Money Is Allotted For Building Of Postoffice In City

$55,000 Is The Sum Allotted For The Work; Two Other Cities Also On The List

More Are Expected

Announcement Made This Week In Order To Hurry Up Public Works Program.

Allotment of $16,878,675 for the construction of 237 public buildings was announced this week by Secretary Ickes, public works administrator, who at the same time gave the information that a new policy for such structures had been inaugurated.

President Roosevelt unreservedly approves this revised architectural policy, which in the future will call for the construction of less ornate and therefore less expensive types of buildings; in other words, a plain Democratic type of architecture, with the emphasis on the utilitarian values.

It is realized, following this announcement, that cities like Greensboro, with structures that at all times arouse civic pride, had a narrow escape, for if construction of those buildings had been postponed, plainer structures would have been erected, and, as was announced this week, "local materials of a suitable nature will be used whenever feasible in the buildings, instead of expensive stones transported a long distance. The government will even go in for less expensive sites in the future. The post-offices now proposed include a building for North Wilkesboro, to cost $50,600, a building for Pinehurst, to cost $60,500, and one for Asheboro, to cost $55,000.

It is suspected that the federal emergency administration made the announcement concerning the projected buildings at this time to escape pressure from members of Congress, and it is believed that an additional list will be given the public within a short time.

Hold Meeting Parent-Teachers Association Trinity School House

The Parent-Teachers Association of Trinity met in the high school auditorium for its regular meeting, Monday evening, Mrs. A. B. Coltrane, the president, was in charge of the meeting.

Rev. Reuben Payne, pastor of the Archdale Friends church, conducted the devotional service. His theme was "What Am I Going to Expect of my Children?"

Mr. Bullock discussed communicable diseases. He stressed the dangers of these and suggested that copies of the symptoms of these various diseases be mimeographed and sent to the different homes represented in school.

The program for the evening consisted of a health playlet, drills and songs by the elementary department of the school. These were well rendered and carried excellent thought for the "health" program.

The attendance banner for the elementary grades went to Miss Bess Johnson's fourth grade, and the seniors of Miss Zimmerman's room received the banner for the high school.

Little Child Hurt Near Her Home By Carelessly Thrown Rock.

Thinky, Nov. 18.—A large crowd attended the miscellaneous shower given Mrs. and Mrs. Billy Andrews on the 10th, at the residence of Mrs. and Mrs. Maudie Andrews on North Main. Many beautiful and useful gifts from their friends from all parts of the country were carried to be placed in their pretty new home, near by.

Owing to the carelessness of some one in throwing a rock, the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boyale was slightly hurt a few days ago, while she was walking along in sight of her home, near the depot.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes have moved into the hotel, on South Main, also Mr. and Mrs. Butler Hughes, have taken rooms there.

Mrs. Nannie A. Craven is back from a short visit to Lexington, where she visited her son, Earle Craven.

The band convention held here Friday night drew a large crowd, and was heartily enjoyed by all.

Glenn Payne spent Sunday night with homefolks. Glenn works at Mayodan and is painting on some large building.

Paul Hughes, of Gibsonville, spent Sunday here among friends.

The presiding elder of the Greenbush district preached here Sunday night.

Annual Conference Of Christian Church Held November 8 & 9

With Ramseur Christian Church Next Conference To Meet At Union Grove.

The 63rd annual session of the Western North Carolina Christian Conference was held at Ramseur, Wednesday and Thursday, November 8th and 9th. The opening session Wednesday morning included the address of welcome by I. H. Faust, and the response was given by Rev. T. J. Green. The annual sermon was preached by President E. Carl Brady, of Hemp. The subject of his message was "Belief in Christ." This was such a splendid discourse that brought many words of praise from Rev. Mr. Brady's hearers. The communion service was conducted by Dr. Stanley C. Harrell, Durham, president of the Southern Christian Convention.

The Wednesday afternoon session consisted of reports of various standing committees, and an address on "Missions" by Dr. J. O. Atkinson, Mission Secretary of the Southern Christian Convention.

The Youth Fellowship conference organization for young people, presented the Wednesday evening program. L. E. Smith, President of Elon College, presided, and the main features of the program were special music and addresses by Miss Priscilla Chase, Congregational Young People's Worker, and Rev. S. M. Penn, Sophia.

