NEWS CONDENSED OF State and Nation

INFANTILE PARALYSIS CONTINUING

Raleigh, June 25.—Tuesday's reports from the state board of health in Raleigh, state that the report of twelve additional cases of paralysis over the week end brought the number for June up to 153 with a total of 217 cases since May first. Dr. Carl Reynolds, state health officer, urges care and preventive methods. He further warns concerning typhoid fever since sixty cases have been reported in the state during the month of June.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY AT BURLINGTON

Burlington, June 25.—Two white men entered the First Federal Savings and Loan Association at three o'clock this afternoon, bound and gagged B. R. Fonville, secretary, and Miss Alene Tate, bookkeeper, and then calmly walked out with $25. The identity of the two men is unknown but Fonville described them as being around 32 years old. Neither of the two victims were injured.

LIQUOR LEGAL IN 2 N. C. COUNTIES

Raleigh, June 25.—Despite a ruling by Judge J. Paul Frizzelle that the so-called "Pasquotank liquor control act is unconstitutional, county commissioners of Wilson and Edgecombe counties are proceeding with plans for opening liquor stores. These two counties, which were included under the Pasquotank act, voted for county liquor control Saturday by majorities of nearly 10 to 1. The Edgecombe county board of commissioners is to meet today to name a liquor control board, and add that "We expect to open liquor stores in a few days."

CAT ADOPTS MOUSE INTO HER FAMILY

Goldboro, June 25.—Goldboro comes to the front again with a queer story of the adoption of a baby mouse. The adopted mother is a cat with a litter of kittens. The mouse is an orphan, her mother having been killed. The mouse and kittens appear quite happy, according to reports from Goldboro.

High Point Legion Juniors Nosed Out Asheboro's Legion

Before a crowd that thrilled as the game progressed, the High Point American Legion Juniors nosed out the Asheboro American Legion Juniors by the score of 5-4 in an exciting 11 innings game Monday afternoon at Willis Park in High Point. Rhyme, of High Point, sent the winning run home with a Texas leaguer after two men had been retired in the eleventh.

Asheboro came upon the field in new suits and played an excellent, heady game throughout, but failed to hit safely with men on bases, sixteen being stranded on the sacks. Crowson started off for High Point but was wild and Walker relieved him in the second.

Thomas, of Asheboro, pitched a beautiful game of ball and should have won. Frazier, also of Asheboro, was playing all over the outer garden, making hard chances very easy. He also led in the hitting, getting three for four and scoring two runs. For High Point, Ferrington was the star on defense, although he was outthrust by Rhyme.

High Point will again play Asheboro Thursday afternoon at Lindley field at 4:30 p. m., Rufus F. South, coach of the Asheboro club and coach of the High Point team, and coach of the High Point team will be expected here in Asheboro.

Ramsour Praises Fine Concert Given By Oxford Orphans

Rose Garden Club Holds First Meeting Thursday With Thirteen Members Present.

Other Social Fetes

Directors And Officers Of Bank Of Coleridge Hold Satisfactory Meeting Saturday.

Ramsour, June 26.—The singing class of the Oxford Orphanage gave a delightful program at the school building here Monday evening. These boys and girls always put on a good entertainment and have the loyal support of Ramsour people. The Masonic fraternity did a noble work when it became the pioneer in orphanage work at Oxford years ago. The sympathy and love the Masons felt for orphan children kindled a kindred feeling in the hearts of all North Carolinians and many other institutions have followed in the care of helpless children. Ramsour is always glad to encourage this fine work of the Masonic Order, and the people enjoy the programs given by these well trained children.

A most interesting program was featured Thursday afternoon, June 20th, when the Rose Garden club held its meeting at the home of Mrs. C. E. York. Two excellent papers were given, "Bringing the woods to the Garden" by Mrs. G. C. Ellis. "What to do in July" was read by Mrs. G. Ed York. Thirteen members were present.

Mrs. E. M. Patterson was a guest of the club. The Wayside Garden club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. F. Craven. A large membership was presented and an excellent program made for the promotion of the club work. At the business session Mrs. A. W. Craven was elected president for the coming year. The next meeting will be held in September.

On Tuesday afternoon V. C. Marley found it impossible to forget how old he was, for when he reached home at the close of a hot day he found that Mrs. Marley had a fine dinner spread on tables out in the shade of the trees, and almost like "Jack in the box" more than a dozen friends appeared on the scene to rejoice that I had a birthday, and that we all had a dinner, and such a dinner!

Well it made me glad I was living, and yet made me feel unworthy of such honor and kind attention as my good wife always remembers to give on my birthdays.

