Asheboro Baptist Church
H. T. Stevens, Pastor.
Last Sunday in spite of the cold weather there were 219 in Sunday school. We are aiming at 250 next Sunday. The pastor's topics for Sunday, February 3rd, will be "And It Came To Pass," and "The Wife That Interceded." All services at regular hours.

Methodist Protestant Church
Young People's Day will be observed at the Methodist Protestant church next Sunday. The denominational program, provided by Rev. F. L. Gibbs, Director of Young People's Work, will be used throughout the day. The general theme of the program is "Building a Christian World."

The Sunday school will begin with this program promptly at 9:45 a. m. Superintendent Earl C. Bulla has arranged for all departments of the school to meet in the main auditorium of the church at that hour instead of going directly to their various rooms, as usual. This program will consist of song, responsive reading, and an address by one of the young ladies of the school. Her subject will be, "What Contribution Can Our Sunday School Make Toward Building a Christian World?" After this program, which will last thirty minutes, the school will be dismissed for the study of the lesson in the various departments.

Rev. N. M. Harrison, promotional secretary of High Point College, will be the speaker at the eleven o'clock hour. Rev. Mr. Harrison is constantly making contacts with young people, and is giving his full time and efforts to understanding their problems and to help them prepare for life's work. He is well qualified to speak on this occasion. The Young People's Day program of worship will be followed in this service.

The day will close with an interesting program which features a play entitled, "This War." The play portrays the revolt of a young man against the military program of the world. The cast is made up of talent of the local church, with Mrs. Thomas Redding director. The play promises to be interesting, pleasing, and convincing.

The spirit and purpose of Young People's Day will be further emphasized in a good Christian Endeavor program at 6 p. m.

To all of these services the public is most cordially invited.
