INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WHITLOCK'S—Hats.
JOHN A. WILLIAMS—North Carolina Panacea Water.
A. P. SORRELS & BRO.—Wanted—And For Sale—Eagle Bar.

Keep in a good humor but don't cease to work.

Let harmony and good feeling prevail to-day.

We expect to have our roosters up to-morrow.

There were a good many people in the city yesterday.

Mr. Gudgey says: Let the ring say what is best for the people.

The election of Malone means the death of demagoguery in this district.

Give one day to the condemnation of fraud, and Mr. Furman's personal malice.

The people will set their seal of condemnation upon rings and ring methods this day.

Mr. Pearson says: Let the people express their opinion on all questions which affect them.

The crowd in the city yesterday was nearly half as large as the one which attended the speaking Saturday.

Freemen remember that William H. Malone is the friend of the working man in practice as well as theory.

The electric light is nearly as bright as the prospects which dazzle the eyes of the righteous flopdoodle.

Maj. J. Evans Brown, is in the city for a week or two, and is stopping at Capt. G. M. Robert's, on Patton Avenue.

The wires to-night as they flash the glad tidings of Malone's election will exclaim: Mr. Johnston and his republican ally Dock Jones.

Of General Jones we will say: he has made a hightoned and honorable canvass though in this contest, it can avail him nothing.

The election of Mr. Pearson by six hundred majority is now beyond all doubt. Indeed it was never doubted by any one, except Mr. Gudgey.

Freemen of Buncombe county do your full duty to-day. Let the majority be so large, that it will preclude its commission in the future.

Several farmers with whom we conversed yesterday, report the crops in good condition in Swannanoa and Leicester townships.

The refinement of cruelty" refined is the electric light shining down upon the pavements of Asheville which no person should be compelled to walk on for two weeks longer.

The sunset drive has been completed at last, and it commands the finest view in Buncombe county, excepting only the view from Mr. Pearson's observatory on Richmond Hill.

To-day dawns clear. Let us trust that it will prove emblematical of the result of the contest, and that henceforth the political history of old Buncombe may be as clear of frauds as the sky is to-day of clouds.

Freemen, remember that the issue to-day is: Tyranny or Liberty. It cannot be changed. It is this and nothing less. Do your duty to-day as men, and in after years, enable your posterity to point back with pride and say my daddy was a flopdoodle and don't you forget it.

Bargain Counter at Law's.
As many goods accumulate that are imperfect or for some other reason we dispose of under cost. We start a bargain counter, all goods on it are at least half price.
A grand stock on hand now, and new goods still coming in. See goods and get prices for fine or common wares at Law's, opposite Eagle Hotel.

Lots of handsome Wraps, Dress Goods, Clothing, Hats, and Fancy Goods for autumn and winter, just opened. In these lines the price is north five per cent. every time.
H. REDWOOD & CO.

Let every man do his full duty and the ringdoodles are defeated by an overwhelming majority.

A dog fight on the square yesterday evening caused considerable excitement.

Maj. Malone reached the city last night, having concluded the canvass with Capt. Turnip Tom in Rutherford county Saturday.

There were several arrests yesterday. They were all made without a single act of violence being used towards the offending parties. Asheville has just cause to be proud of her force.

Our Methodist friends are anxious to know will be their pastor for the next year. The return of Dr. Bays would prove very acceptable, not only to his congregation, but to the community at large.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen held last night an ordinance authorizing the Street Railway Co. to construct and operate a street railway, was adopted. We are informed that it is satisfactory to the railway company, and hope soon to see the work begin, and cars running on the streets of our city.

Information Wanted.
John C. Kinker residing at No. 906 East Main street, Richmond, Va., wishes to ascertain the whereabouts of his brother, H. H. Kinker, who left home about thirty years ago, and is believed to be living in some portion of North Carolina. Mr. Kinker is anxious to communicate with his brother, and will be thankful if the press of the State would give publicity to the matter.

An Act of Generosity.
We noticed on yesterday an act of generosity which caused us much pleasure. A very aged old colored man, was endeavoring to secure a sum of money to defray his expenses to Person county—he had succeeded in only getting $11.35 and lacked $8.65—$20.90 being the amount he desired. An attorney of the Asheville Bar after hearing the old man's tale supplied the deficiency. The act was done without ostentation and reflects credit on the gentleman.

