Kearns-Wood Families to Have Reunion at Farmer M. E. Church

A joint reunion of the Kearns and Wood families, their relatives and friends, will be held at the Farmer M. E. church on Sunday, August 1st.

It was near this native home of these two pioneer families of Randolph county that one, William Kearns, came to and settled about the year 1765. These are familiar names to any visitor to that section of Randolph county. The purpose of these gatherings of kindred people is to renew fellowship, meet old acquaintances, and make new ones, and to have a happy occasion together. Past reunions of these families have accomplished that desire to a high degree. The officers of the 1937 reunion are striving to make this the best meeting held yet.

In order to make this a successful reunion it is necessary for all the kith and kin to begin now to make their plans to attend this gathering. A good program is being prepared for this occasion.

In order that the body may be fed, as well as the mind and spirit, all who attend are asked to bring lunch which will be spread at the noon hour.

Officers of the 1937 reunion are as follows:

President, R. F. Brackin, Troy.

Vice president, Carl Kearns, High Point.

Historian, Mrs. C. L. Lewis, High Point.

Secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Reid Kearns, High Point.

Entertainment committee:

Roy Kearns, chairman, High Point.

Mrs. Alice Kearns, Asheboro.

Mrs. Kate Cochrane, Thomasville.

Lee M. Kearns, Asheboro.

Committee on arrangements:

T. A. Kearns, chairman, High Point.

Burrows Family Gathers At Asheboro Rt. 1 Home Sunday

In celebration of the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Jim Hendrix of Greensboro, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Burrows of Asheboro route one, had a family dinner. Ten of their eleven children were present for this pleasant family party on Sunday, the absent son being C. G. Burrows and family of Roanoke, Va.

The dining room and living room where the large group assembled, were unusually attractive with their decoration of zinnias and Queen Anne's lace. Dinner at noon was informal and bountiful. There were no formal speeches but general conversation was the feature of the day's program.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hendrix and two children, Doris Ray and Joan, of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Underwood and children, Sam and Vernon, also of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burrows and son, Harold Wilson, of Central Falls, High Point; Faye and Joyce Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Burrows and daughter, Nan Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Burrows and daughters, Frances and Martha, of Asheboro; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hendrix, of High Point; Aleasa and Wayne Burrows both of the home.

Bridge Club Meets With Mrs. F. White

Mrs. Francis White entertained the members of her bridge club and an extra table on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Kivett street. Three tables were set for the games in the living room and porch which were attractively decorated with summer flowers. Table prizes, which were novelty vases, went to Mrs. Dempsey Barnes, Mrs. J. D. Ross, Jr., Mrs. Harris Coffin and Mrs. Thomas Redding.

Following the games, the hostess served a salad followed by cantaloupe frappe.

Birthday Party For Agnes Swing

A birthday party Monday afternoon observed the twelfth birthday of Agnes Rachel Swing. Ten children came to the party and added to the happiness of the honoree with presents for the occasion.

Games of various types, fishing for candy, and other forms of entertainment employed the guests pleasantly for an hour after which ices were served by Mrs. C. H. Swing and Miss Lena Swing, mother and sister of the honoree. The guest list included: Walter E. Yow, Richard Charles Yow, Jean Platt, Rose Marie Lambert, Iris Johnson, Helen Smith, Billy Underwood, Bobby Routh and Richard Swing.

Bruton-Guthrie

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Elodie Guthrie of Morehead City and Hubert Bruton of Asheboro, which occurred June 15 in the Morehead City parsonage with Rev. A. P. Stephens officiating. They were attended by Miss Violet Guthrie and Henry Gilliken, while Mrs. Stephens rendered appropriate music. Only intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a becoming outfit of brown chiffon with white accessories. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Guthrie and is a graduate of Morehead City high school, class of 1935, and of the commercial class of 1936. The young couple are residing in Asheboro where Mr. Bruton is connected with Bruton's Dry Cleaners.

Leaving for Beach

Roy Champion, manager of the Carolina theatre, and Mrs. Champion, plan to leave Sunday for Myrtle Beach where they will have a week's vacation.

In some species of parrots, the males are green and the females are red, yet the coloring matter is the same in both sexes. The feather structure is responsible for the variation in color.

Sleek black Russian caracul, which fashionists predict will be the most talked about for next winter, fashions the slenderizing, full length coat, cut on princess lines. Notice that the shoulders are full but not voluminous.

Chunky-looking, boxy swaggers are the fall fur fashion news. At left is one of muskrat in which the black stripes are emphasized. The other is of Pahnms, the soft beige South American fur. It has tuxedo revers faced with a rich brown silk and wool fabric.

Negro Beach
Beaufort. — Swanky Edgewater club on Bogue Sound, four miles west of Morehead City, will be sold by F. M. (Coach) Simmons to Mark M. Mohler of Washington for $125,000 under the terms of a sales contract filed here today and it appeared here today, an attempt may be made to develop the property as a Negro beach resort.

Tar Heels Named
Washington.—Three members of the North Carolina delegation who were associated closely with former Senator Joseph T. Robinson were today appointed to the Congressional committee which will accompany the body to Little Rock for the funeral on Sunday.

The three are Senator Josiah W. Bailey and Representative Robert L. Doughton and Lindsay C. Warren.

The number of real farm tenants in the United States does not constitute more than 24 per cent of all farmers.
