Politicians Speak To County Voters Of Both Parties

Congressman R. L. Doughton Addressed Democrats Of County Saturday.

Jonas Friday Eve

Republican Gather To Hear National Committee Give Views Of Politics.

The court room in Asheboro was well filled on Saturday afternoon when Congressman R. L. Doughton spoke to the voters of Randolph county. This representative from the ninth district of North Carolina spoke to the voters of the county as "man to man" and minced no words about the New Deal. He gave definite facts and figures concerning the benefits of the New Deal comparing them with the conditions existing formerly—or the old deal.

Among progressive steps of the new deal he discussed the return of four million people to jobs, reopening of banks under federal supervision and the placing of business on a sound basis.

The speaker cited instances where manufacturers and all kinds of business, as well as labor, was on a sound footing under the present setup.

A farmer himself with the title of "Farmer Bob," Mr. Doughton spoke first hand of the agricultural adjustment legislation, both from the standpoint of his experience as a farmer and in national legislation. The speaker cited the increased prices of farm products and the help the government has given to farmers through farm loans, which are held by the government.

The meeting was presided over by C. C. Cranford, chairman for the county, who introduced J. V. Wilson, Mr. Wilson, in turn, introduced the county candidates. Henry L. Ingram, candidate for the state legislature from Randolph, then introduced Union Spence, from Carthage, a candidate for the state Senate, introduced Mr. Doughton.

Charles Jonas Speaks Friday Eve.

On Friday evening prior to this address, the Republicans of the county gathered full force to hear the Hon. Charles A. Jonas, former Congressman and national committeeman. Mr. Jonas in the beginning stated that there were things higher at stake in the world today than partisan politics, and that he was proud of the Republican party for the spirit of cooperation that they had shown in the past two years. He asserted that his party had never sacrificed the principals of the party for temporary partisan success. He veritably believed that the depression was greatly due to the fact that the democratic leaders in our National Congress under Hoover failed to cooperate, and played petty politics with human misery. He cited the fact that Charles Nicholson, nationally known for his ability as a newspaperman, was employed at a

G. B. Hasty Returns To Cafe Business In Modern Place

G. B. Hasty announced today that his new service station and cafe, located on highway 70, one mile north of Asheboro, at his former place of business, has been reopened for business.

Mr. Hasty, in the cafe business for twenty years, is widely known throughout this section for his cooking ability. His new cafe, equipped with new and modern fixtures in grey and white colors, will serve the old-time barbecue which has helped to establish Mr. Hasty's cooking reputation.

In addition to his tasty sandwiches and home cooked food, Mr. Hasty announces that the establishment will serve beer, and the filling station will handle Shell gas and oils.

Asheboro High School Football Team Starts Off With Good Work

Game Saturday Between Asheboro And Albemarle Promised As Worthwhile

The Asheboro high school football team opened its season Friday, October 5, with a stirring win over Ramseur, 2-0. The game was played at Ramseur on a muddy, rain-soaked field. Both teams played rather shabbily, though Asheboro had a slight edge over the Ramseur boys.

Friday, October 12, saw Asheboro bucking up against Liberty, their old rival, at Lindley Athletic Park. The Asheboro team was slightly improved over the one that met Ramseur. After four quarters of hard playing on both sides, the final score was 0-0. For Asheboro, there were no offensive stars, although Cameron Morgan, tackle, and Baxter Kearns, halfback, stood out for Asheboro. Both boys made some very nice tackles. The outstanding feature of the game was when Asheboro held Liberty on the one yard line.

Asheboro plays Albemarle there next Friday, and it promises to be a hard-fought game. The Asheboro team should be much improved, since they have two games behind them.

Common Sense In Daily Life Is A Necessary Factor

Dr. J. B. Eller, Baptist Evangelist, Uses This Subject At Kiwanis Luncheon

Discusses Education

Scout Work Is Reported By W. S. Long; J. Rufus Hill Is Made New Member

Dr. J. Ben Eller, of Greensboro, who is conducting a revival meeting in the Asheboro Baptist church, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday evening.

Dr. Eller's subject was "Common Sense" and he wove around this subject a number of interesting thoughts helpful to his hearers, relating a number of humorous examples where common sense was not used in daily life. An outstanding example given by Dr. Eller was the need for this practice in our educational system. He said up to five years ago our educational system became so organized that we had supervisors looking after supervisors and supervisors over them in an effort to reach maximum efficiency, but when the crash came, our legislators and others in authority tried to economize on the school system until our educational system is sorely hampered by lack of funds and many of the best teachers are leaving the profession and the training of the children is being left, in many instances, to inexperienced and poorly prepared teachers. Dr. Eller said this will reflect itself in future citizenship.

