

Asheboro School Completing First Month Of Work

Daily Program Changed Since Last Year, With Work Beginning At 8:30.

Enrollment Is 1196

With 62 In The Graduating Class; Teaching Load Continues Heavy As Usual.

The Asheboro city schools are completing the work of the first month with the usual monthly tests and preparing to send out reports of pupils next week.

The daily program of the institution has undergone several changes. Instead of opening at 8 in the morning and closing at 3:30 in the afternoon, school work begins at 8:30 and closes at four.

Seating in the high school comes from eleven-thirty to twelve o'clock. Seating in the home rooms of the high school, especially, is somewhat more comfortable this year because of the slightly increased space.

Moving two first grade classes to the new rooms south of the main building has made such readjustments possible that the high school now has nine home rooms instead of six as last year.

The teacher load is still heavy and classes crowded, as may be seen from the figures given below.

Enrollment by Classes in High School English I, 3 sections, 40, 37 and 42. English II, 2 sections, 41 and 36. English III, 3 sections, 33, 25 and 23.

English IV, 2 sections, 32 and 31. American History, 2 sections, 29 and 30.

Large Attendance At Opening Exercises Of Local Colored School

A very large and enthusiastic audience of parents, friends, ministers and county teachers assembled in the auditorium of the Randolph County Training School Tuesday night for the formal opening exercises.

In the main address, C. A. Barrett, the principal, outlined the ideals and aims of education and urged the listeners to a faithful and sympathetic cooperation in the work being done.

Others speaking on the program were Rev. J. E. Brower, Rev. F. D. Caldwell, Prof. Patterson, Mrs. Effie McCoy, Roosevelt Holland and Odessa Hoover.

The teachers were formally presented to the audience; however the same corps of teachers served last session.

Next Week Is Set Apart For Clean Up Week For Asheboro

Mayor Walter A. Bunch has designated next week as clean up week for Asheboro.

Mrs. Arthur Burkhead, chairman of the civic department of the Woman's Club, is cooperating in the movement.

As has been the custom for many years, city wagons will haul away the rubbish that will not burn.

It is earnestly hoped that every housewife will see to it that her premises are thoroughly cleaned and all business houses are asked to have the grounds around their buildings made ready for fall and winter.

Mrs. Burkhead suggests that this is a time for the working of flowers and planting shrubs, bulbs and seeds.

Rubbish should be put on the side of the street in containers ready for loading.

Trash wagons will be in North Asheboro on Tuesday, in East Asheboro Wednesday, South Asheboro Thursday and West Asheboro on Friday.

Parent-Teachers Hold First Meet At Franklinville

Mrs. R. H. Kirkman, The New President, Presided, And Year's Plans Made.

Hold Family Reunion Of Allred Family With 300 Persons Present; Sunday School Institute Planned.

Franklinville, Oct. 3.—The first meeting of the parent-teachers association was held in the school auditorium Wednesday evening.

Seek Federal Aid To Build School Houses In County

County Board Authorizes Superintendent To Make Application Federal Help.

Well For Ramseur Will Dig Well To Relieve Bad Condition Existing Due To Serious Drought.

The Randolph county board of education in session Monday unanimously passed a resolution authorizing the county superintendent of public instruction to make application to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation through the State Department of Education for funds with which to construct new school buildings and add new rooms to places already erected for the following places in the county:

Archdale, Trinity township, new building. New Hope township, new building. Union township, new building. Coleridge township, new building. Tabernacle township, new building. New Market township, new building. Cedar Falls, new building. Asheboro, new building. Staley and Ramseur, additional rooms. Brower township, new building.

The county superintendent was authorized to advertise for bids on boring a well for the school house at Ramseur. On account of the drought the school is almost entirely out of drinking water and it is necessary to take steps immediately to provide the school with a supply of water.

A request was made to the board by the colored people of Randleman for transportation for high school pupils to the Asheboro school. This matter was left in the hands of the county superintendent to work out the best way possible.

The county superintendent was instructed to sell the old school house in Trinity colored district.

Randolph Is Popular As Hunting Ground For Non-Residents

Randolph Led All Counties In State In Sale Non-Resident Licenses Last Year.

Randolph was the most popular county in North Carolina with non-resident hunters during the season 1931-32, according to a study of records announced by Charles H. England, state game warden.

Last season, a total of 66 hunters from other states purchased licenses in Randolph county, while Chatham county came second with a sale of 54 non-resident hunting permits.

The grand total of hunters from other states coming to North Carolina last year dropped considerably from the previous season, 1,077 permits having been issued in the state during 1930-31, according to the 672 sold last season.

This sharp drop is believed to have been caused by a considerable extent by the shortest open season for years on migratory wild fowl on the coast, only 30 days being allotted for the sport, England said.

The stringency of economic conditions is also believed to have been instrumental in the decrease in non-resident license sales, he added.

