

7,000 PEOPLE WELCOME YOU TO ASHEBORO, "CENTER OF NORTH CAROLINA"

THE COURIER

MOST PEOPLE IN ASHEBORO AND RANDOLPH COUNTY READ THE COURIER—IT LEADS

ISSUED WEEKLY
VOLUME LIX

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

ASHEBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1935.

$2.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

NUMBER 44

Franklinville Items Are Chiefly Social During The Week

Three Hostesses Entertain Bible Class On Friday Evening With Bridal Shower

Birthday Party

Infant Of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Frazier Dies Monday With Funeral In Local Cemetery

Franklinville, Oct. 28.—Miss Lilly Hughes, Miss Myrtle Hudson and Mrs. E. L. Moon were joint hostesses to the Susanna Wesley Bible class of the M. E. Sunday school at its regular meeting, Friday evening in the Barbra room. Miss Lilly Hughes, president, had charge of the meeting. Miss Myrtle Hudson, treasurer, made a report of the year's work. The Apoc Cutting and finding the money under the patches was thrilling. A nice sum was realized. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Miss Lilly Hughes, president; Miss Katherine Julian, vice president; Miss Selma Hayes, secretary and treasurer; Miss Lucy Buie assistant secretary and treasurer; Mesdames E. L. Moon and J. C. McAlister, flower committee; Miss Myrtle Hudson, corresponding secretary. A shower was given for Mrs. J. C. Riley, a recent bride, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Wilson. All were invited into the dining room where the hostesses served chicken salad and hot coffee. Those present were Misses Selma Hayes, Lucy Buie, Katherine Julian, Irene Kinney, Lillian Jones, Frances Parks, Ruby Allred, Mrs. Garland Trogdon, Mrs. Joe Allred, J. C. McAlister and Mrs. J. C. Riley.

Mrs. W. P. Ward gave a surprise birthday party for Miss Iola Burgess, Tuesday night, October 22nd. Among those present were Misses Ava Curtis, Ina York, Mildred Mitchell, Sarah Russell, Annie Ruth Miller, Maxine York, Frances Pruitt, Aileen Brown, Lois Saunders and Faye Mitchell. There were many games played and contests held. After the games, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ward.

The teachers of the Franklinville school attended the district meeting of teachers at Greensboro on Friday.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Frazier died at his home, north of Franklinville, Monday.

buried Thursday afternoon in Franklinville Baptist church cemetery.

Mrs. C. H. Welch, of Ramseur has moved to the home of her son, F. T. Welch, on West Main street.

Miss Ruth Lineberger, of Franklinville high school faculty spent the week end with her parents at Gastonia.

Elmer Allred, of Albemarle, spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Allred.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Spainhouse, of Pinnacle were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hayes and D. L. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Buie, R. C. Fields and C. H. Julian attended the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. church at Salisbury on Sunday.

Employment Service Reports Placements Of 3,753 Workers

Mrs. Mary Thompson Evans, state director of the N. C. State Employment Service, has announced that from October 5 through October 19, the service made total placements of 3,753, the relief placements being 838. These workers represented all types of work, carpenters, brick masons, labor and domestic service. While the service has filled 3,753 jobs, 5,003 new applicants were added to the files, which leaves an active balance not greatly changed.

Mrs. Evans states that "the service is most anxious that employers of any and all types of work use its files when looking for workers."

Greensboro District No. 5 in which Randolph county is included ranked first in the state in placements of 558. Registrations totalled 385. Re-registrations 152 and renewals 565.

In the local office of the N. C. State Employment Service the total registration is 1,254.

Unemployed persons are advised to keep their local office informed when they have found work for themselves or are still unemployed.

Dr. Sam W. Taylor is guest speaker for Kiwanians Tuesday

Western Conference Of North Carolina Appoints Ministers For Churches

No Services For Methodist Church On This Sunday

Rev. Howard B. Powell, newly appointed pastor to First M. E. church, Asheboro, will not reach here until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. Therefore, there will be no preaching services at this church next Sunday, Nov. 3rd. Rev. Powell comes to Asheboro from Marion where he served the First Church for four years. The members of the local church are delighted to know that Rev. Mr. Powell has been appointed to serve them and they are looking forward to further progress in their church.

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville. Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state. He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher. He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

M. P. Church Will Send Good Report Annual Conference

Conference Year Closes With Quarterly Conference To Be Held Thursday Evening

34 New Members

Year Just Closed Best In History Of Asheboro Church, According To Records.

The services at the Asheboro Methodist Protestant church on Sunday, October 27th, were of marked interest, and unusually large congregations were present both morning and night. The Sunday school attendance was also large, 219 being present.

