Liberty Colored School, 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.
The Schick Test is a test to determine whether a child will have diphtheria. This test should be given to all children over one year of age, especially those who have been vaccinated against diphtheria. This will determine whether they need to be vaccinated again. The test is given just under the skin, and in this way that the tuberculin test was given in our schools sometime ago. There is practically no reaction. The test will have to be looked at in from two to three days. Bring the child back at the same time in two days, and if the test is positive then the child should be inoculated again for diphtheria.

No child over ten years of age will be given the treatment for diphtheria without having this test.

Jackson's Creek News

Funeral For Mrs. Cody At Walter's Grove Church.

Jackson's Creek, April 9.—The rains are rapidly filling the wells and springs in this section that had been dry so long. This section is experiencing a real epidemic of measles—quite a few sick folks but no deaths. Leslie Morgan and family, of Asheboro, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morgan, Sunday. Dave Hoover and family visited R. C. Hoover Sunday. The new building at the lodge is being rapidly completed by a force of hands under the direction of the efficient general manager, R. J. Wood. The five-days-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce died Wednesday, April 4, and buried the following day at Walter's Grove Baptist church. Mrs. Adelaide Cody, widow of S. A. Cody, died at her home Saturday, April 7, and was buried the following day at Walter's Grove Baptist church. Funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Howard Hunt. Mrs. Cody had been a faithful member of the church since early life. She leaves four children, several grandchildren and a host of friends.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary C. W. Cranfords Tuesday

In celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cranford entertained a large number of friends and relatives on Tuesday afternoon and evening. The Cranford home, on Miller street, was decorated for the occasion with yellow spring flowers. In the dining room, where refreshments were served informally during the receiving hours, the central table decoration was a large old-time gold cake with the dates 1884-1934. Friends brought and sent many gifts for this occasion as tokens of regard for Mr. and Mrs. Cranford, both natives of this county. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cranford were born and reared in Concord township. Mrs. Cranford was the former Miss Fannie Monroe. One son, Wade Cranford lives in Nebraska. Rev. W. R. Phillips, a retired missionary from Jamaica, and new pastor of Rameur Holman church, will hold a missionary service at Staley, Sunday afternoon, April 15th, at 2:30 o'clock.

Out For Congress

George Ross Pou (above) has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fourth District of which Randolph is a part. Mr. Pou has resigned as executive director of the state department of highways and public works to make the race. He is the son of the late Congressman Edw. W. Pou, who served the district for 33 years and was one of the most powerful members of that body. Mr. Pou is well known in Randolph county.

Mrs. Blanche Cox Died Monday At Local Hospital

Death Came Following An Illness Of Three Weeks; Funeral Held On Tuesday.

James Henson Dead

Prominent Staley Farmer And Saw Mill Man Succumbs To Injuries Received.

Mrs. Blanche Steed Cox, 34, died at the Randolph Hospital, Inc., early Monday morning, after an illness of three weeks. She was the daughter of the late C. W. Steed, familiarly known as "Duncan" Steed. Mrs. Cox had been a life long resident of Asheboro, and was a kind neighbor and friend. She is survived by her husband, Casper Cox, and two children, Mary Rachel and Gordon; also by the following brothers and sisters, all of Asheboro: Carl, Frank, Louette, Fletcher, Everett, Pauline, Hal and Clyde Steed. The funeral service was conducted at the local Friends church by the pastor, Rev. H. A. Parker, Tuesday at 3 p. m., after which burial followed in the Charlotte cemetery four miles west of Asheboro.

James M. Henson

James M. Henson, 62, of Staley, was fatally injured Tuesday morning while driving a truck. The accident occurred in Alamance county, and details are lacking except that for some reason he lost control of the machine and it turned over. He was taken to a Burlington hospital, but died about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. He leaves his widow, who was Miss Mary York; two daughters, Mrs. Emma Edwards and Mrs. Ruth Lane, Staley, R. F. D., one son, Grady Henson, Asheboro; one brother, Charlie Henson, Siler City; and two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Cox and Miss Maggie Henson, Coleridge. Funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Shady Grove Baptist church with Rev. T. F. Andrew and Rev. Jimmie Edwards in charge. Mr. Henson was a substantial farmer and saw mill operator.

