Local Baptist Church Destroyed By Fire On Sunday Afternoon

Four fire alarms have sounded in Asheboro within a short period. The first alarm was Friday afternoon and proved to be a field of grass burning. The field was located behind the Lucy Lewis home on Sunset avenue.

Saturday morning two alarms aroused the town. The first was a fire inside some machinery of the Bruton Dry Cleaning plant. The damage of this fire was confined chiefly to the machine and the material in the machine at the time. The exact estimate has not been set. About 11:00 A. M. the second siren sounded and took the local fire company to Kivett street to the house occupied by H. A. Vestal and family. The damage was chiefly to the roof and some small damage to furniture by water. The house will probably require recovering, according to Clarence Rush, chief of the Asheboro Fire company. The house belonged to Calvin Frazier.

New Owner Asheboro Bakery Checks Out Leaving No Address

J. T. Jones, who came to Asheboro from Monroe approximately six weeks ago and leased the Asheboro Bakery has moved on. He was apparently succeeding in business and collections were made by the delivermen as usual Saturday afternoon. On Monday morning a note was found on the desk which stated that he was unable to continue as prospects were not such as would warrant the continuance of his contract. Mr. Sykes, owner of the bakery, has resumed management and will operate it as heretofore. Mr. Sykes further says that Saturday's collections are an evidence that business was good. There was some indebtedness to Mr. Sykes, which still exists. The whereabouts of Mr. Jones is still unknown.

Asheboro Rotarians Hold Weekly Meet At Ramseur Friday

With 21 Members And 17 Guests Present On Occasion; Souvenirs Presented.

The Rotary Club of Asheboro held its weekly meeting Friday night, November 23rd, in Ramseur. There were 21 members and 17 guests present. The club met in Ramseur as the result of an invitation of Fletcher Craven, A. H. Thomas and Edwood Richm, Rotarians of that town. The M. E. church circle of Ramseur served a bountiful turkey dinner with all accompaniments. The meal was well prepared and the excellent serving is worthy of mention.

Interspersing the meal were several popular numbers sung by Mr. Moffitt and accompanied by Mrs. Phillips. The "Last Round Up" was particularly enjoyed.

The main feature of the program were the magician's tricks performed by R. E. Bette, of High Point. He is adept in this line, especially when it is considered that he is not a magician but a druggist. The group was most appreciative of his performance.

Each member and guest was presented with a candlestick, manufactured by the Ramseur Manufacturing Co., samples of sheeting given by Columbia Manufacturing Co. and samples of other cotton cloth made by Randolph Mills, Franklinville. Apparently most of the cotton material was taken home by Bill Armfield and Joe Spence for future use.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the social room of the Methodist Protestant church, Asheboro, Friday, November 24th, at 12:15.

New Plates On Sale Dec. 1

License plates for 1934 are considerably smaller than those of 1933. The new plates will go on sale the first of December instead of December 15. The law requires that all motor vehicles operating after December 31st bear new plates. A bulletin from Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus recently stated that there would not be an extension of the time limit for buying plates as heretofore. The time has often been extended several times in order to allow people to recover from the holiday shopping splurge, but the Governor announces that the state of North Carolina needs the revenue and he announces that there will be no extension this year.

Miss Betsy Ross, of Asheboro, is in charge of the sale of license plates for Randolph county with headquarters in the new armory building.

College Prank Lends Zest

A "college prank" last week preceded the Duke-Asheboro football game and lent even more zest to the event when Ramesses, the Tar Heel ram was stolen. Soon after the ram disappeared several car loads of Duke students were discovered at Chapel Hill just before "painting the town red" with "Beat Carolina" signs. The ram reappeared, however, as mysteriously as he disappeared, and the attention of the state was again turned toward the game.

Class to Furnish Exhibit

The second year Home Economics class of the Asheboro high school will have an exhibit in the window of Lee's Sundry Women's Shop Tuesday, November 28th, of the woolen suits and dresses that the class has made this fall.

Thanksgiving Service Presbyterian Church Thursday Morning

As is the custom of many years in Asheboro, the people of the town begin Thanksgiving Day with a prayer service. This service is a union affair and rotates from one church to another. At the meeting of the local Ministerial Association Wednesday morning, it was decided that the union Thanksgiving service would be held this year at the Presbyterian church.

Dr. C. G. Smith, pastor of the church, will have charge of the devotions, but the sermon will be delivered by Rev. H. A. Parker, pastor of the Asheboro Friends church. The hour of service is set for 9:00 a. m., and the people of the town and county are invited to join in this annual community event.

