

That was a very sensible speech made by Editor Caldwell, of the Statesville Landmark, at the Board of Trade banquet at Charlotte, in response to the toast to "The Press." But Editor Caldwell always says things well.

Mr. Henry Hardwicke has been appointed census supervisor for this census district of North Carolina. Mr. Hardwicke was a prominent applicant for the position of District Attorney. While a strong partisan we believe he will make a faithful and an efficient supervisor.

The owners of oyster beds at Ocracoke Island, Hyde county, have called on the Governor to protect them against the depredations of outside oystermen, who have been taking oysters without consent and against law. Shot guns have been brought into play, and trouble is anticipated. Stand to your guns, Governor.

A number of manufactures of woolen goods in the North have assigned lately, and all charge it to the depression of trade superinduced by the present iniquitous tariff laws. Yet the republican party insists on a policy which is strangling trade, and throwing hundreds and thousands of laboring people out of work. How long, oh, Lord, how long!

It is said that since Senator Ingalls delivered his negro speech his mail reaches the enormous number of twelve hundred letters per day. It is also said the Senator "goes carefully over the entire mail single-handed." What a glorious opportunity is here offered the great negropholist to give some intelligent but impecunious negro statesmen a job of assisting in reading over and digesting this outpouring of the down trodden, etc., etc.

New York Abandons the Fair.

A Baltimore correspondent says: The project for a world's fair in New York in 1892 is admitted by its most zealous advocates to be dead unless an entirely new plan can be developed. Its death is attributed chiefly to Boss Platt, who feared that he would be reduced to insignificance in the campaign of 1892 if a world's fair should be in progress in New York at the time. Moreover, Governor Hill and Tammany, he feared, would somehow get control. The bill before the legislature authorizing the city to borrow $10,000,000 for the fair was badly constructed. It was in conflict with the constitution, and private parties threatened to fight it in the courts. Washington is the place for the fair. Let it be ascertained at once whether Speaker Reed is in favor of a bill locating the fair at Washington, and if he is now is the time to strike. After rules are adopted it may take him a week to put it through the House.

Won't Speak to Her Father.

Charlotte, N. C., February 1. A curious case is reported from Union county. J. F. Belk has a daughter, eight years of age, who, although she has perfectly good use of her tongue and talks freely with all the other members of the family, cannot be induced to speak to her father. She will sit upon his knee, and allow him to fondle her, but has never been known to speak to him. He has tried every device to get her to do so, but without avail. If her mother sends her to the fields on an errand, she will take one of the children along to deliver the message. The circumstance, as is to be imagined, gives Mr. Belk a good deal of uneasiness, as he does not know how to account for it. It seems to be simply a freak of the child.

Allen Cruse, an old citizen of Charlotte, died of "la grippe." He was one of the last of the old time stage drivers. He was an alderman of Charlotte at the time of his death.

Lige Moore, the condemned negro murderer, who escaped from Greensboro jail after locking in the jailer was recaptured while sleeping on the banks of the Dan river which he intended to cross.

The Davis school at Lagrange, on the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, has been suspended owing to the prevalence of "la grippe." This school was remarkably prosperous, having over 200 students.

The prize offered by the State Agricultural Society for the best article descriptive of a county in North Carolina has been awarded to Jas. P. Cook, Esq., of Cabarrus county for the article published in the Standard of Cabarrus county.—Raleigh Call.

At the State museum can be seen some fine specimens of Chatham coal taken from the Egypt shaft now being worked by Messrs. Kinsey & Son. The output is something over ten car loads a day which is being shipped as rapidly as mined.—Raleigh Call.

Mr. Jno. B. Burwell has resigned as active principal of the Peace Institute, Raleigh, and will be succeeded by Prof. James Dinwiddie, of Gordonsville, Va. Mr. Burwell will remain as advisory principal, his health not permitting his continuance in the active duties of the place.

From the Lenoir Topic it is learned that Capt. M. V. Moore, formerly of Lenoir, a most popular and accomplished gentleman who has many friends in this county, is located in a beautiful home at Auburn, Ala., where he is engaged in remunerative literary work for leading magazines.

We are very much pleased to know that Col. A. M. Waddell's historic work concerning certain men and events in North Carolina is in the hands of the printer and will be probably out within four or five weeks. It will no doubt be a very interesting contribution to our State's literature.—[Wilmington Messenger.

On Friday, to-morrow night, the young people of Raleigh will have at the Yarboro house a grand bal poudre, and it is said that it will be one of the most brilliant social affairs which have ever taken place in Raleigh. The ladies will appear in the costumes of the great grandmothers and the young men in knee pants with lace on their claw-hammers.

Hon. James Grant, a native of Halifax county, and now a member of the Supreme Court of Iowa, is here visiting his old friends. He is the guest of Judge Spier Whitaker. Judge Grant was many years ago, a teacher in the famous Lovejoy grove of this city. He has been eminently successful in all phases of life in his adopted State, having won the highest political and judicial honors and having amassed a fortune estimated at ten millions of dollars.—News-Observer.