On Thursday morning reports of other committees were presented, and the conference was addressed by Dr. L. E. Smith, President of Elon College. The officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President (Please turn to page 8)

Many Books Are Added To Local School Library

Addition Made Possible Through Donations Of Books Through The Memorial Fund.

The school library of Asheboro is more than a school library and has been so for several years. During the school year the library serves the children for reference work, parallel reading and fiction, but during the summers Miss Maudie Lambert has held the library open as a community convenience. Approximately 2,000 books circulated during the summer and the library is fast becoming inadequate.

The Emmet Leo Cetwick Memorial Fund, established by his sisters, Miss Minnie Cetwick and Miss Clara Cetwick, of Asheboro and Bradford, Pa., through the Educational Department of the Asheboro Woman's Club, is growing rapidly and will doubtless fill the library with necessary and desired books. It is the hope of the Woman's Club that the Asheboro School Library will, through this memorial fund, become outstanding among school libraries in the state.

Mrs. W. A. Bunch, chairman of the Educational department and Mrs. Curry Loflin, president of the club, have received a number of voluntary memorial contributions for the library and the first list of honors and memorialized citizens are published herewith. The donations to this memorial fund are in cash and Mr. H. K. Hill, superintendent of the Asheboro city schools, will have supervision of the types of books needed in the library. The list follows:

- In memory of Mrs. Sara J. Barnes, from Miss Ruby Barnes, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mrs. Bertha Coffin Page, from Mrs. Chas. Fox.
- In memory of Mr. W. J. Armfield, from Mrs. Chas. Fox.
- In memory of Miss Lena Boyer, from Miss Florence Ernst, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mr. Hugh Parks, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Hon. Wm. Hammer, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mr. Hal Worth, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mr. Joe Lewallen, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mr. James Burns, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mr. E. Leo Cetwick, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mrs. Anna Cetwick, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.
- In memory of Mr. Emil Cetwick, from Misses Minnie and Clara Cetwick, Bradford, Pa.

Local Merchants Stage A Contest For Their Patrons

"Why I Trade With These Business Firms" Is Title Of Contest They Offer.

Prizes Are Given

Look Up This Page Elsewhere In This Issue And Work For One Of The Prizes.

"Why I Trade With These Business Firms"—that's what you are invited to tell on another page of this issue of The Courier—and you get paid for it. You always get paid for it when you trade with Asheboro merchants and business firms—paid in lower prices and higher quality, to say nothing of contributing to the upbuilding of your community and county in the way of bigger and better business houses, bigger and better churches and schools, and a finer community spirit.

The merchants and business men who are making it possible for you to get paid for telling why you like to trade with them are going a step farther—they are doing their utmost to cooperate with this great nationwide "Buy Now" campaign which the National Recovery Administration is sponsoring in this country in order to bring prosperity back to stay.

General Johnson, the Recovery Administrator, has declared publicly that one of the best ways to bring back business is to buy, buy, and buy now. In that way you are not only putting money into circulation, but making it possible for mills and factories to run and furnish employment for thousands upon thousands of people everywhere in this great country of ours.

Look up this page in this issue of The Courier—it will pay you to do so.

Roy Harris Loses Life In Unusual Manner Saturday

Was Thrown From A Log Cart And Suffered Broken Neck; Was Popular Young Man.

Funeral and burial services were held Sunday at Liberty church in western Randolph county for Roy Harris, 18, who was the victim of an unusual accident in New Hope township Saturday morning. Young Harris, who was a member of the tenth grade of the Liberty high school, and drove one of the school buses, was assisting his father, at a saw mill on Saturday. The young man was driving a cart loaded with logs to a saw mill near his home when the accident occurred. A lever that lifts the logs apparently knocked him from the cart and dragged him several yards. His neck was broken, he was a leg, and various bruises and cuts were on his body. His father, alarmed at his long absence, left the mill and found his dead nearby.

Roy Harris was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harris, of New Hope township and was a popular young man in his community, school and church. He is survived by his parents and one brother, Edward Harris.

Courier Prepared To Give Patrons A Better Service

Has Moved Its Mechanical Department Into Allen Building On Worth Street.

