school auditorium Tuesday evening, Oct. 8. The parents are urged to be present as plans will be made for the year's work. After the business hour a social program will be given and refreshments served.
The annual reunion of the Allred family will be held at the late Milton Allred home, about two miles north of Franklinville, Sunday, Oct. 6. A large crowd is expected and a good program has been prepared, consisting of addresses and singing. The Bulla Brothers, of Asheboro, Ward Quartet of Worthville and quartets from Cedar Falls, Franklinville, and Burlington are expected to take part.

Mrs. Martitia Teague of near Pleasant Garden, was a guest in the home of C. H. Julian, a few days the past week.
E. S. Thomas Jr. and L. E. Cagle, students of Appalachian Teachers College at Boone, spent the week end at the home of E. S. Thomas.

Deaths

John F. Teague
John F. Teague, 80, prominent merchant and business man of Staley, died at his home there, Friday morning, after an illness of two months.
Locating in Staley 52 years ago, Mr. Teague opened the first general merchandise store in the town, and operated it continuously until he was forced to retire from active work two months ago. He was well known and respected throughout the state.
Surviving are his wife, formerly Miss Louise Brown; two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Hill, Greensboro, and Miss Aline Teague; two sisters, Mrs. Arlie Daffron and Mrs. Philmore Overman, of Staley; seven brothers, W. B., T. M. and J. M. Teague, Staley; R. D. and D. P. Teague, Liberty; H. S. Teague, Martinsville, Va., and T. J. Teague, Madison.
Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Staley Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. T. F. Andrew, in charge. Interment followed in the church cemetery.

John W. Overman
Funeral service for John W. Overman, of Ramseur, who died Wednesday in Randolph Hospital, Asheboro, of injuries received in an automobile wreck were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at Moon's Chapel Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member. The rites were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. Lewis Price. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Burie W. Cox
Burie W. Cox, 45, farmer who lived on route 1 seven miles south of Ramseur, died at his home Monday morning following two years of failing health and two months of serious illness.
Mr. Cox spent his entire life at the home place.
Surviving are his wife, nee Miss Mattie Cox; one daughter, Miss Mabel Cox, one son, Paul Cox, all at home; one sister, Mrs. C. T. Stout, two brothers, R. C. and S. W. Cox, all of whom live on route 1.
The deceased was a member of the Deep River Baptist church at Cole-ridge.
The funeral service was conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Holly Springs Friends church by Rev. Colin M. Strickland, of Greensboro, former pastor of Mr. Cox. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

James Watson Lassiter
James Watson Lassiter, aged 75, died at his home in Cedar Grove township, Saturday, September 28th. His health had not been good for the past year, but he was confined to bed only a few days. He seemed to know that death was near, for early in the week he told those around him that he would not live until Sunday, even telling them when he desired the funeral services to be held. This vision was fulfilled and death came as he had said.

He was a member of Union Methodist Episcopal church, near his home, and a kind, gentle, sweet-spirited Christian, respected and loved by all who knew him.
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mattie Lassiter, and two brothers, T. J. Lassiter and J. M. Lassiter, of Asheboro.

John N. Staley
John N. Staley, 66, of near Seagrove, died Wednesday morning at the Randolph Hospital, Inc., following an illness of two weeks. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Della Williams, seven sons: Arthur, of Carraway, W. J., D. S., and V. F., of High Point, Roscoe, of Marion, Va., and Alvin and Herbert, of home; one daughter, Mrs. C. W. Staley, of High Point.
Three brothers, E. L. Staley, of Troy, Bud, of Candor and Ed, of Albemarle, and three sisters, Miss Emma Staley and Mrs. Barb Richardson, of Troy and Mrs. Angus Jarett, of Randleman, also survive.
The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, at New Hope church, near Seagrove.

Alta Dehart
Alta Dehart, 10, died Monday morning at the Randolph Hospital, Inc., as a result of head injuries received as she crossed the highway after alighting from a school bus.
She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dehart, of Seagrove. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Huldah church.

Smith David Roberson
Funeral service will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at Mt. Carmel church near Troy for Smith David Roberson. Mr. Roberson died Monday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. M. Lawrence in Asheboro after several years of ill health.
The deceased is a former resident of South Carolina but for the past several years has resided in Montgomery county, coming to Asheboro about a year ago. He was 45 years old.
Surviving are his wife and a small son; a brother, Tom Roberson, of Troy, and two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Hamilton and Mrs. Lawrence, both of Asheboro.

Poultry Sale Set
For Tuesday, 8th
On Creamery Lot

Now Is Time To Cull Flock For Fall; Millsaps Urges General Cooperation

On Tuesday, October 8th, another poultry sale will be held on the creamery grounds, off highway 90. According to E. S. Millsaps, Jr., farm demonstrator for the county, the prices will be the same as last sale. Mr. Millsaps states that this should be a good sale, especially since this is the season for culling the flocks. Now is the time to cull the hens that are not to be carried over another year. The sale, coming at this time, will afford the farmers and poultry raisers of the county an opportunity for deriving financial benefit from this sale.
The support that the general public gives this sale will determine whether or not they will be continued, and people are requested to remember the date and signify their sentiments by their cooperation. The sale opens at 8:00 a. m. and closes at 2:00 p. m.

The prices for this sale follow:
Heavy hens, 15c; heavy chicks, 18c; roosters, 08c; Leghorn hens, 11c; Leghorn chicks, 16c.

age pensions; anti-labor injunctions; collective bargaining and interstate compacts.
Miss Perkins' conference will be followed by an address on federal and state programs for economic security by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus. A discussion will also be held on the ways in which the Federal Department of Labor can be of service to state departments of labor and state industrial commissions, including the services currently being rendered, suggested improvements and additional services desired.
The meeting on October 5th will be devoted to a discussion of the problems involved in setting up and administering a program for economic security. Special problems relating to unemployment reserves, old age pensions and maternal aid will be considered. The chairman of the meeting will be Dr. Arthur J. Altemeyer, assistant secretary of labor, Governor

John G. Winnant, of New Hampshire, who is chairman of the national social security board, will lead the discussions on social security and the Wagner Social Security Act.
