State, National and International Happenings Briefly Told

50,000 MEXICAN RAIL EMPLOYEES BEGIN STRIKE

Mexico City.—Despite personal intervention of President Cardenas at the last minute, 50,000 employees of the vast Mexican national railways walked out Monday afternoon. The strikers demand a wage schedule giving seven days' wages for six days' work, a general wage increase, permanent jobs for temporary workers, and observance by the company of the labor laws. Within two hours the federal labor board had declared the strike illegal, thus obliging the men to return to work by Tuesday night or risk losing jobs and seniority rights.

BAPTIST LEADER DECLARES FREEDOM IN DANGER

St. Louis.—At a session of the Northern and Southern Baptists Monday, the nation was warned to beware attempts to undermine our religious freedom in the disguise of patriotism. The Rev. Frederick L. Anderson, professor emeritus of Newton Theological Seminary, at Newton Center, Mass., referred to the Massachusetts school children who were sentenced to what was practically a reform school when they refused to salute the flag because of their religious convictions. Dr. Anderson predicted that this could easily be the forerunner of systems of persecution and repression now used in Germany and Italy, and called upon all Baptists to awake to the danger before it was too late.

NEW DEAL LOSSES TWO COURT DECISIONS

Washington.—The Supreme Court Monday dealt the New Deal another body blow when it declared the Guffey Coal Law unconstitutional by a vote of 6-3, the majority holding that in the law congress had overstepped its constitutional power in attempting to regulate interstate commerce. This is the bill which stirred up so much criticism of President Roosevelt last summer when he urged a house committee not to let doubts of its constitutionality keep them from approving it. The second rebuff for the New Deal came when the District of Columbia court of appeals judged invalid the resettlement administration and declared that the 1935 relief act appropriating $4,880,000,000 delegated powers improperly to Roosevelt and violated states' rights.

ACCUSES PRESS OF CULTIVATING COMMUNISM

Asheville.—At a meeting of the Southern Newspapers association Monday, Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, executive director of the Association of Southern Women for Prevention of Lynching, declared that suppression of facts and distortion of news were "encouraging communistic tendencies in the minds of our more inflammable people. Mrs. Ames said that in their desire to play up the spectacular side of murder, lynching and war, newspapers were inclined to appeal to the emotions of fear and hate which only increased the desire for violence in the reader. Consequently, more people are being filled with ideas of force and lawlessness which are the principles of communism and radicalism.

INITIATE BOB REYNOLDS AS SIOUX INDIAN

Washington.—The staid white marble steps of the United States capitol were enlivened yesterday by the sight of Senator Bob Reynolds surrounded by a score of picture-squally attired Sioux Indians who were accepting him into their tribe. Doffing an elaborate headdress of brown, white and red feathers, the senator was greeted with the name Oyate-Nawaskiejik in plain English, Chief Stands-Fer-His-People. After smoking the pipe of peace with his new brothers, Senator Reynolds was presented with a sister in the person of six months old Princess White-Crow-Broken-Hope, whom he obligingly held in his arms until her squalls brought an anxious squaw to the rescue.

UNITED STATES REACHES AGREEMENT WITH CHINA

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., has announced the formation of a pact between China and the United States specifying the immediate purchase in regular monthly installments of silver from China by us, at prices equal to the average monthly world price of silver. The proceeds will be used to help stabilize the foreign exchange rate of China's managed currency.

Mrs. Fox III

Mrs. L. M. Fox submitted to an operation in the Randolph hospital Monday afternoon. Mrs. Fox has been in ill health for some time, this being the third operation she has undergone in the past few months. Her condition is considered as satisfactory.

Hon. Clyde R. Hoey Speaking Tonight Randolph Folk

Hour speaking Set For Tuesday At 7:45 At City Court House

Will Discuss Issues

Candidate For Governor Is Well Known In Native State Where Record Is Favorable

Democrats of Randolph county are having the opportunity of hearing many political speakers during this primary campaign, but they will hardly have the opportunity to hear a better orator than the Honorable Clyde R. Hoey who has, for many years, been termed the "silver-tongued orator of Carolina." Mr. Hoey will speak at the court house in Asheboro tonight at 7:45. He will discuss the political situation as well as his own platform as a candidate for governor of North Carolina.

Since the newspaper poll started several weeks ago, friends of Mr. Hoey have been watching the trend of affairs with considerable interest, especially within the past few days when his candidacy is increasing in popularity. The increasing percentage of votes in favor of Mr. Hoey has been most gratifying and his managers in the various counties claim that there will be no second primary.

The chief cause of this increase in popularity is said to be the fact that he is not a chronic promiser. Mr. Hoey does, however, hold strongly against the return of tax on land.

