

Work Conference At Farmer Church Beneficial Move

Methodist Episcopal Workers Meet For Profitable All-Day Conference

Teacher Is Ill

School Play Presented Saturday Eve; Popularity Contest For Local Babies

Farmer, April 7.—A county-wide conference of workers in the M. E. Church, South, was held on Monday in the local church, with a good crowd present.

The play, "See You Later," given Saturday night in the school auditorium, was well attended.

In connection with the play was a popularity contest, in which six babies were entered, the prize being a silver loving cup.

Mrs. W. H. Dewar is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith, in Tabernacle township.

Fred Bingham, B. F. Bingham, and Hal Bingham made a business trip to Washington, D. C., yesterday.

W. W. Lassiter and Miss Hop Hubbard were in Greensboro yesterday for the meeting of the Permanent Board of North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends, held in Asheboro Street Friends church.

Miss Myrtle Scarborough is back to her work as teacher of the second grade in the local school, after a week spent at her home in Mt. Gilead, recuperating from a very severe cold.

Miss Sarah Holman, another member of the school faculty, was taken to Randolph hospital Monday evening, suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

(Continued from page 2)

Local Civic Group Plans Beautification Program For Asheboro Generally

Sculptor Sought In Triple Death

The person whom New York police say they most want to question in connection with the murder of Veronica Gedeon, pretty model, and two others, has been identified as Robert Irwin, above.

Jay McPherson Is News Tip Winner

The winner of the news tip this time is Jay McPherson who turned in an item about his teacher who has been ill and is back again at her post.

Two Young Brides Honeymooning Now

Two 14-year old Boston girls are now honeymooning with their 20-year old husbands after legal and parental intervention had been removed.

West School Is Now Standard With Respect To Its Libraries

A. I. Ferree Will Head Peace Group

Earl Bulla Named Vice President, Mrs. R. C. Welborn, Sec.-Treas.

Meet Again Tues.

Form Permanent Organization For Promotion Of Peace, Understanding

With the election of A. I. Ferree as president, a local and county organization for Peace Action was inaugurated in Randolph county Tuesday, at the Baptist church.

This organization was the outcome of the mass peace meeting that was held under the auspices of last year's Tentative Council of the Emergency Peace Campaign.

Has Obtained 700th Volume Through Campaign By Teachers And Pupils

The West school under the leadership of Miss Donna Lee Loflin has just completed an excellent piece of work in attaining the coveted goal of standard classroom libraries.

At the beginning of the year the division of elementary library books between the two schools gave the West school 199 books as a nucleus with which to begin working toward standard libraries.

In doing this outstanding work for the school libraries, Miss Loflin has had the finest kind of cooperation by several groups.

C. Bossong Heads A Varied Group

Improvements Of Permanent Nature Are On The Extensive Program

Committees Break Into Four Sections

Beautifying Homes, Schools, Street And General Improvement Committee

Definite steps for a program of improvement and beautification in Asheboro that would go beyond a clean up campaign of a week's or a month's duration were taken Tuesday at a meeting of the leaders of the civic organizations of the town.

The matter was discussed at length and it was decided to break up the work into several fields for more thorough accomplishments.

(Please turn to Page 2)

Struck By Truck, Dies In Hospital

John Teague, 45 year old resident of Hemp, died in Moore county hospital Tuesday night shortly after being struck by a delivery truck driven by Clarence Harvell of Hemp.

Harvell was driving a Hemp Bargain Grocery truck when he struck Teague, who was walking along the road in front of the grammar school in Hemp.

Teague was married and the father of two children.

Asheboro Doctors Go To High Point

Practically all the members of the medical profession in Asheboro are planning to attend the meeting of the Eighth District Medical Society in High Point this afternoon and evening.

Only two doctors were definitely unable to be present, Dr. Tiffany Barnes, whom clinical business keeps in Asheboro, and Dr. W. L. Lambert, who is out of town.

Randleman Woman Taken By Death

Mrs. Iva Allred Underwood, age 50, wife of W. L. Underwood, died at seven o'clock Tuesday night at her home in Randleman, following an illness of several weeks.

She is survived in addition to her husband by two daughters, Mrs. Elmer Moody of Asheboro and Miss Mary Louise Underwood of the home; five sons, Colon, Worth, Glenn and Carl, all of the home and Kenneth Underwood of Salisbury; one sister, Mrs. Joe Bullard of Climax, route 1; one brother, C. F. Allred of Indianapolis, Indiana; and one grandchild.

Funeral service was conducted from the St. Paul M. E. church in Randleman, this afternoon at three o'clock, by Rev. R. W. Phillips of Rameuse, assisted by Rev. John Allred of Franklinville.

New Members On Education Board Randolph County

D. J. Boyles, C. M. Kennedy, A. F. Cox Assume Posts; J. A. Martin Relected

L. F. Ross, Chairman

Fletcher Bulla Relected County Superintendent; Begins 25th Year

D. J. Boyles, Charles M. Kennedy, and A. F. Cox assumed their places as new members of the county board of education at its meeting Monday, the other members being J. A. Martin, who was reelected by the general assembly, and L. F. Ross, whose term was unexpired.