The Panacea Springs.
These noted and wonderful springs are located in Halifax county, this State, and hundreds of the best citizens in North Carolina certify to the efficiency of the marvellous Panacea Waters. The water is most effective and pleasant. John A. Williams, of Oxford, N. C., is sole State Agent for the Panacea Water. Mr. Williams is one of the most reliable gentlemen and business men in the State. We have known Mr. Williams for nearly thirty years, in fact since we were a child, and can most heartily recommend him and that he represents. See the advertisement in another column.

Freemen to the rescue.
Beat them with a groan,
Smash Carlisle's little Tommy,
And send your friend Malone.

And smish up Hesikiah
And all the rest beside,
Who in the big convention,
The people's rights defied.

ED. ADVANCE:—In your paper of the 23rd appeared an extract of a private letter written by me in regard to certain statements made by Mr. T. K. Brown. I wish to say that Mr. Brown never made the statements to me but they were reported to me as being circulated by him, which he says is not true; but what he did say in regard to the matter was embodied in his card published in the Citizen.

I had not the slightest intention of charging Mr. Brown with making false statements but suppose if he had made statements, he made them only as the had been told him, and if my letter was so worded as to place him in that light it was unintentional. As you published the extract, I ask in justice to Mr. Brown you give this space in your columns.
Oct. 30, '86. G. W. Young.

Do you reckon if reports of newspapers are true that not a few of our candidates, instead of filling offices of trust, ought to be wearing ball and chain? Do your duty papers tell the truth! If so, we are led to believe that both parties endeavored to select their meanest men.—Tobacco Grower.

Funeral Notice.
Miss Maggie Keenan, of this city, who died yesterday, will be buried at eleven o'clock to-day from the Catholic church.

A Novelty Coming.
On next Friday night a Grand Novelty Show will commence a four nights engagement at the opera house, known as the Zera Semon and Bell's Royal Marionettes from the Crystal Palace, London, Eng. Zera Semon has the reputation of the King of all Marionettes and Prince of Ventriloquist and to-day is considered Peer of all in his line. The Royal Marionettes are life size figures that give Minstrels and Humpty Dumpty with such accuracy as to hardly believe they are not human. This show has been creating a fever where ever they have appeared and as they are the first Metropolitan show visiting us this season, their house should be crowded. Besides the entertainment, there are a hundred elegant and valuable presents to be given away at each show. The admission has been placed within the reach of all. 35 and 50c with no extra charge for reserved seats. See "ad" in next issue.

The Election Law.
We are now approaching the biennial election for members of Congress, Supreme Court Judges, members of the State Legislature and county officers, which takes place to-day. A portion of the election law, which we print below, may prove interesting to some of the subscribers of the ADVANCE:

TREATING AT ELECTIONS.
Any person who shall treat with either meat or drink, on any day of election, or on any day previous thereto, with an intent to influence the election, shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars, the one-half for the use of the county, and the other to the use of the person who shall sue for the same.

INTIMIDATION OF VOTERS.
Any person who shall discharge from employment, withdraw patronage, from, or otherwise injure, threaten, oppress, or attempt to intimidate any qualified voter of this State, because of the vote such voter may or may not cast in any election, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

BRIBERY AT ELECTIONS.
Any person who shall, at any time before or after an election, either directly, give, or promise to give, any elector, or to any county or district, in order to be elected, or to procure any other person to be elected a member of the General Assembly, or to any office under the laws of this State, shall forfeit any pay four hundred dollars to any person who will sue for the same, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person who shall receive or agree to receive any such bribe shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor.

BETTING ON ELECTIONS.
Any person who shall bet or wager any money or other thing of value upon any election held in this State shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Rumored New Departure.
The Massachusetts and Southern Construction Company are now making a survey from Rutherfordton to Greenville, S. C., under the direction of the veteran Capt. Ramsaur. Col. Johnson, when last here, requested Major Jones to do this, but now comes the rumor that the surveying party will be next put upon the line between Shelby and Morganton, with the view of taking a line across the mountains by way of Cranberry. This would be a grand scheme, making Shelby the junction of the Greenville and Cranberry route. We cannot vouch for the correctness of this, but there is a long head behind the movements of the Boston Company.—News & Observer.

A girl in William township Chat ham county named Naomi Smith, is certainly a mechanical genius. She can make as neat and nice a knife as any one sold at the stores. She makes the blades and handles both, and not only that but she makes the instruments with which she makes the knives. She is an afflicted invalid, and makes these knives to buy medicine with.