Equipment Added

Both In Advertising And Job Printing Departments, For Benefit Customers.

The Courier has moved its mechanical department into the Allen building on Worth street, occupied for several weeks by the business and editorial offices.

This move has made for more economical operation, a quicker dispatch of business, and a better service both for our readers and our patrons in advertising and commercial job printing. We like the new arrangement, and believe our patrons will drop in any time and take a look around.

In addition to this, the Courier has added a quantity of display advertising type to its already adequate supply, and this coupled with the excellent cut service The Courier has maintained for several years, offers our advertisers a wide range of type and illustration for their message to customers and prospective customers.

The commercial job printing department has also been improved by the addition of another printing press, more and better job type, and many other features that interest buyers of commercial job printing. These improvements enable The Courier to handle printing jobs with more dispatch and thereby furnish a better service to our patrons than ever before. No job is too large or too small for The Courier's job printing department. From the smallest card to the largest circular, The Courier offers and guarantees the highest grade of workmanship, closest attention to details and customers' wishes, and reasonable prices.

Few printing plants in the entire state of North Carolina offer so wide, so complete and comprehensive a service to its patrons and all the people of Randolph county as The Courier.

The receipt of applications from persons under 40 years of age closed on November 7, 1933.

Brewer's Community Circle No. 1. Mrs. C. L. Wingham entertained the members of circle No. 1 of Brewer's Methodist Protestant church on Thursday afternoon. The chairman, Mrs. Q. L. Joyner, had charge of the program and devotional period. Quite a number of the circle members had interesting readings for the occasion. A large attendance was present and a very good collection was reported.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Brown. After the business session, Mrs. Wingham served refreshments.

Young People's Conference. The young people's conference of Tabernacle church will be held at Tabernacle church on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A special thanksgiving program will be arranged and it is hoped that a large number of young people will be present. Those who are also cordially invited are: Mrs. N. Fuller.

Business Outlook At Randleman Is One Of Optimism

Machinery For Rayon Mill Being Moved To Town; A Hosiery Mill Is In Prospect.

Seek Waterworks

For The City, And This May Be Next Step For Improving Town Of Randleman.

The citizens of Randleman are rejoicing over two interesting bits of news this week—a new industrial plant for the town, and the completion of the water works project in sight. Mace and Company, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are this week moving machinery into the building formerly occupied by the Quinn Weaving Company preparatory to setting up a rayon mill for the town. The looms, now in process of setting up, will furnish employment for approximately a hundred men and women. If the work of the installation of the machinery moves smoothly, those in charge of the plant expect to open within thirty days. The Quinn Weaving Company has been closed for the past year.

Rumors are also afloat in Randleman that a hosiery mill will also be located in the town in the near future. Other business prospects are also in the offing for the town that has been somewhat hard hit for several years.

The town has also been figuring for some time on waterworks and it is a great source of delight that the plans are taking form sufficiently to see a realization of the dream in the near future. C. W. Hilliard attended a meeting of the local government commission in Raleigh last week and reports that it is almost an assured fact that the project will go through at an early date. Engineers have been working on the project and additional data has been presented to the necessary sources for the approval of the plan.

High Point Fair Is Scheduled To Run During Next Week

Preparations Made For Holding This Big Event; W. C. York Is Secretary Of Fair.

Although a little late, the High Point Fair will be held next week and by no means an undernourished event, according to W. C. York, secretary-manager and the fair directors.

George S. Marr, business manager of the Great Empire Shows, who played the Randolph County Fair several years ago, which aggregation consisting of 16 double length railway cars, will furnish the midway attractions, fireworks every night, 16 high class free acts. T. Fletcher Bulla, superintendent Randolph county schools, has issued a letter to all Randolph schools inviting them to close school at 2 p. m., Tuesday, Nov. 21st, for this event and the Fair association has printed several thousand tickets for their accommodation; all shows and rides will be 5 cents for the kiddies this date. P. M. Davis, president of the farmers civic organization, is head of the farm products department. Considerable stress is being laid on the industrial show which is headed by J. W. McMahon, president of the fair.

