

Many Crippled Children Randolph Will Receive Treatment Second Year

Thirteenth Monthly Clinic Held Thursday Marks Opening Of Second Year

Work Promoted By Asheboro Rotarians

Working Plans Of Monthly Clinic Depicted In Human Interest Story

With its 13th clinic held Thursday morning the Crippled Children's work sponsored by the Asheboro Rotary club entered into its second year of service to the unfortunate youngsters of Randolph county. The total number of patients according to the latest figures available to N. M. Cranford, chairman of the crippled children's committee, exclusive of Thursday's clinic, has been 95. Some of these have been treated privately, though most attended the clinics.

Dr. Thomas Wheelon, of Richmond, who conducts these clinics, has an average of about 50 patients at each clinic. Dr. Wheelon's procedure, which differs from that followed at many clinics, was highly praised by Mr. Cranford. Dr. Wheelon conducts his work only through and in cooperation with a local doctor, and endeavors to avoid the long and expensive hospitalization so often advocated. As a rule he has the patient in the hospital for only three days, performing the operation or whatever treatment is necessary, and then allowing him to go home in care of his local doctor. Then at the next clinic the patient returns for examination and further treatment.

One of the advantageous features of Dr. Wheelon's treatment is the avoidance as much as possible of rigid plaster casts which bind and pain the child in favor of adjustable jackets and braces which may be tightened as improvement is noted or eased up if too painful as the local doctor sees fit. Dr. Wheelon is ready at a moment's call to come to any patient who is not doing well in between clinics, but so far this has not been necessary.

As each child comes to the Randolph hospital for the clinics a complete record is made and filed in his case. Of course a thorough physical examination is given and all particulars noted. These are

District Officer Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Meeting

Emil Bernstecker, District Lieutenant Governor, Praises Local Club

Presenting first the objectives of Kiwanis for 1936 and then the accomplishments of the Asheboro club, Emil G. Bernstecker, of Greensboro, district lieutenant governor, guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday night, gave the club an idea of its achievements by comparing the two. Mr. Bernstecker declared that Asheboro was in the higher group of clubs in this district in accomplishments, and the club here has the best attendance record in the district.

Among the work mentioned by the lieutenant governor was that for the underprivileged children, the library donation, Boy Scout work, meeting with farmers, as well as the many programs which encourage improved government, education, and conservation of resources. This was Mr. Bernstecker's first visit to the Asheboro club since February, 1936.

The district convention, including clubs from both North and South Carolina, will be held in Greensboro October 29-31, it was announced Tuesday. The following nominating committee to nominate officers for the coming year was appointed by Rufus Routh, president: I. C. Moser, Lee M. Kearns, E. V. Hobbs, Edwin Morris, Jr., and R. L. Bunch.

The meeting next week will be the last one at 6:45, after which the regular time, 8:30, will be resumed. The program will be in charge of the underprivileged children's committee, which includes Reginald Turner, chairman, Harold Griffin, David Cranford, Dr. R. P. Sykes, and J. T. Pugh.

Among the visiting Kiwanians were J. E. Carroll, president of the Greensboro club, and B. M. Newell.

Miss Monroe Accepts Position

Miss Marjorie Monroe of Star has accepted a position with Eleanor's Beauty Salon and resuming work there the first of the week. Miss Monroe is an experienced beauty operator and comes highly recommended. She completed her training at a Raleigh Beauty school.

Rules Panama Canal

COL. CLARENCE S. RIDLEY

Col. Clarence S. Ridley, U. S. engineers corps, is new governor of the Panama Canal, named by President Roosevelt to succeed Col. Julian L. Schley. Col. Ridley is a native of Corydon, Ind., and saw service in Cuba, Hawaii and the Philippines and was military aide to President Wilson during the World war.

Franklinville Folk Leave This Week For Many Schools

Teachers Leave For Schools And Colleges As Is Also Case With Students

Building New Home Mrs. M. C. Routh Critically Ill At Home Of Her Son, E. A. Routh

Franklinville, Sept. 2.—Miss Mary Holladay has gone to Siler City where she will teach in the Silk Hope high school. This is Miss Holladay's fifth years work in this school.

