

5,021 People Welcome You to Asheboro, "Center of North Carolina"

THE COURIER

Most People in Asheboro and Randolph County Read The COURIER—It Leads

SUED WEEKLY
LUME LIX

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

ASHEBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1935.

$2.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE
NUMBER 11.

Randolph Advisory Board Announced By Mrs. Drake

Members Represent Several Sections Of County Who Will Meet Monthly.

Sewing Room Opened In Two County Towns

Mules And Mares Distributed To Families; Commodities Dispensed To Poor.

Mrs. Drake, in charge of the case workers of Randolph county, has this week made several interesting statements for the press and for the information of the people of Randolph county. Possibly the most interesting announcement among the items is the naming of the advisory board which represents several sections of the county. The members are: C. C. Cranford, Asheboro; H. L. Ragan, Archdale; Ernest Kearns, Asheboro route two; Dr. C. D. Kistler, Randleman; Herman Cranford, Asheboro and Russell Parks, also of Asheboro. An additional member will be added to this board soon.

The purpose of the board is to act as an intermediary between the office and the community. This plan will enable the workers to better obtain and serve the community's needs. One member from this board will be chosen to represent Randolph county on a district board which will be composed of representatives from all three counties in this district. The district, as has been previously stated, is composed of Randolph, Rockingham and Guilford counties.

The board held the first meeting at Mrs. Drake's office on Friday with a good attendance of the members present. It was decided that the time of meeting be set for the fourth Friday in each month. At the next session of the board, the district representative will be named and other items of business disposed of by the members.

Another matter of interest to the Randolph citizens is the opening of a sewing room in Randleman recently. Mrs. Ralph B. Russell is head seamstress with ten women employed in the work room. Mrs. Grady Ridge is head seamstress in charge of the Asheboro sewing room with thirteen other women employed. There is a plan on foot at present to open another sewing room in the county as soon as it is possible to do so, but further announcement will be made concerning this matter at a later date.

The number of mares and mules distributed among relief families in Randolph during the year 1934 and to the present date are 33 mules and eight mares. The plan for the distribution of these animals is to further aid families who have been receiving relief funds to "get on their feet." The direct object of aid is toward helping these families to the place they can care for themselves and become independent.

It is now possible for Mrs. Drake's office to dispense some commodities to the county welfare director, R. T. Lloyd. Canned milk, hamburger, soup stock and other canned goods, including a half barrel of krait, mutton and beef are among the items listed. This will materially aid the county work that was unloaded 75 destitute families on the county with no provision for their support. This work will necessarily be placed in the county budget later but, at the present, there is no provision for financing this work.

New Race Track To Be Opened Saturday By Gov. Ehringhaus

Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus of North Carolina is expected to christen the new $50,000 steeplechase racing course midway between Pinehurst and Southern Pines at its inaugural meeting this Saturday afternoon, March 16th. Three races are scheduled, one over timber and two over brush jumps, with some of the fastest steeplechase horses in the country entered. There will be no charge to the public for admission, and a large crowd from all parts of the state is expected.

The first race is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, two miles over twelve brush fences, and among the entries are Richard K. Mellen's The Stag, Mrs. T. H. Somerville's Navarino, the fleet Huntsman, owned by Carleton H. Palmer of New York, Aughrim Boy, entered by Mrs. J. E. Ryan of Camden, S. C., and Lough Rose, owned by William Woodward of Camden and New York.

This will be the first major race meeting of its kind in North Carolina and great interest has developed throughout the section in the introduction of steeplechasing here. Prominent sportsmen from all parts of the country are gathered here this week, and officials for the meeting Saturday include leading men in the horse racing and hunting world.

Hunter trials will be held on the morning of race day, on a course laid out inside the race course, and some of the finest horses in the two Carolinas are entered in these events which are also open to the public without charge.

Entertainment at Ralston
There will be an entertainment given at Ralston school house on Saturday night, March 16th, and on Sunday night, March 17th.

Whitaker - Lovett Bible Class Has Contest - Banquet

Climaxing a membership drive contest, the Whitaker-Lovett Bible class of the Methodist Protestant church, met at the church Saturday evening for a banquet.

The class had been divided into two divisions in the contest with Henry Rich as head of one and Coy Linden the other group leader. The Linden side enlisted the largest number of new members and were guests at the banquet by Henry Rich and his losers.