Leander C. Elliott

Leander C. Elliott, 69, died at his home in Thomasville Monday morning from blood poisoning. He was born and reared in Concord township, Randolph county, and was a substantial farmer. He was at one time, a member of the board of commissioners of Randolph county. Mr. Elliott moved to Thomasville around fifteen years ago. He is survived by his wife, three sons: E. W. Elliott, High Point; Austin L. and Baxter Elliott, of Thomasville; three daughters, Mrs. Woody Nifong, Midway; Mrs. George Kivett, Waynesboro, Va., and Mrs. J. V. Leak, of Charlotte; a sister, Mrs. Orisido Hill, of Handy. Funeral service was held at Main Street Methodist church, Thomasville, yesterday morning, by the pastor, Dr. Dwight Ware, assisted by G. O. Ritchie, pastor of Grace Lutheran church. Interment followed at Farmer, Randolph county.

Mrs. Amanda Campbell

Mrs. Amanda Campbell, 69, died suddenly, early Sunday morning at her home on Liberty, R. F. D. She was in a chair in her bed room. Mrs. Campbell is survived by three sons, Bunn C. of Greensboro; A. A. of Siler City, E. F. D., and William D., of the United States navy; a daughter, Mrs. F. C. Williams, of Memphis, Ark. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Rocky River Friends church.

Confederate Veteran Pays Courier Call On Visit To City

There are many loyal friends who make it a point to call in person at The Courier office and pay their subscription, visit, give news and for other reasons, but an unusually interesting visitor of the week was J. W. Howell, of Randleman. Mr. Howell, aged 97, came in to pay his subscription while in Asheboro on other business one day last week. Mr. Howell, a Confederate veteran, does not live in the past despite the fact that he knows and tell many interesting experiences of the war days. In the course of the conversation, Mr. Howell stated that he planted his garden Tuesday. Beets, beans, cabbage, onions and tomatoes were all planted by this active gentleman who does the work with his own hands and takes pride in watching his vegetables grow. During the winter Mr. Howell suffered from several colds which put him to bed for a few days at a time, but he has completely recovered in health and spirits and is in his usual good health—bright, happy and interested in the events of the day going on around him.

Legion Members To Attend Gathering At Southern Pines

Legionnaires and members of the Auxiliary of Asheboro and Randolph county are expecting to attend in large numbers the Spring Blossom Festival at Southern Pines next Friday, April 13th.

Friday is American Legion and Military Day and is the grand closing of the week's festival. The meeting of the 12th District composed of Wadesboro, Hamlet, Cuthage, Troy, Hemp and Asheboro will hold a meeting there this date which will consume the entire day which begins in the morning with a band concert featuring in the afternoon a parade; drum and bugle corps contest, and ending at night with the Queen's Festival Ball. Tom C. Daniels, State Commander, Bryce P. Beard, Past Commander and the commanding officer of Fort Bragg will speak to the Legionnaires on this occasion.

Coleridge Epworth League To Present Play On April 14th

The Coleridge Epworth League will present a play "Closed Lips" on Saturday evening, April 14th, at 8:00 o'clock in the school auditorium. The play, an interesting drama, has been in process of rehearsal for sometime and promises to be an outstanding performance. The scene is laid in a small city on the Atlantic coast.

The cast of characters follows: Mrs. Radcliff, Faye Caviness; Terry Radcliff, Hazel Goodman; Mammy Jinny, Allene Caviness; Pat Stone, Alma Martin; Willie Stone, Lacy Poole; Jeff, Bud Poole; Star Bliven, Marie Brady; Bart Clay, Ray Moffitt; Matthew Radcliff, Colvin Poole; John Clay, Clifton Poole. The public is cordially invited to attend this performance, have a pleasant entertainment and help the Epworth League with the small admission fee charged.

National Guard Company Makes Splendid Showing

Local Headquarters Unit Was Inspected Tuesday Night By Regular Army Captain.

Praises Its Work Found Decided Improvement Since Last Year, And Company Efficiently Trained.

