Hints of News Concerning Asheville and Vicinity Placed in Convenient Form for Busy Readers. Henderson Superior Court this week, Judge Bynum presiding. U. D. Nelson & Co. have removed from Eagle Block, South Main street, to 30 Patton Ave. The eclipse of the moon was plainly visible in Asheville Sunday night, and was witnessed by a large number of people. Bethel M. E. Church was appropriately dedicated last Sunday afternoon by Bishop Galloway. A large audience was in attendance. Mr. J. K. Suggs lost a young son from pneumonia on Saturday. The funeral was conducted on Sunday afternoon by Father White. The gutters on Patton avenue, from the Square to Church street, have been cleaned out, and the surface water will be carried down Water street. One week from to-day is Thanksgiving day, and THE DEMOCRAT will be issued a day earlier in consequence. Advertisers and others will please bear this in mind. M. Ellick shot himself through the hand on Saturday while working with a pistol which he had in pawn. Dr. Jordan dressed the wound and it is healing nicely. THE DEMOCRAT goes to press Wednesday nights, and advertisers are requested to bring their copy in not later than Tuesday evening. Contributors to its news columns are also requested to do likewise. Capt. R. C. Ivory, late of the Hotel Selby, Atlantic City, N. J., took charge of the Grand Central Hotel on Tuesday, succeeding I. C. Baird. We welcome Mr. Ivory to Asheville and trust that he may meet with success. The coroner's jury on the case of the death of the two colored brakemen, who were killed last week in the log train wreck on the Murphy branch, rendered a verdict that the deceased came to their death through lack of sand on the engine and carelessness of brakemen. THE DEMOCRAT starts this week a cent-a-word column for the benefit of people who desire to insert small advertisements. We trust that it will prove a popular feature and that our citizens will patronize it whenever they desire to make known a want. One cent for each word is all that is charged. Mr. J. D. Elliott, of Elliott & Elliott, contractors of Hickory, was in the city Tuesday. This firm has just completed, in an excellent manner, several station houses for the Western Carolina Railroad, and is now engaged in erecting a splendid station house at Newton. Mr. Elliott is now engaged also in making an important addition to the residence of Col. R. R. Bridges, near the depot. Interesting Marriage. On the 11th inst., at Trinity M. E. Church, South, Durham, N. C., by Rev. Mr. Moorman, Prof. Thos. J. Simmons, formerly of Wake Forest College, N. C., son of Athens, Ga., and Miss Lessie Hase Southgate, daughter of James Southgate, Esq., of Durham, N. C. Both the contracting parties have many friends and relatives in the State, Miss Southgate having both in Asheville. The marriage was a brilliant one, as the prominence and popularity of the contracting parties entitled them to. Their friends everywhere wish them a God's blessing throughout life. Our Alliance Brethren. Our alliance friends in Morgan Hill section had a grand picnic at that place on the 12th. Able addresses were delivered by J. N. Morgan, Rev. John Ammons, Hon. M. L. Reed, Hon. John W. Starnes, Col. Long, county lecturer F. F. Reeves, Dr. I. A. Harriss. A splendid dinner was served, and resolutions strongly endorsing Col. L. L. Poik were adopted. Little, but Lively. "Little drops of water, Little grains of sand, Make the mighty ocean And the pleasant land." And dropping into prose, we would say that Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are mild but prompt in relieving constipation, sick headache, bilious attacks, pains in the region of kidneys, torpid liver, and in restoring a healthy, natural action to the stomach and bowels. 25 cents a box. One Pellet a dose. Little, but Lively. The use of the old style, crastin pills is an outrage on the human system.

RICHMOND, Va., July 1, 1862.

REV. T. W. ATKIN:

DEAR SIR.—Above you will find a list of the casualties of the Sixteenth N. C. Regiment, which I suppose will be of interest (though melancholy) to many of your readers. The list will indicate to some extent the part the Sixteenth took in the late battles before Richmond. You will see that many estimable young men of your acquaintance have fallen. Their loss will be deeply felt at home. A pall of gloom is cast over their comrades who survive. But it affords consolation to know that they went down like heroes. The list is probably defective, as we scarcely had time to collect the details of one battle field till we were ordered on the march to another. You will note that Lieut. Ferguson, Co. L, Sergt. T. M. Wells and E. P. Young, Co. F., are put down among the missing on Monday evening 30th June. I think it quite probable they were taken prisoners, as the fight towards night was somewhat of the bushwhacking order and desultory. I could mention many officers and privates who behaved admirably during the engagements, but know I am sustained by the universal sentiment of the Regiment in making mention of one. I refer to the gallant conduct of our commander, Lieut. Col. McElroy. He has escaped unhurt, but was always in the thickest of the fight, urging his men on, and oftener than otherwise in front of the line. On Monday evening in the charge he got so far in advance that he had to cut off the head of a Michigander with his sword, who was coming down on the Col. at a charge bayonet. His gallant bearing has won the esteem and confidence of his men. May he live long to enjoy it. The wounded are being well cared for. Many of them have gone home on furlough. Excuse this hasty sketch. Your friend, R. B. J.