Speakers were Dr. N. G. Bethea and Dr. S. W. Taylor. Music was furnished by the Bulla and Holt quartets.

The class has a record that it can well be proud of with a membership of 126 is steadily growing.

Eighth District To Hold Medical Meet Asheboro, In April

Ten Counties To Be Represented In More Than Two Hundred Members And Visitors.

Speaker Named
Dr. W. L. Lambert, Dr. J. T. Barnes, Dr. J. H. Soady, Are Officers.

On Tuesday, April 9th, doctors from the eighth district, composed of ten counties from Randolph to Ashe, will gather in Asheboro for the first district meeting of this group to be held in this county. The meeting will begin in the afternoon and will continue through the evening.

The afternoon session will be held at the Capitol Theatre which has been loaned for the occasion by the manager, Francis White, with the dinner meeting held in the dining room of the First Methodist church. About two hundred doctors are expected to be in attendance at this meeting and extensive preparations have been made for the event. Already speakers have been secured to represent many interesting and important phases of the medical work. Among the speakers are: Dr. B. Rhudy, of Greensboro; Dr. Fred R. Taylor, diagnostician and psychiatrist, of High Point; Dr. Bayard Carter, professor of obstetrics and gynecology, of Duke University hospital; Dr. Fred M. Patterson, of Greensboro; Dr. George W. Holmes, Winston-Salem.

The dinner speaker will be Dr. James K. Hall, of Westbrook's sanitarium, Richmond, Va. The dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock and the wives of the doctors and other visitors will be in attendance. Entertainment by local talent will be given at this part of the meeting also during the afternoon program. Special entertainment will be provided by the Asheboro ladies for the wives of the physicians who attend with the doctors.

The officers of the organization are all from Asheboro and are working hard to make this the most interesting program in the history of the organization. Dr. W. L. Lambert, heads the group, as president with Dr. J. T. Barnes vice president. Dr. J. H. Soady is the active secretary and is arranging the many details for the meeting. Many of the other doctors in Asheboro and at other places in Randolph county are manifesting considerable interest in this event which will bring eminent men of the profession into the county for this one-day meeting.

Mr. Graves Visits
T. S. Graves, of Greensboro, was among the visitors in Asheboro Thursday of the past week. While in town Mr. Graves called at The Courier office. He has been a subscriber to The Courier for more than fifty years and says he can't get along without it.

People's Building & Loan Opens 26th Series Friday

As the People's Building and Loan Association opens the twenty-sixth series on Friday, March 15th with the largest number of participants recorded in the organization, numerous items of interest concerning this organization pass in review. The matter of the officers of the organization is a bit unusual in that the president, W. J. Armfield, Jr., was made head of the organization when it was formed in September 1904 and has remained constantly in office to the present date. Only two vice-presidents have named the organization, the late P. H. Morris who was replaced with D. B. McCrary who holds the office at present.

The former secretaries of the business also carry some interesting names the first one being the late W. J. Simpson, who moved from Greensboro to Raleigh, and the second, J. L. Raleigh, who moved from Greensboro to Raleigh.

ed by the late B. F. Newby. W. A. Bunch succeeded Mr. Newby in January 1918 and is now serving his eighteenth year as secretary-treasurer of the business.

Town Of Ramseur In Urgent Need Of Additional Houses

Many Ramseur People Attend Funeral Service For J. C. Stout On Sunday.

Social Happenings

Carl Caveness, Accompanied By Dr. Johnson, Goes To Baltimore Hospital.

Ramseur, March 11.—Almost every day requests for rent are made in Ramseur, a number the past month. There is plenty of land, but not enough houses here. Several couples are now living in crowded quarters with other families because they cannot find a house for rent. We are glad folks want to move to Ramseur and are sorry we don't have enough homes to receive them.

If some one would invest some money in small homes for rent in Ramseur it would relieve a situation that is against the progress of the town now, and would be a paying investment too.

The Elder-Headen filling station is fast approaching completion it appears. The structure is a handsome one and is well arranged for this kind of business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cox, of Greensboro visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Webster Saturday.

Miss Dorothy Dixon has accepted work at Mooresville.

Mrs. W. B. Dowell and children, of Wilmington, are spending some time here with Mrs. Dowell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown visited J. C. Luther, at Wesley Long hospital Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Brower, of Asheboro, visited friends here Sunday.