The annual Federal inspection of the local National Guard unit, Headquarters Company, Third Battalion, 120th Infantry, was held in the armory in Asheboro Tuesday night, with Capt. Woodward of the U. S. army, making the inspection. So well was the program of inspection carried out that in an hour and a half it was completed. First Lieutenant Roy Cox, in command of the company, directed the inspection, which disclosed from the first formation until the company was dismissed from duty. Non-commissioned officer put their squads through various movements of manual of arms, close and extended order, while individual soldiers explained movements, first aid and the like.

Following this preliminary program, the company demonstrated its duties as a communications unit in the regiment. Second Lieutenant Vance Kivett directed establishment of battalion command post, ably assisted by his specialist non-commissioned officers and well-trained private personnel. Capt. Woodward declared that the company made a much better showing than last year, though last year's inspection was as good as could be expected or asked for. Basic training and the training of the individual soldier were singled out for especial commendation by the inspecting officer, though he found no fault with any part of the demonstration. The communications platoon also had shown decided improvement over last year. Quite a number of visitors were present for the inspection which afforded an opportunity for the townspeople to observe the training and work of the local company. Due to the fact that its personnel in recent weeks to the Civilian Conservation Corps, and that two months prior to the inspection no new enlistments were accepted, there are a few vacancies in the unit. These will be filled by May 7th, or sixty days before summer encampment.

Farmer Students Sell Plants For Expenses At Camp

Raleigh, April 9.—Vocational agriculture students at Farmer high school under the direction of their teacher, L. L. Ray, have sown cabbage and tomato seed so as to help pay for a camping trip this summer from the proceeds of the sale of the plants. The students have also made many improvements on the school grounds. They have painted the posts, sown grass seed, and erected barriers to protect the growing grass. The annual Father-Son banquet was held during March, with about one hundred persons present. The affair was given by members of the Vocational organization of students of Vocational agriculture, and was very successful.

Two Million Jobs

How would you like to help provide the nation with two million jobs—and all the spending power that goes with them? You'd like it, of course. And the way you can do it is by repairing and building—no matter how small the amount spent or how large. In normal times construction employs well over a million men in the actual work of building. The industries providing supplies and materials supply a million more. And home-building, which has almost disappeared, accounts for 50 per cent of the entire construction industry. If you build or repair now it means that you are doing your bit toward recovery—and obtaining something valuable for much less than it will cost in the future.

Junior Class To Give Reception For Senior Class

At The Armory Hall In Asheboro On Friday, April 13th; Also The Faculty.

Change Mail Service City Carrier Delivery Service Twice Daily Now Instead Of Three Times A Day.

The annual junior-senior reception of the Asheboro high school will be given in the armory hall, Friday evening, April 13. The members of the Junior class will be hosts and hostesses to the members of the Senior class and their mascots, the high school faculty, and the grade mothers of the two classes. In accordance with plans of last year, which proved most satisfactory the juniors are giving a reception, instead of a banquet in honor of the seniors. The party last year was pronounced just as enjoyable and much less expensive than a banquet would have been. Faculty advisors for the affair are Misses Elda Clarke and Mabel Robertson, of the high school. Under their direction, the work is carried out by various committees of the Junior class, headed by Sidney Truesdale, president of the class.

Change City Delivery City mail carrier service in Asheboro has been curtailed, as it has elsewhere in the country. Instead of two carrier deliveries in the residential section of the city each day and three in the business section, there are now only one delivery service daily in the residential section and in the business section. The first delivery begins at 9 a. m. This is for both business and residential sections. The second is in the afternoon and is for the business section only.

Delivers Prisoners

Sheriff C. E. King and Deputy Sheriff Ben Morgan went to Raleigh Monday, taking with them to State Prison, Kirby McIver, negro, to serve two years for killing Will Cranford, and Glenn Hughes to serve three years for killing William Hutson. Both Hughes and McIver were tried, convicted and sentenced at the criminal term Superior Court in Asheboro last week.

List Takers Meet

List takers for the several townships in the county were in Asheboro Monday for supplies and instruction as to their duties. List taking has begun in most parts of the county and must be completed during April. Property owners are urged by the list takers and county accountant to meet the list takers at the places nearest them and to list early so as to avoid the rush. The list taker in Asheboro township, Fred M. Kearns, may be found in the commissioners room in the court house. Property owned as of April first is to be listed.