New Market Young People Organize For Sunday School Work

Held Enthusiastic Meeting At Glenola Baptist Church Sunday With 100 Present.

Under the management of Misses Ethel Hinshaw and Katherine Farlow, a very enthusiastic Young People's meeting was held at the Glenola Baptist church, Sunday afternoon, October 2nd.

The meeting was for the purpose of organizing the young people of the township according to the new plan adopted by the county Sunday school association at the convention in August.

About 100 young people were present to hear the splendid program that had been planned by the township director, Miss Hinshaw.

Rev. Elbert Nowlin, pastor of Cedar Square church, gave a good address on the influence of the church. Then followed well-prepared talks by two of the young people; What the Church Means to Me, by Miss Jennie Mae Farlow; and What the Church Means to the Community, by Donald Wood.

Miss Hope Hubbard, county director of Young People's Work, next spoke of the fitness and the need of young people in their Sunday school and church, and outlined the plan of organization for the township and county.

The county secretary of Sunday school work, Miss Bertha Presnell, was also present.

A business meeting followed the program, in which the township council, composed of a boy and a girl from each school of the township, elected the following officers: President, Donald Wood; vice president, Mae Nelson; secretary, Treva Swalm.

This township, New Market, is the first to organize, and it promises to do some excellent work.

Reorganize Work State Game Farm At Meeting Here

Game Committee At Meet Held Here Friday Moves To Reorganize Entire Farm.

Relieve Mr. Grimes And His Assistants And Plan To Operate Farm On A More Economical Basis.

A special meeting of the game committee of the Board of Conservation and Development was held in Asheboro Friday with a full representation of officials in attendance.

Colonel J. W. Harrelson, head of the board, and Charles H. England, state game warden, Hon. Sanford Martin, member of the board and others, were present at the meeting, which was held in an effort to remedy economic conditions and reorganize the work at the State Game Farm in Asheboro.

After the meeting announcement was made that the committee would discontinue the services of the superintendent of the game farm and his two assistants, effective November 1.

The committee authorized Col. J. W. Harrelson, director of the Department of Conservation and Development; Charles H. England, state game warden, and E. D. Cranford, of Asheboro, chairman of the game committee, to employ a new superintendent of the farm and such assistants as are necessary, but not later than January 1.

R. C. Lewallen, game warden of Randolph county, will look after the farm from November 1 until such time as a new superintendent shall be installed.

The present superintendent is W. C. Grimes, of this county, who has held the position since the farm was established in 1928. His assistants are Frank Harrelson and W. T. Elder.

After a thorough investigation by the committee and the board, the announcement was made (Please turn to page 4)

State Fair Opens In Raleigh On Oct. 10th

The State Fair, always an event of the fall, will open in Raleigh October 10th and continue through the 15th. All phases of North Carolina life will be depicted in the various exhibits in the exhibit hall. State College, Department of Conservation and Development, and numerous other methods of spreading knowledge of the state and of the possibilities therein, will be spread for the public view and information.

The livestock, as planned, will be an outstanding character of the fair as will the farming and rural sections and their exhibits.

While the fair will not be an academic affair, it will be highly educational and the management urges school children of the state to attend the fair with special attention to the exhibits.

MEETING ASHEBORO GROUP OF WOMAN'S MISSION UNION

The Asheboro group of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Piedmont Association met with the Asheboro Baptist church Sunday afternoon, October second. Mrs. Herman Stevens presided. A large delegation from the churches in the district was present.

Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, of Franklinville, was elected secretary. Mrs. A. Andrews, president of the Greensboro group, offered some very helpful suggestions gathered from her work. Mrs. Nettie Hoge, superintendent of the W. M. U. of the Piedmont Association, brought a great message, using "Transmitting the Gospel" as her topic. She appealed to the women to live the Christian principles, which, she said, was the greatest need today.

The majority of the dead as a result of the wreckage of a Southern Pacific freight train which fell through a trestle that had been injured by the heavy downpour of rain.

The deluge wrecked a considerable section of the Bakersville vicinity, flooding canyons and streams, wrecking two freight trains, hurled a 45-foot wall of water down the pass, washed out nine bridges and flooded at least a half dozen villages.

In October there will be a celebration held at Charleston, S. C. in observance of the founding of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Howard E. Rondthaler, president of Salem College, will be among the prominent speakers present at the celebration.

Greensboro has set October 22nd as "Forget-Me-Not Day." On that date these little flowers will be worn in memory of the too easily forgotten veterans of the World War.

Chamber Commerce Membership Drive Starts Next Week

William Armfield, III, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announces that a membership campaign will be put on next week, Tuesday and Wednesday being the days designated on which special effort will be made to increase the membership.