CAMP IN THE WOODS, 25TH N. C. T., Ransom's Brigade, July 7.

EDITOR ASHEVILLE NEWS.—Believing that the movements of our Regiment for the past 15 or 20 days would be interesting to our friends, I will write a short statement of facts principally for the gratification of friends of my company in Transylvania and Henderson counties. On the 19th June we left camp near Kinston, N. C., for Virginia. On Friday night, June 20th, the Regiment reached Petersburg. On the 24th the Regiment and Brigade left for Richmond, arriving there on the same evening. Early on the morning of the 25th the Regiment moved in the vicinity of the late battle of the "seven pines" at a hasty march and engaged the enemy immediately. Company "E" in this action was commanded by Lieut. Deaver. The loss of the company was: Wounded—privates David B. Anders, severely in thigh, and Leander J. Erwin, slightly in leg. The total casualties in the Regiment was: Killed in the action, two; both of company "C," and wounded, 39—one or two of whom have since died. On the 26th June the enemy was engaged with spirit and determination on his right wing by the Confederate forces and forced to fall back. A series of engagements for several days was kept up; the rout of the enemy became general, leaving in their retreat large amounts of all kinds of camping equipage. The enemy on his retreat would give us fight almost every day, selecting strong positions when he made a stand. On the evening of July 1st, a terrific battle was fought some 12 or 14 miles below Richmond. The enemy had planted his artillery in large numbers on an elevated position in a broad open field.

PROMINENT PEOPLE.

The Doings of Ashevilleians and Visitors to Our City. J. L. Murray and wife have gone on a visit to Augusta, Ga. J. M. Israel, Jr., has returned to Knoxville after a two weeks' visit home. Mr. Clarence Ray returned home on Thursday last from Atlanta and Augusta, Ga. J. A. Williams, Esq., has returned from an extended visit to Atlanta and Augusta, Ga. Messrs. T. B. Young and John G. Yancey, Jr., of McDowell, were in the city this week. Mr. Will C. Frank returned home on Saturday last from Fort Wayne, Ind., to see his father, who is very ill. We were pleased to meet in our city a few days ago Mr. Moses W. White, one of the "unterrified" of Iredell county. Miss Annie Staples, one of Reidsville's belles, has been in the city several days. She left for her home Tuesday evening. Mr. R. L. Leatherwood, a prominent member of the bar of the West, was in the city on Tuesday on important legal business. Col. Jackson Johnston, Hon. Kope-Ellis, and Mr. Julius S. Robinson, of Macon, have been in attendance upon conference. We regret to learn that for some weeks Mrs. A. M. Rameur has been quite ill. On yesterday she was better, with very favorable symptoms. Mr. T. P. Reynolds, a promising young friend of Rutherford county, has been "taking in" the city for several days, stopping at the European. Mrs. Vineyard, of Milford, Del., who has been stopping at Mr. Alonzo Rankin's, corner Cherry and Flint streets started for her home on Tuesday. Hon. H. G. Ewart passed through the city last week en route to Henderson court. He was looking well, and personally, though not politically, was in good spirits. We were pleased to meet Rev. J. W. Bowman, who re-enters actively upon his duties as minister. He has been retired for some months on account of sickness. Mr. J. B. Hyatt, of Waynesville, late assistant engrossing clerk of the House of Representatives, now assistant at the Raleigh Exposition, spent Saturday and Sunday in this city. We were pleased to see again at home Mr. Mark L. Robinson, who has been sojourning for a season in Seattle, Washington. We regretted to learn from him that Mr. Theodore Hobgood is dying of consumption. At the burial of our late townsman, Mr. Simon Hammerslag, in Charlotte, Hon. H. A. Gudger, Grand Master of Masons of the State, delivered, so the Chronicle says, one of the most eloquent tributes ever heard in Charlotte. Dr. F. T. Meriwether has secured a position as assistant surgeon in the U. S. Army, and left Asheville on Wednesday for his new post of duty at Fort Adams, R. I. We regret the departure of this promising young man, but wish him success in his new field of labor. We are pleased to meet our old friend, Mr. John M. Gudger, of Bakersville, in town. He is now in charge of the stock of clothing recently assigned by Messrs. Hammerslag & Whitlock. We hope he will find enough to keep him with us all the time. We had the pleasure of a call from Mr. Henry A. Pierce, assistant Financial Clerk United States Senate, who called to tender kindly remembrances of our old friend Mr. R. B. Nixon, the able and accomplished chief of his department. We were pleased to meet Mr. Pierce, and to hear from our friend. Mr. M. L. Mott, assistant U. S. Attorney, has moved to Asheville and taken up his abode at the Oaks Hotel. Mr. Mott is a gentleman of high attainments and a lawyer of recognized ability, and were it not for his abominable republicanism, and this we yet hope he will dispense with, he would make a most useful citizen. However, he has a right to his own opinions, and withal we welcome him and his to our city. It is no easy thing to dress harsh, coarse hair so as to make it look graceful or becoming. By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor this difficulty is removed, and the hair made to assume any style or arrangement that may be desired. Give the Vigor a trial. Keep gray hairs from forming by using Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.
