

Postpone Barbecue Of Young Tar Heel Farmers Until 1933

Wretched Condition Of Roads Cause For Changing Date To Early Next Year.

Farmer, Dec. 12.—Miss Ocia Morgan entertained a group of young people Tuesday evening at a Leap Year party. The evening was spent in jolly games. Fruits and nuts were served.

The Young Tar Heel Farmers Club of Farmer will not hold their barbecue as announced and planned for this week on account of the condition of the roads in the section. It has been many years since the roads in and around Farmer have been so slick and since many of the boys in the club live several miles from the school and a number of visiting speakers were invited to attend, Mr. Cooper, agricultural teacher, has postponed the barbecue until the first of the year.

Homer Hammond is recovering from a tonsil operation which he underwent last week. The operation was done at Dr. R. P. Sykes' clinic at Asheboro.

The Hammond Band from near Flint Hill gave a mixed program at the school auditorium on Friday evening. It consisted of two short plays, musical numbers and recitations, and was enjoyed by all present.

The local Sewing Club was entertained on last Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Fred Bingham's, with Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. H. P. Kearns as joint hostesses. The rooms were charmingly decorated with Christmas greens, and after the usual time spent in pleasant conversation while the needles were busy, a delectable salad course was served followed by coffee and cake.

Farmer people are having a hard time getting to Asheboro since highway 62 is being surfaced with tar and gravel. Two detours are used but both are extremely bad when muddy. One is by way of Ulah to No. 70, and the other by Tabernacle church to No. 90. Most people prefer the route by Tabernacle.

Report To Gardner Results Of Living At Home Movement

As one feature of the live-at-home dinner to be tendered Governor and Mrs. O. Max Gardner and Governor-elect and Mrs. J. C. B. Ehringhaus at State College Friday evening, December 16, Dean I. O. Schaub and Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon will report some of the results secured during the past three years by the farmers and farm women of North Carolina.

The dinner will be tendered by the non-sponsor men and women of Raleigh and the food will come from all parts of the State. L. H. Harris, steward at State College, will attend to the cooking and serving and the college dining hall will be the scene of action. An elaborate program of stunts, entertainment, and seriousness has been prepared by John A. Park and his local committees.

Among other things, the college extension service will report to the outgoing Governor and inform the incoming executive as to the results secured during the past three years of live-at-home effort. Preliminary figures indicate that the farmers and farm women have increased the value of the food and food products grown in this State by 50 million dollars over the situation as it existed in 1929 when the campaign was begun. This result has been secured in spite of low prices for all farm products and means that the aggregate production was many times that indicated by its value in dollars.

Back in 1929, when farm values were higher than they are now, it is estimated that the folks were importing about 150 million dollars annually in food and food products. This bill was paid largely out of money made with cotton, tobacco and peanuts. But when the farm income and values shrunk, it was seen that this great bill could no longer be borne by the returns from cash crops. That the live-at-home plan has been a success can be seen from the fact that the average to cash crops decreased by 575,342 acres and the acreage to food and feed crops increased by 837,841 acres in two years.

Poultry in nine demonstration flocks on which records were kept in Caldwell county this season paid a net return above feed cost of $1.55 a bird.

Health Hints

Beginning the first of this week, the health department, working thru the schools and parent teachers association, launched the annual sale of Christmas seals. There is not much need to say more than this. Most of the people in the county already realize what the sale of the tiny health emblem means in making this earth a better place in which to live.

With the exceptions of Asheboro, Randleman, Liberty and Trinity, the seals will be supplied the schools directly from the county health office. Now we say more than to ask each one of us do our part to aid those who are so much unfortunate than we.

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

Our Father, we pray for all whose vigor is strained by slow and wasting illness. Strengthen their powers as they battle for their lives, and we beseech Thee to restore to them the fullness of their years. Since we are all jointly guilty of the conditions that have bred this disease, help us to stand by those who, thru' no fault of their own, must bear the burden of our common sin. May we set our united will against this evil power that stop the strong in what should be the bloom of their youth. May this death that creeps from man to man be a solemn reminder that we are all of one family, and, in a large measure, our brother's keepers.