The day had previously been designated as "Church Attendance and Membership Day." In addition to increased attendance on the part of the membership of the church, many visitors from other churches of the community were noted in the congregation at both services.

At the morning service the following persons were received into the church: J. W. Hill, Jr., Nat. Mason Harrison, Jr., W. P. Stone, J. F. Lamb, Miss Ray Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White, Miss Katherine White, Mrs. J. L. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bulla, and Joseph Henley.

The night services provided an excellent closing of a good day. The occasion was the women's fall thank-offering service in the interest of christian education. The feature of the program was a pageant, "The Lost Church." The cast was made up of the following players: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henley, Sammie Taylor, Josephine Pugh, Miss Beatrice Lowdermilk, Miss Patty Crawford, Mrs. N. M. Harrison, Mrs. L. F. Ross, Miss Kate Hammer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, Miss Enola Pressnell, and Miss Ethel Lovett.

Mrs. Frank Redding, Jr., was in charge of the service, and it was under her direction that the program had been prepared. The pageant was well rendered, and made a very fine impression. The offering at this service for the Board of Christian Education amounted to $38.00.

The fourth quarterly conference will be held Thursday night, October 31, and the closing services of the conference year will follow on Sunday, Nov. 3rd. The pastor, Rev. H. B. Powell, will take a week's vacation.

Of wide interest to many farmers in Randolph county is the announcement of the next meeting of the Farm Debt Adjustment committee, to be held on Friday afternoon, November 1st, at 2:00 o'clock. The committee will meet at the local relief office on West Salisbury street.

D. W. McPherson, state representative, will be present at this meeting to aid the committee in solving the problems for the farmers of Randolph county. The committee urges all farmers who have debt problems to make formal application to the relief office before the date of the meeting, if it is possible to do so. This advance report will enable the committee to make necessary investigation before the time of the meeting and be better able to help the individuals at the time of the meeting.

The farm debt adjustment committee is now under the resettlement administration and plans to make considerable headway in the adjustment of debts in the next few months. Mr. McPherson attended the meeting of the Randolph group last month and plans to render any aid possible in this section in the near future. It is of obvious advantage to the Randolph farmers to meet with Mr. McPherson and it is probable that many will take advantage of this opportunity.

The local committee includes: B. M. Brower, Liberty, Chairman; Bruce Craven, Trinity, secretary; A. C. Lowdermilk, Seagrove; Mrs. Wm. C. Hammer, Asheboro; N. H. Prevost, Farmer.

Kiwanians Honor Information has just been received in Asheboro that J. W. Hendricks, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Phillips, of Asheboro, has recently been elected Lieutenant Governor of the Carolinas District of Kiwanis Club. Mr. Hendricks is a prominent and popular civic leader in Statesville where he and Mrs. Hendricks, the former Miss Kate Phillips, have resided for several years.

Dr. T. W. Andrews Is Speaker Monday Local P.-T. A. Group

Discusses Value Of Good Citizenship To Community Before Parent-Teacher Group

The second regular meeting of the Parent Teachers Association held in the auditorium of the Asheboro school on Monday evening was one of the outstanding civic meetings of the season. The meeting was appropriately opened by prayer led by L. F. Ross.

Education Day is to be observed in Asheboro school on Nov. 13. Parents and friends are cordially invited to visit the school in the afternoon of November 13. Further announcements will be made concerning this day. The prize which was offered to the class having the greatest number of parents present goes to Miss Bertha Pressnell's room.

Dr. T. Wingate Andrews head of the city schools at High Point was the speaker for the evening.

The theme of Dr. T. Wingate Andrews' challenging and inspiring talk was, a good citizen in a good community.

All parents and friends are heartily invited to attend the Parent Teachers' meetings and enjoy the inspiring programs. Watch the local papers for announcements concerning P.-T. A.

Welfare Officer Making Survey Randolph County's Delinquent Children Under New School Law

Robert Lloyd, welfare officer for Randolph county, has been working for the past several weeks on a careful check of the school children of the entire county, with special reference to the delinquent attendants. The survey is not entirely complete, but to date there is a comparatively small number of children who are out of school, according to Mr. Lloyd.

As the North Carolina school law provides, all children between the ages of seven and fourteen must attend school regularly and all children under sixteen years old come under the jurisdiction of the county welfare officer.

Mr. Lloyd calls attention to the large number of children on the streets of Asheboro who are shining shoes and selling newspapers. All children of school age must have

Ramseur Citizens Pleased At Report From Conference

Rev. J. M. Barber To Winston-Salem With J. W. Williams To Ramseur.

Birthday Dinner

Personal Items Reveal Illness Of Dr. C. S. Tate; Other Personal Mention.