Those enjoying the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. R. C. White, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Marley and sons, and the family at home. The Dixon sisters of Burlington spent Sunday in Ramsour with their uncle, J. W. Dixon, and sang at the Methodist church Sunday morning. This fine quartette is composed of the four daughters of Andy Dixon, a former resident of Ramsour.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cox spent Sunday with friends at Farmer. Mrs. Cox remained for the week with her mother, Mrs. Roxana Dorsett.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Riehm spent the week end with friends at Waynesville. Mr. Riehm spent some time at Morganton on business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bray and daughters, Miss Lucille and Miss Ruth, and Miss Ollie Burgess and friends enjoyed a trip to Wrightsville Beach Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Leonard spent the past week end with friends at High Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Colon Welch, of Asheboro, spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Welch Sunday. The directors and officers of the Bank of Coleridge had a directors meeting Saturday afternoon.

Local Bank Pays Dividend. The liquidating agents for the Asheboro Bank and Trust company of Asheboro are this week distributing the fourth dividends to the 689 depositors of the bank and other common claimants. This fourth dividend makes 90 percent, or $109,657 paid. In addition to this, the bank has paid to preferred creditors the sum of $222,000 and $4,639.04 to secured creditors. The last checks amount to $5,746.95.

Conference Held To Decide How To Prevent Paralysis

Dr. Gregg, County Health Officer, Reports Only One Case In Randolph County.

Issues Warning

Children Under Fifteen Years Of Age Should Be Kept Away From All Public Gatherings.

The Ministerial Union, Francis White, owner of the two Asheboro theatres, and the county health officer Dr. A. D. Gregg, met in a conference Tuesday morning to discuss the infantile paralysis epidemic that is spreading through the state. The purpose of the conference was to try to find out how this dreaded disease could be kept out of Randolph county. At the present, only one official case in the county has been reported to the county health officer, that one being in the Gray's Chapel section.

Dr. Gregg, county health officer, states that although infantile paralysis is one of the worst diseases, there should be no cause for alarm at the present, if the necessary precautions were taken, such as keeping all children under fifteen years of age away from Sunday school, picture shows, swimming pools, public gatherings in houses, etc., so as not to spread the disease. Dr. Gregg asks all parents who have children under fifteen years of age to please heed to this warning.

No specific rules were laid down at this conference, but the group sincerely bespeaks the wholehearted cooperation of all the parents in the county. According to Dr. Gregg, most of the infantile paralysis is found in the eastern part of the state, and for this reason he urges the people of Randolph not to visit the eastern counties and not to ask friends from there to visit here this summer. He further states that adults are also attacked by the germ, and they may carry the germs to children when they themselves are not brought down by the disease.

Woodmen Of World Hold Organization Meeting Monday Eve

Install Officers For Local Camp; Forty Charter Members Manifest Unusual Interest.

Woodmen of the World held their organization meeting on Monday evening at the chapel in the Pugh Funeral Home. Officers were elected and installed for the local camp with the assistance of T. E. Newton, of Kingston, state manager. T. D. Walter of High Point also assisted in the organization and installation.

Already forty charter members compose the local group with several additional members to be added. Considerable interest has been manifested concerning the organization of the camp and an interesting meeting was reported.

Officers named and installed at the meeting Monday were: consul commander, Robert Lloyd; advisory lieutenant, John Bulla; banker, E. N. Morgan; financial secretary, Jess Pugh; recording secretary, Scott McGill; secretary, L. A. Pulliam; watchman, R. Sheffield; sentry, L. A. Jordan; auditors, W. C. Lucas, C. A. Johnson, Bill Boling; past commander, Jess Overman.

New Grocery Store Will Be Operated On Cash And Carry Basis

One of a group of Allen Stores, of Wadesboro, is to open at an early date in Asheboro, probably the latter part of next week according to F. A. Huntley, general manager of the combined group. The group of Allen stores, sixteen in number, covers a large territory of North and South Carolina, being located in most of the larger centers of trade and commerce. For the past six years this particular group has been operating successfully, and the one now being erected here is expected to carry on the tradition, according to F. A. Huntley.

This new store will be situated on the same spot where the Hadley Economy Store previously operated, and is to be managed by J. T. Lyles, of Cheraw, South Carolina. At the present the building is being remodeled and painted. New counters and shelves are being put up in ratio to the business that is expected. The store will be operated on a cash and carry basis.

Meeting At Shady Grove. The Baptist of Randolph county will hold a union meeting Sunday, June 30th, at Shady Grove Baptist church, two miles west of Staley. This will be an all day affair with picnic dinner on the grounds at the noon hour. I. G. Greer, of the Mills Home, Thomasville, will speak at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon Rev. H. M. Stroup, of Ramsour, will make an address in the afternoon. E. E. Heath, pastor of Shady Grove church, asks that all Baptist churches in Randolph county send delegates. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Funeral Held Sunday

ANGUS WILTON McLEAN

Former N. C. Gov. Buried Lumberton In Simple Ceremony

Death Came Suddenly To Angus W. McLean In Washington From Clot On Lung.

