FREE SILVER WINS.

The Senate Passes the Bill.
As there is no question before congress in which more interest is manifested than that of the free coinage of silver, we give the proceedings on the subject. At 2 o'clock Mr. Morgan, who had shortly before entered the chamber, inquired of the chair as to what proposition had been made today on the subject of the silver bill. He said that he understood that the Senator from New Jersey had withdrawn his objection, and that he did not object to speak on the bill on account of his health. He had also been informed that the senator from New York (Mr. Hill) desired to speak on the bill. He had inquired of that senator whether he had any such purpose. Mr. Hill had told him that, if the bill were postponed he would probably speak upon it, but that he did not desire to have the bill postponed on that account. If the senator from New York desired to speak upon it (Mr. Morgan would be very willing to have the time extended to give him that opportunity.

The presiding officer (Mr. Manderson) in answer to Mr. Morgan's question, said that no proposition had been submitted to the chair this morning, although there had been some discussion as to propositions; but nothing had yet been entertained by the chair.

Mr. Vest inquired whether a motion had been made to recommit the bill.
Presiding officer: "That motion has been made by the senator from Oregon, Mr. Dolph."
Mr. Vest: "And the motion is pending?"
Presiding officer: "That is the pending motion."

The colloquial discussion between several senators was interrupted by the presiding officer, who at 2 p. m., laid the silver bill before the senate as unfinished business, and said that he felt it his duty to call attention to the unanimous consent given on the 20th of June. He had an extract read from the Congressional Record covering that matter and then announced that the pending question was Mr. Dolph's motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. Frye asked Mr. Stewart whether he contended that under that agreement the senate was restricted to a simple vote on the bill and amendments. Mr. Stewart intimated that he did. The presiding officer continued his statement.
He said: "A motion was pending, made by the senator from Illinois (Palmer) to strike out all of the bill after the first section. Notice of the other amendment had been given. Pending that condition of the question, the senator from Oregon (Dolph) moved to recommit the bill to the committee on finance. The chair holds that that is the proper parliamentary question and that under the rules of the senate it has precedence over any motion to amend, therefore the pending question on the bill is the motion of the senator from Oregon to recommit the bill."
Mr. Morgan appealed from that decision; but after some discussion, he withdrew the appeal.
Mr. Gorman said that there were senators who were entirely unprepared to carry out the agreement, and who desired that further reasonable time should be granted. He therefore appealed to the senator from Alabama, (Mr. Morgan) not to insist on having a vote taken today, but to let it be fixed for some other day.
Mr. Morgan said that he had drawn up a proposition which he would submit to the senate; but, first, he repeated his previous remark, that he had asked the senator from New York, (Mr. Hill) whether he desired to speak on the bill, and that that senator said he did not.
Mr. Morgan went on to submit his proposition. It was that "on Thursday, the 7th of July, at 4 p. m., the senate will, without further debate, proceed to vote on the bill and any pending amendments without any dilatory motion."
Mr. Butler: "We may as well face the music today as a week hence. I therefore call for a vote on the motion to re-commit."
The presiding officer stated the question.
Mr. Hill: "Is debate in order?"
The presiding officer intimated that, under unanimous consent, which he, however, was powerless to enforce, debate was not in order.
Mr. Vest: "I asked unanimous consent that the senator from New York may address the senate if he desires to."
Consent being given, Mr. Hill said: "I desire simply to speak a word in reference to this particular motion. I am not quite prepared to agree that the motion is in order at this time. The question, however, is not before the senate, and it is unnecessary that I should express my opinion upon it. It involves purely a question of parliamentary law. It does seem strange to me that if the senate recognizes the right to make an agreement of this character, it has not the right to enforce it. I rise simply to state that I shall vote against the motion to re-commit, not on any parliamentary grounds, but simply on the ground that in my judgment the motion is a violation of the unanimous consent given a few days ago."

