Cool Sparkling Soda at Pelham's

Visitors come and go continually.

The Grand Jury remained in session yesterday.

The heaviest fog of the season yesterday morning.

Maj. A. M. Erwin, of Marion, come over yesterday.

We are glad to meet in the city, H. G. Ewart, Esq., of Hendersonville.

"Called Back" or "The Long Strike" by the Firmin-Jack Company to-night.

Mr. A. P. Sorreils has found his dog, which was advertised in the ADVANCE a few days ago.

The public improvement now going on in the city will add much to its convenience and appearance.

Messrs. Jarrett, Hosley & Co., lumbermen, have opened an office in the Grand Central, this city.

But shooting affords an hour or so of amusement to several of our city sportsmen each afternoon for several days.

Court met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. After hearing a few motions a recess was taken until this morning, when the civil docket will be called.

J. S. Carr, Esq., President of the Blackwell Tobacco Manufacturing Company, of Durham, N. C., is in the city with his family, and will remain here through the mountains.

The excursion from Charlotte to Asheville, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary Association, to the Y. M. C. A., has been abandoned on account of conflicting with another excursion.

Prof. James Atkins has returned from the District Conference which has been in session at Bakersville, Mitchell county. He was delighted with the people and the country.

The fools in Spain are taking a good way to exterminate themselves by abusing the doctors and fighting against the sanitary regulations of the government. No wonder cholera is sweeping them off by the thousand.

The first remains of a man ever found in a fossil condition were recently discovered near the city of Mexico. That was the first. There are fossils moving around every day in nearly every community in this commonwealth.—Charlotte Observer.

The entertainment at the Opera Hall, Tuesday night, for the benefit of the orphans was one of the most enjoyable entertainments we have ever witnessed in Asheville. The amount realized was very satisfactory.

Drinking water, says a hygienic writer, may be tested in this simple way: "Fill a pint bottle three quarters full of water. Dissolve in it one teaspoonful of the best white sugar. Set it away in a warm place for forty-eight hours. If the water becomes cloudy it is unfit to drink."

"Lady Audley's Secret" was repeated at the Opera Hall last night, and of course was greatly enjoyed by the audience. It is a capital play, and is rendered by this company in a most attractive and exciting manner. Miss Annie Firmin, as Lady Audley, acts her difficult part to perfection, and is the character in the play. Go out to-night and enjoy the "Long Strike."

Of Interest to Visitors.

It is well worth the while of all coming to Asheville to look over the great variety of new, curious and interesting articles, consisting of native woods, plain and beautifully carved. The finest line of carved and plain walking canes (all cut here) made in the State. The headquarters for curiosities and novelties of all kinds is at Law's Silver and China Hall, opposite Eagle Hotel.

Asheville is now entertaining three distinguished State officers from Raleigh: Judge Merrimon, of the Supreme Court Bench, Donald Bain, State Treasurer, and Theo. F. Davidson, Attorney General.

The civil issue docket of the Superior Court will be taken up this morning. Judge Gudgeon has notified both attorneys and suitors that he intends to push the docket, and that they must be ready with their cases. Much work, we predict, will be done before the end of the term.

The location for the city cemetery is still a matter undecided, the committee not accepting the terms offered by the owners of the property in the northwestern part of the city. We hope the committee may be able to find a better and more suitable place for the cemetery.

The American Bookmaker for August has been received and is most useful. It is one of the most useful publications for printers and bookmakers we have seen, and no bookmaker can well afford to do without it. It is published by Howard Lockwood, No. 126 and 128, Duane St., New York at $2.00 per year.

There seems to be an impression prevailing that Dr. E. A. Gatchell is going to leave Asheville, this is a mistake; Dr. Gatchell came to this city with the intention of making it his permanent home, and of furthering the interests of the place. His brother, Dr. H. P. Gatchell, who has been with him for a few months, has gone to make his home in Georgia, and it was probably from this that the rumor regarding Dr. E. A. Gatchell arose.

Good Sales.

The scene at the Farmer's Warehouse yesterday morning reminded us of the big times we have seen there in the middle of the tobacco season. There was a very large break and prices were good, as shown by the average. There were about nine thousand pounds sold and the general average on the whole sale was 20 cents per pound.

Asheville Accepts.

News was received in the city yesterday that the Asheville Tourist had accepted the invitation to the city to be the team in the tournament in this city September 24th and 25th. The team is composed of some of the best riders in the South. Their magnificent riding at Warm Springs two years ago will be remembered by hundreds of Knoxville people.—Knoxville Tribune.

Inexorable Carelessness.

A gentleman in this city received a letter a few days ago, which was mailed in Transylvania county on the 28th day of July, and the postmark on the back of the letter shows that it was received in the Asheville office on the 29th of July. The gentleman to whom the letter was addressed visits the office every day and is known personally to every employe in the postoffice, yet the letter in question was not delivered to him until the 15th day of August. We can stand "offensive partisanship" with a much better grace, than such gross carelessness. Similar complaints are made almost daily.