Throngs Attend

Has Envious Record As Private Citizen And In Public Life In State And Nation.

Angus Wilton McLean, Governor of North Carolina during 1925 to 1929, who died suddenly in Washington on Friday, was buried with simple and characteristic ceremony on Sunday afternoon at Lumberton, where he was born and reared. Several weeks ago reports from Washington announced his illness but he was considered to be improving when he suddenly died from a blood clot in his right lung.

Mr. McLean was a banker, business man, lawyer and farmer, was born April 20, 1870, upon a farm in Robeson county, a section now in Hoke county, son of Archibald Alex. McLean and Caroline Purcell McLean. He attended free school in the old Buck Pond school district, spent 2 years at McMillan Military academy and completed his secondary schooling under Prof. W. C. Quackenbush, famous old schoolmaster, at Laurinburg. Mr. McLean clerked for a while in a country store and at the age of 17 taught a public school at a salary of $100 per month. Afterwards he studied law at the University of North Carolina and was licensed in 1892, graduating in the class with the late congressman Wm. C. Hammer, of Asheboro, who was his close friend through many years.

Entering politics at the age of 22, he was made chairman of the Robeson county Democratic executive committee. He became a member of the state Democratic executive committee in 1910, serving as a member for 11 years.

Farm Demonstrator Announces Plans In Health Cooperation

Several Planned Meetings Postponed In Line With Plan By Health Authorities.

Expert Expected

Parrish, Poultry Expert From Extension Department In Randolph Next Week.

Of interest to Randolph county farmers is the announcement coming from county farm demonstrator Millsaps. C. F. Parrish, extension poultryman, will be in the county for two days next week. At this time he hopes to make contact with as many of the poultry breeders as possible, therefore meetings will be held as follows: Tuesday morning, July 2nd, 10:30 a. m., at the home of R. E. Cavness, Ramsour, Route 1.

Wednesday morning, July 3rd, 10:30 a. m., at the home of Alton Kearns, Farmer.

At these meetings Mr. Parrish will take up timely poultry topics and answer any questions that you care to ask him at that time. County Demonstrator Millsaps suggests that if the farmers have any troubles that they do not understand that they take advantage of this opportunity to discuss them with a man who is able to give them proper advice.

One thing of importance that he will handle at these meetings is the matter of vaccination against fowl pox. It is possible that a demonstration will be given of the proper methods of vaccination at these meetings. After the meetings Mr. Millsaps and Mr. (Please turn to page 8)

P. O. S. Of A. Invitation. The local camp of the P. O. S. of A. will have a class initiation tonight in the Lodge hall. Several new members are expected to be present at the meeting. The camp has been making a steady increase in membership since May 1, and is planning to double the enrollment by May 1, 1936. Refreshments will be served to all those present. Since this is an important meeting, all of the members are cordially urged to be present.

Franklinville News Of Current Week Is Of Personal Nature

Summer Visitors From Many Places Are Visiting In And Around The Community.

Orphans Entertain

Plans Started For Scout To Be Organized Among Local Boys Of Scout Ages.

Franklinville, June 25.—Miss Shirley McCorquodale who has been a student the past year at the Medical College of Virginia, in Richmond, is at home for a few weeks vacation.

Mrs. Jewel Cox, of Albemarle, is spending a few days in the home of B. M. Allred.

Thursday night plans were discussed for the organization of a boy scout camp for Franklinville. L. H. Pierce, of Asheboro, scoutmaster for this county, and Bunn Hackney, scout executive, of High Point, were the principal speakers of the evening. The outlook for a camp here is encouraging.

R. C. Fields was in town Friday on his way home from Washington, D. C., where he has been spending several weeks with his brother.

The Oxford orphanage singing class gave a concert at school auditorium Saturday evening. Franklinville always welcomes the children's visit which is a fine class of well trained boys and girls.

Instead of the usual one preaching service at the M. E. church Sunday, there will be two services next Sunday—morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Lamb and daughter, Miss Edna and Miss Ruby and Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Brown, visited Mr. Lamb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lamb, of Mt. Vernon Springs route 1, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy York, of Hemp, were visitors here Sunday.

L. M. Welch and family visited relatives on Sunday near Pleasant Grove church.

Rev. S. M. Stickleather, southern district superintendent of Pilgrim's Holiness church, preached at the local Holiness church Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Jones, of Greensboro, were visitors here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Craven, of Gibsonville, is spending a few days here with relatives.