Dr. J. R. Johnson left Thursday night for Baltimore, accompanying Carl Caveness for hospital treatment. We hope Mr. Caveness will soon recover and return home.

Rev. R. S. Truesdale, of Asheboro, spent last Thursday and Friday nights with Rev. J. M. Barber and family. They spent Friday at Duke University, returning to Ramseur Friday night.

A number of Ramseur people attended the funeral of J. C. Stout at Parkers Cross Roads Sunday afternoon. Mr. Stout was a highly respected citizen of the community and had many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Misener, of Durham, were visitors at D. A. Kivett's Sunday.

Messrs. E. R. Baldwin and Thos. Graves, of Greensboro, spent a short while in town last week.

V. C. Marley and R. M. Vestal went to Greensboro Wednesday. Mr. Vestal remained to spend sometime with his brother, O. E. Vestal who is engaged in the hotel business there.

Geo. Penny and Mr. Thomas of High Point, spent a short while in town on business last week.

Mrs. W. M. Burgess was hostess to the Missionary Society of the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon. The devotional was led by the president, Mrs. G. F. Lane. Miss Berta Ellison had charge of the program. She made a very impressive talk on some notes from the diary of a missionary and closed by reading a beautiful poem; "God's Days," also leading the closing prayer. Business matters were attended after which

(Please turn to page 3)

Fiddler's Convention

A fiddler's convention will be held at Gray's chapel in the school auditorium, Saturday, March 23rd, at 8 o'clock. R. P. Smith is in charge. All musicians are invited to come and take part.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Sponsors Play

Friday night, March 15th, the Junior Order will sponsor, at the school auditorium, a play called, "Murdered Alive." It is presented by the Glenwood Operatic club and has twelve in the troupe who have appeared with success at various communities throughout Guilford county. The time is 7:30 and every-one is invited.

Hunters To Meet In Asheboro For Big Sport Event

Several Thousand Followers Of The Sport Are Expected To Attend.

To Hold Bench Show

Will Feature Many National Fox Dog Champions; Field Trials Come First.

Asheboro has been definitely chosen by the North Carolina Fox Hunters Association as the place for their annual field trials to be held the entire week of September 16th. The board of directors of the association, in a meeting at Concord Wednesday evening, which was attended by six interested Randolphians, chose Asheboro out of many towns who were bidding for the meet. Jess Garner, who is very prominent in fox hunting circles, has for many years been a director of the association and recently two more Asheboro men, J. D. Ross and C. C. Cranford, have been made directors.

Around two thousand visitors are expected to attend and many dogs and horses will be brought here. Definite quartering provisions have not yet been made though it is expected that many citizens will open their homes to the hunters and their following. Many are expected to tent at the fairgrounds where lights and water are available.

Highlights of the meet are the business meeting, the field trials and the bench show, which is to be held in the exhibit hall at the fairground under national rules. It will be held Thursday of the week and no admission will be charged. Many of the best fox dogs in America will be shown. Will Rogers' trig stud hound, owned by Oak Forest Kennels, Laurens, S. C., the 1934 field and bench champion of South Carolina will be entered.

North Carolina State champion, Gay Lou, owned by S. L. Woodrigger, of Versailles, Ky., will be also entered. Gay Lou is also a national champion and her owner is the publisher of The Chase, a nationally famous magazine for fox hunters.

This meeting is one of the biggest sporting events in the south, ranking next to the dog show and the horse show. It is held behind the national entry. Delegates from Ohio, Kentucky, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Alabama, Georgia, Indiana, and Florida have made known their intentions to attend.

After the bench show on Thursday the annual business session will take place on Friday.

Officials of the N. C. fox hunters are: C. Homer Richie, of Concord, president, R. J. Ballard, of Greensboro, vice-president, and Frank Reece, of Taylorsville, secretary and treasurer.

Henry Jones Returns

Henry Jones has returned from a tour of the eight Jones stores scattered over North Carolina, chiefly in the Piedmont Section. Mr. Jones, who is general manager of the eight stores, has been arranging for the spring opening and showing of goods which he and the local managers purchased on a recent trip to northern markets. The Jones stores are located at Mebane, Madison, Thomasville, Siler City, Carthage, Liberty and two in Asheboro. The date set for the openings is Friday, March 15th with extensive preparations in each of the stores.

Words that give warning of death: "Stop, look and listen," and "It isn't loaded."

