding five cents a day on all such packages not delivered within 15 days after arrival at the office of destination also the package may be returned to the sender, who will be charged with return postage and may also be required to pay demurrage, in the event the package is not delivered to the addressee.

In the past parcel post packages have been held an indefinite time and when delivered or finally returned to the sender no demurrage, or storage, charges have been collected. This has resulted in large volumes of packages, especially in the larger offices, piling up and causing much work and inconvenience, and the demurrage charge order was issued. It went into effect October 1.

THIS IS PLAIN ENOUGH.

(Charity and Children.) In a speech in the Forsyth county courthouse which was crowded with an audience that filled the room, Mr. Bailey said: "I am for prohibition, have always been for prohibition and the State Democratic platform declares for prohibition," replying to the remarks of his opponent, Hon. George M. Pritchard. It is a strange thing that so many people have cast suspicion on Mr. Bailey's record, who has always been a consistent advocate of prohibition and one of the most powerful in the State, and yet he has been accused of being in league with Raskob, though he has never uttered a word that would indicate his leaning in that direction. His election to the Senate of the United States will add great force to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and will add mightily to the tremendous effort that will be made against its repeal. We are glad to read these plain and vigorous words from the lips of Josiah William Bailey and we hope that those who have seen fit to oppose him will cease to circulate a rumor that is wholly untrue.

IN MEMORY

Mrs. Christina Thornburg Hix, widow of J. A. Hix, died at her home, October 16, 1930, age 77. Mrs. Hix was a kind and gentle mother and grandmother, and spent her life contented to work for her children and home. Her passing has cast a pall of gloom and sadness over the community, and from the family circle has gone its brightest ray of sunshine. To know her was to love her. Her cheerful disposition won friends wherever she went. She was generally known as "aunt Tena." She professed faith in Christ in early girlhood and was very attentive on church services when her health would permit.

Funeral rites were held at Union church, October 17th at 2 o'clock by her pastor, Rev. Howell, and Rev. Kincheloe assisting.

She was the mother of 8 children, two of whom have gone on before. 6 living are: W. C. Hix, Asheboro; Mrs. M. C. Rush, Asheboro, Rt. 3; Mrs. Dewey Williams, Seagrave, Rt. 2; Myrtle Hix, Mechanic; and F. S. and E. C., of Tampa, Fla. also 18 grandchildren, and 5 great-grandchildren. While her friends and love ones feel sad, yet we bow in humble submission to God who makes no mistakes and doeth all things well, knowing our loss is her eternal gain and while we are bowed here in sorrow she is resting in the sunshine of Heaven.—A Friend.

Operating Expense Of Schools In State Shows Low Increase

Percentage Increase Past Two School Years Was Decidedly Less Than Formerly.

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—The annual rate of increase in the current operating costs of the public schools is less for the last two school years for which figures are available than for any previous year during the past decade, according to the current issue of State School Facts, monthly publication of the Department of Public Instruction.

The increase in current expense for 1928-29 amounted to $1,380,845.45 or 4.9 per cent, and was next to the lowest increase record of 4.0 per cent made in 1927-28. The current cost of operating the public schools in 1920-21 showed an increase of 40.8 per cent over that of 1919-20. In 1921-22 the amount of annual increase in current expense decreased to 15.3 per cent. The next year, 1922-23, there was a 11.1 per cent increase in current expense, which percentage dropped to 10.6 per cent in 1923-24.

In 1924-25 there was a still further decrease in the percentage increase in current expense, this time to 10.2 per cent. The following year, 1925-26, current expense increased 8.5 per cent; and in 1926-27 it made a 12 per cent increase. The increase in current expense in 1927-28 was approximately $1,000,000, or four per cent. In 1928-29 there was an increase of five per cent in current expense.

The average cost of current expenditure per pupil enrolled, according to School Facts, is $32.67 for the State as a whole. This represents an increase of $1.35 over the per pupil cost of the preceding school year. There is a tendency, it says, for the per pupil cost of education to increase in both rural and charter schools. In 1919-20, the first year of the operation of the six months school term, the average annual expenditure per rural child enrolled was $11.62, or less than half of the present expenditure of $28.57. The average per pupil expenditure in charter schools, on the other hand, was $22.26 in 1919-20, whereas now it is $44.50.

WHAT IS POT LIKKER?

(Cor. Washington News) Pot likker is really a by-product. It is the residue of something else equally as good. I'm going to tell you what pot likker really is.

I can qualify myself as knowing how because I, my father, my grandfather, and my great-grandfather were Missourians, raised in Oregon county. My mother was born in Weakly county, Tenn., and this ought to qualify my knowing a heap about pot likker.

To begin with, it takes an old-fashioned poke bonnet and gingham apron. If you haven't these prerequisites don't start out until you get 'em. As far as other garments are concerned it doesn't matter.

Then go out into the woods and with a table fork and butcher knife dig around fence corners and in low places and gather up an apron heaping full of poke, lambquarter, deer-tongue, sorrel, wild lettuce, dandelion, etc.

An old iron pot is really better as a cooking vessel, but be sure the inside is good and clean. Put in enough water to start it cooking. Next put in a hog jowl that has been cooked almost done, then put on a heavy iron lid and let it cook slowly for about three hours.

When done, drain off your pot likker and there you are. You not only have your genuine pot likker but you also have the finest eating sallet that was ever cooked.

NEW POULTRY HOUSE DESIGNED BY ENGINEER

Designs for a new poultry house said to embody the latest and best ideas in farm poultry house construction have been prepared by A. T. Holman, agricultural engineer at State College, in collaboration with the college poultry department.

In announcing this new plan, Mr. Holman says it differs in several features from the one formerly furnished poultry growers. The house is 20 feet long and 20 feet deep with the capacity for 100 to 115 hens. The building itself is of lumber with the foundation and floor of concrete. Nests have been placed on the wall at one end of the building and movable mash hoppers are provided so that the building may be more easily cleaned. A maximum amount of sunlight can enter to all parts of the house. A large part of the front is open and the closed part is covered with glass cloth to shield the flock in rough, cold weather.

Another good feature of the new style house is that there is no possibility of drafts on the birds. The open front and well placed ventilators provide air circulation and keep the house from becoming too warm. A wire screen under the perch poles and above the dropping boards helps to control disease. The concrete floor aids in the control of mites and lice and water trough is so placed as to give easy access to fresh drinking water at all times.

This new plan, thinks Mr. Holman, is a distinct improvement over the

SALE OF SEALS WILL BE STARTED SHORTLY

The sale of Christmas Seals to raise funds to help fight tuberculosis will begin in Randolph county immediately after the close of the Red Cross membership drive Thanksgiving day. Chairmen as follows have been selected to conduct the sale of the seals in the county: Asheboro, Mrs. C. L. Cranford; Liberty, Mrs. J. T. Underwood; Randleman, Mrs. Mary Swain; Trinity, Miss Hazel Coltrane; Rest of county, Dr. G. H. Sumner, county health officer.

SHORTAGE INCREASES IN GUILFORD OFFICE

The shortage in the office of former Clerk Superior Court Mason W. Gant, of Guilford county, continues to grow. Mr. Gant already faces indictment for alleged shortage of more than $50,000 in Confederate pension vouchers, and on Monday the new Guilford Clerk, Judge Cooke, made public findings of auditors which show an additional shortage of $134,000. Receivership of all Gant's real and personal property was asked and obtained by the county. The Gants are in Florida where Mr. Gant is a patient in a hospital.

Chief Deputy G. V. Bodenheimer, of Thomasville, has been selected office deputy by Sheriff James A. Leonard, of Davidson county, who goes into office on first Monday in December.
