NEWS CONDENSED OF State and Nation

N. C. TO RECEIVE BIG WORK FUND
Washington, June 19.—North Carolina is slated to get approximately $50,000,000 as her share of the four and a half billion dollars work relief program the Roosevelt administration plan to get under way by July 1. The money will be used to take the 50,000 able bodied men now on relief and put them to work on useful projects from which the public will benefit. No definite amount has been allocated to a state, and at this time no definite estimate can be made of just how much money will be spent in North Carolina. But those in authority express the opinion that it will be in the neighborhood of fifty million. It may be a few million more or a few million less.

FIND MARIJUANA GROWING IN APARTMENT IN GREENSBORO

Greensboro, June 17.—Following complaints from several numerous Greensboro mothers, that their daughters frequently came home "drugged," although they denied that they had used anything other than a cigarette, Greensboro office labor finally brought results when W. T. Atkinson, federal narcotic agent, seized a quantity of marijuana growing on an apartment window sill at 242 East Market street, Saturday night. Marijuana or "sex cigarettes" have been sold in Greensboro for some few months lately. Their usage, according to Mr. Atkinson, induces complete moral delinquency. The plant is a native of Mexico and is a close relative of hashish, a product of weed hemp. Both plants contain a drug that will bring on frenzied insanity.

Harold D. Cooley Makes Strong Plea For AAA To Prevent Starvation Prices

Colleagues Are Attentive As Young North Carolinian Pleads For Home State Farmers.

Holds Firmly In Face Of Opposition

Receives High Acclaim From Constituents As He Vigorously Assails Low Prices.

North Carolinians in general and the fourth congressional district in particular is interested in the account of Congressman Harold D. Cooley's maiden speech in the House of Representatives. Mr. Cooley's plea was strong for the pending amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act now pending in the House of Representatives, as he vigorously assailed starvation prices.

While the strong appeal was rejected and the opponents and critics of the act offered no plans of their own, Mr. Cooley's stand has been greatly admired by his constituents "back home."

Mr. Cooley was heard by an attentive House, although he spoke at a late hour in the afternoon. It is not likely that any amendments particularly affecting or aimed at tobacco will be offered. The committee, at its final meeting last week, adopted a general provision applying to all commodities, but particularly aimed at flue-cured tobacco, which provides for decreasing the processing tax on a commodity if the price becomes so high as to restrict consumption.

Robert Bunch, who is chairman of the program committee, stated that his duties with the baseball league took up so much of his time that he had to ask for a new committee for the last half of the year. James York, Davis Cranford and Walter Craven were named in that capacity.

The club had Rotarian C. C. Cranford as a visitor, a guest of W. C. Lucas.

Dogwood Acres is a large section to the right of highway 90 which was opened five years ago by H. P. Corwith. During that time forty-two homes have been erected. Several prominent Asheboro citizens have purchased lots and plan to erect suburban homes at an early date, which bears out the prophecy made by Mr. Corwith and by H. J. Russell, a prominent South Carolina salesman and developer who is assisting with this sale, was with Mr. Corwith in 1930 when the plan was launched. At this time some rosy promises and predictions were made for this section which have run strangely true to prediction.

The article as it appeared in the issue of The Courier of April 10th, 1930, follows:

Rotarians To Hear Outline Of Work In Randolph's Cripples

Meeting On Friday Will Be In Charge Of Laurin Cranford; L. F. Ross Last Speaker.

Plans are in the making for the program for the regular weekly luncheon meet of Asheboro Rotarians to be devoted to the work of crippled children in the county. At the meeting of the club on Friday, past president Ross was the chief speaker, having as his main theme, "Education In Randolph." He started off by giving the club a mind picture of school conditions in 1900. At that time there were 110 white schools in the county, all of which, with a few exceptions, being one teacher affairs. It was the custom for every prominent family to demand that a school be built on their plantation.

After the world war, the idea of consolidation grew and in 1923 the State Legislature passed a law requiring that each county draw up a plan of consolidation and submit it to the citizenry of the county for approval.

Randolph Council Of Social Agencies To Meet Friday, 21; Lloyd Is Chairman Pro Tem

To complete the organization tentatively formed some ten days ago in Randolph county for a County Council of Social Agencies, a meeting will be held on Friday, June 21st, at 3:00 o'clock. At the preliminary meeting held in the county court house, where the Friday meeting will be staged, Robert Lloyd, superintendent of county public welfare, was made temporary chairman and authorized to call this meeting.

Notices have been sent to heads of the social and civic organizations of the town and county who are urged to attend this meeting. An interesting feature of the meeting will be brief reports from each organization. In this way a clear picture of the welfare needs and work in the county may be arrived at with some definite plans for future work. Mr. Lloyd is especially urged all who have received notice of this meeting to plan to attend and aid in the formation of these plans. The purpose of this meeting is clearly set forth in four statements sent to members of the council by the county board of public welfare which is composed of: Mr. Lloyd, superintendent; E. H. Cranford, King Moore, Miss May McAlister. The purposes follow:

1. A better understanding of what all the different organizations over the county are doing for the welfare of the people.

2. That there may be no overlapping in the work done by each organization.

3. That the public in general may know just what is being done for the unfortunate of our county.

4. That only the truly needy from each community may be helped.

Randolph Commissioners Sit As Equalization Board On New Property Valuation

Health Officer Warns Parents Against Crowds

Since the cases of Infantile Paralysis have begun to increase, the State Board of Health has called upon to give advice concerning travel in North Carolina and the advisability of attending summer camps, etc., in the State. We have advised that children under fifteen years of age avoid crowds regardless of whether Sunday Schools, churches, theatres, summer camps, picnics, parties, or neighborhood gatherings. For this reason swimming pools should also not be patronized by this group.

All health departments have received the above instructions concerning Infantile Paralysis from the State Board of Health Department, but our knowledge of Infantile Paralysis leads us to believe that there is a possibility of there being a greater number of cases during the months of June and July, with probably the peak of incidence being reached in the first two weeks of August. Therefore we hope that the parents in Asheboro and Randolph county will cooperate with us in keeping their children from public places.

DR. A. D. GREGG,
Randolph County Health Officer.

Ice Cream Garden Open

Asheboro's newest enterprise is an ice cream garden which opened this week on the shady lawn next to the new postoffice on Sunset avenue, which was formerly a part of the yard of the C. C. Chairs and tables with gray colored umbrellas have been placed on the lot, making a most inviting appearance.

Health Officers Of State Confer Federal Doctors

Many Sections of State Report An Alarming Increase In Infantile Paralysis.

Dr. Gregg Warns Sunday Papers Place Number Of Cases In North Carolina At More Than 134.

North Carolina health officers have enlisted aid from the federal government during the epidemic of infantile paralysis, now prevalent in several sections of the state. Dr. Carl Reynolds, state health officer and three other medical men from the state board of health have been in Washington conferring with officials there as to the best way to handle the case now existing and to check the increase of new ones. A special meeting was called upon the arrival of the North Carolina men by the surgeon general and federal authorities frankly expressed alarm at the situation in this state. They pledged their entire support and cooperation in any plan that is decided upon after a careful and speedy survey of the situation.

Meanwhile, the daily papers, especially from the eastern part of this state continue to report daily increase in cases of this dreaded malady. Tuesday's News and Observer chronicled eight new cases. Sunday's newspapers set the figures at 134 cases also mentioning an increase in the number of cases in the western part of the state. The most alarming situation