Forgive us for our selfish indifference. Teach us to give, not only our sympathy but also, insofar as we are able, of our time and our possessions that this county may come to be more nearly a part of Thy kingdom.

Help us to make a firm resolve that henceforth every one shall have his share of life, of health and of happiness.

MISS MARY BULLA AND J. R. ADAMS MARRIED

The marriage of Miss Mary Bulla, of High Point, to J. R. Adams at the home of Rev. T. A. Sykes in High Point, Tuesday evening, December 6, will be of interest to many relatives of the bride who is a former Randolph citizen, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bulla, of High Point, formerly of Randleman, who announce the marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Sykes, pastor of the bride, the ring service being used. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, J. L. Bulla. Miss Grace Bulla acted as maid of honor and Miss Lilyan Bulla and Mrs. J. L. Bulla as bridesmaids. W. W. Hodgins was best man to the groom.

The bride was lovely in a gown of independence blue chiffon velvet, with blue turban and matching accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

The bride and groom are both connected with the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company of High Point. Mr. Adams was formerly a student of Guilford College.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Adams left by motor for Washington and other northern points where they spent their honeymoon before returning to High Point where they are living in their new home on Arlington Drive.

THE GUBERNATORIAL SHIFT

(The Houston Post) Of the 48 states in the Union, 38 will have Democratic chief executives next year, and in many of those states the legislatures will be Democratic by considerable majorities. There are left only nine Republican governors in the entire country. The Farmer-Laborites have one.

In the election, there were many notable overturns in State administrations. It is scarcely believable that Democrats could win governorships in such States as Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Idaho and others that have been long in the Republican column. It is indicative of the nationwide loss of confidence in Republican policies that nearly all the old-line Republican States should not only turn to the Democracy for national leadership, but that they should supplant their State Republican regimens with Democratic. Nothing could more fully demonstrate the political bankruptcy of the Republican party.

First Snowfall Of Winter Saturday In Large Part Country

Southern States Escaped The Wintry Covering, As Did Also State Of Oregon.

The first snowfall of the winter came at Washington, D. C., Saturday night. The capitol dome was reported to have been a lovely sight as were the many statues of the city, but the chief center of interest was capitol hill where a large group of youngsters enjoyed sledding.

The snow was somewhat general in the United States excepting in Oregon and the southern states.

The snow was particularly heavy on the western side of the Appalachians, drifting in some places to five feet in West Virginia. There were many motor mishaps and delays that brought out searching parties for tourists overdue.

The east as well as the Mississippi and the Ohio valleys were to look whiter than ever today, the government predicted. "Continued cold" and "colder" were promised the midlands.

Colorado sent a low barometric area slowly eastward. Another moved north from Tennessee and Kentucky, where a heavy sleet storm glazed the countryside. These disturbances promised to make traveling uncomfortable over the week-end. The snow was expected to fade out on the Atlantic coast early next week.

Meanwhile Lander, Wyo., recorded temperatures of 26 degrees below zero, Yellowstone Park, 20 below, and Helena, Mont., 16.

Some California points were colder than Point Barrow, Alaska, North America's northernmost town which was 30 degrees above zero.

In New York state and New York City, many hundreds of unemployed men were put to work clearing the streets and highways.

Gets Extortion Note Mrs. S. T. Peace, of Henderson, has recently made public an extortion note warning her that her "life was at stake" and demanding $5,000 also that she "keep her mouth shut" or her own life and that of her children are at stake. The letter is signed by the "Chicago Cats." Police are making investigation of the matter.

The 317 club members enrolled in the 4-H clubs of Catawba county produced $9,106.18 worth of products this season. The net labor return was $5,057.03.

Four pure bred Jersey bulls from the Shuford farm in Catawba county were purchased by Edgecombe county farmers recently.
