Where War Clouds Darken in Far East

Residents Seek Change In Route Of Highway 62 Here

Park Street Owners Want Traffic Diverted Over Fayetteville Loop.

The initial step in a movement to change the routing of Highway 62 through Asheboro was taken by a group of residents last night and next week will present the proposition to the County Board of Commissioners. The persons interested either own property or rent homes along Park street.

According to their reports, the heavy trucks operating through Park street at all times of day and night not only cause danger to pedestrians, especially children, but are causing considerable damage to walls and ceilings; will, in a short time, ruin the surface of the highway and cause no end of disturbance during sleeping hours.

The committee contended the route should be shifted southeast in the vicinity of the new cemetery and join Fayetteville street near the southern outskirts of the city. This, they contend, will place all the through traffic on one highway which is better policed and fitted to handle a greater volume.

They pointed out what they considered an added feature during the school term. The Park street school they contend has not the facilities for traffic policing that the High school enjoys. Younger students going to and from the Park street school they say are in constant danger while those attending the school on Fayetteville street are protected by well regulated traffic policing.

The matter, they reported, will first be taken up with the county board and later with the Sixth highway district office, now located here.

Lambeth Demands Retrenchment In National Purse

North Carolina Congressman Points To Vast Increase Of Debt.

Figures Impressive Contend Administration Forces Should Put Its House In Order.

Political news of the first of this week includes a demand from J. Walter Lambeth, congressman from the eighth North Carolina district that the purse strings of the nation be watched. Mr. Lambeth warned that government spending must be reduced and proposed that Congress prepare constitutional amendments permitting taxation of incomes derived from federal employees.

Pointing to the vast increases in the public debt since 1931, Representative Lambeth recommended legislation requiring states, counties and municipalities to bear a proportionate share of the relief cost. He would establish a permanent congressional committee to study defense costs with a view to bringing them far under the present expenditures.

Warning the Congress faced the alternative of tapping lower income tax resources unless spending were reduced sharply, Representative Lambeth gave statistical information about the condition of the nation's fiscal affairs in demanding congressional attention to the financial problem.

Representative Lambeth's statement follows in full: "Now that the depression is behind us, it is time for the people of the United States to take stock of order that we may see where we are and make decisions on future policies. During the depression it was inevitable that the expenditures of the federal government should exceed its income. This has taken place for seven successive years. The amount by which expenditures have exceeded income is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year and Amount. 1931: $903,000,000; 1932: $1,152,000,000; 1933: $1,068,000,000; 1934: $1,366,000,000; 1935: $1,375,000,000; 1936: $1,476,000,000; 1937: $2,811,318,310.

Total $22,239,318,310. "Or to put it another way, the public debt has increased from $16,185,208,000 on June 30, 1930, to $36,396,809,000 on June 30, 1937. Mr. Perry is one of several students sent out by the Baptist state Sunday school board to encourage better and more efficient work in Sunday schools in North Carolina. The school is well attended and promises to be one of the outstanding church events in this section of the state during the summer.

Roosevelt Vetoes Low Farm Rates

Prices Increased 100 Percent Since 1932 He says; Warned Congress.

Washington. — President Roosevelt, Tuesday, vetoed a bill to continue low interest rates on farm loans, and almost for the first time in the New Deal told the farmers they are getting enough from the government.

The bill, which he warned Congress, June 8, he would oppose, would have extended for an additional year the 3-1/2 per cent interest rate on certain federal land-bank loans; provided a 4 per cent rate on such loans from July 1, 1938 to June 30, 1939, and a 4 per cent rate on land bank commissioner loans, (second mortgages) for a period of two years.

The Christian Science Monitor in commenting upon the veto states: "In a way, this veto message marks a landmark along a new road. For the first years of the New Deal, nothing was too good for the farmers. It was a debtor's world, politically. The have-nots held the reins, and the government opened wide its coffers and its credits.

"But now times have changed. There has been an increase of more than 100 per cent, the President pointed out, in the level of farm prices since 1932-33."

Sophia Section Visited By Storm

Reports from the Sophia section tell of a rather mad storm Wednesday afternoon. The wind and rain damaged the fine corn and tobacco crops somewhat generally in this section of Randolph where some of the finest tobacco is grown.

On Sunday afternoon there was an odd storm in that section which is described as coming upon the section quite suddenly. Two heavy bolts of thunder announced the storm which suddenly descended in a torrent of rain with wind in all directions twisting tobacco and corn leaves from their stems and stalks. The storm did not last long, but was of a cyclone character while it lasted.

Robinson Funeral In Senate Rooms; P. A. Arkansas

Looms as Talk Of Successor Opens; May Avert Controversy.

Barkley Suggested

Conservatives To Fight Proposed Selection Of Kentucky Man.

Washington.—Joseph T. Robinson, indomitable leader of the Senate Democrats, who died yesterday, will be buried in Little Rock, Ark., following a funeral there Sunday.

Previous to the services at Little Rock, there will be a state funeral in the Senate chamber tomorrow with music and an eulogy by the Senate Chaplain, the Rev. ZeBarney T. Phillips.

Some Senators expressed the belief today there may be a bitter liberal-conservative battle over the Democratic leadership now that Robinson is dead.

Others suggested it might be averted at least for the present, by letting Senator Barkley of Kentucky, now assistant leader, serve as acting leader for the remainder of this session of Congress.

This idea, voiced by Senator Pittman of Nevada, president pro-tempore of the Senate, and others, was not warmly received by certain legislators opposed to Barkley as leader.
