

Wet Forces Gain Victories In 14 States Of Union

This Number Of States Vote For Repeal 18th Amendment To The Constitution.

Tar Heels To Vote

On This Issue On November 7th; Indications Both Wets And Drys To Fight Hard.

While there is little being said in North Carolina as yet over the referendum relative repeal of the 18th Amendment to the United States Constitution, the fires are expected to be burning in late summer and early fall before the November 7th voting.

The dry forces have begun setting up an organization quietly, while the wet forces have been no less active.

Advance dope that Senator Reynolds will lead the drive against the 18th Amendment is a source of satisfaction to those who favor voting for the amendment's repeal.

Fourteen states so far have voted on the referendum granted by Congress and all fourteen have gone to the wets.

The standing of the repeal situation at this time follows:

- States which have voted: Michigan—Ratified repeal April 10—99 to 1—popular vote, 850,546 to 287,931. Wisconsin—Ratified repeal April 25—15 to 0—popular vote, 648,031 to 141,518. New York—Elected 150 repeal, 0 anti-repeal delegates May 23, to convention June 27—popular vote (unofficial) 1,900,000 to 230,000. Delaware—Elected 17 repeal, 0 anti-repeal delegates May 27, to convention June 24—popular vote, 45,615 to 13,505. Nevada—Elected 40 repeal, 0 anti-repeal delegates at county conventions June 10 to state convention September 5. Illinois—Elected 50 repeal, 0 anti-repeal delegates June 6 to convention July 10—popular vote (incomplete), 1,183,643 to 305,901. Indiana—Elected 264 repeal, 83 anti-repeal delegates June 6 to convention June 26—popular vote (unofficial), 557,062 to 312,120. Massachusetts—Elected 45 repeal, 0 anti-repeal delegates June 13 to convention June 26—popular vote (unofficial), 441,195 to 98,844. Connecticut, Iowa and New Hampshire—Elections held June 20, unofficial figures indicate all three states voted for repeal of the amendment. States which have set elections for 1933: California and West Virginia, June 27; Alabama and Arkansas, July 18; Tennessee, July 20; Oregon, July 20; Texas, August 26; Washington, August 29; Vermont, September 5; Maine, September 11; Maryland and Minnesota, September 12; Idaho and New Mexico, September 19; Arizona, October 3; North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania and South Carolina, November 7.

White, of Greensboro, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. White the past week end.

J. Preston Cox was reminded that he was still having birthdays when Wednesday evening his wife set a dinner for him and invited some of their neighbors. A sumptuous course was served and a happy social evening spent by all. Invited guests were Prof. and Mrs. R. C. White, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Marley. We were all mighty glad Mr. Cox had a birthday.

W. E. Luck, of Roanoke, Va., spent some time with friends here this week.

Friends of Miss Grace Frazier are glad to learn that she is sufficiently improved to come home this week. We hope she may soon be entirely recovered.

Some of the friends of Misses Edna and Thelma Highfill remembered their birthdays last week, extending greetings and best wishes.

R. C. White spent Tuesday in Asheboro attending business in connection with the school.

Dr. F. C. Craven and family, of Asheboro, visited friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Howard, of Charlotte, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dixon.

V. C. Marley was honored Sunday with a sumptuous birthday dinner and several handsome and useful gifts from his wife and friends, all of which were appreciated.

HARRELSON IS NAMED ON MIGRATORY BOARD

Col. J. W. Harrelson, director of the Department of Conservation and Development, has received notice of his appointment as a member of the advisory board, Migratory Bird Treaty Act by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

The board is made up of 22 members, among whom are some of the leading authorities of the nation on subjects pertaining to game matters, and is drawn from every section of the United States.

Functions of the board are advisory in nature, and according to Paul G. Redington, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, "was established for the purpose of giving the U. S. Department of Agriculture the benefit of the knowledge and experience of its members in the preparation of regulations in the administration of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, and advise, when called upon, concerning the general policies to be followed in the conservation and increase of migratory birds. Among the matters covered by the regulations are the seasons during which migratory game birds may be hunted in the several states and the daily bag and possession limits."

Membership on the advisory board is considered by conservationists to be one of the highest recognitions in this field.

New Road Work In Tar Heel State To Give Work To 10,000

Information given out by Highway Chairman E. B. Jeffress Saturday announces that approximately 10,000 men will secure direct employment in the $11,000,000 road building program, which will go forward under federal funds.

Regulations for expenditure of the funds—$9,500,000 of which will be available as a direct grant from the federal government under provisions of the industrial recovery act—are expected early next week.

Upon their receipt Jeffress said he will call a meeting of the highway commission and invite members of its successor, the highway and public works commission, to attend and begin acquainting themselves with the work of the department they will direct after this month.