The fair is being located on the old Welch field in the city of High Point on East Washington street, 30 acres of land in which to park and enjoy the old time county fair. The lot will be side-walled to enclose the shows and two large tents will house the exhibits and a portable grandstand capable of seating 5,000 people will be constructed within the fence for the convenience of the people who watch the free acts and fireworks. A representative of the Washington Decorating company plans to arrive this week and beautify the city and grounds.

The fair will open Monday night and run through Saturday night.

BALFOUR SCHOOL NEWS

At the November meeting of the Balfour parent-teachers association Rev. Parker, of the Asheboro Friends church, gave a most instructive talk on the places of Christian Education.

The seventh grade contributed to the program by presenting an impressive play, "The Children's Lament" which showed the danger of non-observance of highway regulations.

The largest crowd Ramseur has seen in a long time gathered at the school building Sunday afternoon in a community singing. Quartets, trios and duets from surrounding towns and communities were heard to the great enjoyment of the many hearers. There are lots of ways you can spend your time Sunday afternoons worse than singing the Christian songs we heard Sunday. Keep the good work up girls and boys. The Ramseur girls' quartette sponsored this gathering and by the way, we don't think any one beat them singing.

Mrs. May Hall, of Asheboro, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kivett Sunday.

Chas. Dorsett, student of Guilford college, spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Misenheimer, of Mt. Gleed, spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kivett.

Honor Mr. Badgett At Meeting Sunday At Jackson Creek

Number Of Masons From Denton And Other Lodges Pay Honor To Worthy Man.

Jackson Hill, Nov. 13.—Sunday afternoon, Nov. 12th, Masons from Denton Lodge No. 404, assisted by a few members from Thomasville and Lexington lodges, met at the home of C. L. Badgett, at Jackson Hill, to pay honor to him in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

Mr. Badgett is the oldest Mason in the Denton Lodge No. 404. In 1872 he was initiated and in 1873 was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason at Randolph Lodge No. 309, of which N. M. Thayer was Master. Mr. Badgett was Master of Yarkin Falls Lodge for a number of years and later became a member of the Denton lodge.

Mr. Badgett, who is one of the few surviving veterans of the civil war, proudly wore his uniform of gray on this occasion. At the age of seventeen he enlisted in the Confederate army in 1864. He served in Company C, First North Carolina Battalion, in which he was elected Second Lieutenant and acted as Captain on many occasions when the commanding officer was absent. He was with the seventieth regiment in various marches, campaigns and battles until the close of the conflict, being with Johnson's army when it surrendered.

The service was presided over by H. Val Badgett, Worshipful Master of Denton Lodge, who, after paying tribute to the honored man, introduced the singing class from the Oxford Orphanage. They sweetly sang "Praise" (Please turn to page 8)

Ramseur Loses Two Fine Young Women By Death

Mrs. W. A. Brown And Mrs. W. O. York, Both Splendid Women, Called To Beyond.

Shock To Town

Were Active In Church And Civic Work And Town Deeply Deplores Their Loss.

Ramseur, Nov. 13.—Ramseur community is far poorer this week than last because two of our finest young women who suddenly passed to the beyond since our last news letter, Mrs. W. A. Brown, 26, was taken to Randolph Hospital Tuesday, November 7, for an appendicitis operation and died the morning of the 8th. Her sudden illness and death has stunned the people here and Siler City where she lived until about a year ago.

Surviving besides her husband, W. Alfred Brown, are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard, and several sisters and brothers of Siler City. Mrs. Brown was an active church worker in the First Methodist church before moving here, and by her faithfulness to her church here and all the organizations through which she could be useful, she soon endeared herself to a wide circle of Christian people who miss her now. Funeral service was held at the First Methodist church at Siler City Thursday afternoon, conducted by her pastor there, assisted by Rev. A. C. Tippett, of Ramseur M. E. church. A large crowd of sorrowing friends attended and lovely flowers spoke the love and sympathy of these friends.

Mrs. W. O. York, (nee Gertha M. Ward), died Friday at St. Leo's hospital, Greensboro, after an illness of about three weeks. Mrs. York was 43 years of age, and leaves her husband and two sons, Chas. and Fred, several brothers and sisters and her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Ward, of Liberty, R. F. D. Mrs. York was one of our finest women, one about whom nothing could be said but good, a loving wife, a devoted mother who freely spent her short life for the benefit of her loved ones and friends. A faithful member of Ramseur Baptist church, always ready to do her part in any of the activities of her church, Mrs. York could always be depended upon to do more than her part. Ramseur feels that she cannot get on without this good woman. A large concourse of people gathered at Ramseur Baptist church Saturday afternoon to show their love for her. The pastor, Rev. H. M. Stroup, conducted the service. A great collection of flowers borne by her friends covered the grave where she was laid to rest here.