A committee has been appointed to make plans for an early start at rebuilding the church. The committee at work at present is appointed for the purpose of considering ways and means, blue prints and the like. After a report from this preliminary committee, a building committee will be named.

Meanwhile the Baptist congregation will continue their services, using the armory building.

Santa Claus Arrives Hudson-Belk's Store On First Of December

The announcement of the arrival of Santa Claus at Hudson-Belk's Friday morning, December first, makes every one realize that the holiday season is near and delights the children throughout the county. The display of gifts has been made earlier than usual for several reasons, it gives purchasers more time, saves the usual rush for clerks and those in post offices and assures the purchaser that they can secure gifts at home. Mr. Yates, manager, has provided a storage room for the convenience of patrons who make purchases with an initial payment, and will keep packages until called for, as late as Christmas eve. In addition to the usual excellent staple line, the holiday gifts are unusually attractive to elders as well as children, quite equal to those in the larger towns. Hudson-Belk is to be congratulated upon the display and upon the plan for early Christmas shopping.

New Management Assumes Charge Of Randolph Tribune

Of interest to people in this section is the change in management of The Randolph Tribune. During the week announcement is made that Francis White, A. I. Ferree and T. J. Wiles form a publishing company who will edit and publish a paper called The Randolph Press.

Tom Wiles, who will act as business manager of the paper, announces that instead of the usual eight pages, formerly issued weekly by The Tribune, the Randolph Press will appear in four pages on Thursdays and in tabloid size on Sundays. The tabloid will take the place of the Sunset News, a weekly publication formerly circulated by Mr. Wiles.

Fire Destroys Timber

Fires raged over timber lands of western North Carolina last week for several days and destroyed $500,000 worth of timber. The flames threatened the Western North Carolina Teachers' College at Cullowhee and many homes in that section were in danger, when volunteer fire fighters were called for by those in charge of the situation.

County prizes of 300 and 200 pounds of nitrate of soda is offered corn club members of North Carolina for high acre yields of corn in 1933 by the Chilean Nitrate of Soda Educational Bureau.

Balfour Baptist Church To Celebrate Second Anniversary November 26th

Balfour Baptist church, two miles north of Asheboro, will on November 26th celebrate its second anniversary. Services will begin promptly at 10:45 a. m. Dr. O. G. Tillman, former pastor of Asheboro Baptist church, will preach the anniversary sermon at the eleven o'clock hour. An interesting program of special music and other features has been arranged.

At the close of the service dinner will be served, for which all are invited to remain.

There will be an afternoon service with quartet singing, also congregational singing. The history of the church will be read. Several short addresses will be made by Rev. H. M. Stroup, of Ramseur, Rev. Hoyle Love, of High Point, and others.

The services will conclude with special musical numbers. Night services will be announced from the pulpit.

The congregation will, in this anniversary service, use for the first time the new house of worship. They are so grateful to those who have in any way, however small, had any part in the erection of the church, they are especially urging each one to be with them in their services next Sunday.

All friends are invited to come to any of the three services. A cordial welcome awaits every one who will come.

Following is the order of service: Morning Worship—10:45 a. m. Prayers—11:15

Rev. J. M. Barber Sent To Ramseur As Church Pastor

Succeeds Rev. A. C. Tippet, Who Was Sent To Caraway Memorial Church.

Comes From Shelby

Asheboro Rotary Club Held Its Meeting At Ramseur; Several Families Move.

Ramseur, Nov. 21.—Ramseur people learned with regret that Rev. A. C. Tippet had been appointed to Caraway Memorial church, Greensboro. Mr. Tippet has been with us three years and his acquaintances here are his friends. He leaves with the love and best wishes of not only his own church people but also all the people of the community. Rev. J. M. Barber comes to us from near Shelby and the folks will work with him just as they always do with all pastors, hoping for a fine harvest during the year.

The Asheboro Rotary Club held their regular weekly meeting at Ramseur Friday evening with Ramseur members as guests. The dinner, a sumptuous turkey dinner served by the circles of the M. E. church, was enjoyed by about thirty members and guests. Splendid talks were made by a number of the members and the spirit of cooperation and sympathetic understanding was promoted. One feature of interest was the presentation of souvenirs by the industries represented, a miniature bolt of sheeting from Columbia Mfg. Co., a mahogany candle holder by the Ramseur Furniture Co., and a neatly folded dispenser by the Randolph Mills. The occasion will be repeated in the near future, we hope.