Mr. Armfield, in giving reasons why the organization should have a larger membership, says that there are prospects for the bringing into Asheboro of many new enterprises. It will be recalled that under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce some of the best business concerns in Asheboro have been brought here, among them are the Bossong Hosiery Mills, Cetwick Silk Mills, Keystone and Tip Top Hosiery Mills.

The membership of the Chamber of Commerce has recently been active in trying to secure a new post office building for the town. On account of the financial depression the membership dues have been reduced and will be within the bounds of any who are interested in becoming members of the organization.

Trogdon Reunion Held In Asheboro Sunday, October 2

With Large Number Members Of Family Association Present For Occasion.

Many Talks Are Made And Officers Elected For The Coming Year; W. F. Trogdon Is President.

Several hundred members of the Trogdon family and connections from Randolph and adjoining counties held their eighth annual reunion in the court house in Asheboro, Sunday, October 2. W. F. Trogdon, of North Wilkesboro, president of the Trogdon historical association, presided at the opening session.

After the singing of several selections by the Trogdon quartet and prayer by the Rev. Joel B. Trogdon, of Concord, came the election of officers for the coming year. W. F. Trogdon was unanimously re-elected president. Other officers elected were as follows: First vice president, the Rev. Joel B. Trogdon, of Concord, route 5; assistant vice presidents, A. I. Ferree and C. J. Lovett, of Asheboro; secretary, R. D. Trogdon, Asheboro. Other vice presidents serving in the various towns and neighborhoods of the county were re-elected. The following were elected as a managing committee for the reunion: S. E. Trogdon, of Asheboro, route 1, Clifford Trogdon, of Randleman, C. S. Trogdon, of Greensboro, Mrs. S. C. Richardson, of Cedar Grove township.

Immediately after the election of officers, the meeting adjourned for the picnic dinner on the court house grounds. (Please turn to page 4)

Trinity Parents And Teachers Hold First Meeting Of Year

Mrs. Melvina Martin Re-Elected President; Inspiring Talks Made At Meeting.

Trinity, Oct. 5.—The first meeting of the parent-teachers association for the school year was held in the auditorium Monday evening, with a very good attendance.

Mrs. Melvina Martin, who was re-elected president for the new year, presided. The meeting opened with the regular P. T. A. song, led by Miss Carrie Cranford. The devotional service was conducted by Rev. Reuben Payne, of the Archdale Friends church.

The topic for the evening was "Know Your School." A. R. Bullock, principal of the school, treated this subject in a very interesting manner. He especially explained the organized work of high school and urged that all parents become more familiar with their school.

Miss Hazel Coltrane was then asked to give "a day's program of a sixth grader," which she did very effectively.

This was followed by a message from H. C. Royals, a member of the school board, in which he urged the parents to lend their most hearty cooperation to the school in every way.

Miss Virginia Redding's fifth grade won the attendance banner for the month in the elementary department, having had the largest per cent of the parents present, with Miss Helen Zimmerman's senior class winning the high school banner.

A receiving line composed of the principal and members of Archdale and Trinity faculties formed, headed by H. C. Royals, and were introduced to all the patrons present. This proved to be a delightful social hour.

SINGING CONVENTION AT MACEDONIA OCTOBER 16

A singing convention will be held at Macedonia Baptist church Sunday, October 16th, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Under the direction of E. P. Smith, of Liberty, a good program is being arranged. A number of good singers are planning to take part, including some choirs and a large number of quartets. A new church has recently been completed and there will be plenty of room for all who wish to come and enjoy an afternoon of good singing.

Engagement Popular Young Couple Of Farmer Announced

Farmer, Oct. 5.—The Sewing Club met Tuesday afternoon with Misses Edith Seaboch, Myrtle Scarborough and Mrs. Claude Dorsett. After the business meeting and exchange of books, a pleasant hour was spent in sewing. Sandwiches, pickles, and oysters were served by the hostesses. On each plate was found a tiny scroll of paper tied with a white ribbon. When opened the following announcement was read, "Forrest and Hub, October 12." The bride-elect received as a favor a tiny doll dressed as a bride.

Miss Kearns is the youngest daughter of the late John Kearns and Mrs. Kearns, of Farmer. The bride-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Kearns, of Farmer.

Holdig Revival Here

Dr. Chas. F. Myers, (above), pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Greensboro, is preaching a series of splendid sermons each week at the union revival being conducted at the school house in Asheboro. Large congregations are greeting Dr. Myers at each of the services. The revival will close with the sermon next Sunday evening.

Large Attendance Marks Series Of Revival Services

Attendance Estimated In Excess 400 At School House For The Meeting.

Interest Increases Dr. Myers, of Greensboro, Is Preaching Series Sermons At The Revival.

Steadily increasing attendance marks the opening nights of the Asheboro union revival. An attendance estimated to be well in excess of 400 attests the general appreciation of the unusual opportunity before the community.