The largest crowd Ramseur has seen in a long time gathered at the school building Sunday afternoon in a community singing. Quartets, trios and duets from surrounding towns and communities were heard to the great enjoyment of the many hearers. There are lots of ways you can spend your time Sunday afternoons worse than singing the Christian songs we heard Sunday. Keep the good work up girls and boys. Annual Meetings 3 Large Churches Staged This Week

Methodists, Methodist Protestants, And Baptists All Are Holding Conferences.

Important Matters

Are Being Considered At All Three Meetings; Methodists Are At Charlotte.

This week Piedmont North Carolina will draw representatives from three leading denominations of the state for church conferences. The first of the week the 103rd Baptist convention convened in Greensboro with a large attendance and interesting guest speakers. Dr. Zeno Wall, of Shelby, presided over this conference.

The Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, with 547 members convened in the First Church, Charlotte, Wednesday night with Bishop E. D. Mouzon, of Charlotte, presiding.

Among the important matters to be settled by this body will be the question of uniting several of the secondary schools belonging to the conference.

At the last session of the conference a committee was appointed to look into the advisability of uniting several of the secondary schools belonging to the conference. That committee headed by Bishop Mouzon, has already under authority given by the last conference, decided that it was wise to merge Rutherford and Weaver colleges and Davenport and Greensboro colleges. Rutherford and Weaver will be located at Brevard, the authorities of Brevard Institute having turned over all properties held by them to the new educational institution. This property is valued at nearly a half million dollars. Davenport college, with honorable record, will be turned over to Greensboro college. That committee will make its report and its action will go on record.

The 106th regular session of the North Carolina annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church convened in Central church at Thomasville Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, with the president, Rev. R. M. Andrews, D. D., High Point, conducting the opening devotional services, and organizing the body for business.

After the preliminaries necessary to the opening of such a body, Rev. Roy I. Farmer, formerly of the Ohio conference, but for five years pastor of First Church, High Point, will deliver the annual conference sermon.

The memorial services have been changed from Sunday afternoon and will be held immediately preceding the roll call of the honored dead. Rev. C. J. Edwards, a member of the conference for 30 years, was the only member to have died during the fiscal year just closing.

The women's work of this denomination will be presented by Mrs. Wm. C. Hammer of Asheboro.

Home Loan Bank Is Making Loans Now At More Rapid Rate

Total Loans Approved By The Bank So Far Have Reached More Than Two Millions.

Salisbury.—Loans to home owners of North Carolina totaling 216 for an amount of $569,907.87 were approved the past week by the state branch of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, it is announced by Alan S. O'Neal, state manager. The state manager added that this constituted the greatest single week's activities since the organization began to function during the summer.

The week's work brought the number of loans approved in the past four months to 846, having a total value of $2,060,550.51.

Mr. O'Neal said that the fullest cooperation of attorneys throughout the state in examining titles on these 846 homes, had been asked and was being given. The legal work on many of these already has been completed and the bonds or cash issued, and it was expected by the state manager that the final steps would be taken on a large number of those now in the hands of attorneys in the near future.

Twenty of the loans approved this week were with reduction of mortgage indebtedness, the value of homes represented by these being $77,906.89. One hundred ninety-six representing a value of $492,000.98 were approved without reduction of the mortgage indebtedness.

During the week, 304 additional applications were received from home owners desiring aid in saving their homes from possible foreclosure, the value of homes represented in these being $793,329.22. During the week 272 applications for help totaling $332,497.72 were rejected before appraisal because they did not come within the terms of the law or for other reasons.

This brought the total of foreclosures halted in the state, since the corporation began its activities, to 806. Mr. O'Neal said, the total value involved being $2,245,483.47.

Card of Thanks. We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends for kindness shown during the instant death of our little daughter, Margaret—Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Davis and daughter.