Rates of Court.

The report of the committee appointed by Judge Gudgeon, to prepare a calendar of court causes for trial at this term of the court, recommend the adoption of the following rules to govern the argument of counsel: "The counsel for the plaintiff may be heard for one hour and a half, including the opening, argument and reply."

The counsel for the defendant may be heard one hour and a half. The time for argument may be extended by the court in cases requiring such extension, but application must be made before the argument begins. The court may, in any direct the arguments on such points as it may see fit, outside of the limited time.

From Hawkins.

Everything is quiet in our little place. We have had sickness and have some now, but nothing of a serious character. Just above us on South Hominy near Beaverdam, there were three deaths Monday the 17th ult., within half a mile of each other. The deceased were two children and a man by the name of Henry Warren. Mr. Warren retired as well as usual Sunday night but Monday morning he was unable to get up without help. He grew rapidly until 1 o'clock Monday when he died. He was about fifty years of age.

I will pay a liberal reward for the recovery of a Black and Tan Shepherd Pup, white on toes and tip of tail.

Y. M. C. A.
We have frequently been asked what are the general objects and aims of the Young Men's Christian Association?

The following platform recently laid down by an organized association in one of the Northern States, covers the entire ground:

"The welfare of young men is our sole object. To keep them from evil and win them to be Christian gentlemen, industrious workmen, good citizens, loyal to their homes and church, is the purpose and work of the Young Men's Christian Association. Its committees, buildings, officers and all have no other aim."

Let all the Associations wheel into line, and by judicious, but decisive, pruning get upon that platform. The sum of it is, you must tell the community plainly: "We wish to elevate and save the young men of the town, that is all. It is a big job and we must give one whole time to it. We expect, by God's blessing to do much and we need help. When we get hold of a man we expect him to put all the time he can spare us from his church work into the work of saving young men, and into nothing else. We propose to cater to every wholesome taste and inclination of young men. For physical wants we wish to supply bath-rooms, gymnasiums, medical talks, and the like; for social wants, parlors, and social games and amusements; for intellectual wants, reading rooms, libraries, classes and lectures; for spiritual wants, the companionship of hearty, healthy, christian young men, the young men's prayer meeting and Bible class, and, when practicable, the daily meeting for praise and prayer. When we shall have provided all these things that human ingenuity and the Spirit can suggest, and when we have reached the last young man, then we shall hold general evangelistic meetings, start Sunday schools, organize tract distribution, open free lodging houses, or hold meetings in the Old Ladies' Home; then we will do all the odd jobs left undone or half done by all the other Christians, but not before. But we have no very good reasons, and we will not waste the community to have, that this general picking up will occur much before doomsday."

A Monument to Stand in the Show.

The death of Capt. Randolph A. Shotwell has touched the hearts of the people of North Carolina to an extent that has rarely been witnessed since the termination of the late civil war.

We venture to suggest that it is because the people have recognized in his life and sufferings, a hero and a patriot, and that he is cherished in their affections as the greatest North Carolina martyr.

This manhood had in him a magnificent exemplar—whilst pure womanhood felt that he was ever ready to dare, and if need be, die in its defense.

As an editor he was the tribune of the people. In their behalf and in the behalf of constitutional liberty and personal independence he was tireless and faithful.

He submitted his proud neck to the foot of no master, and here the trembles which at one time encompassed him like the waters of the ocean at an ordinary ebullition, with a steadfastness and courage which almost brought tears of admiration from those best acquainted with his manifold trials.

The clouds which lowered over his so long seemed to be breaking away, and the near future with beaming promise and public appreciation, when a sudden heaven saw fit to bring his career to an end.

The spontaneous action of the community in which he lived has resulted in the appointment of the undersigned as a committee to raise funds to erect a monument to perpetuate his memory.

From all who honor manly devotion to duty—unswerving rectitude of purpose—heroic martyrdom—seam of trucking obsequiousness and faithfulness in the discharge of public trust, we ask co-operation in attaining the object of our appointment.

Subscriptions for this purpose may be made to the committees or mailed direct to Sam C. White, Esq., cashier of the State National Bank, who has been appointed treasurer of the association.

ACCORDING TO RANK.

Gen. Gordon's place in the funeral line.

Gen. Gordon related an incident of his experience in New York which appeared to have touched him very deeply. He was complimented in the first instance by being invited to act as aide upon Gen. Hancock's staff when he called to report for duty. He was handed an order which directed staff officers to take their positions in the line according to their rank. Gen. Gordon was embarrassed when he read this. He had held one of the highest offices in the Confederate army, but under the existing order of things he had no rank. So he solved the vexed question of his position by going modestly to the end of the line before every one of the regular army officers down to the humblest. But here was not permitted to remain there. An aide from Gen. Hancock came galloping up and directed Gen. Gordon as the ranking officer to take his position at the head of the staff next to Hancock himself. This recognition of his old grade deeply touched Gen. Gordon, not that he cared anything for the position itself. He is too much of a man of the world to be moved by trifles, but the spirit of courtesy and friendliness that dictated the offer stirred his chivalrous nature to its fullest depths. Again at the tomb Gen. Gordon fell back, deciding to yield the place to some of Gen. Hancock's regular army associates. But even then he was pulled in his attempt by the watchful courtesy of Gen. Hancock. Word came quickly to Gen. Gordon that he was out of position, and he was directed to move up above Gen. Roger Jones and hold his place until the close of the ceremony.

