

Barney Ross Retains Crown In 15-Round Champ Tourney

Polo Grounds, New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Barney Ross black-haired Chicagoan, outpointed Ceferin Garcia, slugging Filipino, last night in successfully defending the "carnival of champions" card witnessed by a crowd of 40,000. Ross weathered a closing blast of punishment to take the decision after 15 slashing, bloody rounds.

Ross, no match for Garcia, as a puncher, needed all his ringcraft, boxing ability, and stamina to retain the 147-pound crown. The champion piled up a decisive margin on points in the first 11 rounds but was decisively outpunched throughout the last four as Garcia tried desperately to land a knock-out punch.

The challenger rocked Ross with terrific left hooks and overhead rights, to the head, but was unable to sustain his punching drives. From the sixth round on, Garcia fought under the handicap of blood streaming from a gash over his left eye but he kept forcing the fight and repeatedly had the titleholder in danger.

Ross, scaling 143 to Garcia's 145 1-2, capitalized his defensive skill and counter-punching tactics to out point the most serious challenger he has had for 147-pound honors since he last regained the title from Jimmy McLarin, two years ago.

The victory for Ross followed a technical knockout triumph for Fred Apostoli, young San Francisco middleweight, in the tenth round of a 15-round match with the 33-year-old French holder of the European middleweight crown, Marcel Thil.

Apostoli came from behind with a slashing attack to penetrate the veteran's crafty defense and punish him so badly that he was in no shape to continue. The ninth round was the turning point as the Californian's left hooks gashed a cut over Thil's right eye and also brought blood pouring from the Frenchman's nose.

This was permitted to continue after an examination between rounds by Dr. William H. Walker, official physician of the New York State Athletic commission. Apostoli quickly started the blood streaming and the referee intervened after only 44 seconds of the tenth round elapsed.

Evasive Lou Ambers, the world lightweight champion, scored a surprisingly decisive victory on points over the dangerous Pedro Montanez, of Puerto Rico, in a drab 15-round match which had top billing on the "carnival of champions." Ambers outpointed his rugged rival from start to finish while a crowd of 40,000 fans yelled for action.

Gloves Match Fashion
Paris (AP)—Some of the smartest evening frocks in the Mainbocher collection are shown with gloves made of the same material. Two gold-shot moire dresses—one pink, one blue—are worn with gloves which match. Long black moire gloves accompany an evening dress having a black moire tunic worn over a black crepe shirt.

Liberty News

Liberty, Sept. 24.—The high school student body met last Wednesday morning and elected the following students as officers in the Athletic association: president, John C. Faust; vice president, Herbert Coward; secretary, Betty Dameron; treasurer, Helen Faust; chief cheer leader, Patty Luther. These officers together with a member elected from each room and the two coaches and principal will form an executive committee which will outline the policies of the association and submit to the full student association for final disposition.

The chief cheer leader will name her assistants and these will be announced later.

At a previous meeting of the football team Richard Wright, manager and Fletcher Whitt, assistant manager. These two boys have already been working at their managerial jobs and are making a good showing.

School Boy Patrol

There are several rather dangerous highway crossings near the school and in order to assign the smaller children across these places and to warn all students of danger three high school boys have been appointed patrolmen to be stationed at strategic corners at times when students are going to and coming from school. These patrolmen wear white canvas belts with straps across shoulder and make a "nifty" appearance. Already favorable comments have been heard of the worthwhiledness of this duty and no doubt some serious accident will be prevented by having them on duty.