Honored At College

Herman Stevens and Waldo C. Cheek, of Asheboro, were nominated by the student body of Wake Forest College for the office of president and business manager for Old Gold and Black college magazine of the class of 1934-35. Elections will be held today and much interest is shown in the election. Both of the local candidates have opponents.

Select Managers

"Rube" Eldridge, veteran baseball player and better known as "The Duke of Spero," has been selected manager of the Bossong Hosiery Mill team for the coming season. Marvin "Bud" Scarborough, of Mt. Gilead, member of the Troy team last season, will manage the McCrary Hosiery Mill team. Both managers are confident of putting out excellent teams this season.

Elected Moderator

At the meeting of the Orange Presbytery, held this week in historic Buffalo church near Sanford, Dr. Cothran G. Smith, of Asheboro was elected moderator. Sixty-nine churches are combined in the Orange presbytery with representation from practically all the churches. The session was slated to close on Wednesday evening after a most interesting and helpful session.

Leave For Home

Mrs. William Gussett and daughter, Miss Bessie Kivett, left Wednesday night for their home in Weeping Water, Nebraska, after a four week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kivett in Asheboro and other relatives in Liberty. This is Mrs. Gussett's first visit to North Carolina. She has been twice married, the first time to Tom Kivett, of Liberty, who was a brother of J. H. Kivett, of Asheboro.

Pay Taxes Now

Those taxpayers who are delinquent with their 1933 taxes, both county and Asheboro city, are urged to pay during this month so as to avoid advertising, added costs and penalty. Those who made payments on their 1933 taxes, but have failed to pay them in full should pay up the balance so as to avoid advertising costs. The city will advertise property for sale early next month and sell the first Monday in June.

Seeks Pou's Seat

Harold D. Cooley (above), of Nash county, prominent attorney and outstanding political leader in his section of the state, as well as one of the finest speakers in the state, has announced his candidacy for Congress from the Fourth District of which Randolph is a part. Mr. Cooley aspires to succeed the late Congressman Edw. W. Pou. The Nash county candidate spoke in Randolph county during the last campaign and is known to many Randolphians.

Friends Church To Celebrate Its 19th Anniversary

Celebration Will Be Held Sunday In Asheboro Friends Church; All-Day Affair.

Home Coming Also Rev. Joseph Peele And Rev. Lewis McFarland To Be Speakers On Occasion.

A special invitation has been given to all former pastors of the Asheboro Friends church in Asheboro to attend the 19th anniversary of the establishment of the Friends congregation in Asheboro. The celebration will be held on Sunday at the church with the present pastor, Rev. H. A. Parker, in charge of the day's services. The celebration will be an all-day affair with dinner on the grounds at noon, taking the form of a real home-coming.

At the morning service, Rev. Joseph Peele, of Guilford College, will preach the sermon. This will be followed by the lunch. In the afternoon service, former pastors of the church will be heard and a history of the church will be given by a charter member of the church. The all-day service will be concluded with a sermon in the evening by the Rev. Lewis W. McFarland, of High Point. This service and celebration promises to be a great day in the history of the Friends church in Asheboro. The Friends, or Quakers, of Randolph county date back in history as one of the oldest, if not the oldest religious denomination active in Randolph county. The history of the beginnings of their religion and churches at various places in the county have become nationally known and have attracted wide interest. Nearby Asheboro is a very old Quaker grave yard where the ancestors of the former President, Herbert Hoover, are buried. The cemetery has been put in shape in recent years and has added a modern interest to the early history of the church.

Junior Class Play Nets Goodly Sum For School Work

Members of the Junior class of the local high school, coached by J. J. Sanderson and E. A. Habel, of the faculty, gave "The Arrival of Kitty," a three-act comedy, by Swartout, to a crowded auditorium last Friday evening. The play was highly amusing and well rendered. Net proceeds amounted to $54.15. This money, as well as the proceeds of the Senior class play given a few weeks ago will be used for school projects. The young people taking parts in the play were as follows: Walter Bunch, Jr., Sidney Truesdale, Bill Presnell, James Lane, Catherine Cranford, Blanche Clayton Allred, Nell Allred, and Eugenia Tysor.