Ruthless Breaking Of School's Windows Kiwanis Discussion

Rev. N. M. Harrison Urges This To Stop In Talk At Local Club On Tuesday.

The local Kiwanis club had quite a variety program Tuesday evening, one part of which was given to visitors who were heartily welcomed by the organization. Bunn W. Hackney, scout executive of the Uwharrie Council of High Point, Kurt F. Strass, of Baltimore, Rev. C. G. Smith, M. I. Ellis, member of the troop committee and Lester Monroe, scoutmaster, were among those present.

Rev. N. M. Harrison made an appeal to the public that something be done about two hundred or more windows that have been broken in the school house since its closing. In his talk, he endeavored to reach the finer instincts of the young and thereby help create greater respect for public property and for themselves.

Harris Burkhead and James York had charge of a program of fun and amusement, which was greatly enjoyed by all. After the program had come to a close, the board of directors met with the two troop committees of the local scout units and discussed scout work in Asheboro and Randolph county. Bunn Hackney outlined a plan being worked to organize Randolph county and complimented the start already made toward further development along the scouting line.

Automobile Victim Is Buried Saturday In Union Township

Funeral service was held on Saturday at High Pine church for Doris M. Williams who died Friday as a result of an automobile accident. Mr. Williams, a native of Union township, is said to have been walking along the highway with John Strickland, of Ulah, when Mrs. Pearl Brown, driving her car north along highway 70, blew the horn. According to statements made to officers, Mr. Williams stepped over toward the middle of the highway and was struck by the fender of Mrs. Brown's car. When Mr. Williams fell on the concrete highway, it is thought his skull was fractured, causing almost instant death. He was, however, brought to the hospital in Asheboro where he was pronounced dead. He was 64 years old.

Mrs. Brown made the report of the affair to Randolph county officers and further investigation will be made, probably this week.

Mr. Williams was a life long resident of that section of the county and a farmer and saw mill man of the community. Surviving are his wife, who was Miss Martha Vuncannon; one son, Jay Williams and three daughters; Mrs. Theodore King, of Seagrove; Mrs. James Free and Mrs. Bernice F. Staley, both of High Point.

R. J. Hilker Supt. Asheboro School For The Past Nine Years Resigns Position

Resignation Accepted By Local Board With Regret; Service Record Is Praised.

No Successor Yet Selected For Post

Redding Asks Ruthless Destruction Of School Property To Be Curbed.

Announcement comes from the local school board, of which J. O. Redding is chairman, of the resignation of R. J. Hilker as superintendent of the Asheboro schools. Mr. Redding states that Superintendent Hilker resigned several weeks ago, but the resignation was not of a formal nature and it was hoped that he would reconsider. The resignation this week, however, has been in definite form this week and the board has accepted it with regret.

There has been a long and varied line of progress of the school under the nine years regime of Mr. Hilker. Many innovations and additions have been made to the school and to the courses of study during this period. The business department and home economic work have both been outstanding as has the health and citizenship program. Perhaps the most perfect proof of Mr. Hilker's splendid management and executive ability has been the fact that there has been so little "news" from the school under his supervision. His methods were quiet and methodical, making for little room for lost motion of any kind. There are many people who have known Mr. Hilker's fine work with Asheboro children during his nine years in the town who will regret to lose him in the school life of Asheboro. It is not definitely known at this time just what Mr. Hilker's plans are at this time, but it is understood that he does not plan to continue school work. Unofficial rumors are that he has secured a position in the department of interior in Washington, D. C., where they have taken a house. While the town as a whole is grieved to lose Mr. Hilker, there is a double loss in losing Mrs. Hilker, who for years has been contributing her splendid musical talent to the town in a most generous manner.

The board has a large number of applications under consideration from experienced school men from widely scattered localities. No decision has been made as yet, however, and will probably not be made for several days yet. It is understood that all the lady teachers of the school have been re-elected for next year, but that the choice of the men assistants will be left with the superintendent.

Mr. Redding desires to call the attention of the citizens of the town to the fact that many windows have been broken in the school building during the vacation period. This is, of course, a useless waste of property and should be ended immediately, one way or another.

The board has had considerable discussion concerning a much needed new building for the Asheboro children, hoping to secure one under the PWA fund available. Nothing of a definite nature is announced by the board at this time but they are most hopeful, as well as anxious, for success in securing a new school building for Asheboro.

Mrs. Henry Pugh, of Asheboro, is seriously ill in the Randolph Hospital, Inc. Mrs. Pugh had the misfortune of falling several weeks ago and breaking a hip. At the time of her accident she had treatment for several days in the Randolph Hospital, but had been improved sufficiently to return to her home only Monday when her condition became critical and she was returned to the hospital.