POWDERLY AS A PEACE-MAKER.

A Lockout Affecting 100,000 Employees in Philadelphia Postponed for the Present.

Philadelphia, October 29.—A conference was held this afternoon between General Master Workman Powderly and the aid committee of the Philadelphia Manufacturers' Association. Powderly's object in meeting the committee was to endeavor to reach a settlement of the troubles at the mill of Wm. P. Troth & Co., and thus avert a general lockout, which the Manufacturer's Association has threatened to institute on November 3. The association several days ago announced that all efforts to settle differences by arbitration had failed, and that unless the strikers at Troth's mill settled their troubles by November 3 to the satisfaction of the mill, all textile mills operated by members of the association employed therein. This would affect nearly 100,000 employees. In a conference to-day the facts were laid before Powderly and arrangements were made for further arbitration. Powderly agreeing to order the striking employees of Troth & Co. to return to work pending arbitration. Later in the day Powderly issued an order directing the men to return to work. Many of the strikers, upon receipt of the order, declared they would not obey it, but better counsels prevailed and the great lockout is averted for the present at least. The arbitration will be conducted by John Lowber Welsh for the manufacturers and Herbert Welsh for the employees, these two gentlemen to select the third member of the committee.

The King's Request.
A request goes out on the hollow wind,
From the stock-lane ring to-day,
The doleful response of outraged rights
Comes quickly back to say:
Do you think that your ring can ever again
The people of Buncombe betray?
Ah! never any friends
Since one of your men
Stole the writ of mandamus away.

Indolence—Idleness—Laziness.
These synonyms make up the character of countless drones in the shape of humanity. It is a lamentable spectacle to look around in every locality, and discover how many are content with a life of do-nothingism. Man was made an active being, but he has learned so well to love his ease that nearly half the world is idle.

It might seem at first thought that indolence is negative in its nature; that if it does no good, it at least does no harm. But this is a false and dangerous assumption. Nothing is more positive in its nature and influence. Indolence is by no means an idler. Nothing under the sun is more active than indolence.

Paradoxical as it may seem, an idle brain is the work shop of the devil.

There is the highest honor, the sweetest pleasure, the surest safety and the richest reward in having some visible, honorable calling or occupation, and thus earn our bread by the sweat of the brow. Many are folding their arms and saying: "The world owes me a living."

Talaga, in a recent sermon says: "Out of every hard position in life there are fifty doors, which at the tap of the hard knuckle of toil swing wide open. Do not, my hearer, join the great army of able-bodied beggars. When the time comes that you feel like putting your lazy hands on your hips and saying, 'The world owes me a living, it owes you a halter.'" So say we. Able-bodied beggary is an intolerable nuisance and a crime that ought to have a severe penalty.—Exchange.

There are now in the State 1,236 convicts, of whom only 164 are white and 1,099 colored. There are 1,197 men and 96 women. Of the men 159 are white and 1,038 colored, while of the women 61 are colored, and only 5 are white. These convicts are scattered at work all over the State—on six railroads in course of construction, in Hyde county, at the penitentiary, farms, &c., while only 250 of the total number are in the penitentiary building. The number of convicts is rather less than the average for several years past. There is undoubtedly a diminution in crime of all kinds in the past two years.—Chronicle.

The Close of the Week.

Who is it, that does not look forward to the end of this week's work with pleasant anticipations—be he saint or sinner. Ah! if one could only gather in the experience of a week, even among the inhabitants of our little town, what a large and varied volume it would make. On the surface, perhaps there is little change, but in the heart there is a mob, to some the past seven days has brought joy and gladness—to others sorrow and gloom. To some, perhaps, the fond hopes indulged in for years, have been realized; to others the same hopes have been dashed to earth—have turned to ashes. Death has entered some household, and taken therefrom a loved one; to others another member has come, who is tenderly spoken as "babe," and who is a God in the eyes of his thirty parents. This is a queer world, and if it were not for that blessed word, "hope," many of us, perhaps, would not care to live in it.

A week from to-day it may be that those who weep now will laugh then, and those who now quaff the cup of joy will then be clothed in sackcloth and ashes, but nevertheless, we all hail the coming of the end of the week, when we can rest from our labors.