THE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Black Mountain chosen as the permanent location.

BLACK MOUNTAIN, August 17.—The committee of arrangements of the North Carolina Teachers' Association has visited the leading places of the west for the purpose of selecting a meeting point for the next session. Every attention has been shown to the committee by the people, the hospitalities of the mountain country extended, and so many excellent propositions and inducements have been offered the assembly that the committee found it hard to choose the place. After careful consideration of all the advantages of all the places, Black Mountain was unanimously selected for the next meeting. A large number of extra sleeping rooms will be added and perfectly satisfactory accommodations will be provided for about a thousand teachers. The whole State is aroused, the intensest interest is awakened in the assembly, and nearly every teacher in the State will attend the next session.

E. G. HARRELL, Secretary.

No Mail by Private Delivery.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—A few days ago the American District Telegraph Co., of Philadelphia, submitted a proposition to the post office department to perform special delivery service which goes into effect October 1st. Acting Postmaster General Stevenson, to-day declined to entertain the proposition, holding that the law does not contemplate letting on this service by contract, but that it should be under the immediate control of the postmasters in several cities. This is the first offer of the kind received at the department and the action in this instance established a precedent to be followed in any and all similar cases.

We are informed that a gentleman from Utah Territory arrived in our city Saturday night last, and put up at the Central, this Sunday morning he went to one of the drug stores to get a cigar as it was his custom to smoke after breakfast and was informed that it was against the law to sell any Sunday. He immediately returned to the hotel, called for his bill, paid it, and left with baggage for the Beaver House, saying that he could not afford to stop in a place where he could not get a smoke; that the place was too holy for him. In truth, he was candid, we are serious, and inclined to doubt the constitutionality of such a municipal enactment. In City Daily.

News Items.

Gen. Grant threw the first spadeful of dirt on the South Florida Railway.

It has been figured out that 5,400,000,000 passengers were carried by the world's railroads in 1882.

C. P. Bacon, Governor Hill's law partner, says the latter will have a walk-over in the race for a renomination.

The total voting population of Baltimore is 71,154 whites, and 12,290 colored. This is according to a recent census.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania are not worrying about an issue now. It is a candidate they pine for most of all.

First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson declares that his Washington experience has destroyed his faith in petitions.

Undertaker Merritt charges $30,000 for his services in embalming the body of Gen. Grant. A right expensive luxury, this embalming business, for somebody.

The receipts for the Grant fund on Saturday, through the New York Sun, amounted to $1, while the World acknowledges 16 cents from seven contributors.

In the general overhauling that the departments at Washington are getting the Treasury carpenter shop has not been overlooked. It seems that government mahogany comes high. Perhaps it would be a good plan for the government to employ a private citizen to make its mahogany purchases.

The commanding officer, in charge of the Grant obsequies, Gen. W. S. Hancock, in his general order, thanking the various officers and commands taking part, says: "The gia, and Gen. Lee, of Virginia, among the aides-de-camp, was especially gratifying.

Now that Vice-President Hendricks has ranged himself alongside of the Administration and is going to pull lustily hereafter, it is expected that the car of Reform will move forward with less friction, if not more speed. The Vice-President has started ahead, by the way, just in the nick of time to keep from being run over.

Hungry as the Ohio Democrats are, they cannot quite get their courage up to the sticking point of denouncing the Administration. In their famished condition it probably strikes them that it is bad policy to quarrel with the only pantry in view, and that it is better to have occasional access to it than to slam and lock the door in their own faces.

Maxwell's Defence.

St. Louis, August 18.—In course of a conversation Maxwell said Preller was troubled with insomnia, and that he had prescribed chloroform for him on several occasions, and with benefit. Preller, however, had heart disease, he said, and intimated that he had either taken or administered to him on this occasion an overdose, with fatal result. This will be his defense when he comes to trial.

Not an Assassin.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., August 18.—The shot which nearly struck Gov. Gray, while he was riding yesterday, was fired across the road at a target by a boy, who did not know of the Governor's proximity. There was no attempted assassination.

New York Democratic Convention.

SARATOGA, N. Y., August 18.—The state committee has decided that the democratic convention shall be held at Saratoga on September 24th, at noon. The vote was 23 to 11.

The New York State Democratic nominating convention will be held at Saratoga, September 24th. There is no doubt but what Gov. Hill will be nominated. The Ohio Democratic convention will meet to-morrow.