The many friends of Mr. Robert C. Perkins, the genial member of the firm of "Bob and Aleck", on John's River, in Burke, were delighted to see him in Lenoir last week. He came down on a visit with his niece, Mrs. H. M. Kent, and was the guest of Dr. Kent and Col. N. A. Miller. Robert C. and Alexander E. Perkins are two brothers, two of the best men in Burke, and have lived together from boyhood on their rich plantation on John's River, having common purses and holding all their property in common. May their days be lengthened.—Lenoir Topic.

The Gastonia Gazette of Jan. 30 contains the following: "We have just learned that Mr. J. W. Bean has received a letter from his attorneys in Texas which gives the information that a decision has been rendered in the case of the Bean estate in favor of the Bean family. This, if not a final decision, is at least an important step toward making Mr. Bean a millionaire." This is good news for a number of Caldwell people and will make millionaires out of Squire Sam McCall, Mr. Thomas Austin and several other worthy citizens of this county.—Lenoir Topic.

The Rev. James Weston will issue a book in April next which will embody the traditions which have long existed in Rowan, Iredell and Mecklenburg concerning an eccentric old school master in that country, who is believed by many to have been Marshall Ney, the renowned officer of the first Napoleon. The theory is that Marshall Ney was not executed, as history records, but escaped and settled in this country as a school master. There are many stories current of how, when in his cups, the old school master, who went by the name of Peter S. Ney, would declare his identity with the great French Marshall and relate the story of his escape. Mr. Weston, it is said, will make a strong case in proof of the identity.

Let the People Read and Remember.

Messrs. Crisp and others have already brought out the fact that in a previous House, which the Republicans controlled, Mr. Blaine, their leader then as he is today, while acting as Speaker, declared in the most emphatic manner possible against the ruling under which Mr. Reed proposes to form a quorum to-day. Mr. Blaine was appealed to and asked to count the Democrats present but not voting in order to assure a quorum, but refused to do so, and declared it could not be done constitutionally.

The fact of Mr. Blaine's ruling, as we have already noticed, has been given. It must prove interesting to quote his exact words, for the warning he then gave is most appropriate to-day.

Here is the discussion as given verbatim in Congressional Record, Forty-third Congress, Second Session, Vol. III, page 1734:

"The Speaker (Mr. Blaine)—The Chair never heard of that being done. He begs to remind the House, whereas that might and doubtless would be true, that there is a quorum in the hall, the very principle enunciated by the gentleman from Indiana has been the foundation probably for the greatest legislative frauds ever committed. Where a quorum, in the judgment of the Chair, has been declared to be present in the House against the result of a roll-call, these proceedings in the different Legislatures have brought scandal on their names.

Mr. Coburn—It would be a record made by the House.

The Speaker—There can be no record like the call of the yeas and nays: and from that there is no appeal. The moment you clothe your Speaker with power to go behind your roll-call and assume that there is a quorum in the hall, why, gentlemen, you stand on the very brink of a volcano.

These are strong words, and seldom used in Congress. Thorough partisan as he was, Mr. Blaine recognized the danger to the country, and to his own party of the ruling proposed then and insisted on to-day by Mr. Reed.

Life's Better Influences.

Better the song and the smile, my dear,
Better the song and the smile,
Brief is the time we may linger here,
Little avails either sigh or tear;
Better the song and the smile, my dear,
Better the song and the smile.

Better the laugh and the jest, my dear,
Better the laugh and the jest,
Sunshine of heart and of merry cheer,
Chasing the shadows that oft appear;
Better the laugh and the jest, my dear,
Better the laugh and the jest.

Better the word that is kind, my dear,
Better the word that is kind,
Speech that is cold and perchance severe
Well may be spared as we journey here;
Better the word that is kind, my dear,
Better the word that is kind.

Life's but a day at the best, my dear,
Life's but a day at the best,
Be your endeavor to brighten each year,
Making less frequent the sigh and the tear;
Life's but a day at the best, my dear,
Life's but a day at the best.

The Old Man's Story.

Behind the dreary prison walls,
'Mid faces pale and wan,
I saw a figure that was but
The shadow of a man.

His fiery eyes were sunken in,
A face all gaunt and sear;
He to my question made reply:
" 'Twas drink that brought me here."

" 'Tis but the same old tale," he said,
" And many here can tell
How they sacrificed their honor
To the drink they loved so well."

" I was honored, yes, and happy
(Mine's the story often told)
Till I tasted of the liquor
That's so freely bought and sold."

" At first 'twas but the 'social glass,'
And then—but need I tell?
Why trace a drunkard's downward course?
'Tis known, alas, too well!

" My wife and children? Yes, they're dead;
I lost them, Miss, through drinking,
But now I'll stop; I'll talk no more,
For talking sets me thinking."

I turned and left him standing there,
His aged head bowed low;
And thought how many lips could tell
Just such a tale of woe! —Nellie Buxton.

A NEW METHOD OF TREATING DISEASE.