"THE BILL PASSED."
The bill was then passed, yeas 29, nays 25. The following is the vote in detail:

Yeas—Allen, Bate, Berry, Blackburn, Blodgett, Butler, Cameron, Cockrell, Dubois, Faulkner, George, Harris, Hill, Jones, (Nev.) Kenna, Kyle, Mills, Mitchell, Morgan, Peffer, Ransom, Sanders, Shoup, Squire, Stewart, Teller, Turpie, Vest, Wolcott—29.
Nays—Allison, Brice, Carey, Carlisle, Cullom, Davis, Dawes, Dixon, Dolph, Felton, Gallinger, Gorman, Gray, Hale, Hawley, McPherson, Manderson, Palmer, Perkins, Proctor, Sawyer, Stockbridge, Warren, Washburn—25.
DEMONSTRATION ON THE FLOOR.
While the vote was being read out by the clerk, Mr. Stewart, his countenance beaming with delight, sat in one of the front seats keeping tally on his fingers. When the result was announced, there was a manifestation of triumph on the floor and in galleries which the presiding officer had some trouble in repressing.
After order was restored some executive communications were presented and referred, a brief executive session held and then the senate adjourned till Tuesday next.

The following is the bill as amended and finally passed:
"That the owner of silver bullion may deposit same at any mint of the United States to be coined for his benefit, and it shall be the duty of the proper officers upon the terms and conditions which are specified by the law for deposit and coinage of gold, to coin such bullion into standard dollars authorized by the act of February 28th 1878, entitled an act to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar and to restore its legal tender character and such coins shall be legal tender for all debts and dues, public and private. The act of July 14th 1890, entitled an act directing the purchase of silver bullion and the issue of treasury notes thereon, and for other purposes is hereby repealed: Provided that the secretary of the treasury shall proceed to have coined all the silver bullion in the treasury purchased with silver or coin certificates."
When it was announced in the house that the bill had passed the senate, it was greeted with applause. Now what will the house do with the bill?

Historic Floats.
Senor Pineda, an artist who is said to have assisted in the decorations for the New Orleans Mardi Gras, is in the city. It is probable he may be secured to decorate the floats for some of our business men. If turned in a historical channel much good as well as pleasure might be derived from utilizing this artist's skill on the centennial floats and decorations.

Two or Three Empty Rooms.
A few summer boarders who desire a pleasant retreat near the city, with shaded grounds, can be accommodated by Mrs. James M. Ray, on Lookout Mountain Street Car Line, if application is made at once.

The bevel gear on the main water wheel of the city pump broke at 9 o'clock last night. A duplicate has been ordered by telegraph from Baltimore and Supt. Ingle expects to have everything in good fix in a few days. The standpipe now contains forty feet of water.

Rev. C. W. Byrd will preach at Leicester to-day for Dr. Weaver.

 Summer Opening at Kenilworth Inn.
Next Monday, July 4th, will be the summer opening at Kenilworth, and it is the intention of the lessees, Messrs. Browning & Wheeler, to make the occasion a memorable one. The spacious building which is lighted with electricity—from turret to basement—will be light as day. The drive-way will be similarly illuminated, and the silver moon will add additional loveliness to the occasion. At 11 a. m. a brilliant German will be given. The afternoon will be devoted to games and pronouncements, and at 9 p. m. will take place the ball— which for brilliancy will eclipse anything ever before attempted. Many of the fair women and gallant gentlemen of the city, and from distant towns and states— have been invited, and numbers will be present. The best music has already been secured for the season, and we predict this ball will be the opening of the best season yet enjoyed by this justly popular summer resort.

Pants.
The following is a school boy's composition on the above subject. The boy was expelled from school.
Pants are made for men, and not men for pants.
Women are made for men, and not for pants.
When a man pants for a woman, and a woman pants for a man, they are a pair of pants. Such pants don't last.
Pants are like molasses, they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold.
The man in the moon changes his pants during an eclipse.
Don't go to the pantry for pants, you may be mistaken.
Men are often mistaken in pants. Such mistakes make breaches of promise.
There has been much discussion as to whether "pants" is singular or plural.
Seems to us when men wear pants they are plural, and when they don't wear any they are singular.
Men get on a tear in their pants and it is all right; but when the pants get on a tear it is all wrong.