Miss Laura Sumner will teach again this year in Salem Academy, Winston-Salem.

James Martin and Miss Sarah Russell have entered Raleigh School of Commerce, Raleigh.

Miss Versa Russell will leave next week for Mars Hill where she will take a special course at Mars Hill college. Miss Rachel Burrow and Miss Hilder Gray Brady will attend Woman's college of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, and Billy Carter will again attend State college of agriculture and engineering, Raleigh.

L. C. Hancock has bought a lot of W. R. Thomas on Gray street and is building a five room bungalow.

Mrs. M. C. Routh is critically ill at the home of her son, E. A. Routh.

E. B. Ausley and son, Paul, who have been attending a revival meeting for the past fifteen days at Circleville, Ohio, have returned to their home.

Mrs. C. T. Henson and children of Carthage are spending a few days this week with Mrs. Henson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Marley.

New Salem News Of Current Interest During This Week

Randleman, route 1, Sept. 2.—Miss Virginia Dorsett has returned from a week's visit with friends in Statesville.

Miss Isabelle Ward spent the week-end with her uncle, Pearl Ward, and family in High Point.

Claude Hinshaw and Millard Frazier with some friends from Greensboro motored to Raleigh Sunday.

Mrs. E. C. Hinshaw, who has spent the summer with her mother in Gadsden, Ala., has returned to her home near here.

Several of our people attended the funeral of Fred Farlow at Old Union last week.

News of the illness of Claude Frazier at Mooresville, a brother of Mrs. J. M. Hinshaw, has been received.

Light Thrown On Reason For Close Of Baucom's Office

Regional Office At Raleigh Announces General Consolidation Policy

Increase Economy

Nothing Definite Concerning Future Assignments Of Baucom And Helpers

A statement issued Wednesday from the regional office of the Resettlement administration at Raleigh explains to some extent the sudden closing of the Randolph county Resettlement office last week. On August 25, about two weeks after he had received notice to release Mrs. Mildred Huskins, who was in charge of the rural women and home planning for the rehabilitation program, and Mrs. Minnie Lee McFadden, secretary, J. Robin Baucom, county rehabilitation supervisor, was ordered to close up the office.

No definite reason for the action was given at the time, but according to the present announcement it is part of a wide-spread consolidation of activities in the interest of increased efficiency and economy. A large part of the clerical work of the rehabilitation offices of the Resettlement administration in all the state included in Region 4 is being transferred to the Raleigh office, and this transfer includes the state loan and state farm plan examining offices. Since this order affects North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia, it is evident that Asheboro is not the only sufferer.

Just how the projects in this county will be supervised has not yet been revealed, though it is expected that they will be directed from the Greensboro office, as was done before Mr. Baucom's arrival. It has not been learned what assignment he will receive now, but in line with the policy stated in the announcement he will probably be located in the Raleigh office.

"The work of these offices, largely clerical, will become a function of the regional office instead of the several state offices, thus relieving state directors of clerical detail, leaving them free to spend their time in the supervision and guidance of the Rehabilitation program in their respective states," Regional Director George S. Mitchell said in explaining the move. To avoid duplication of work, it was further explained, Resettlement administration accounting, in accordance with recent changes, is now being handled by the Treasury Accounts office here for the entire region. Prompt handling of loans for clients makes it necessary to consolidate the loan and farm plan examining offices in close proximity to the Treasury office.

"The change will also enable us to bring about considerable saving in administrative cost," the director said.

While it is admitted that the change will result in a reduction of

(Continued from page 2)

McCrary, Bossong Make Even Match For Battle Today

Statistics Give McCrary Edge In Pitching And Team Batting

With Bossong and McCrary all set for the opening gun for the championship of the Inter-City league, only the fool-hardy would venture to pick the winner. Each team dominated the race during the half it won. Many are of the opinion that Bossong was merely coasting in the second half and can beat McCrary as it did in the first half. Others point to the fact that the Eagles are now at the top of their stride and do not believe the Indians can recover their early season supremacy.