This was the first meeting of the board since its number had been increased from three to five in accordance with one of the provisions of the "omnibus" school bill, the reason for the increase being to secure better representation for the county.

T. Fletcher Bulla, who on August 1 will complete his 24th consecutive year as county superintendent, was unanimously reelected for another two year term.

John H. (Red) Harmon, veteran pilot, who often visited in Asheboro, was killed Tuesday near Winston-Salem when a parachute failed to open after he had jumped from a plane.

Harmon had been flying since 1937 and was regarded as one of the best pilots in this part of the country.

He was testing a Stearman bi-plane for spins when the accident occurred. He had the ship up about 5,000 feet when it went into a spin with the nose pointing to the ground and the tail spinning.

Several who saw the leap said his parachute failed to open and the plane nearly struck him as he fell.

James G. Nell, air department inspector for this division, came from Charlotte and investigated the accident.

The board secured the services of A. T. Allen & Company, represented by F. J. Phillips of Asheboro, to audit the school accounts for 1936-37 for $300.

The board will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to appoint the local school boards for the county schools.

Tom Thumb Wedding Franklinville, April 7.—The primary grades of the Franklinville school will present the "Tom Thumb Wedding," Friday evening at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

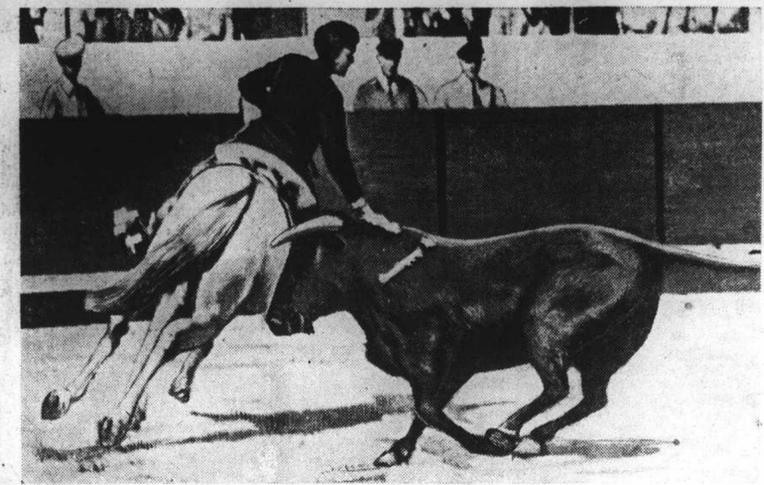

The P.-T. A. is sponsoring this program. There will be a small admission charge.

Pilots Die With Six Passengers

The half-burned bodies of Co-Pilot Joe Wolfolk (left) and Pilot Glen Moser (right) were found strapped in the wreckage of their skyliner high in the mountains of eastern Arizona Wednesday afternoon.

AMERICAN GIRL DARES DEATH IN BULL FIGHT ARENA

Only 15 but already a three-year veteran of the arena, Conchita Cintron is the only woman equestrian bull fighter. The pretty granddaughter of A. Hyatt Verrill, Massachusetts author, above, braves the menacing horns of a charging bull.

Pilot Killed Is Well Known Here

Killed Tuesday When Parachute Fails To Open As He Jumps From Plane

In Winston-Salem

Visited In Asheboro On Sunday; Has Many Close Friends In Town

John H. (Red) Harmon, veteran pilot, who often visited in Asheboro, was killed Tuesday near Winston-Salem when a parachute failed to open after he had jumped from a plane.

Harmon had been flying since 1937 and was regarded as one of the best pilots in this part of the country.

He was testing a Stearman bi-plane for spins when the accident occurred. He had the ship up about 5,000 feet when it went into a spin with the nose pointing to the ground and the tail spinning.

Several who saw the leap said his parachute failed to open and the plane nearly struck him as he fell.

James G. Nell, air department inspector for this division, came from Charlotte and investigated the accident.

The board will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to appoint the local school boards for the county schools.

Deaton Infant Is Buried Tuesday

Clarence Michael Deaton, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Deaton, died early Monday morning at the local hospital.

One brother and four sisters survive, in addition to the parents. Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at Mt. Gilead.

Divorces Hagen As Golf Widow

"Unless a woman is a golf addict herself, she should never marry a confirmed golfer. It can end only on the rocks," counsels Mrs. Walter Hagen (above), who has just won a divorce from the famous golfer on grounds of desertion.

Many Want Posts On Liquor Board

More Than 30 Candidates Have Been Endorsed For The Three Places

Hoey To Act Soon

Leading Candidate Is Author Of Bill By Which 17 Counties Sell Liquor

More than 30 men in North Carolina have been endorsed by their friends for the three positions on the State Liquor Control Board.

Among persons being endorsed for the chairmanship of the liquor board are Representative Frank Webb Williams of Elizabeth City, author of the Pasquotank Act under which 17 counties now sell liquor.

Caplan M. Waynick, present chairman of the Highway Commission, and George W. Coan, Jr., State Administrator of the WPA, have been most frequently endorsed for the chairmanship of the new 11-man Highway Commission.

