Asheboro Firemen Hasten To Siler City On Monday Night

Clarence Rush and four other members of the Asheboro fire department answered a telephone SOS to Siler City Monday night. A tank filled with tar, used in repair work along the highway, got too hot, boiled over and ran down the railroad track. A house was burned along the track, ignited by the hot tar which ran swiftly toward the ice plant. Becoming alarmed that they could not handle the situation, the Siler City folk telephoned Chief Rush, who gathered recruits and set forth to the aid of Asheboro's eastern neighbor. Before they arrived, however, the fire was almost under control, according to Mr. Rush and little help from the Asheboro men was necessary. An estimate of the cost of the loss has not been accurately given, but the affair looked pretty bad for a while and most alarming to see the hot tar racing like a river. Firemen felt unusually helpless when faced with this unusual situation.

First Land Bought By Uwharrie Forest In Randolph County

H. H. Leake, Abstractor For Department Of Agriculture, Investigating More Land

The first deed of direct purchase of land in Randolph county to be used in connection with the Uwharrie purchase for U. S. Forestry purposes was filed in Asheboro Thursday. Records disclosed that property in Union township belonging to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Williams and the J. S. Williams estate, to the extent of 104.4 acres was deeded to the United States of America for the consideration of $407.16.

Other tracts in this county will probably be acquired by direct purchase soon, but the majority of land under consideration will be acquired by the condemnation procedure. The difference in the methods lies in the fact that the land secured by direct purchase will be paid for sooner than the longer drawn out process of the condemned land.

H. H. Leake, abstractor of the United States Department of Agriculture, has been in Randolph county since December 1st, investigating land titles preparatory to forestry purchases.

Tubercular Clinic Soon

The food is being provided by the Parent-Teachers Association. A genuine interest is being shown in the event by practically every citizen of the town, although many of these people have no connections whatsoever in the school.

Fund Is Available For Work Among Crippled Children

Fund Of $219,000 Will Be Available For Aid In This Important Health Work

Social Security Act

Hope Is To Eliminate Health Conditions That Retard Progress Of Children

From the office of Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, state health officer, comes the announcement from the United States public health service, that social security funds to provide treatment for 1,200 crippled children who are on a waiting list, have been received in Raleigh. A news bulletin appearing in a recent issue of the press of the state reveals a fund of $219,000 which will be available to counties complying with certain health standards under the social security allotments. Interested people in Randolph are investigating the availability of this fund for Randolph.

The division for crippled children, newly established under supervision of James T. Barnes of Wilson, received $12,000 for two months' operation. The division of maternity and child hygiene, under supervision of Dr. George M. Cooper, Assistant State Health Officer, received $22,000 as a two-months' payment.

Social security funds, now beginning to pour into the State Board of Health, reached a total of $80,000 with the new allotments. Dr. Reynolds said, and nearly $400,000 will be received for the fiscal year 1936-37. "This amount will practically double our present expenditures on public health," he explained.

A total of $219,000 will be available for aid to counties complying with State health standards under the social security allotments. Dr. Reynolds said. Fifty-one counties are eligible to receive funds for expanding their health boards to include preventive medicine and dentistry and in other ways enlarging their service. To be eligible, a county must maintain the minimum of a full-time health officer, a nurse, and a clerk.

Allotments are made partly from the Public Health Service, partly from the Children's Bureau, in payments of approximately $70,000 in advance every three months.

"Under the Social Security Act, we are now in position to spend 29 cents annually per capita—including State, county and city money—where before we could spend only nine cents," Dr. Reynolds said. "Even this is a long way from our goal, however. The committee on preventive medicine of the United States Public Service calculated $1 per capita should be available for this work."

"The State of North Carolina every year loses $3,000,000 out of the $21,000,000 spent on public schools because of pupils who 'repeat' grades from sickness and dental troubles which preventive medicine would eliminate. Thirty-five per cent of our school children are repeaters; 50 per cent of these 'stay down' because of preventable ills."

Two Cars Collide Near Ramseur Late Saturday Evening

Ambulance Siren Awakens Ramseur; No One Seriously Injured In Accident

Attend Garden Tea

Ramseur Clubs Participate In Garden Tea Held At Mrs. Stedman's, Asheboro

Ramseur, April 27.—The ambulance siren created excitement late Saturday night when a call came to convey injured young people to Asheboro. Two cars collided near the CCC camp and Bill Burgess and others were bruised and jarred up pretty badly. Burgess was driving up the highway, when for some reason, the driver of the other car, which was meeting him, turned across the road in front and both cars were badly smashed. From all we can learn at the time no one was seriously hurt.

The several Garden Club members of Ramseur clubs are invited by Mrs. S. B. Stedman to meet with her club at Asheboro Monday afternoon.

The clubs here are planning an exhibit a little later of cut flowers. Miss Thelma Cromartie, of the faculty of Fayetteville graded school, accompanied by her father, C. H. Cromartie, and William Cromartie, spent Sunday with Dr. C. S. Tate and family.

No commercial cars or trucks will use these roads. The pleasure grounds, including boating, fishing, hunting and camping sites are free and open to the public. The Uwharrie national purchase unit will be a part of the Pisgah National Forest when present plans are completed.

EXTENSION CLASSES NEAR COMPLETION FOR TERM

Dr. Ernest Derendinger of Catawba college was in Asheboro Thursday evening to conduct his usual Thursday evening class in art at the court house for teachers of the city and county, who are improving or renewing their certificates by this extension work.

Around 15 or 20 members were present for the class. There will be three or four more classes before the course ends.

Each Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Dr. P. E. Lindley of High Point college holds an extension course in Bible study, to which about 25 teachers of the county come regularly.