He outlined how this same practice had been practiced in our general economic system and in politics and cited disastrous results which could easily have been avoided if common sense had been exercised.

Dr. Eller gave another illustration regarding religious practices of the country. How congregations had not looked far enough ahead in their financial programs and how some had organized to such a degree that churches had become social rather than religious organizations.

Dr. Eller closed his talk by congratulating the club on the interest it had taken in Boy Scout work and commended their efforts to the public and expressed the hope that the community generally would lend helpful influence to this movement.

J. Roy Bethune, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who is doing the singing at the Baptist revival, was also guest of the club and led the singing.

J. Rufus Hill was welcomed into the club as a new member. W. S. Long made a report for the Boy Scout award committee. The recommendation that two suits, a scout knife and a scout hatchet be awarded to the four boys making the best general progress in scout work during the next five months was passed.

Author-Preacher Is Passing This Week in And Around Asheboro

Rev. George F. Robertson, well known Presbyterian minister of several southern states, is passing this week in Asheboro. Rev. Mr. Robertson is also an author of no mean repute having written three charming books on Southern themes. His latest book entitled "A Small Boy's Recollection of the Civil War," gives a graphic account of his memories of those hectic days.

The writer-minister was born in Greenville, Tennessee. His father was the editor of the Greenville Democrat and an ardent supporter of Andrew Johnson. He was ordained into the ministry in 1880 and preached in every southern state with the exception of Maryland and West Virginia, holding pastorates in Tennessee, Texas, Kentucky, Georgia and North Carolina.

The book is dedicated to "All Small Boys of the Sixties" and is not only a charming volume but of historical value as well. Rev. Mr. Robertson will remain in town until Saturday.

Presiding Elder Thompson Holds Ramseur Conference

Ramseur, October 16.—Reverend L. D. Thompson, presiding elder of the Greensboro district, preached at Ramseur and held last quarterly conference of the year last Sunday night. A good group of workers met in this conference and assured their district leader that a full report would be rendered at Greensboro ten days hence, when annual conference meets October 24.

Number two circle of Ramseur Baptist women held the regular monthly meeting with Mrs. A. H. Thomas Wednesday afternoon with almost perfect attendance. Mrs. J. C. Ellis presided, the president being absent and conducted the Bible study while Mrs. Johnnie Burgess led the devotions. Others taking part in the program were Mrs. C. E. Baldwin and Mrs. C. E. York. During the social hour the hostess served ice cream and cake.

New Jersey Makes Ready For Hauptmann Drama

Hunterdon county, N. J., is making ready to receive a new "guest" at its county jail. Anticipating favorable action in New York on the request for his extradition, officials of the New Jersey county are awaiting the arrival of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for trial on murder charges in connection with the kidnaping of the Linbergh baby. Top the courthouse at Flemington, the county seat, where the trial will be staged; left, Warden Harry O. McCrea, left, and Sheriff John H. Curtis, standing outside the cell selected for Hauptmann; right, Mrs. Margaret McCrea, wife of the warden, who will do the cooking for Hauptmann. The suspect is shown, center.

Brown Derby Cafe Is New Wrinkle In Eating Houses Here

The Brown Derby, Asheboro's latest wrinkle in modern and up-to-date eating houses, was opened this week in the building formerly occupied by the Bluebird Cafe. Carrying out the idea of the famous Brown Derby cafes on the western coast, Manager Bill Brown crowned his remodeling and re-equipping of the cafe by having a huge derby painted on the western wall of the interior.

Bill Brown announces that the Brown Derby is serving, among other home cooked delectables, open pit barbecue, prepared in the famous southern style, and a plate lunch consisting of a meat and three vegetables for twenty-five cents.

Manager Brown also announces that adequate tables have been arranged for ladies and that curb service is an added feature of the new Brown Derby.

Midnight Fire Alarm Of Minor Nature Irks Asheboro's Populace

Wednesday at midnight "half the town" followed Asheboro's two fire trucks to the Wood Carving plant, south of town to see the sawdust shack behind the plant burn. The fire blazing furiously from this composition looked as if the Wood Carving plant and Hasty's Filling Station and Cafe were all aflame, but the Asheboro fire company and their many helpers succeeded in checking the fire with little serious damage.

Honor Roll Next Week
The honor roll and perfect attendance records for the eleven grades of the Asheboro school were crowded out at the last minute, but all the names are set ready for publication in next week's Courier.

