Hull Demands Jap China Settlement Without Warfare

Attention to World Opinion; Urges Peace For World Sake.

Secretary of State in First Pointed Demand To Both Countries.

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A public statement from Secretary of State Hull to Japan and China today announced a United States opinion demands a peaceful settlement of the two countries.

Telling the two nations that a threat of a serious nature concerning the entire world, the statement urged that they settle their differences in accord with peaceful principles.

The statement also announced that the "opinion is not alone of the people but of most of the people of the world."

Without attempting to pass judgment regarding the merits of the controversy," he said, "we appeal to the parties not to resort to further warfare."

Hull Warns Japs Of War Results

Calls Upon Both China And Nippon Not to Continue War.

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Secretary Hull appealed to China and Japan yesterday to "refrain from resort to war."

The two nations, he said, should settle their differences in accordance with principles which "in the opinion not alone of our people but of most peoples of the world should govern in international relationships."

The secretary of state recalled that from the beginning of the controversy in the far east the United States had urged both nations to refrain from hostilities, adding that conferences had been held to effect a settlement.

"This government," Hull said in a formal statement, "does not believe in political alliance or entanglements nor does it believe in extreme isolation."

"It does believe in international cooperation for the purpose of seeking through pacific methods the achievement of those objectives set forth in the statement of July 16."

In the statement of July 16, Hull had enunciated 14 principles of American international policy.

One of the 14 principles was "adjustment of problems in international relations by processes of peaceful negotiation and agreement."

Hull said tonight he believed these principles could be applied throughout the world, "in the Pacific area as elsewhere."

Japan, one of 50 nations which commented at Hull's request on his previous statement, said it felt the principles could be applied to the far east only "by a full recognition and practical consideration of the actual particular circumstances of that region."

Church Activity At M. E. Church

Christenings and Several New Members Feature Of Morning Hour.

Sunday, Aug. 22, was a good day with the Central Methodist Protestant church of Asheboro. The morning hour was taken up with the christening of babies and the reception of members into the church.

The following babies were christened: Mary Ann Bulla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bulla, Donald Sanborn Redding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Redding, Jr., and Jackson Allen Henley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henley.

Those received into the church are Mrs. John McDowell, Mrs. C. H. Mottit, Mrs. William Bulla, Thomas McDowell, and George Hughes. The church is pleased with these valuable additions. The Sunday school was good, with 275 in attendance and 738 offering.

A pleasing and impressive candle service was conducted by the C. E. society in the evening worship. The attendance was gratifying, and no doubt would have been much larger but for the very threatening cloud that gathered just as the service was beginning.

Owing to the union revival meeting all night preaching services will be discontinued until the first of October. The Sunday school and morning worship will not be interrupted by the meeting, and will go on as usual.

The contemplated building and heating improvements for the church have been suspended until spring. This was recommended by the trustees and approved by a vote of the congregation yesterday morning. The necessity for this postponement grows out of the fact that the annual conference meets with this church Nov. 4, and the improvements could not be completed by that time. But on recommendation of the trustees the congregation did authorize the painting of the exterior of the church. This will be done at once.

Herman Dillard, who has been with the church since June 1, as director of young people's activities for the summer, will leave the first of next week. After a few days with his relatives, he will enter a theological school of the Southern Presbyterian church, at Decatur, Ga. Mr. Dillard has done splendid work in his department, and has endeared himself to the congregation as a whole, and to the young people in particular. It is a matter of regret to the church that he has to leave.

Raps Perkins Columbus, O., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Delegates attending the 39th annual encampment of the United Spanish War veterans criticized Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins yesterday in proposed resolutions attacking Communism and aliens.

Champ Norris Awaiting Call To Pitch; Seeks Revenge For First Defeat.

Lankford Ready Entire Team Ready For Pan-handle Nine; Loss Means Elimination.

Every member of the McCrary Eagles will be ready for the renewal of their play in the National semi-pro congress at Wichita at 11 o'clock tonight when they line up against the Mt. Pleasant, Texas, team.

Rupert Trollinger, manager of the Sunset cafe, will open his special leased wire from the Wichita press box to the Asheboro gym at 10:30 o'clock. Details of the play-by-play events will be broadcast to the audience as fast as they take place in Wichita.

Mt. Pleasant eliminated the fast Spartanburg, S. C., team from the tourney Sunday night. The South Carolina team was considered one of the outstanding teams in the tournament and with their victors lining up against the Eagles promises a stiff battle.

Defeat of the Eagles will mean their elimination from the series while victory will send them against those strong teams bidding for top honors.

Manager Neely Hunter, in a telegram to Charles McCrary today said the team was in excellent shape and that he had not decided what hurler to start. "Red" Norris, champ hurler of the State and Inter-city series and Lankford have not seen action for more than a week. Either man may be chosen to carry the banner in this important series.

Norris, one of the strongest and fastest ball hurlers in the inter-city league, is itching for a chance to turn back Mt. Pleasant. He met defeat in his first start through a series of events that could not be overcome. A couple of hits by the first two men to face him, upset Red for the moment and then he was relieved. But his opponents were not to be beaten that day and the Great Hubbell or either of the Deans, in their prime, could not have stopped the batting spread that those Buford boys started.

Lankford is just as anxious to

Party Spokesmen Warn Of Future Democratic Rife

Claim President Should Not Urge Fall Session; May Increase Rebellion.

Advise Roosevelt Recall of Legislators in October Will Cut Into Election Plans.

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A group of influential democrats today, expressed strong opposition to a special session in the fall on the grounds that it might increase party dissension.

One leader, who preferred not to have his name mentioned, said "no practical good and some harm might come from a special session for consideration of the farm and wage and hour legislation. He said he and others would so advise Mr. Roosevelt before leaving the capital.

He said time was needed to allow heated tempers to cool and that it would be poor policy to run the risk of reopening the party strife in October. Other members, he said, might feel not too kindly towards the administration and its legislative proposals if summoned back to Washington while in the midst of building political fences for next fall's election.

Answering the contention that action on the farm and wage and hour legislation would permit shortening the session in January this chief said, a special session would not mean taking fifteen minutes off the regular session.

Realignment Of Democrats, Talk Everything Hinges on Decision of President, is Concensus of Opinion.

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—New talk of political realignment arose out of the deep division in the ranks of congressional democrats—a division emphasized by their bitter adjournment day squabble on the senate floor.

The democratic dissension and the recent veiled threat by John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chieftain, to look for a new political vehicle if democratic "discipline" is not restored provided the background for the speculation.

Many of the democrats lingering at the Capitol for a few days before returning home discounted the likelihood of a permanent break-up of their party, but some were not so sure the breach could be closed.

Depends on F. R.'s Course A general view, held by many, was that the future of the party depended largely upon President Roosevelt's course—that if he pursued a middle-of-the-road program without attempt at retaliation, the party difficulties could be smoothed over, but that if headed "left" regardless of consequences, the split was bound to widen.

In some quarters it was held that the President had not definitely started his course—that he was considering both the "non-retaliation" doctrine enunciated last week by Democratic Chairman Farley, and the "get out of the party" policy suggested by Senator Guffey, democrat of Pennsylvania, to dis-senting democrats almost simultaneously.

One astute senator, who did not want to be quoted by name, and that conditions are at last ripe for the long-discussed party realignment. He contended that the solid South's fealty to the democratic party has been the stumbling block to such developments in the past but that it is no longer an obstacle.