McCrary leads the league in team batting with a mark of .275, while Bossong is third with a .266 percentage. The Eagles boast the two highest pitchers who have been twirling regularly. Briggs has won 9 and lost 1 for a .900 average, and Calloway has a .786 average, with 11 wins and 3 losses. Just behind them is Lanier, of Bossong, who has won 11 and dropped 5 for .688. McFadden of the Eagles has won 6 and lost 4. Wentz of the Indians has turned in 8 victories, but has lost 6 games.

Among individual batters who have played the entire season Hal Johnson of Bossong is tops with .389, though Riley of Ragan-Maurice is the nominal leader with .397. Other regulars on the two rival Asheboro clubs who are battling in the magic .300 class are Borge, McCrary, .311; Newmañ, Bossong, .328; Short, McCrary, .324; Griffin McCrary, .320; Briggs, McCrary, .308; and Jartett, Bossong, .302.

Church Hides Spanish Snipers

Civil war scene in Spain

Silhouetted against the sky, Loyalist soldiers in Spain's bitter civil war, are pictured using a village church as a fortress as they fire on Fascist rebel troops in the Guadarrama mountain district, in defense of Madrid.

Ramseur Active In Varied Lines During The Week

Beauty Show Friday Evening Sponsored By Library Association

Work On Bridge

Cemetery Is Cleaned Of Weeds And Undergrowth Improving Appearance

Ramseur, Sept. 3.—Ramseur is to have a beauty show, or contest Friday night September 4, at Ramseur school building, sponsored by the Ramseur Library Association. Twenty-five young ladies are to be in the parade and nineteen little folks are entered in the Shirley Temple contest.

An amateur broadcast will be one of the most interesting features of the evening and the entire program promises to furnish a full hour of entertainment.

The new bridge across Deep River just below the present covered bridge is to be erected soon.

The clearing is being done this week preparatory for the construction of this two-way bridge that will greatly improve the traffic problem at this point.

The town has improved the appearance of the cemetery this week by clearing the growth of weeds and briars.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lilly spent the past week-end with friends at Albemarle.

Mrs. A. G. Burgess of Greensboro is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. N. F. Phillips.

Mrs. W. E. Marley and sons visited friends at Leaksville last week.

A. H. Thomas and Prof. R. C. Jones were guests of Dr. Gilmore

(Continued from page 2)

Superintendent R. Turner Discusses School Matters

Superintendent of city schools Reginald Turner released on Thursday the list of assignments of the teachers in the Asheboro system according to the school in which each will teach.

There is no change in the high school faculty for the coming year. Miss Alma Lassiter will continue as principal of the high school. In the elementary schools, there are two new principals: Miss Donna Lee Loflin in new elementary school and Mrs. Bertha P. Councilman in elementary school in old building. Both Miss Loflin and Mrs. Councilman are teachers of several years' experience in the Asheboro schools and the system is fortunate to have as principals women who have proven their ability and worth so well.

Below are the lists of assignments for the two elementary schools: East school: Mrs. Bertha P. Councilman, principal, Miss Anne Fuller Young, Miss Leona Wood, Miss Callie Vuncannon, Miss Rachel Bushy, Miss Madge Hobgood, Mrs. John T. Moffitt, Miss Winifred

Randleman News Contains Many Business Items

Miss Mary Upton And Bill Pegram Married; Reside In Randleman

Motorcycle Trip

Chief Of Police Wyatt And Bob Stevens Buying And Selling Hogs

Randleman, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Arthur Swaim of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Tom Pugh of Staunton, Va., is visiting his sister, Miss Bertha Pugh, here.

W. D. Hannon has accepted a position as superintendent of the cotton mill at Coleridge where they make yarns.

Miss Mary Upton, daughter of John Upton, was united in marriage to Bill Pegram. They are making their home here for the time being.

Carl Redding and Lindsay Snyder were in town this week looking over the farm recently purchased by Mr. Snyder.

John Fox is building a nice bungalow in South Randleman near the old Bostick homeplace. It will be modern and up to date when John puts the finishing touch on it.

John Lamb and Tom Moser, who recently sold their service station at White Hall took a flying trip north this week on their motor cycle taking in the sights in Washington and Philadelphia while gone.

Gray Lamb and Paul Jarrell, feeling the need of a way to transport their live stock, went out and traded Claude Holden out of his trailer. One can get free delivery service now from this live stock firm.