Several families in Ramseur have moved.

Insurance Premiums By 11th Of December

The members of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association will have to pay their premiums on or before the 11th day of December in order to keep their insurance in force. The members are paying their premiums well and it is expected that 90 per cent of the members will have their insurance in good shape for another year by the expiration date of December 11.

Many fires throughout the county and in Asheboro caused the members to see the necessity for carrying fire and wind protection upon their buildings which can be had at a small cost. Asheboro had four fires last week, with several fire damages throughout the county.

The extreme dry weather, defective flues and sparks escaping from flues caused all the fires. People should at this time of the year make thorough examination of their flues, chimneys and thereby prevent many fires.

Asheboro Bank And Trust Company Pays Its Second Dividend

Depositors of the Asheboro Bank and Trust Company have had notice, as of November 10th, that second dividends are available. In June, the first dividend of 25 per cent was paid and the depositors are now receiving a second dividend of 15 per cent. A forty per cent dividend on deposits during such a short period, since the bank holiday in March, has been a source of commendation and satisfaction. E. H. Morris, cashier, has been considerate of the patrons but has put forth every effort to carry out orders of Gurney Hood, State Commissioner of Banks.

The bank rendered splendid service in this county and the depositors have every reason to be pleased with the dividends which they have received.

INSTITUTE HELD AT MT. GILEAD CHURCH

An institute for the Tabernacle township Sunday schools convened at the Mount Gilead M. E. church on November 12. All the Sunday schools in the township were represented.

Special music for the occasion was furnished by the Pleasant Hill quartet. The speakers on the program were Miss Lillian Myers, superintendent of the children's division; S. G. Richardson, county president of Sunday schools; and Rev. A. C. Waggoner, pastor of the Randolph circuit.

Note of Thanks

It is impossible for us to express our appreciation for the many kind acts and words of sympathy by scores of friends here and at Greensboro during the sickness and at the death of wife and mother, Mrs. Gertha M. York. We will never forget these friendly expressions.—W. O. York and family, Ramseur.

Plan To Put Nearly Thousand People To Work In Randolph

With the recent readjustment and reorganization of the public works program, welfare and re-employment work, an interview with R. T. Lloyd, superintendent of welfare for the county, reveals some interesting and necessary information for Randolph county. Mr. Lloyd has been appointed as local civil work administrator for the county in addition to his duties as superintendent of public welfare, representative of the state labor department and director of relief.

It is explained by Mr. Lloyd that, under the new plan, all people now on relief will be transferred to the federal civil works program. The exception is those who are physically disabled and who will be retained under the welfare program.

The purpose of the federal civil works administration is to provide regular work on public works at regular wages for unemployed persons able and willing to work.

The rate of pay will be 45 cents per hour for thirty hours in each week for unskilled labor and one dollar and ten cents per hour for skilled labor. No person under sixteen years of age shall be employed on civil works projects. Any one that is placed on work and does not prove efficient will be discharged and unless they are physically disabled will not be placed back on relief.

Four hundred million dollars has been allocated for this purpose and 68,000 persons are to be put to work in North Carolina under the plan. Randolph's quota is seven hundred and fifty-nine. Fifty per cent of this county's quota will come from relief families and fifty per cent through re-employment office of unemployed men and women. The types of projects to be put on are such as repairing public buildings, drainage, roads, swimming pools, parks and the like.

All communities in the county are urged to submit project data as soon as possible in order that any work they would like to see set in motion in the respective communities may be set into immediate motion.

A telegram on Wednesday from Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, civil works administrator for the state, to Mr. Lloyd, of the Asheboro office, stated that all unemployed trained nurses, clerical and professional help, especially women, must register immediately at the local office in order to be used in a plan that will use such types of workers.

Injuries Sustained In Football Playing Fatal To Young Man

Cuyler Green, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Green, of Asheboro, died at the Randolph hospital at midnight Sunday night after an illness from blood poisoning. The death was a result of an accident in football some three or four weeks ago and a rehurt soon thereafter. He was taken to the hospital on Wednesday after his condition became critical. The deceased was a member of the Asheboro high school and well known in the athletic activities of the school. He was an active member of the Asheboro Baptist church.

Funeral and burial services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. at the First Methodist church in Asheboro with burial following at Albemarle. Rev. Herman Stevens conducted the services. The parents and five brothers and sisters survive.

There is a trend toward braid designs and applied effects in the mode. It is noted not only in costumes but in shoes, bags and hats.
