

Democratic Duty.

[For the Democrat.]

The first duty of the Democratic party is to resist the encroachments of federal powers. The battle against centralism and corruption inaugurated by Thomas Jefferson must still be waged till the enemy is driven from the field.

The real purpose of the Blair educational bill was more to strengthen the pillars of federal governmental power than to educate the poor masses.

The eternal vigilance of the Democratic party serves in a great measure to check this tendency to centralism. This party is the only security to the country to day against this destructive policy.

There is nothing so inimical to Americans as despotism. We have had it plain and simple in the rules of Speaker Reed during the last congress.

The Republican party is further the enemy to civil liberty and equal justice to all classes in its crazy support of high prohibitory tariff measures in the interest of the rich manufacturer and against the poor man and the farmer.

known, the party pays high protection and cabinet offices. The presidency of 1876 was stolen and that of 1888 bought.

But we trust the policy set on foot by Grover Cleveland, demanding reduction of tariff will never give a surcease till it shall be fully demonstrated to the country that the Republican party is practically an organization for enriching those who control the machinery.

This country owes it to itself to vindicate the people's cause by restoring to them, as a leader, this famous ruler. For the Republican party, so far as principle is concerned, is a reminiscence. Its leaders connive at fraud and jobbery.

I repeat that the only hope of the country is in the triumph of the Democratic principles that foster the states in their growth. Those principles that spurn every attempted encroachment of sacred state rights and home rule on the part of an irresponsible centralism.

Let us remain faithful to our creed, and wait patiently for the sure doom of political corruption, and the early restoration of the country to peace and good government under the broad aegis of Democratic triumph.

Stand up Democracy! Let us hold up its arms and wish for the morning of triumph.

Let each one endeavor as far as possible to pay what he owes. One debt paid by you may be the means of paying a dozen and relieve twice that many people from anxiety and distress.

The Stanberry Sentinel reports that a question arose one day last week between two Stanberry business men as to whether or not a round quart cup made square would hold less liquid than the original round measure.

The Mountain Evangelist.

Who is he? Whence did he come? He preaches, but by whom was he ordained? What is his church?

All these questions are asked of the old mountain evangelist who preaches daily on the square. Who dares say that he is not truly called; or that his words leave no impression, to finally take root and bring some hardened sinner to God?

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction.