Hospital Remedies.

What are they? There is a new departure in the treatment of disease. It consists in the collection of the specifics used by noted specialists of Europe and America, and bringing them within the reach of all. For instance the treatment pursued by special physicians who treat indigestion, stomach and liver troubles only, was obtained and prepared. The treatment of other physicians, celebrated for curing catarrh was secured, and so on till these incomparable cures now include disease of the lungs, kidneys, female weakness, rheumatism and nervous debility.

This new method of "one remedy for one disease" must appeal to the common sense of all sufferers, many of whom have experienced the ill effects, and thoroughly realize the absurdity of the claims of Patent Medicines which are guaranteed to cure every ill out of a single bottle, and the use of which, as statistics prove, has ruined more stomachs than alcohol. A circular describing these new remedies is sent free on receipt of stamp to post-payers to Hospital Remedy Company, Toronto, Canada, sole proprietors.

Cardinal Pecci, brother of the Pope, is dead.

Gen. W. T. Sherman celebrated his 70th birthday on Saturday.

The State of Virginia has appropriated to Emory and Henry College $62,354.94, being the full amount of its indebtedness.

Farmers continually ask themselves how it is that monopolies which are protected by the republican tariff are prospering while all the farming interests are sadly oppressed.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis has written a circular letter to her friends asking for any personal recollections of her deceased husband, in order that his biography, which she is preparing, may be as complete as possible.

The Duke of Orleans, the Bourbon pretender to the throne of France, made his appearance in Paris in face of the order for the exile of the Orleans princes. He was immediately arrested. His defense was that he came to France to join the army.

Senator Plumb says the cause of the oppressed condition of the farmers is a want of a sufficient circulating medium, and Senator Plumb is right. There is not money enough in circulation, and most that is in the hands of bankers and money lenders who can control and contract the market at pleasure.

Robert Moorman, of Newberry, S. C., shot Lee Schultze, a contractor on the Georgia, Carolina and Northern railway. Moorman had been employed by Schultze and a quarrel resulted. Moorman was a republican and has just been confirmed as postmaster of Newberry. Schultze was from Virginia. He had relatives in Salisbury.

Dick Hawes, the famous Birmingham wife and child murderer, sentenced to be hung on Feb. 28th, and whose case incited the attempt at lynching in Birmingham, which was so bloodily repulsed by the Sheriff, has made a confession of his guilt, implicating one Wylie, a railroad engineer of Atlanta, Ga. Wylie has been arrested.

Mr. Wanamaker has appointed a very offensive negro postmaster for Americus, Ga. What do southern white republicans think of this conduct on the part of the present administration? Why has not Mr. Harrison appointed some negroes in the Northern States? Why this difference between Northern and Southern States?

Hon. Alfred Rowland, member of Congress from the 7th congressional district, has introduced a bill to appropriate $10,000 for a monument to Gen. Wm. Lee Davidson who fell at Cowan's Ford during the Revolutionary war. The continental congress of 1781 passed a resolution requesting the State of North Carolina to erect this monument at the expense of the United States but it was never done.

Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska farmers are complaining bitterly of hard times; with the most abundant corn and other crops they cannot pay expenses, or even sell their crops. And they are beginning loudly to complain of the robber tariff which makes them pay high prices for all things they have to buy. And yet these farmers of these three States voted for Harrison and protection and "good times a coming."

The first Supreme Court of the United States, the Centennial of which was celebrated in New York on the 3d inst., consisted of Chief Justice Jno. Jay, of New York, Associate Justices John Rutledge of S. C.; James Wilson, of Penn.; Wm. Cushing, of Mass.; Robt. H. Harrison, of Md.; Jno. Blair, of Va. North Carolina at the time was not a member of the Union. Since then she has had only two representatives on the Supreme Court Bench, James Iredell, of Chowan, and Alfred Moore, of Brunswick.

The New York Star called attention some time ago to the fact that the Legislature of North Dakota would probably pass a bill authorizing a lottery company. The charge is now made by the New York World that the proposed company is no less than the Louisiana State Lottery whose charter in Louisiana is drawing to a close, and where a bitter fight headed by the present Governor Nichols is to be made against its renewal. It is further charged that the bill before the legislature of Dakota is in payment for money paid by the Louisiana Lottery Company to the National Republican Committee.

Eighteen Birds at One Shot.

Mr. Coat Brimer, of Mt. Holly, was out hunting cedar birds yesterday, and brought down 18 birds at one shot. A minister saw the slaughter and counted the birds, so there can be no mistake about it. The birds were flying when Mr. Brimer fired into them.—Charlotte News.

Boss Quay has the selection of the federal appointments for Pennsylvania, Senator Ingalls those of Kansas, and Senator Sherman those of Ohio. There are one hundred thousand negroes in each of the states of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and probably half as many in Kansas, but these blatant Republican senators, who profess so much love for Southern negroes, have never nominated a negro for postmaster in their own states. It is plain that they only wish to stir up race antagonisms at the south.