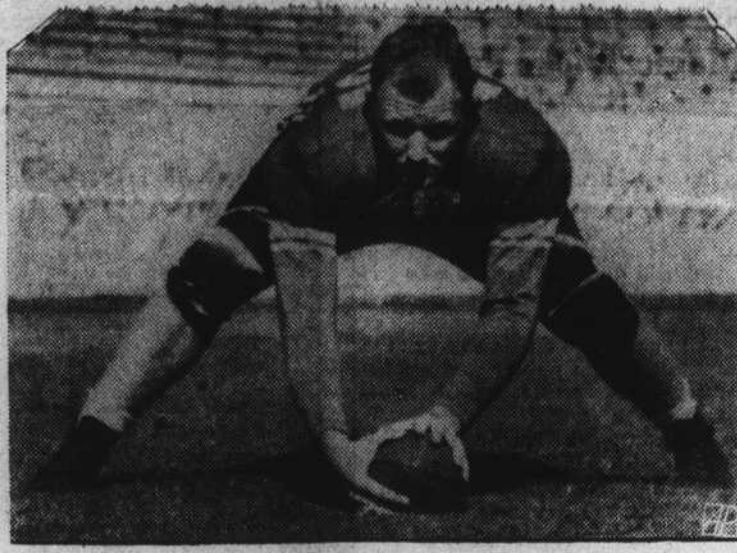

Patrolmen are: Gilbert Ray, stationed at corner of Stockard's and Grantham's Drug store; L. T. Smith, stationed at highway at Perry's Easo Service station; Jas. Williams, stationed at bank corner where the two highways intersect. These boys are on duty early in morning, at lunch period and directly after school.

First Football Game October 1
North high school of Winston-Salem will play the local team on the Liberty school gridiron on Friday afternoon, October 1. This will be the first game of the season and much interest is manifested in the coming game. Last year the football was not so successful in winning games but it is hoped and thought that the team this year is superior to the one last year. Other games will be announced later.

Devils' All-Southern-Center

DAN HILL, JR.

Dan Hill, Jr., of Asheville, Duke University football center, played his first varsity season last year and was named on the Associated Press' All-Southern team. He plays a well-rounded game, capable on both offense and defense. He is the son and namesake of Dan Hill, president of the Piedmont Baseball League.

Jilting Giant

Johnny McCarthy's recent batting splurge not only has been a great help to the Giants in their pennant drive but it has gone a long way to vindicate Terry's judgment of the lanky first sacker.

Terry was pretty well satisfied that McCarthy was the man to take over his old post at first after Long John had played several games for the Giants late in the season last year. The manner in which McCarthy pulled drives into the right field stands at the time convinced Terry that he would be a mighty handy chap to have around the Polo Grounds.

McCarthy reported to the Giants' training camp in Havana this spring secure in the knowledge that he would get a thorough trial at first. Terry had promised him as much. Even when Johnny failed to burn up the grapefruit circuit with his hitting Terry did not give him up. He was a flash in the field and sooner or later, Terry figured, he would find the knack of hitting big league pitching.

When the season rolled along and McCarthy's batting average failed to assume anything like rosy proportions, Terry replaced him with Sam Leslie. Sam always has been a healthy clouter but his fielding did not compare with the brand Mr. McCarthy flashed. But with Ott and other Giant sluggers in batting slumps, Terry was forced to recruit every possible bit of available power at the plate.

An injury to Leslie's wrist forced him to the sidelines and gave McCarthy another chance to play regularly. It so happened that the Giants were just about hitting their winning stride again after their mid-season letdown and Johnny fell right into step with the rest of the team.

He really blossomed out in the game that parked the Cardinals' farewell appearance at the Polo Grounds. It was a hectic struggle that went ten innings before the Giants triumphed. McCarthy's two home runs kept the Giants in the ball game and in first place. He followed that batting spree up with four more homers, making a total of six circuit blows in nine games.

If McCarthy keeps up his current pace, Sam Leslie's dream of playing in the World Series is not likely to be realized.

Tennessee Dry

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Tennessee voted overwhelmingly yesterday for retention of its prohibition laws in a referendum from which repeal leaders held aloof on the ground it was "meaningless".

Drys hailed the victory as marking the end of repeated attempts in the Legislature to legalize liquor. The last Legislature authorized the election to ascertain the "will of the voters" as to whether the liquor ban that was enacted in 1909 over a Governor's veto should be lifted. A repeal victory would have had no effect on the dry statutes.

Mexico asserts it has the world's only school for guides. Its 220 students take a six-month course covering geography, history, archeology, religion, history and art.

What Is Circulation ?

Is it the number of papers printed? NO!
Is it the number of papers distributed? NO!
Is it the number of papers sold? NO!
Is it the number of papers sold and read? YES!

Circulation is the backbone of all forms of advertising . . . and should be always carefully analyzed, no matter whether you intend using daily newspapers, weeklies, radio, posters, handbills, free-sheets, programs, etc. It has been definitely proven that it costs less to reach prospective buyers through newspaper advertising . . . as can be judged by the fact that more money is spent in newspaper advertising than in all other methods.

The Daily Courier circulation is paid-in-advance. Every single copy can be accounted for; thus eliminating guess work on the part of advertisers, and insuring the maximum circulation at the lowest possible cost.