Joe Swaim, the noted fox hunter and fisherman, has bought a Ford coupe to use on his hunting and fishing trips. He reports a big catch of 28 pounds of fish one day this week, so Gray Lamb says. Pretty big fish tale, eh? Joe also tells a big tale about seeing Dan Stalker carry 300 brick in a barrel up on a scaffold when they were building Plaidville factory. This would be about 1200 to 1500 pounds which would be a pretty big load for one man, we think. If you are going to tell one, tell a big one.

Chief of police Wyatt and Bob Stevens are playing the hog market pretty strong these days, buying and selling on the Galax, Va., and Greensboro live stock markets. They bought this week the entire output of hogs raised on Addie Farlow's farm this summer.

Ralph Talley has been confined to his room for a few days this week suffering from tonsillitis. Nothing serious we hope.

Mrs. Arnton Barker, who has been living with her daughter in Georgia since the death of her husband, died this week and was buried there. She was a Miss Dosier.

Mrs. E. J. Williams Is Killed Tuesday Eve In Accident

Prominent Woman Dies Instantly When Struck By Creasy's Automobile

Mrs. Eliza J. Williams, widow of the late Dr. J. R. Williams, was killed almost instantly when struck by a car along the Asheboro-High Point highway near her home at Glenola Tuesday night. State highway patrolman Gaskill, located at High Point and Randolph officers checked the accident, which appears to have been accidental. A hearing and further investigation will be held for the driver of the car involved, William Ernest Creasy of Archdale, before L. C. Phillips, J. P., in Asheboro Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Williams was born in Randolph county on August 29, 1862, the daughter of the late Alex and Elizabeth Burton Coletrane. Her husband died on January 1, 1932, and it was then that Mrs. Williams moved to the home on the Asheboro highway. The family resided in High Point for years and was widely known throughout this section.

Mrs. Williams is survived by two half-sisters, Mrs. J. C. Spencer and Mrs. J. A. Davis, both of High Point, route three; and by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service was conducted from the Marlboro Friends church at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon with Rev. Edward Harris, pastor of the church, and Rev. Ben Millikan, pastor of Archdale Friends church, in charge. Interment followed in Oakwood cemetery, where the family has a mausoleum.

(Please turn to Page 2)

Senator Bob Reynolds In Brief Visit Tuesday Tells A Colorful Story

Visits Asheboro

SENATOR BOB REYNOLDS

Revival Services End At Marlboro With Good Result

Personal Visiting Among The Citizens Of The Neighborhood This Week

Auto Accident Tues.

Mrs. Eliza Williams Is Killed Instantly When Struck By Car Near Home

Sophia, route 1, Sept. 3.—The revival which continued at Marlboro Friends church from quarterly meeting closed Tuesday night. The pastor, Rev. Edward Harris, was assisted by an evangelist, Cora Lee Gardner, who is a very gifted evangelist and brought the messages forcibly seeming much concerned over the lost condition of many souls. The meetings were well attended and much interest was shown among the church members and the entire community. A large number were converted and reclaimed.

Avery Davis spent Saturday night at James Moorefields.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lowe and children of near Greensboro attended service at Marlboro Sunday and spent the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Loflin.

Mr. and Mrs. Shade Inman of Guilford county have moved to Mrs. Eliza Williams' place here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Boles and three children were Saturday night visitors of O. O. Boles in Mooresville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Davis of Broadway were guests of relatives here Saturday night.

Among the visitors at J. H. Norman's during the past week were Mrs. R. F. Leftwich and two children of Bluefield, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Leftwich and three children of Galax, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ellerbe and three children of Ellerbe; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Brannon and two children of Mt. Airy; Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Coble of Burlington; and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Griffin of High Point.

Miss Mary and Miss Martha Moorefield spent Saturday night with Miss Emily Davis.

Mrs. Ellen Ridge, who has been very ill, is improving slowly.

The condition of Sylvester Davis,

(Continued from page 2)

News During Week Of Farmer Section Of Varied Interest

Farmer, Sept. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hammond and sons, Keith and Hyatt, visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hammond in Asheboro on Sunday.