The Washington SPOT-LIGHT

By PEGGY ALBION

On Sunday afternoon, the President and his family went to Washington Cathedral and heard Bishop Freeman preach a sermon of hope. "The greatest of all leaders, certainly in the history of our nation, have been of the hopeful kind," declared Bishop Freeman. No one doubted to whom he referred.

Grayer about the temples, but well and vigorous, this man of warm, confident words and vigorous actions starts on the third year of his administration with the same smiling good humor and the same boundless enthusiasm he brought to his stupendous tasks in 1933.

The President was accompanied by his mother, his wife, and his little granddaughter. A close-up of he sat at the service, reveals him serene, confident, unmoved by pending battles.

But can he clear the air of the grim forebodings which hang over the Capital? The battle lines are many and threatening. The Democrats divided—the Republicans aggressively and adroitly manipulating their minority—Labor and Capital fighting each other and each in turn fighting the program of the Administration. Powers, interests trying to influence the President's decisions. The President's own cabinet is a hotbed of financial organizations.

(Please turn to page 7)

Franklinville To Sponsor Fiddlers And Others, 16th

Local P.-T. A. Will Benefit From Proceeds Of Musical Entertainment Saturday

Social Happenings

Pleasant Ridge Church Will Have All-Day Session Preaching And Music Sunday.

Franklinville, March 11.—An old time Fiddlers convention will be held in Franklinville school auditorium, Saturday evening, March 16th at 8 o'clock, sponsored by the P.-T. A. An interesting program will be given, consisting of string bands, single instruments, quartet singing and dancing. Several dollars will be given in prizes. Everybody is invited to come and hear the music.

Mesdames B. C. Jones, A. V. Jones, Haywood Parks, J. T. Buie, Roy Davis, R. D. Garrison, Peter Alfred, D. M. Weatherly, W. J. Moffitt, Mrs. Fannie Russell and Mrs. Mattie Buie attended the zone meeting of the Woman's missionary society, Greensboro district, at the First M. E. church, Asheboro on Tuesday of last week.

Worth Craven has resigned his position with Faithrock Filling Station and Grocery store and has accepted a position with the Central Falls Mfg. Co., Central Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Weatherly motored to Sanford Friday.

Mrs. Lottie Husband and Miss Katherine Julian were visitors in Greensboro Friday.

The woman's missionary society of the M. E. church, met at the home of Mrs. B. C. Jones on Friday night. A children's society will be organized in the near future as an auxiliary to this group. After the business part of meeting, the hostess served sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Fannie Russell was the guest of Mrs. Kittie Parks of Asheboro, a few days last week.

Mrs. W. W. Wilson and Miss Mary Wilson were visitors in Raleigh, Saturday.

Miss Elizabeth Fox, one of the faculty of Eli Whitney high school, Alamance county, was the week end guest of Misses Nettie and Esther Meun.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wrenn and daughter, Miss Vivian, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Comer, were visitors, Sunday, in Asheboro and Salisbury.

Thomas J. Taylor, 59, Passes In Lexington After Long Illness

Rev. S. W. Taylor, pastor of the Asheboro Methodist Protestant church was notified of the death of his brother, Thomas J. Taylor, 59, of Lexington, on Sunday. The deceased passed away following a somewhat prolonged illness. Before his death Mr. Taylor was a department store president in Lexington and was prominent in the business, religious and social circles of that city.

The funeral was held at the Taylor residence in Lexington at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday and interment immediately followed. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mayme Taylor; his mother, Mrs. John Taylor, of Yadkin College; four brothers, Dr. Sam W. Taylor, of Asheboro, who is the former president of the North Carolina Methodist Protestant conference; James Taylor, of Ilma, and Charles and William Taylor, of Advance, and a sister, Miss Sallie Taylor, of Yadkin College.

Sanitary Project For The County Now Approved

Randolph county officers have this week received word from Raleigh that their sanitary project has been approved which means that work of this nature will be started in earnest at an early date. The project includes approximately 2,500 privies which will be built by ERA labor with the cost of materials paid by the property owner.

It is the hope of Dr. Gregg, county health officer, and J. H. Wylie, sanitary inspector for the county, that the program will be well under way by the first of April with several groups of workers in various sections of the county. Already plans are well under way for the work to start at Randleman, according to the officers in charge of plans.