Hard on the National Banks.
Washington, Oct. 30.—Attorney General Garland has given an opinion to the Secretary of the Treasury that National Banks must deposit interest bearing bonds to secure their circulation, and that the called three per cent. bonds cannot be used as a basis of circulation.

Snow in Mountains.
Chicago, Oct. 30.—A special from Fork, Keogh, Montana, says: A report from Southwestern Montana, says a heavy snow storm has visited that section. Stage coaches are delayed, and several cow boys who were out on the round up were obliged to camp under sage brush without food, blankets or fire.

Honor To Whom Honor.
The Northern-born settlers' convention was a success in every respect, and it will result without doubt in great good to the State through the advertisement of its resources and attractions to Northern people of character and means. It was the conception of one man, to whom its success also is to be attributed more largely than to any other. That man is Col. Benj. S. Pardee, of the New Haven Palladium, who has heretofore done much to advance the material progress of the South, and who deserves due credit therefor.—News & Observer.

The State Industrial School.
The action of the board of agriculture at its meeting yesterday, touching this enterprise, seems to assure us of a beginning in the matter. The news will be heard with pleasure by the people of the State. The urgent need of the times with us is industrial training, and the wisdom of the establishment of the school will be shown in a surprisingly short time.—News and Observer.

Against the Ten Hour System.
Chicago, October 28.—During the recent labor difficulties at the steel yards the men employa by John Craig & Co. kept at their work. Their system was nine hours' pay for eight hours work. For several days after the resumption of the ten hour system by other packers, the men worked and there was no move made by the firm to adopt the general system. Yesterday, however, the firm notified their men that it was intended to go back to the ten hour system, and the men at once quit work and were paid off. Good feeling prevailed between employers and employed, and the matter will probably be settled soon.

An old man named Samuel Atkinson, a patient at the City Hospital, fell head foremost into a well on the premises last Wednesday night. Mr. Lane heard the old man's cries and groans shortly after the accident happened, however, and soon had him taken out. It was found that Atkinson had sustained no severe injuries; a sprained ankle, and a cut on his head and on one leg being the extent of the damage. The well is twenty five feet deep and contained about three feet of water.—Star.

Queer Freak of Nature.

A remarkable freak of nature can be seen in the garden of Rev. Mr. White on Sewall street, Augusta, Me. A squash vine crawled up a tree as it grew, and upon one of the limbs bore a squash. Strange to relate, a miniature vine issued from the stem of the squash, passing completely around it, closely encircling it, and to the limb again, furnishing a substantial support for the fruit.

Statue of Gen. Barnside.
The $40,000 equestrian statue of Maj. Gen. Barnside, now in a foundry in New York city, was recently inspected by a delegation of citizens from Rhode Island and pronounced a success. It was designed and modeled by Launt Thompson. His work has been completed, and the statue only awaits final casting to be ready for its pedestal.—Boston Transcript.

The Electric Light Millionaire.
Charles F. Brush owns one of the largest and costliest stone residences in this country. He is determined that the walk leading through his grounds from the street to his front door shall describe a geometrical curve, and he has spent some hours of his busy days in instructing his workmen how to lay it, often getting down on his knees to draw the line in order to draw the line.

A Historical Case.
Mrs. McNeil Foster has presented the new Hampshire Historical society with a new medal from a black walnut tree that in 1822 was utilized in the construction of a fort on Saginaw river, Michigan. The log remained undisturbed for sixty-four years.—Chicago Tribune.

Gen. Grant's Sons.
Of Gen. Grant's sons, Col. Fred D. is an assistant treasurer of the New York Steam Heating company, Ulysses is on his farm and Jesse is on his way to Mexico seeking to enter the railroad business there.

Restoration.

Six months ago the people here Most bitterly were weeping For a mandamus which was placed In some one's hands for keeping. The writ was lost—by whom, God knows And by the man who lost it. It matters not; the people will To-day by Jones restore it.

The Philadelphia News, Rep., defends Mrs. Cleveland for her failure to go to Richmond. It says: "The story that she had declined to attend a reception the expected to attend was absurd, and reflected no credit either on the author's ingenuity or heart. As has been said, her reasons related to herself alone, and every sensible woman would have acted precisely as Mrs. Cleveland did under similar circumstances. What the 'circumstances' were she fails to state.

Saved His Life.
Mr. D. L. Wilcoxson, of Hottel Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisis, also Diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would some times almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters, and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by H. H. Lyons.