$500,000 Yet Unspent

In addition to the federal grant, there is $500,000 of emergency federal aid funds which have not been spent in the highway program launched last summer, while the remaining $1,000,000 is regular federal aid now available to this state but heretofore withheld because North Carolina was unable to match the sum with a like amount.

Completed surveys now in the highway department cover approximately 500 miles of construction projects, some of which, Jeffress said, will have to be revised. Five field parties are working on others.

The cream routes, recently established in McDowell county, are affording farmers a cash market for much of the surplus milk and are also paying a good price for surplus roughage. More than 80 gallons of cream were shipped the second week.

Ramseur Takes Top Position With Win Over Hadley-Peoples

Ramseur, June 18.—Ramseur came from behind to win a victory over the Hadley-Peoples Randolph league team here last Saturday in one of the most exciting games played this season.

R. Cox, Stroupe, and F. Chisholm led in the hitting for the local team. Stout, a pinch batsman, figured very largely in scoring the winning runs. One of the features of the game was a sensational catch made by "Tip" Chisholm. McMasters, C. Smith and Brady led the hitting for Hadley-Peoples. The game required an extra inning of play. Allred, Ramseur pitcher, went the full route. This makes two games he has won in three days in the league, Ramseur and Siler City team having played off a rained out game the latter part of the week.

Friends Church Missionary Society Holds A Meeting

The Missionary Society of the Friends church met with Mrs. E. H. Cox, on Stowe street Friday. Ten members and one visitor joined in this meeting.

The program was on missions with a report from the missionary conference held at South Fork made by Mrs. J. L. Overman. Mrs. Overman, president of the society also presided over the meeting.

A social hour followed the business, with refreshments served by the hostess.

Various European nations, due the United States a total of $144,180,000 on war debts installments June 15th, paid only $11,348,592, or about 8 per cent. Finland was the only country to pay its installment in full, while France, Poland, Belgium, Yugoslavia, Lithuania, Hungary, Estonia and Latvia each paid nothing at all.

Completed surveys now in the highway department cover approximately 500 miles of construction projects, some of which, Jeffress said, will have to be revised. Five field parties are working on others.

Food Has Played Important Role In George M. Cohan's Success

Mr. Cohan cuts his favorite chocolate cake for members of his cast at one of the after-matinee "sweet snack" parties.

Chocolate Cake Leads to Tale of Near Tragedy In Early Days

By Mabel Love

If all the stories which have been written about George M. Cohan were placed end to end they would probably reach from one end of Broadway to the other.

He has, in the vernacular of the newspaper world been "done" from every angle, that is except one, and that angle concerns a chocolate cake.

Sitting in his dressing room, Mr. Cohan who recently returned to the footlights in "Pigeons and People", a current Broadway success, started his interviewer by reaching into a cabinet and withdrawing a delicious looking cake, covered with thick chocolate icing.

"A member of the cast made it from one of Mrs. Cohan's favorite recipes," he said smiling. "It's great food and at one stage of my life if I had only reached for something like this—" and then came a brand new story which revealed that early in his career Cohan was almost lost to the stage forever.

It came about very suddenly and his footings were frankly puzzled and dizzy one, traced to the wry of the handsome young chap who had danced and sung his way into the heart of a nation, put a point blank question to his patient.

"George," he said, "how much have you been eating?" And then came the explanation, rather of the kind he had feared, and he said: "There's too much

INTERESTING VISITOR IN ASHEBORO LAST WEEK

An interesting visitor in Asheboro last week was J. W. Howell, of Randleman. Mr. Howell, who is 96, came to Asheboro on business. He is quite active physically and mentally alert and entertaining. Not only are his accounts of his four years service in the war between the states interesting, but he is equally as interested in the world of today.

Garden work is considered "light work" by Mr. Howell, who claims his vegetables rival the best of them.

IN A NUTSHELL

It's easy to regard tax reduction as something beyond the scope of the average citizen—as a matter for distant Washington to investigate and achieve.

But one of the most fertile fields for governmental economy is at home. The chances are that your municipal government is wasteful. There is probably wide-spread duplication of effort, a number of unnecessary bureaus, political inefficiency. Thousands of dollars of the money you and your neighbors contribute bring you little or no return.

Recently a new administration came into power in the city of Seattle and it has made the south, a new mayor will soon take office, and he is sponsoring a program that should find an echo in every community, large or small, in the land. This Young Mayor-elect, Joseph Carson, recently said: "The tremendous expansion of government, local as well as state and national, has become the most serious menace to orderly government and stabilized conditions. Business will afford employment when it need not fear that the investment and the fruits thereof will be confiscated through taxation."

Bring taxes down, adapt them to the ability of the business and the individual to pay—and watch recovery go into high.