Mrs. W. W. Priester and son, Bernice, and Miss Cecile Wolf, of Allendale, S. C., have been guests of Mrs. Claude Dorsett for the past week. They will return home sometime this week.

Mrs. J. W. Kearns returned recently from a visit to her mother, Mrs. R. L. Vickery, who lives near Climax. She had as her guests during the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maus, and Miss Adelaide Hendricks of Greensboro.

Mrs. Berry Vuncannon, who has been ill for many weeks, went to Duke hospital Saturday for examination and treatment.

Rev. Thomas Hodgkin of Greensboro is conducting a series of meetings at Hoover's Grove church. The meeting will close next Sunday with a union service at Pleasant Grove church which is near Hoover's Grove.

(Please turn to Page 8)

"Hot Speech" Causes Small Fire In Automobile Seat Under Manuscript

Pays Brief Visit To Asheboro Friends

Would Speak In Randolph; Will Attend Two Big State Rallies In September

In his characteristic breezy, friendly fashion, Senator Bob Reynolds visited friends in Asheboro Thursday. The Senator was traveling in his Ford car in company with Colonel Cadson of Washington.

Senator Reynolds' visit in Randolph was brief this time, for the reason that he was enroute to Mt. Pleasant church in Cabarrus to speak at a family reunion there, but he stayed long enough to greet several old friends and new ones as well. The Senator had been delayed before he reached Asheboro because of a fire in the back seat of his car which appeared to catch for no good reason. Senator Bob's explanation of the affair, however, is quite Reynoldsque and amusing. Averting that no stray cigarette butt caused the conflagration, the only explanation that suited the Senator was that his speech, prepared for the reunion, was so hot that it started the fire. Little damage was done, however, and it made a good story for a dreary, rainy day, such as Thursday.

Possibly the heat from the speech came from Senator Reynolds' warm enthusiasm for the present Democratic administration, for he is a New Deal enthusiast. Or, possibly his fervor against the aliens in our midst caused the fire—unless it could be just Reynolds' zest and warm enthusiasm for all things Democratic.

It is a hobby of Senator Bob's at the moment to speak in small places and he indicated that he would be glad to speak in Randolph, at some reunion or just a plain political speech, which it would be anyway. This devotion to rural folk and their interests does not mean that he does not plan to attend the Green Pastures convocation in Charlotte nor the big rally and love feast at the Municipal Lake at High Point on September 18th—but the Senator is distinctly rural at the moment.

Man Thought To Be Intoxicated Dies From Poison Dose

J. B. Farrell, Textile Worker Of Schoolfield, Va., Leaves Wife Note

Because Danville police thought he was intoxicated and put him in jail without medical treatment, J. B. Farrell, 25-year-old textile worker of Schoolfield, Virginia, died from the effects of poison an hour after he was picked up early Tuesday morning. It is said that only when his cellmate noticed that his breathing had stopped was any attention paid to his condition.

Busy clerks at Franklin's drug store paid scant attention to Farrell when he entered the store. He had the appearance of being slightly inebriated, the police were told. When Farrell placed on the counter an empty bottle which once had contained a commercial fluid which is poisonous he went out but returned later and asked one of the druggists to call the police. Officers responded and finding Farrell unsteady in his gait on the sidewalk arrested him. City Coroner Wiseman held Farrell had died from drinking an antiseptic solution.

Coroner Wiseman, in declaring the case to be suicide said that a note to his wife in which he clearly indicated the intention of self destruction was taken out of the man's pocket while, dying, he was being booked in the jail. The note was found among his effects deposited at police headquarters. Mrs. Farrell told the coroner that her husband was drinking when he left home last night. The note said that he expected to see his wife in the hereafter.

Visiting Relatives

Miss Louella Lowe, Miss Madge and Miss Mozelle Johnson, of Washington, D. C., have arrived in Asheboro for a visit to Miss Lowe's mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Lowe and other relatives in Asheboro. The Misses Johnson will also spend sometime with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, near Farmer. Miss Lowe holds a position with the navy department. Miss Mozelle Johnson holds a position in a Washington bank and Miss Madge Johnson is a member of the city school faculty.