When Dr. Gregg assumed the position as acting health officer for the county some months ago, he stated that the sanitary conditions of the county should be considered first among the needs and he has pushed this idea with the above result. Dr. Gregg stated in an article some time ago that proper sanitation was the foundation for public health work and the success of his plans lay greatly in sanitary foundations. This, he stated to be true of communities and schools throughout the county.

Randolph has for many years been well up toward the top of the list of counties in sanitary matters with few, if any, real epidemics. This condition will be further aided by better sanitary conditions and the solving of several problems along this line, is the belief of the officers.

Dental Clinic Closes In City School This Week

Dr. Woodard's Report Includes Many Constructive Recommendations To Parents.

Senior Play Now Imminent; A Comedy

Seventh Grade State Exams Looked Forward To With Much Interest.

The dental clinic, which closed in the Asheboro school this week after several weeks of active work, gives a staggering report of activity. Dr. W. L. Woodard, dentist in charge of the clinic, reports 760 amalgam fillings; 226 cement bases; 1064 silver nitrate treatments; 267 teeth extracted; 562 sets of teeth cleaned and 38 cavities treated.

The work went through the first five grades of the school and included an amazing number of defects in addition to dental work. Dr. Woodard reports that sixty per cent of the children examined showed faulty breathing and forty per cent revealed nasal defects. Dr. Woodard, therefore, urges all parents who have received cards from him to have children treated as advised. The doctor further advises that all children who have had the silver nitrate treatment on their baby teeth require the treatment repeated at least twice a year.

This clinic was financed by the town and county jointly; the town of Asheboro meeting a third of the cost and the county handling two-thirds. The school authorities are unhesitating in their recommendations that this splendid work started this year be a part of the yearly health program of the school. The early care of teeth is considered a valuable method of disease prevention and health building.

The North Carolina Assembly Still In Session; Pay Stops

Many More Important Bills To Come Before Both Houses In The Near Future.

Hill Bill Thursday

Taxes And Expenditures To Be Thashed Out Along With Delayed Beer Bill.

The state senate assured on Monday night a new state tubercular sanatorium in western North Carolina, when it unanimously passed the $250,000 bond issue bill, already through the house. This was done on the second reading. Much credit is due Senator Lee Gravelly from Rocky Mount in the east, for the passing of this bill, as he led an active fight against seemingly overwhelming odds. Representative Laurie McEachern, of Hoke, is quoted as saying, "Passage of that bond issue bill is a great tribute to Lee Gravelly and the work he put in it. Nobody thought this Legislature would vote for any bond issue. It wouldn't have except for him."

The bill was introduced into the house by Representatives W. R. Clegg of Moore and E. A. Rasherly, of Greene and was then carried into the senate by Gravelly, who outlined the plan and explained that the bill carried an appropriation of $10,000 for the first year and $100,000 the second year for maintenance purposes, already taken care of by the joint appropriations committee.

The Senate also passed a bill to establish a shoe factory at the State Prison and the house passed a measure to increase the pay of election officials and received a bill to repay to state employees the 25 per cent salary cut they received during the last year of the Gardner administration.

Last Check To Solons
From a reliable source it is found that the legislature of 1931, on its 62nd day of session, seems much nearer adjournment than does the legislature of 1935 today. Although nothing in particular has been done yet, the unusually dull session is still not in sight of an adjournment. It seems to be just getting started. This week in the legislative circles should by far prove to be the most interesting, as questions of liquor and stronger beer, the legislative investigation of the state's punishment and neglect of two negro convicts, who lost their feet as a result, and taxes and expenditures head the list.

The Hill bill, which has captured the spotlight in this particular session is due for a hearing Thursday.

Kiwanis Club Has Program Taking Up Hosiery Industry

In keep with its new policy of dealing with local industries and their various phases, the Kiwanis club, at its regular meeting, Tuesday evening, presented a survey of the hosiery industry with R. L. Bunch and Rufus Hill in charge of the program. The latter discussed the manufacturing end of the business. Full fashioned hosiery received the major part of the discussion. It was started in England in 1898 and came to the United States in 1908, getting started first in Pennsylvania and that state is still the leading hosiery state in the Union but North Carolina comes second and is advancing rapidly in this position.

Mr. Hill showed some interesting pictures of the machines used in this manufacturing process and explained their operation in a most interesting manner after which he showed hosiery in its various stages of manufacture and explained the different operations through which it passed before reaching the consumer.