Democrats Active In Randolph As Campaign Warms

Candidates And Visiting Speakers Touching Rural Sections
With Good Reports.

Others To Follow

Hon. Harold Cooley Will Fill
Several Appointments And Get Acquainted.

In addition to the big barbecue and county-wide rally to be held by the Democratic party for the citizens of Randolph county on Saturday, October 27th, a number of speakings will be held at practically every school house in the county. Already several candidates and their friends have spoken to groups and leaders in some of the precincts, but the plan is to have well informed Democratic leaders speak on the issues of the day and of the campaign.

On Tuesday night Hon. J. V. Wilson, of Asheboro, Henry Ingram, former state senator and candidate for the House from this county, and Sam Miller, principal of the Colebridge school, spoke at Mt. Olive school in Brower township to a large group of the leaders of that precinct. They brought back the report that Brower plans to bring in a larger majority for the Democratic ticket this year than last. The leaders in many other townships where the speakers and candidates have made contract with the voters.

A better line-up of speakers than those arranged for the next few days by the Democratic party would be hard to find. Dr. J. T. Burrus, of High Point, is well known and admired by many of the citizens of Randolph county and they will hear him with interest as will be the case of Hon. L. P. McLendon, who is well known by many veterans in Randolph and by politicians for his part in the Ehringhaus gubernatorial campaign. Hon. Elmer Long, state officer, who lives in the neighboring

Five Thousand In October Is Goal Of Local Baptists

"Five thousand dollars in October" is the goal of Dr. Herman Stevens, of the Asheboro Baptist church to raise. This amount is needed for some accounts on the splendid new church building and Dr. Stevens expects to raise the amount without any difficulty. He states that about half the amount is already pledged. Dr. Stevens has devised a splendid payment plan for the pledges which makes it easy for those who are making small salaries. The past record of this energetic minister speaks success for any plan he undertakes. He is also well pleased with the cooperation already displayed by the members of his church.

A revival service has been in progress at this church for the past ten days and is steadily gaining interest daily. According to Dr. Stevens, the meeting will continue through Sunday evening, October 21. Rev. J. B. Eller, of Greensboro, has been assisting in the meeting and his sermons are drawing large crowds each evening. Rev. Mr. Eller is well known in this state as an excellent minister and evangelist. His sermons are practical and interesting as well as spiritual.

Roy Bethune, of Chattanooga, Tenn., is leading the singing of both the junior and senior choirs of the church. The music has been a delightful feature of these services and has played a large part in the spiritual side of the services. Mr. Bethune is a splendid singer and has marked ability as a director as well.

The total number ready for baptism as a result of these revival services is eleven and it is expected that there will be several more names to add to the list before time for the baptism service Sunday evening. This service will be of unusual interest marking the first baptismal service in the new church. It is expected that the church, which has been well filled for the evangelistic services, will be crowded for this occasion which will be the crowning note to the two week's meeting.

Plan For Barbecue And Rally Complete For 27

Ripe Blackberries In October Break Previous Records

Ripe blackberries in October is a bit unusual to most people but not the family of W. H. H. Brown, near Coleridge. A sample of his berries are now in Hadley's Economy Store. The bushes start bearing berries early in the spring and continue until frost in the fall with abundant fruit for pies all season. The berries are said to be wild blackberries but they resemble Himalaya berries or dewberries more than the field variety of berry. R. E. Williams, of Asheboro, a former neighbor of the Brown family brought the sample to Asheboro for inspection and they are creating considerable interest.

Noted Republicans To Be Heard Soon In Rural Section

Republican Campaign Tactics
Call For Speaking At Every Point In County.

Dr. Gregg Active

Hon. Clifford Frazier Among Other Prominent Republicans Who Will Come.

The Republicans of this section will be given the opportunity to hear prominent leaders of their party speak from time to time in various sections of the county between now and election day. The plan of the leaders of this party expect to present the issues of the campaign to their voters in every nook and corner of the county and have some well known party leader within easy reach of all members of their party before time to vote.

Dr. J. D. Gregg, always a favorite speaker in his home county will fill a large number of speaking appointments throughout Randolph during the next two weeks. Hon. Sam J. Morris, Hon. Hobert Brantley, Hon. Clifford Frazier and Hon. Hobert Morton are among the speakers who are already booked for speakings in the county during the coming week.

The speaking advertised for Mountain View school house for last week was cancelled upon request. Charlotte school house will be billed among the speakings of the coming week, by request of the people of that section.