Two associate members of the liquor board, to be named for a one and a two-year term, will receive $25 per diem for time actual.

(Please turn to Page 4)

Farm Tenancy Is Favored By House

Congress Would Make Life Easier For Tenant Farmers To Acquire Farms

$50,000,000 Annually

Tenants Would Be Given Forty Years To Pay At Three Percent Interest Rate

A compromise proposal to assist the nation's tenants and sharecroppers to acquire farms on easy terms has received the tentative approval of the house agriculture committee.

The legislation, which would authorize the spending of $50,000,000 annually, would provide for loans to approved tenants. They would be allowed 40 years to pay at 3 per cent interest.

Chairman Jones, Democrat of Texas, offered the proposal after the committee had refused to reconsider another providing that the Secretary of Agriculture be authorized to spend $50,000,000 annually for purchase of farms for resale to tenants.

The government farm-buying and selling proposal was recommended by President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace, and a special presidential committee as one of three methods of attacking the tenancy problem.

Under the new scheme, tenants would not be required to serve trial periods as lessees of the government. Neither would they be subject to supervision by the Secretary of Agriculture during the purchase period, as the administration leaders had suggested.

Tenants would be selected by county committees of farmers who also would have power to veto loans.

North Carolina Symphony To Appear In Asheboro Friday

Symphony Will Give Two Programs; One In Afternoon For Children

In its appearances in Asheboro Friday the North Carolina Little Symphony will be under the direction of Joseph De Nardo, who has sustained for the orchestra the reputation built up by its organizer and first director, Lamar Stringfield.

These concerts are presentations of the Federal Music Project under the supervision of the Works Progress Administration, of which Dr. Nikolai Sokoloff is the national director. Erie Stapleton, the state director, will be here with the orchestra. The concertmaster is Gerald Bryant.

The orchestra is composed of between 35 and 50 trained musicians who have been welded into one of the top organizations of its kind in the country.

The evening concert at the high school auditorium will begin at 8 o'clock. The program follows: 1. Fingal's Cave Overture, Mendelssohn. 2. Symphony No. 1, Beethoven. Adagio molto; Andante cantabile; Menuetto; Finale. Intermission. 3. Peer Gynt Suite, Grieg; Morning; Ase's Death; Anitra's Dance; In the Hall of the

(Please turn to Page 4)

Former Governor Max Gardner Is Textile Speaker

Authority On Textiles Speaks For Mill Owners At World Conference

Cites Achievements

Refers To Proposed Third Shift As A Menace To The Textile Industry

Addressing the World Textile Conference in Washington as the official spokesman of all employers in the industry and as one of the three delegates representing this country appointed by the President, former Governor O. Max Gardner highly praised the industry for voluntary adherence to NRA standards since the invalidation of that adherence will continue.

Mr. Gardner listed the "principle of collective bargaining" as one of the four practices to which the industry is committed.

"In this country there was difference of opinion about the value and helpfulness of the National Industrial Recovery Act," Governor Gardner told the conference.

"In the long run, in 1935, the act was invalidated by the Supreme Court, but in a case in which the labor provisions were not directly involved. Then came the real test of this industry to maintain on a voluntary basis a policy which most thoughtful persons considered desirable socially and many thought desirable economically and industrially.

It was freely predicted that not only the textile industry, but industry in general would promptly slide back from the gains made under the National Industrial Recovery Act and that individual units would begin again to seek and use the competitive advantages accruing to them from the geographical fact of being located in states permitting a long work week.

In my opinion, it is to the everlasting credit of this industry that it has been conspicuous and outstanding in maintaining the gains made under the act. In the main, the work week of 40 hours prescribed under National Recovery Administration is the work week maintained ever since the

(Please turn to Page 2)

Arthur Hasty Is Released On Bond

Arthur Hasty, Asheboro cafe man, who was charged with shooting and killing Babe Yow on the night of March 18th and whose trial came up during the past term of criminal court in Randolph county last week, was released today on bond. The trial resulted in a verdict of mistrial and, according to law, this allowed Hasty bond.

This bond was furnished at noon Thursday and amounts to $7,500. Signers of the bond are Charles Hasty, Arthur Hasty, George Hasty, Zeb Rush, C. J. Davidson and Ed Hedrick. The bond stipulated release until the next term of criminal court which will be held in Randolph in September.

The next term of court in the county is in July, but this for the trial of civil cases will not include the Hasty trial.

Kiwanis Meeting High Point Tues.

Local Club Motors To High Point College For Weekly Dinner Meeting

Musical Program

A Cappella Choir Of College Presents A Two-Part Musical Program

The Kiwanis Club met Tuesday evening in the mess hall at High Point college, being the guests of Rev. N. M. Harrison. The business session was dispensed with for this meeting.

A very enjoyable program of music was rendered by the A Cappella choir of the college under the direction of Miss Janet Russell. The first group of songs was of a religious nature and included "Lost in the Night," "Jesus, Friend of Sinners," and "Hosanna to the Living Lord." The second group was composed of negro spirituals: "Deep River," "Dark Water," "Father Abraham," and "Go Down Moses."

Each member of the club was presented with a booklet containing

(Please turn to Page 4)