BROWER'S LADIES AID HOLDS GOOD MEETING

The members of Brower's Ladies Aid Circle met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. Pugh on the Franklinville road. Miss Effie Brown, president of the organization, was in charge of the meeting which was composed chiefly of routine business. Dues were paid and various plans made for future work of the ladies. Mrs. C. R. Wingham, called the roll and Mrs. C. L. Wingham, as treasurer, collected the dues. Miss Effie Brown had charge of the program. Devotions were followed by memory verses and selected readings. The next meeting will be held on May 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Walter Stryes. Refreshments followed the business session.

Road Terms Are Given Offenders Past Court Term

Glenn Hughes, Kirby McIver, And Several Others Are Sentenced To The Roads.

Heavy Docket Left Only 36 Of The Nearly 170 Cases On Docket Tried; Grand Jury Makes Its Report.

Randolph Superior Court for the trial of cases on the criminal docket closed Friday afternoon, after having disposed of 36 cases on the docket comprising approximately 170 actions.

Glenn Hughes, convicted of second degree murder for the killing of William C. Hudson, was sentenced to serve three years on the roads and remanded to state prison camp. Kirby McIver, colored, was sentenced to serve two years, following conviction on charge of manslaughter for killing Will Cranford.

D. I. Russ was sentenced to serve 12 months on the roads for forgery. Roy Cox, charged with assault on a female with attempt to commit rape, was sentenced to serve eight months on the roads.

John Gray was sentenced to the roads for 12 months on charge of receiving stolen goods of more than $200 value, knowing same to have been stolen.

W. M. Bostian was sentenced to serve 12 months on the roads for reckless and careless driving. Floyd Talbert was sentenced to serve four months on the roads following conviction.

James Allred was sentenced to serve 60 days on the roads for possession and transportation of liquor. Arnold Ward, convicted of driving a car while drunk, was sentenced to serve 90 days on the roads.

Nathan Pike was given six months for assault. Robert Shepherd, convicted of forgery, was sentenced to serve six months for assault.

David Perrell, convicted of having robbed Bean's service station near Seagrave April 2, was sentenced to the roads for six months. Bud Booth was given 18 months on the roads and John Gibson two years, after conviction on charge of breaking and entering Marley Brothers store at Bamsour. Gibson is already serving time for a previous offense in Guilford county.

True bills were returned by the grand jury against Ernest Baldwin for manslaughter and driving a car while drunk, but the case was postponed for lack of time for trial. A true bill was returned by the grand jury against Albert Vickery for murder in the killing of Ed Green in Level Cross township, but the case was continued.

Grand Jury's Report The grand jury, after having finished its business of examining witnesses, made its usual report to the presiding judge. The prison camp was found in excellent condition, 55 colored males and 45 white males being found there. At the county home the grand jury found 14 white males, 15 white females, 7 colored males and 1 colored female. Recommendations were made for minor repairs to the buildings. Inmates were found well treated and cared for.

The county jail was found in good condition. It was occupied at the time by 21 white males, 3 white females, 8 colored males, and 2 white Federal prisoners. The grand jury recommended additional vault space for keeping records in both the Clerk Superior Court and Register of Deeds office.

Winners Announced On Essay Contest At Asheboro School

The annual essay contest, conducted in the graduating class of Asheboro high school, was held last Friday. Twenty-nine of the fifty-six members of the Senior class, who have averaged above 75 on all their high school work, wrote essays on various subjects, the minimum length of the essays being two thousand words. A faculty committee read the essays and selected fourteen, which they considered the best. On Friday the fourteen writers read their essays in the auditorium, before judges, who selected the seven they considered best. The seven winners, with their subjects, are as follows:

Brown Crosland—History and Uses of Electricity.
Rebecca Hedrick—Gold Mining in Randolph County.

Elizabeth Phillips—Nationalities That Have Made North Carolina.
J. B. Taylor—The Property Tax Problem.

Wiley Whitaker—Some Benefits of Literature.
Louise Paul—Indians of North Carolina.

Four or six of these will be memorialized and delivered as orations during the commencement exercises in May. The judges were Mrs. Harvey Cripps, Mrs. J. G. Prevette, and Dr. C. G. Smith.

Members of the Senior class and the faculty express much appreciation to these judges for giving time and painstaking effort to the project.