Definite plans have not been completed for a county-wide speaking in Asheboro for next week, but the matter is under advisement and further announcement will be made at a later date.

The speaking engagements for the Republican party in Randolph beginning October 22nd, and for the coming week follow:

October 20th, at Billy McLeod's, Dr. J. D. Gregg.

October 22nd, Archdale school house, Hon. Hobert Morton; Coleridge school house, and Seagrave school house, Dr. J. D. Gregg.

October 23rd, Sophia school house.

October 24th, Tabernacle school house, Dr. J. D. Gregg; Shiloh school house.

October 25th, Balfour school house, Hon. Hobert Brantley; Cedar Falls; Charlotte school house, Dr. J. D. Gregg.

October 26th, Central Falls school house, Hon. Sam J. Morris; Davis Mountain school house; Randleman school house, Hon. Hobert Morton; Liberty school house, Hon. Clifford Frazier.

October 27th, Ramseur school house, Hon. Sam J. Morris.

Candidates And Officials Of Party Meet At Court House For Parade.

Held At Fair Grounds By Young Democrats

No Special Invitation Necessary
—Every Citizen Of County
Invited To Come.

The Young Democratic Club of Randolph county planned a barbecue and old-time rally for all Democrats when the club was reorganized early in the summer. Now the date is set for Saturday, October 27th, and the entire Democratic party of Randolph is cooperating a hundred per cent in the annual of the political records of the county. So enthusiastic have the leaders become as the plans progress and unfold that they are issuing a blanket invitation to every citizen of the county to attend this speaking and barbecue.

Ed Cranford and Frank McCrary have charge of the plans for the barbecue and announce the program for the day as follows: all candidates, precinct chairmen and vice-chairmen and all Democratic election officials are asked to meet at the county court house at 11:00 a. m. and form a parade to go to the fair grounds, cars will be furnished; speakers and others to arrive at fair grounds at 11:20; Larry Hammond, president of Young Democrats, will call meeting to order at 11:30; introduction of candidates, Democratic organization and election officials; talk by Senator Josiah W. Bailey at 11:40; talk by Congressman Harold D. Cooley at 11:55; address by Hon. Clyde Hoey at 12:10; barbecue served by young ladies from all sections of Randolph 1:00 o'clock.

As the program indicates, the principal speech will be by Hon. Clyde Hoey who is well known throughout his home state as a "silver tongued orator." He is a seasoned politician and while he does not at present hold any public office, he has been in close touch with politics of the state and nation for many years and is well posted on all topics political. His version of the situation as it now exists is sane, sensible and of interest and will be presented, as is always the custom of Mr. Hoey, in a charming and individual manner.

No special invitation is necessary for any citizen of Randolph county and those in charge of the plans assure the folks that there will be plenty of barbecue for everybody. This will be a splendid opportunity for those who do not know these speakers and the candidates on the county ticket to come and get acquainted, hear the issues of the day and the campaign discussed, and join in a real old-fashioned Democratic love feast.

Archdale P. T. A. Is Active Organization Backing School Work

In a well attended meeting October 8th in the high school auditorium the Archdale Parent-Teacher's Association adopted for its yearly objective increasing membership to embrace 100 per cent of the parents and teachers of the school.

The club also expressed its willingness to buy all possible equipment needed in making a successful school year for the children. Books and other classroom facilities will be purchased through the efforts of the club.

The faculty of the school expressed in the meeting their delight at the interest the parents are manifesting in the school activities.

School Addition At Bennett Is Now Progressing Well

Other Personal And Community
News Of Week; Benefit
Supper Saturday

Bennett, Oct. 16.—The W. M. U. of the Baptist church will run a lunch supper Saturday evening at Routh Cafe building. The proceeds of the sale will go towards home expenses of the church. The public is cordially invited.

The brick work which is being annexed to the high school building is going along nicely. Five rooms, two large class rooms and three other smaller rooms for a laboratory and toilets are now in process of erection. Many students coming out of Randolph county and good many non-students from both counties will enter as soon as fall crops are gathered.

Rev. T. E. White, Mrs. White, and daughter, Nellie, visited their former home at Sanford from Friday until Monday.

Mr. John Brady and daughter, Ivey, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Murray, visited relatives and friends at Rockingham Sunday.

Large crowds are attending Sunday night prayer meeting at the Baptist church which are being conducted by the young people. Miss Blanche Shields will conduct the services next Sunday night followed by four other young people.

Randolph county had twenty foreign citizens in 1930.