Ramseur, Oct. 29.—Ramseur and Franklinville Methodists rather nervously awaited reports from conference Monday as there was the whisper of a change on account of the health of the present pastor's wife, Mrs. J. M. Barber.

A number of changes were made and among them our district lost Brother Barber to Winston-Salem District at Cooleemee, while Rev. J. W. Williams comes to us from Gastonia District at King's Mountain.

Mr. Williams is just coming back home having been reared only about eight miles from Ramseur, and going out from that old "mother of preachers" church: Rehobeth. Having been in the ministry some twenty-five years he is a man of wide experience and deep devotion to the cause of Christ.

He served as presiding elder a number of years, and was also a missionary in China for a while, and yet, he is not coming to us as an old man.

(Please turn to page 3)

Southern Quarterly Conference Is Held New Hope Church

Surprise Party Is Held At Home Of Mr. And Mrs. J. C. Loflin At Sophia Route 1.

Personal Mention

Quilting Party And Oyster Supper An Interesting Event Of The Current Week.

Sophia, Rt. 1, Oct. 29.—Southern quarterly meeting of Conservative Methodist churches of this district on Saturday and Sunday. Saturday at 11 o'clock a service for worship was led by Thomas Fisher, who made a good talk. Following, a session for business was held. Sunday at 11:00 o'clock, a service for worship was held. Thomas and Anna C. Fisher of Pennsylvania; J. C. Allen, of High Point; Anderson M. Barker, of Friendville; and Stephen Stout, all made excellent talks. The weather was ideal and several visitors attended. A sumptuous picnic dinner was served on Sunday. A number attended from Friendville, Alamance county, High Point, Randleman and other sections.

Saturday night, Oct. 26, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Loflin entertained a number of friends at their home in a surprise party in honor of their oldest son, Clyde Loflin's 21st birthday. He accompanied some other young people to High Point returning to the Loflin home as he thought for radio program but found a crowd of young folks assembled to celebrate his birthday. Various games were played after which Mrs. Loflin, assisted by Misses Louise Loflin, and Mary Alice Davis, served ice cream and cake. The color scheme of white and pink being carried out. The honor guest received some nice presents. Those present were Misses Leona and Mary Alice Davis, Catherine, Vada and Cecelia Farlow, Beatie, Iris, Treva, Louise and Fay Loflin, Iris Spencer, Ruth Cox and Beatrice Hill and Messrs. McLain, Marshall Morris and Byres Farlow, Howard Beeson, William Allred, William Taylor, Kermit Poole, Theodore, Clyde and Ogburn Loflin.

Quite an enjoyable occasion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Boles Saturday night when a number of their relatives gathered for a quilting party. There were three made. A chicken and oyster supper was served and some string music was played. Those present were O. O. Boles and family of Mooresville, Clyde Burton's family, Thomasville, J. H. Boles family, Glenn Osborne and family, all of High Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis recently visited their son, Aubrey Davis, and family at Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Robbins visited Mrs. Robbins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Adams, on Sunday. Mahlon Newlin of Saxapahaw spent Friday night at L. J. Davis.

Several attended the corn shucking at Elmer Beeson's on Thursday night, a sumptuous supper was served.

We are glad to report that A. W. (Continued from page 3)

Miss Hammond Returns Miss Margaret Hammond has returned to her home in Asheboro after eight days in Rex Hospital, Raleigh, following an emergency operation. Miss Hammond is recuperating in quite a satisfactory manner.

Stevens Leave For Virginia Dr. Herman Stevens and Mrs. Stevens left Asheboro yesterday for Newport News, Va., where they go to their new charge, Overt Avenue Baptist church. The Stevens have many friends in this section of the state as well as in Asheboro.

Asheboro School Closes October's Work; Honor Pupils Named In Sections

Bids For School Additions & Other Improvements, 15th

T. Fletcher Bulla, superintendent of education in Randolph county schools, announces that bids will be received for additions to the school buildings at Staley and Ramseur on Friday, November 15th at 11:00 a. m. Bids for heating and plumbing in these two additions will also be received at this time.

Bids will also be in order for wells for five county schools. These are Staley, Archdale, Coleridge, New Market and Tabernacle.

Bids must be turned in to the office of T. F. Bulla in the county court house on this date. Mr. Bulla is quite pleased with the prospects of these mentioned improvements in the county schools and their property.

Western Christian Conference Called For November 6-7

Will Be Held At Antioch Christian Church In Southeastern Randolph County

The Western N. C. Christian conference will meet in annual session, Wednesday and Thursday, November 6-7, at Antioch Christian church. The church is located in southeastern part of the county about eight (8) miles from Bennett. Rev. T. E. White, president, will call first session to order at 10:00 a. m. Rev. T. J. Green will conduct the devotional service, after which ministers and delegates will be enrolled and visitors introduced and received. The annual address will be given by President White, followed by communion service.