R. L. Bunch then took up the handling of the product to comply with the demands of the different large dealers. His discussion of the inside management and organization for taking this process illustrated the efficiency necessary for its success. Following this he traced the details of finding markets on through the handling, billing, shipping and book-keeping necessary in the industry. The subject was well handled and thoroughly enjoyed by the good attendance present.

Dr. Harvey L. Griffin reported for his under privileged child committee on the progress of the soup kitchen at the local school and that work was ordered continued. Thirty-seven are now enjoying this helpful project of the club and good reports come from the school and the teachers in charge of the work.

Hinton Pierce reported on the Court of Honor held for his Boy Scout troop, Friday night, at which forty merit badges were awarded to those boys who have passed off additional work since the last court of honor.

W. C. Craven was welcomed as a new member.

Senior Play Now Imminent; A Comedy

Seventh Grade State Exams Looked Forward To With Much Interest.

The dental clinic, which closed in the Asheboro school this week after several weeks of active work, gives a staggering report of activity. Dr. W. L. Woodard, dentist in charge of the clinic, reports 760 amalgam fillings; 226 cement bases; 1064 silver nitrate treatments; 267 teeth extracted; 562 sets of teeth cleaned and 38 cavities treated.

The work went through the first five grades of the school and included an amazing number of defects in addition to dental work. Dr. Woodard reports that sixty per cent of the children examined showed faulty breathing and forty per cent revealed nasal defects. Dr. Woodard, therefore, urges all parents who have received cards from him to have children treated as advised. The doctor further advises that all children who have had the silver nitrate treatment on their baby teeth require the treatment repeated at least twice a year.

This clinic was financed by the town and county jointly; the town of Asheboro meeting a third of the cost and the county handling two-thirds. The school authorities are unhesitating in their recommendations that this splendid work started this year be a part of the yearly health program of the school. The early care of teeth is considered a valuable method of disease prevention and health building.

Senior Play

The senior class of the high school has selected the class play, "Here Comes Patricia." This is a comedy in three acts that has been presented in several high schools with marked success. It is a royalty play and bears an unusually interesting record in the places where it has been presented.

Parts will be assigned very soon and rehearsals will begin as soon as the copies arrive. The cast of characters will then be published and the date announced for the presentation of the play. Miss Clara Gill and J. J. Sanderson will coach the play.

Seventh Grade Exams

Superintendent R. J. Hilker announces that the seventh grade pupils of Asheboro school will participate in the state-wide seventh grade examinations. Mr. Hilker explains that these examinations are in the form of achievement tests that will be a determining factor in the promotion of pupils at the end of the year. He further states that the teachers and pupils of the school look forward to this test rather than dreading it, as was a former custom. The date for this event is set for Wednesday, March 20th.

Kiwanis Club Has Program Taking Up Hosiery Industry

In keep with its new policy of dealing with local industries and their various phases, the Kiwanis club, at its regular meeting, Tuesday evening, presented a survey of the hosiery industry with R. L. Bunch and Rufus Hill in charge of the program. The latter discussed the manufacturing end of the business. Full fashioned hosiery received the major part of the discussion. It was started in England in 1898 and came to the United States in 1908, getting started first in Pennsylvania and that state is still the leading hosiery state in the Union but North Carolina comes second and is advancing rapidly in this position.

Mr. Hill showed some interesting pictures of the machines used in this manufacturing process and explained their operation in a most interesting manner after which he showed hosiery in its various stages of manufacture and explained the different operations through which it passed before reaching the consumer.

R. L. Bunch then took up the handling of the product to comply with the demands of the different large dealers. His discussion of the inside management and organization for taking this process illustrated the efficiency necessary for its success. Following this he traced the details of finding markets on through the handling, billing, shipping and book-keeping necessary in the industry. The subject was well handled and thoroughly enjoyed by the good attendance present.

Dr. Harvey L. Griffin reported for his under privileged child committee on the progress of the soup kitchen at the local school and that work was ordered continued. Thirty-seven are now enjoying this helpful project of the club and good reports come from the school and the teachers in charge of the work.

Hinton Pierce reported on the Court of Honor held for his Boy Scout troop, Friday night, at which forty merit badges were awarded to those boys who have passed off additional work since the last court of honor.

W. C. Craven was welcomed as a new member.