Asheboro Is Busy Selling Character Bonds At Present

Local Civic Organizations Joining With Central Committee In Selling These Bonds

Headquarters Named

Rev. N. M. Harrison Chairman Of Committee For Establishing Two Playgrounds

In order to finance supervised playgrounds for children during the summer months, a campaign to sell "Character Bonds" in Asheboro was inaugurated Monday by a central committee of leading citizens representing the various churches, Sunday schools, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Woman's club, American Legion, Parent-Teachers Association, Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations. Miss Kate Hammer's Hat Shop is the headquarters for the campaign, and in addition enthusiastic squads of canvassers are going around town.

The bonds are of various denominations up to $25, and are non-redeemable and non-interesting from a money-making point of view. However, coupons to be clipped from them indicate that dividends such as health, sportmanship, teamwork, spiritual growth and good character will accrue from investment. Consequently, far-seeing citizens should be eager to seize this opportunity to provide for the future welfare of their community.

Rev. N. M. Harrison, general manager for High Point college, who is chairman of the central committee, plans to have two playgrounds in operation by the first of June. Each will be under the supervision of two trained recreational leaders, so that not only will children have a place to play during the long vacation days, but also a place to be supervised.

Speaks Wednesday

W. Kerr Scott Will Speak In Asheboro Wednesday Evening

Candidate For Commissioner Of Agriculture Will Address Randolphians

Native N. C. Farmer

Born And Reared In Alamance County; Has Held Several Agricultural Posts

W. Kerr Scott, of Alamance county, who is opposing William A. Graham for the Democratic nomination as commissioner of agriculture, will come to Asheboro Wednesday night to discuss the agricultural problems confronting North Carolina farmers today. Scheduled to speak in the court house at 8 o'clock, Mr. Scott, a World War veteran and an active farmer, plans to show his audience the need to "revitalize agriculture" and develop his program to put some life in it.

Mr. Scott is not merely a theorist, nor is he a politician with second hand ideas. As farm agent for Alamance county for ten and a half years, he gained state-wide recognition for his experienced judgment and progressive leadership in every phase of agriculture. Moreover, he is a farmer himself, living on a 500 acre farm in Hawfield community of Alamance county, where in addition to his specialty of breeding registered Jersey cattle, he keeps 400 laying hens, 9 brood sows and 25 sheep.

Mr. Scott believes that agriculture must develop hand in hand with industry, for without the farmer we would have none of the raw materials for industry. Realizing that North Carolina is fourth among the states in possibilities for development, Mr. Scott wants to attain to a position of leadership where he can make these possibilities blossom into realities and restore agriculture in North Carolina to its rightful place.

His practical wisdom is evidenced by his recognition of the importance of forestry in the maintenance of the soil and good farms. His interest in securing a more satisfactory rural telephone system points to his progressiveness.

Ever since his birth in 1896 in Haw

Early Morning Fire Destroys M&M Cafe In Business Section

Flames Of Unknown Origin Ravage Cafe In Closely Built Business District

Plan To Rebuild

The "M & M" Cafe on Sunset avenue was ravaged early Monday morning by a fire of unknown origin which had gained great headway before an alarm was turned in. Although Fire Chief Clarence Rush had water on the flames inside five minutes, little could be done but keep the fire from spreading, and there the Asheboro volunteers were very effective. Stock and furnishings of the cafe were totally ruined, but prompt work by the firefighters kept the conflagration within bounds.

When the alarm aroused Asheboro at 2:30 a. m., flames were already breaking through the roof. Chief Rush had his men on the job almost immediately, laid two lines of hose through the Randolph Drug Store, and effectively checked the spread of the blaze. Officials of the Randolph

Democrats Choose Arthur Ross Leader In Randolph County

Mrs. George Birkhead Selected As Vice Chairman By Precinct Committee

Harmony Prevailed

Good Attendance, Interest And Enthusiasm Characterized The Convention

Democrats of Randolph county met in convention at the court house in Asheboro Saturday morning at the call of Chairman C. C. Cranford. The convention was called to order by Mr. Cranford who turned the chair over to Arthur Ross.

The chief business of the convention was to name a chairman for the county and to select delegates for the state convention to be held in Raleigh on June 12th. There was some discussion as to the postponement of the selection of a chairman until after the primary, but this was decided against and leaders were named by the executive committee.

Arthur Ross was made chairman of the executive committee and agreed to accept the office when the unanimous support of the convention was pledged. M. H. Birkhead and W. L. Grimsley served as secretaries of the convention. Mrs. George Birkhead was named vice chairman of the county by the precinct committee, in session during a part of the convention hour. The choice of both Mr. Ross and Mrs. Birkhead was quite pleasing to the convention as a whole and enthusiastic applause greeted the announcement of the officers.

As to the selection of the delegates to the state convention in Raleigh, all Democrats in good standing were made delegates to the judicial, congressional and state conventions meeting at noon of June 10th.

The convention was well attended for the morning hour which varied from the customary Saturday afternoon affair. The interest in matters political was obvious and the harmony of the Democrats assembled was marked and remarkable as they planned, set traps and baited hooks for the coming primary, convention and campaign of the fall.

There was no formal speech at this meeting, but several well known Democrats made a few informal remarks while the precinct committee was selecting the officers for the county.