At the afternoon session, J. Rowland Farrell will present a report on Christian Endeavor, and Rev. H. V. Cox will report for home missions.

The evening session will be devoted to the interest of young people. Rev. M. A. Pollard will have charge of worship program. The report on Sunday schools will be given by Geo. T. Gunter, and Herman Truitt will discuss Youth Fellowship. The Christian Endeavor Society of Pleasant Hill church (Liberty, Rt. 2) will render a program.

On Thursday morning reports will be given on evangelism, religious literature, social service, and foreign missions. C. D. Johnston, superintendent of the orphanage at Elon College, will tell of the orphanage and its needs.

The afternoon session will hear reports of other committees, and an address by Dr. L. E. Smith, president of Elon College. Election of officers and other business matters will bring the conference to a close.

Mrs. John Payne Entertains New Bride And Class

Junior P.-T. A. Of Trinity Holds First Meeting Of New School Year.

Trinity Man Dies

Trinity Grange Holds Its Regular Meeting Monday In School Auditorium.

Trinity, Oct. 28.—James C. White, a prominent resident of this community, died at his home Tuesday morning following an illness of several months. He is the son of Jule and Eliza Brown White and he spent his entire life here, having served as rural mail carrier for 47 years. He is survived by his wife, seven sons, and two daughters. The funeral was held at Trinity M. E. church, Thursday at 11 a. m., conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. W. Williams and assisted by the local

(Please turn to page 4)

Homecoming Day Is Observed At Flint Hill Sunday

Home coming day was celebrated at Flint Hill church on Sunday, October 27th, with an interesting program. Many people from the community, as well as from a distance, were present and participated in the service which was an all-day affair with dinner at noon on the grounds.

The chief speaker of the morning program was Elbert Farlow of California who gave a graphic resume of his recent travels over the United States. In the afternoon, Rev. S. M. Penn gave the homecoming address.

Robert Lloyd then discussed the fundamental principles for building a community, closing with the song, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

Mrs. Walter Farlow and Miss Doris Hedding formed the committee arranging the program.

Mrs. Brantley Gordon of the Salem church community was very painfully burned on Friday when she fell into a tub of boiling water which she had just taken from a washpot to be used in scrubbing floors. She stumbled on a rock and dislocated her kneecap and so fell into the water. Dr. Hubbard was called and gave prompt aid, and she is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrior, of High Point, gave a barbecue dinner to their friends and neighbors at their farm on the Denton road on Saturday.

Fulton Kearns lost a fine mule one day last week. It was thought that its death was caused by eating frost-bitten corn.

Miss Catherine Stokes spent the week end at her home near Linwood.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Johnson, of Burlington, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Morgan on Sunday. Mr. Johnson is a brother of Mrs. Morgan.

Western Conference Of North Carolina Appoints Ministers For Churches

No Services For Methodist Church On This Sunday

Truesdales Leave For Waynesville

Rev. H. P. Powell, Who Has Served Four Years At Marion To Arrive Next Week

With the close Monday of the 46th annual conference of the Western North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, held in Salisbury since last Thursday, the appointments were published. Many and interesting are the changes wrought by this conference and, as a result, many presiding elders and ministers are moving about over this state and to new fields of service. Especially interesting is the new church law imposing a maximum term of four consecutive years in that office.

Rev. Loy D. Thompson, who has for the past two years served as presiding elder of the Greensboro district, of which Randolph county is a part, becomes pastor of Central Church, Asheville succeeding Rev. C. C. Weaver, who is appointed as successor to Rev. Mr. Thompson in the district.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Many Changes In The Conference Touch This Section Of State's Methodist Churches

With the close Monday of the 46th annual conference of the Western North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, held in Salisbury since last Thursday, the appointments were published. Many and interesting are the changes wrought by this conference and, as a result, many presiding elders and ministers are moving about over this state and to new fields of service. Especially interesting is the new church law imposing a maximum term of four consecutive years in that office.

Rev. Loy D. Thompson, who has for the past two years served as presiding elder of the Greensboro district, of which Randolph county is a part, becomes pastor of Central Church, Asheville succeeding Rev. C. C. Weaver, who is appointed as successor to Rev. Mr. Thompson in the district.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.

He has been an active leader in many forward movements of the church as well as an excellent preacher.

He, and his family, leave a great many staunch friends in Asheboro who wish for them success in their new work.

Most interesting of all to the (Please turn to page 8)

Dr. Truesdale, who has also served the First Methodist church of Asheboro for four years, leaves this week for his new work at the Methodist church of Waynesville.

Dr. Truesdale came to Asheboro four years ago when the Asheboro congregation had recently moved into their new building, which is one of the handsomest in the state.